Frank E. Stouder and Hugh Keegan Are Appointed by Mayor.

APPEAL BOARD READY TO START SOBER DUTY

Dr. Miles F. Porter, Sr., Made Head of District Committee.

Frank E. Stouder, of the Palace theater, and Hugh G. Keegan, attorney, are named as the two draft board members, for the second city district, to take the places of City Clerk Gustav Boerger and William Geake, who resigned earlier in the week.

Appointment of the new draft board members was made by Mayor W. J. Hosey, Thursday evening, after he had received instructions from Governor Goodrich to proceed with the naming of the conscription men.

Stouder and Keegan have announced definitely that they will stay with the trying task to the end. Mayor Hosey awaited his appointment until he could make sure that he had secured men in the second city district who would serve to the finish.

The board for the second district, that part of the city west of Calhoun street and north of the Pennsylvania railroad tracks, is now made up of Frank E. Stouder, Hugh G. Keegan and Dr. Park Drayer. They will meet on Friday and organize for service.

Dr. Porter Head.

Dr. Miles F. Porter, Sr., was named chairman of the appeal draft board for northern Indiana, at the five members of the commission met in the doctor's office, Thursday afternoon. Other members of the board are: Harry Kitzelman, of Muncie; Lemuel Royce, of Warsaw, and Earl Crawford, of Milton.

The appeal board will meet in Fort Wayne again on August 8, when it is expected that their duties may start and a long session may be expected. Much of the time, Thursday afternoon, was spent in talking over methods of procedure and making a thorough study of instructions sent by the government. The appeal board will act on cases which citizens feel were not decided satisfactorily by the local boards.

How to Ask Exemption.
Literature explaining the nature of the notifications and the methods of claiming exemptions have been delivered at the city clerk's office for aid of local boards. The action of asking exemption is not involved. Every effort is being made to simplify all parts of the draft process. The first thing that a man summoned by a local board must do, is to undergo a physical examination.

In this examination the board either finds the man called physically unfit and discharges him immediately, or finds him physically fit.

If the man seeking an exemption or discharge, particularly the latter, is found physically fit, the next thing to do is to file a claim for a discharge. The form for this is provided by the board, and is as follows:

- (a)—A county or municipal officer.
- (b)—A custom house clerk of the United States.
- (c)—A person employed by the United States in the transmission of mails.
- (d)—An artificer or workman employed in an arsenal—armory—or navy yard—of the United States.
- (e)—An employee of the service of the United States necessary to the adequate and effective operation of a department commission, board, bureau, or division or branch of the government.
- (f)—A licensed pilot.
- (g)—A person actually employed in the sea service of a citizen or merchant within the United States.
- (h)—A person having dependents upon his labor for support (and also mark with a cross (x) one of the following five subclasses.)
- (i)—A married man with wife or child dependent upon his labor for support.
- (j)—A son of a widow dependent upon his labor for support.
- (k)—A son of aged or infirm parent or parents dependent upon his labor for support.
- (l)—A father of a motherless child under sixteen years of age dependent upon his labor for support.
- (m)—A brother of a childless child under sixteen years of age who has (or has) neither father nor mother and (is or is) dependent upon his labor for support.
- (n)—A person who was a member of a well-recognized religious sect or organization, organized and existing May 18, 1917, whose ten existing creed or principles forbade its members to participate in war in any form and whose religious convictions are against war and compulsion therein in accordance with the creed or principles of said well-recognized religious sect or organization.
- (o)—A person convicted of a felony.

Signature.

Dated.....day of.....1917.

The form by which a claim may be filed by a wife, parent, or some person differs only in the preliminary statement, which says:

I, Oliver Brown, hereby certify that

John Jones, whose serial number is 805, who is personally well known to me, is twenty-eight years old, and resides at 1470 Washington boulevard. I hereby claim discharge from military service in respect of the said John Jones on the following ground that he is:

The rest of the form is the same, except that the signature in such a case is that of the person making the claim for the discharge of another.

THUNDERBOLT SLAYS TRIO OF GUARDSMEN

Lightning Kills Three and Injures Dozen in Camp Near St. Louis.

St. Louis, July 27.—Three members of the third regiment, Missouri national guard, were killed and a dozen others were injured, some of them seriously, by a bolt of lightning during a storm which swept Camp Martin, St. Louis county, early today. The dead are H. S. Davis, sergeant; Dwight L. Trump, private; Charles B. Carroll, private. Among those injured were Sergeant Jack Allen and Corporal Dunsmuir. They were revived by means of pulmotors and are thought to be practically out of danger. The other injured men were severely burned.

The soldiers were asleep in the guard tent at the main entrance to the camp when the storm broke. The tent collapsed and the injured and dead were carried to the hospital tent, where efforts were made to revive them.

Many other tents about the camp were set afire by lightning but the occupants escaped serious injury. The work of rescue was hindered by numerous electric wires which were blown down and free were extinguished quickly and the damage is not thought to be heavy.

FORMER LOCAL MAN DIES IN TOLEDO, O.

Thomas E. Pauley, 49, Lived Here Until Two Years Ago.

Thomas Edward Pauley, age 49, died in Toledo, Ohio, Thursday. Death was due to acute pneumonia.

The deceased had resided in Fort Wayne until two years ago, when he went to Toledo to accept a position with the Wyllie-Overland company as a machinist. While in this city he was employed as a machinist with the Pennsylvania company. He was born May 17, 1868, in County Cork, Ireland, and came to America with his parents in 1882, coming almost directly to Fort Wayne. He was taken sick twelve days ago. He was a member of the Catholic chapel parish, of Toledo, Ohio, and of the Holy Name society of that church.

Surviving relatives are the wife, three sons, Maurice, Howard and George; two sisters, Mrs. Edgar G. Olds and Miss Mary Pauley; four brothers, John J., Edward J., James J. and Eugene J. Pauley, all of this city. The remains reached this city at 10:30 Friday morning and were taken to the Getz & Co. call parlors. They will be removed to the home of the brother, Edward J. Pauley, 214 Dawson street, where funeral services will be held Saturday morning at 9:30, followed by services at 9 o'clock at the St. Patrick's Catholic church. Interment in the Catholic cemetery.

CHAPMAN.
Alice M. Chapman, a resident of Wolcottville, died at the St. Joseph hospital Thursday evening. Death was the result of cancer. The deceased had been confined at the hospital since March. Surviving is the husband, William F. Chapman.

The remains will be sent to her home by Chalfant & Egley.

FUNERAL ANNOUNCEMENTS.
Masters.—Funeral services for Amanda Masters will be held Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock at 2809 Fox avenue and at 2:30 at the Wayne Street M. E. church. Interment in Lindenwood.

Meyer.—Funeral services for Arnold Meyer will be held Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock at 1928 Gay street and at 2:30 at the St. John Lutheran church. Interment in Concordia cemetery.

Fry.—Funeral services for Abigail Fry will be held at the home of the daughter, Mrs. Wm. Skelking, New Haven, at 2 o'clock (sundown), Saturday afternoon, and at 2:30 at the St. John Lutheran church. Interment in I. O. F. cemetery, near New Haven.

Rev. S. T. Hosoid will conduct the German service and Rev. H. Kohlmeier the English.

COULD PLACE JUST AGAIN AS MANY MEN

Fred C. Schmeling, head of the Fort Wayne branch of the Free Employment Bureau, states that he could place just again as many men at work if they would apply. During the past week 143 men and four women were given employment through this medium.

They were listed as follows: One bookkeeper, one boy, one driver, nine farm hands, two firemen, one janitor, 125 laborers, one machinist, one watchman, one dishwasher, two laundresses and one waitress.

Grasshoppers have been found at 1,000 feet from any land.

SAY CITY IS A LIVE ONE

Visiting Meat Cutters Get Good Impression of Fort Wayne Thursday.

PRAISE THE LOCAL SOCIAL COMMITTEE

Read and Adopt Resolutions at the Friday Morning Session.

That Fort Wayne will be well advertised all over the country upon the conclusion of the general international convention of Amalgamated Meat Cutters and Butcher Workmen is assured by the visiting delegates who received a wonderful impression of the city on the sight-seeing trip Thursday afternoon.

Visiting delegates declare that their conception that Fort Wayne was a small town has been greatly changed since the trip. They were astounded at the wonderful and beautiful residential districts and prosperous manufacturing places.

Many of the butchers witnessed with amazement the transformation of the unsanitary products which they call waste into a sanitary product for the public. This was seen at the soap works which they visited.

At the visiting men are enthusiastic in their praise of the members of the Fort Wayne local entertaining committee, and state that not enough credit can be given them.

The men stated that they had a delightful time at the banquet given them at the Anthony hotel Thursday evening. Addresses were given by President J. F. Hart, Utica, N. Y.; A. F. of L. Organizer Flood; Brother Remison, New York city; Fred L. Schmidt, St. Louis; Ennis Lane, Chicago; M. Gruenbo, San Francisco; Organizer B. Modest, New York city; H. F. Schwartz, Fort Wayne; Mr. Siegel, Detroit; Brother Guest, Cambridge; Mr. Hoffman, Seattle, and Mr. Sulzer, Tacoma.

A comedy sketch given by Schmidt and McGraw was also well received and greatly enjoyed. The Garcia Four sang for the delegates and they were repeatedly called back for more.

Prizes were awarded for the tallest, shortest, fattest, leanest, jolliest and most comely delegate respectively, as follows: Phillip Martin, St. Louis; P. E. Ball, St. Joe, Mo.; Fred Schmidt, St. Louis; Mr. Kelley, Yonkers, N. Y.; Dennis Lane, Chicago, and J. Kennedy, New York city. The morning session Friday was devoted to the reading and adoption of resolutions. It is stated that the convention will probably not adjourn until next Wednesday or Thursday.

The ladies who are attending the convention are the wives of A. H. Pike, San Jose, Cal., and J. M. Deane, Boston, Mass. They also enjoyed the auto sight-seeing trip and were special guests at the banquet Thursday evening.

MANY OUTSIDE ELKS TO ATTEND PICNIC

Defiance Sends Delegation of 125 for Outing Sunday.

Many outside Elks are coming to this city for the picnic and outing to be held at Elks' country club Sunday. Special cars are coming in from many surrounding towns. Defiance, Ohio, will send a delegation of 125 members, with a band of twenty-eight pieces. Hartford City will also be represented by a large delegation. Over 1,000 are expected to attend the picnic.

The committee making the arrangements has a fine program for the day and prizes are to be given for the largest attendance.

Social and Red Cross.
Knights of Pythias will give an ice cream social at Swinney park Friday evening for the benefit of the Red Cross. Twenty-five Red Cross girls will wait on the tables and the grounds will be illuminated with brilliant lights.

Pedro Party.
Columbia Club of Honor, No. 242, will hold a public Pedro party Friday evening in the Lau building.

JUDGE S. M. HENCH TO TALK AT ASSEMBLY

Old Soldiers Day to Be Observed Aug. 7 at Zion Park.

Judge Samuel M. Hench, department commander of the Indiana G. A. R., is on the program of the Zion Park assembly, which will be held at Zionville, Boone county, Ind., August 2 to 19. The occasion of the speech by the department commander is the observance of Old Soldiers day on August 7. On that day old soldiers from all over the state will attend the chautauqua, and the talk by Judge Hench will be on some subject of interest to the old soldiers, the subject of his address not having been announced.

Zionville is located near Lebanon, Ind., and the chautauqua to be held there is one of the largest in the state. Many speakers of note are on the program.

ARRIVES HOME FROM FRANCE

Columbia City Young Man Tells of His Trip to War-Stricken Country.

SAYS PEOPLE SEEM TO BE CONFIDENT

German Prisoners Are Given Employment at Three Cents a Day.

(Special to The Sentinel.)
Columbia City, Ind., July 27.—Only seven young men of the United States will have the distinction of having gone as members of Pershing's division to France, and been sent back to America without having seen active service in the European trenches. One of these seven is James Washburn, aged 16 years, son of Mr. and Mrs. John L. Washburn, of Columbia City, who arrived home Thursday evening.

Private Washburn received his discharge early in June, before sailing with the Eighteenth infantry, United States regulars, for France, but he was compelled by military rules to accompany his division to France. He and the six other men returned to America on an empty transport, landing at an Atlantic seaport Tuesday. Young Washburn's discharge was obtained because of the fact he is under the age limit.

Last December Washburn endeavored to enlist in the military service at Fort Wayne. Finding himself a half-inch below the required height (he now measures 5 feet 5 1/4 inches, having grown two inches in stature), and also deficient in weight, weighing at that time only 108 pounds, he drank enough water to bring him well within the weight limit, and the recruiting officer was 15 years of age and thus passed examination successfully and was sent to Columbus barracks, Ohio. From there he went to Fort Bliss, Texas, staying there a month, and later was sent to Douglas, Ariz., where he remained until sent to the Eighteenth infantry to an eastern seaport. Meanwhile efforts were being made to obtain his discharge on account of the fact he was too young. The facts concerning his correct age were submitted to the war department, and his discharge was issued several days before he set sail for France.

Washburn, on his return trip home, worked in the crew's nest of the transport. His was the same company in which he had been in Fort Wayne. The rejections were small, but it is said that only a few of these men will be called at first.

Non-Com Schools.
Capt. Sol A. Carter, who has been detailed to Fort Wayne to aid in perfecting the organization of Battery B, is holding a non-commissioned officers' school every evening. Instead of drilling the men on the streets Thursday night a blackboard talk was given which the men were greatly interested in.

Lieutenant Haworth, the examining officer, will remain in Fort Wayne until Saturday night and anyone who has enlisted and has not been examined must report before that time. Any other person who is entertaining thoughts of enlisting in this organization is asked to do so before the lieutenant's departure as this may be the last opportunity before the numbers for the draft are selected.

Not Battery B.
Officers of Battery B state that the story carried by men from this city, and no changes are contemplated, as is evidenced by the fact that commissions were issued to all of them some time ago from the adjutant general's office. Capt. Harry Clark, who will command the new battery, was connected with Battery B for thirteen years, eight of them as captain, retiring in 1913 upon his transfer to Cleveland in the claim department of the Pennsylvania company, which position he held in this city for a number of years. He is known as one of the most efficient artillery officers in the state and while he was in command of the local outfit it reached the highest point in efficiency that had been attained in the history of its twenty-seven years existence. Junior First Lieut. Leonard F. Wood is a Pennsylvania engineer, residing on East Woodland avenue, and served as a lieutenant in the Huntington company of the One Hundred and Sixtieth Indiana infantry in the war with Spain, being in service in Cuba for over one year.

He was connected with Battery B for eleven years, mostly as a commissioned officer, retiring as captain in 1914 upon a transfer of the battery to Purdue university. Junior First Lieut. Hensley is from the regular army, having served for over thirteen years in the artillery branch, practically all of his enlistment being as a non-commissioned officer of the Sixth Field Artillery. He served with his organization in the Philippines and is held in high regard as one of the best officers of the regiment. When the border trouble came up last summer Mr. Hensley was on duty as an instructor for the battery units of Indiana. On the request of the members of Battery B, of this city, he was transferred from

CAPITAL STOCK MUST BE REPORTED AT ONCE

Capital stock of all corporations and capitalists must be reported at once at the local revenue office or to the central station at Indianapolis. The report will be declared delinquent after July 31, Fort Wayne revenue men have been warned. Blanks will be furnished at the office in the federal building and must be registered here or with P. J. Kruger, at Indianapolis.

LEAD COUNTRY DURING JUNE

Fort Wayne District Ahead of All Others by 34 Points.

RECRUITING KEEPS ON WITH FERVOR

Seventy-Five More Men Will Be Sent Away Friday Evening.

Fort Wayne remains at the top of the nation's ladder in the number of recruits.

This district, in charge of Captain T. L. Ryan, of S. A., led all other districts in the country during June, ending the month by being thirty-four points ahead of its nearest competitor. The other districts as they appear in order in the rating sheet received Friday by Captain Ryan are: Portland, Ore., Salt Lake City, Detroit, San Francisco, Harrisburg, Spokane and Wichita. These are the only districts in the country which have recruited more than their quota.

Seventy-five more men were to be sent away from Fort Wayne Friday night to Fort Thomas, Ky., and Fort Benjamin Harrison. Thursday one hundred were sent away.

Widow Gives Only Son.
The regular army recruiting station was the setting of a sorrowful scene late Thursday afternoon when a widowed mother came to Captain Ryan and asked whether her only son, who was her sole support, could not be restored to her. The boy had enlisted and Captain Ryan began to write a personal letter to the war department asking for his release.

The captain then asked whether this was being done with the boy's consent and the mother answered "No." After a prolonged silence the mother said: "I have no right to stand in the way and I know if my father was living he would tell him to go. This war is bigger than any claim I can make. The country needs him and I guess I can get along somehow. We are all being called on to make a sacrifice and I will give my boy, who is all I have." None of the recruiting officers made a reply for they were choking back tears. A warm handshake in parting, however, expressed Captain Ryan's reverence for this little mother.

Many Were Examined.
Applicants for the second training camp of the officers reserve corps to the number of 247 were examined by the army officer in Fort Wayne. The rejections were small, but it is said that only a few of these men will be called at first.

HAD STOLEN THOUSANDS

Trusted Messengers for Adams Express Co. Under Arrest.

SILKS AND JEWELS IN VALUED LOOT

Local Men Had Worked on Road for Several Years.

Fire trusted messengers of the Adams Express company are in jail under heavy bond, charged with stealing valuables which had been placed in charge of the company. The men are believed to be a part of an organized band which has been robbing the company for years. More arrests will follow.

The men being held are: R. C. Maurer, 915 Barr street, fifteen years a messenger for the Adams Express company. He is held under $1,500 bond, charged with grand larceny.

H. D. Korte, who lives on the New Haven road, employed by the express company for the past five years. He is charged with grand larceny and is under $1,500 bond.

W. L. Magner, of Van Wert, O. Had worked for the company two years. He is under $1,000 bond on a petit larceny charge.

Flord Schnitz, 111 Masterson avenue, and R. F. Borhm, 829 East Washington street, are each under $500 bond on petit larceny charges.

Directors of the Adams Express company state that the company has paid out $70,000 for loss of goods in the territory between Pittsburgh and Chicago in the past four years.

Much Loot Recovered.
The five messengers were arrested Thursday afternoon at 3 o'clock, when they alighted from their runs on Pennsylvania express trains. Their homes were searched by the Chicago detectives who were in charge of the case, and Sheriff Gillie.

From Maurer's home on Barr street was recovered many silk dresses, silk shirts, a diamond valued at $150, a gold Masonic ring, many valuable stick pins, a typewriter, shoes and pictures. Three large baskets full of loot were carried from the Maurer home.

From Korte's home were taken two baskets full of express goods. Silks made up much of the valuables taken from the house on the New Haven road. Women's silk undergarments, silk hose and silk skirts constituted the bulk of the property taken. There was also a rifle, several bottles of imported whiskey and an overcoat.

Boehm and Schnitz did not have as much of the goods collected in their homes. Silks, ties, shirts, fish lines, combs, brushes and other articles were found in their houses. The home of the Van Wert man has not yet been searched.

Detective H. J. Biderman, of Chicago, chief special agent of the Adams Express company, who signed the affidavits against the men, states that all property to be regained at this time is worth $2,500. A part of the goods stolen may have been disposed of.

Maurer has signed a statement admitting that he has taken $500 worth of goods. Boehm admits taking $350 worth of property; Korte signs for $300; Magner, $25, and Schnitz, $25.

The men did not enter a plea in police court Friday morning. They will have a further hearing on next Wednesday. They are represented by Attorney Frank H. Kleekamp.

The messengers now in jail are expected to be joined by other Adams Express company workmen. Their day morning as more arrests are booked.

Detectives Long at Work.
The arrests of Thursday afternoon came at the end of a half year of diligent labor on the part of Chicago detectives. H. J. Biderman and P. V. Harrigan, special agent, and Captain Henry C. Stoll, of the Pennsylvania. The men were called into action after the express company had paid $600,000 in losses last year. The detectives went to work on the theory that employees were taking the money. They did not spring their trap until every clue had been run down and much evidence obtained.

Sheriff Gillie and two Pennsylvania railroad detectives were called Thursday afternoon when work of taking the express messengers in charge was about to be started. The men are all claimed to have admitted their guilt when taken by the officers. In their homes were found many articles which the detectives say can be easily identified as stolen property.

Mrs. R. F. Boehm was prostrated when the officers told her that her husband had been stealing from the express company. She believed that he had bought the pretty things he gave her, the woman said.

Mrs. Maurer admitted that she knew her husband had been taking articles from the train.

"Why don't the express company pay a living wage if they do not want their men to steal from them," Mrs. Maurer is said to have told the officers. Magner and Korte are also married men. It is thought that their wives know of their exploits.

GIVES HER CHILDREN AWAY.
Chicago, July 27.—Mrs. Mary Halady has only two children today. Yesterday she had eight. After years of poverty and hard work, Mrs. Halady, whose husband deserted her, finally acknowledged that she could not combat the rising cost of living and inserted an advertisement in a foreign language paper asking that six of her children be adopted and given homes.

leaving Mrs. Halady only a son 10 years old and a daughter 14 years.

ANNOUNCES MARRIAGE TO FRIENDS AT PARTY

Arthur Baron and Miss Marie Fulmer United in Wedlock on May 26.

(Special to The Sentinel.)

Columbia City, Ind., July 27.—At a party given to forty friends at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George Baron, of Thorneck township, Wednesday evening, their son, Arthur Baron, announced he had been wedded May 26, at Cassopolis, Mich., to Miss Marie Fulmer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Fulmer, of Thorneck township. After the ceremony the groom went to Indianapolis to complete his studies in a motor school, and the bride returned to the home of her parents. Tuesday the newlyweds came to the home of the groom's parents, where they will reside temporarily. The groom taught

Tan, Red or Freckled Skin is Easily Shed

To free our summer-solled skin of its muddiness, freckles, blotches or tan, the best thing to do is to free yourself of the skin itself. This is easily accomplished by the use of ordinary moricized wax, which can be had at any drugstore. Use at night as you go to bed, washing it off in the morning. Immediately the offending surface skin begins to come off in fine powder-like particles. Gradually the entire cuticle is absorbed, without pain or inconvenience. The second layer of skin now in evidence presents a spotless whiteness and sparkling beauty obtainable in no other way. If the heat tends to loosen and wrinkle your skin, there's an effective and harmless remedy you can readily make at home. Just let an ounce of powdered naxolite dissolve in a half-pint witch hazel and bathe your face in the liquid. This at once tightens the skin and smooths out the lines, making you look years younger. school two years in the county, but is undecided as to whether he will continue in that capacity, or follow farming.

Columbia City Short Notes.

Mrs. Ervin Hartman, of south Columbia township, underwent an operation for pelvic trouble Wednesday afternoon at the Lutheran hospital in Fort Wayne.

Mrs. Nancy J. Ohmart suffered a light stroke of paralysis, Wednesday evening, at her home south of the city. The members of the Presbyterian Brotherhood motored to the home of M. L. Galbreath, just north of Collamer, Wednesday evening, to tender a surprise to the past president of the organization. Mr. Galbreath was presented with an elegant past president's gold-rimmed button.

Dr. Kigin, Purdue veterinary expert, and B. L. Hummel, county agent, addressed the meeting of the Jefferson township anti-cholera association.

Remove Those Hairs Roots and All (Absolutely New Method).

The new way to remove disfiguring growths of superfluous hair, roots and all, will astonish and delight you. You never saw or heard of anything like it before. It is not a depilatory and not electrical. You simply get a stick of phenacetine from your druggist and follow the simple directions at home. In a few seconds you have removed the offending hairs, roots and all. With your own eyes you see the roots come right out. Phenacetine is absolutely harmless, non-poisonous and perfectly odorless. Satisfaction guaranteed or money refunded.—Advertisement.

Wednesday evening, in the center school, at which time a resolution was adopted, asking that the office of the county agent be established on the first floor, instead of the third floor of the court house in Columbia City. By-laws and the constitution were adopted.

SEVEN IN AN AUTO WHICH TURNS TURTLE

Six Are Nursing Wounds While Little Babe Escapes Unhurt.

Seven passengers were in a big touring car that turned turtle after leaving the Lincoln highway pavement near the Four-Mile house Wednesday evening. Three women were pinned beneath the car. Six of the passengers are nursing wounds, while a four-week-old babe escaped without a scratch.

The occupants of the car were Mr. and Mrs. Frank Tieman, Mrs. Fred Tieman and sons, Archie, aged ten years, and Ed, aged four weeks, Miss Laura Smith and Mrs. A. H. Smith. The Tiemans were visiting at the Smith home on Broadway when the suggestion was made that an automobile spin be taken on the highway.

When the car approached the turn at the roadhouse it left the road and turned over. The little babe was thrown from the mother's arm to a patch of grass along the roadside and was unhurt. The other occupants of the car were bruised and cut by glass. Their injuries are not thought to be serious.

WANTED TO BE A WAR BRIDE.

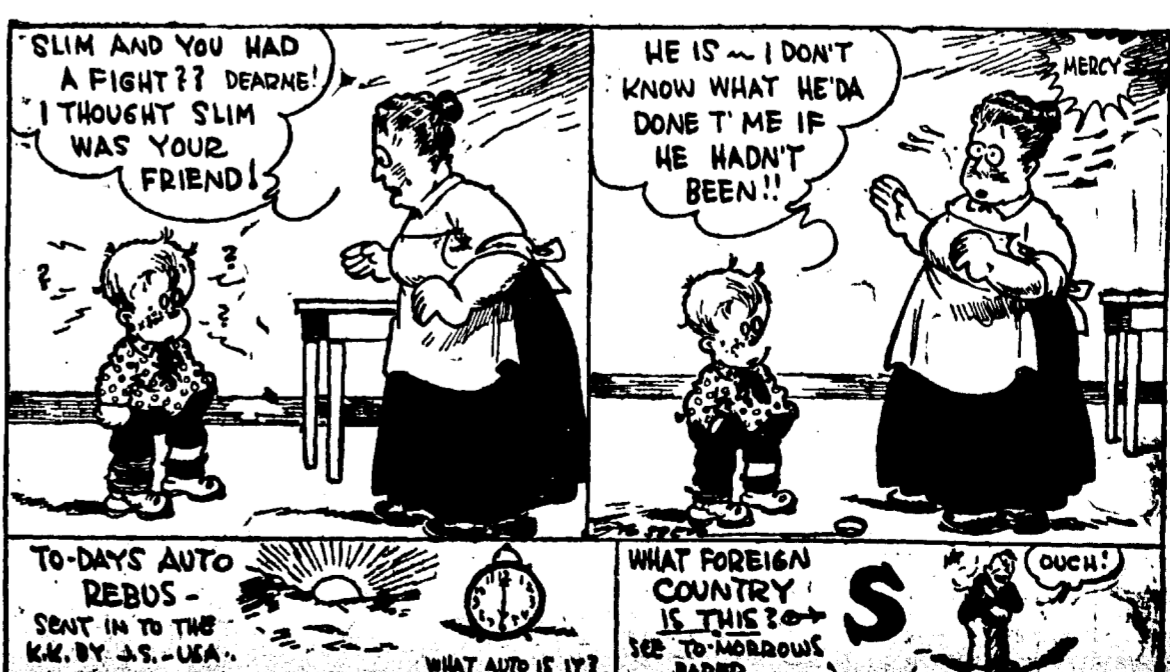

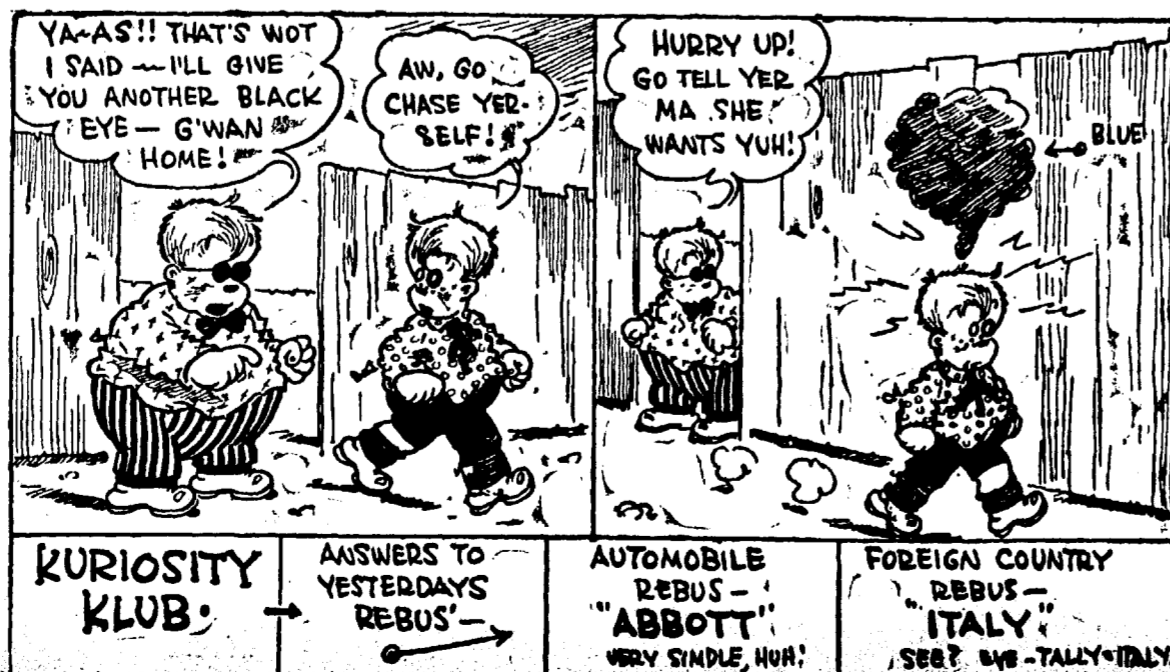

South Bend, Ind., July 27.—"I'd rather be a war bride than a broken-hearted sweetheart," was the declaration of pretty Clara Krueger, of Blue Island, Ill., now Mrs. Louis H. Robertson, of that city, following her marriage here yesterday. Called into service with the engineers, Robertson asked his fiancée what they should do about it. "Get married, of course," she replied, and the honeymoon foli

FRECKLES AND HIS FRIENDS

BRAKING ON RAILROAD IS EASIER THAN WASHING SAYS A BROOKLYN WOMAN WHO HAS TAKEN JOB ON A FREIGHT TRAIN

Not How Hard the Job, But Where Located, Has Marked Off Man's Work,
She Says—War Reveals to Women Man's Soft Snaps.

(Staff Special.)
New York, July 27.—"Braking isn't hard work," that's what Alice Mangan says, and she is a brakeman in the great Bush Terminal yards at Brooklyn, where women are doing almost all the tasks of longshoremen.
"This war is going to put women onto some of man's soft snaps," Miss Mangan says, "and in the future when some husbands come home tired they will get less sympathy."
"There was a time, I guess, when working on the railroad was a man's size job. When there were only hand-brakes, and hand-couplings, with heavy coupling pins that stuck, I can see where there was some hard work done between the engine and the caboose."
"But now—all couplings are automatic. Screwing the air hose together is about the hardest job. There are few hand-brakes, and they are so improved that small boys can lock them tight, and do, as any brakeman knows."
"And the whole upshot of it is that the work of a railroad brakeman in summer is no harder than lots of work women have been accustomed to doing. The only thing I can tell I will hate is climbing around over boxcars when they are covered with frozen sleet—and that's not a question of strength, it's a question of agility and sure-footedness."
"You can put this down in your notebook and tell the world so—it has not been how hard the job, but where was the job located, that determined whether it was woman's work or man's work. Anything in the house she did, easy or hard. Anything out in the world he did, hard or easy. And women's work has been harder than half man's work."

"I'd rather be a railroad brakeman and women is all in the eye. It isn't any day than lift washtubs and rub a physical strength or endurance, it is brakeman's shirts through the suds, or mental attitude. The world knows scrub the kitchen floor with those suds. some women have done the hardest farm work, as the European peasant wife, and some have done hard factory work, like American women factory employees. What, then, is strange about a woman brakeman?

"Most of the women working in British or American factories today are doing harder work than the men running the automatic machines."
"It is not only the Indian who made his wife a beast of burden. White men have done it too, without realizing the fact themselves, and this war is going to show them this truth."
"It isn't the hard work that bothers me. It's the desire to keep things clean, and you can't spend time wiping the dust and oil and grease off freight cars or locomotives."

RIVERS AND HARBORS BILL GOES THROUGH

What is Denounced as Pork Measure Opposed by But Eleven Senators.

Washington, July 27.—Carrying an appropriation of $27,054,000, the annual rivers and harbor bill was passed by the senate late yesterday, 50 to 11.
Although many senators had attacked the measure as pork barrel legislation of a kind inexcusable in war time, the only negative votes on the final roll call were cast by Senators Borah, Brady, Kenyon, LaFollette, Smith of Michigan, Ashurst, Gore, King, Fournier and Shafroth, democrats.
The measure, which passed the house June 27, now goes to conference. As passed by the senate it authorizes the government to enter into negotiations for acquisition of the Cape Cod canal, either by direct purchase or by condemnation proceedings, and provides for establishment of a federal waterways commission consisting of seven members appointed by the president. The Cape Cod canal and waterways commission provisions were not in the house bill.
Debated Four Days.
The bill was passed after four days of debate, most of the time being occupied by opponents of the measure. Senator Kenyon led the attack, but his motion to substitute a lump appropriation of $15,000,000 was rejected, 45 to 17. Senator King branded the system of making waterways appropriations as "iniquitous beyond expression," and Senator Borah pleaded for conservation of financial resources for use in conducting the war.
Numerous amendments introduced principally by the bill's opponents in effort to limit its provisions were rejected shortly before the final vote was taken. Senator Curtis's amendment providing that no money should be expended for river and harbor improvements except where absolutely necessary during the war was defeated 37 to 23. Another by Senator Kenyon providing that no appropriation could be expended unless the president should designate that it was a public necessity was voted down, 36 to 26.
Shafroth Plan Rejected.
Without a record vote the senate rejected Senator Shafroth's amendment, providing that an appropriation should be available except in the event that states, counties, cities and corporations affected by the project should pay one-third of the amount appropriated.
The waterways commission amendment was a committee proposal. It provides that at least one member shall be an army engineer and one an expert hydraulic engineer. The commission would make a study of the development and control of waterways and water resources. Each member will receive a salary of $7,500 per year.
Minor amendments adopted included one permitting Minnesota and North Dakota to enter into agreement to drain and reclaim lands and control flows along the Red and Minnesota rivers; authorizing the secretary of war to make regulations for any navigable territory endangered by coast artillery fire, and declaring St. Mary's river in Ohio and Indiana a non-navigable stream.

PUBLIC BEST DEFENSE AGAINST THE SPIES

Co-Operation of People and Police Effective Says
Scotland Yard.

London, July 12.—(By Mail.)—The most effective method of combating the German espionage system in the United States is to be found in co-operation between the public generally and the police, according to opinions expressed to The Associated Press by high officials of Scotland Yard.
From the first days of the war English police and military agents who have had to do with gathering in of German spies have received masses of information from citizens regarding suspicious persons and through this co-operation have been enabled to apprehend many undesirable and dangerous persons, who otherwise might have been at large.
Scotland Yard has had considerable trouble with neutrals in the employ of the German government and the English police feel that this menace is one which the United States will have to guard against.

Is Helping America.
Since the entry of the United States into the war, English officials and officials of the United States department of justice have been closely co-operating along these and other related lines and the American agents have been furnished with much information not only in regard to persons but in regard to methods of catching those who are working for Berlin. Scotland Yard has the greatest respect for the abilities and efficiency of the American police, but feels that they would probably be able to accomplish much more if they had more power to act in emergencies. Moreover, it is realized that the task before the American spy catchers is even more difficult than it has been for those of England. In the first place there are more Germans in the United States than there ever have been in England and then they have more room to work in America and more avenues of communication. The compact wireless apparatus, easily moved about and within containers that disguise its real nature, is to be especially guarded against. Scotland Yard feels. To Beat the Wireless.
Considerable difficulty has been experienced here with the wireless and the police now freely employ an instrument through the use of which these enemy instruments are detected. Scotland Yard is intensely interested in the work that is being done in the United States to discover how the Germans found out when American destroyers were due in English waters and how they discovered the location of the ocean rendezvous of the transports bearing the first American contingent. Obviously, the English officials say, German spies are in a position to become familiar with the most secret of secrets in Washington and they are anxious to render any assistance they can toward weeding them out.

Wholesale internment of Germans will not solve the problem. England has not interned all her German residents, but the police are absolutely certain of the connections of those allowed to remain at large.

There is a general feeling in London that the execution of the first spies caught would go far in the United States toward persuading others, Germans as well as neutrals, that such work is extremely hazardous and very likely to have disastrous results.

SAYS HIS WIFE IS CRUEL AND INHUMAN

Mirl Robbins Files Suit for Divorce in DeKalb Circuit Court.

(Special to The Sentinel.)

Auburn, Ind., July 27.—Mirl Robbins, of this city, is asking the court for a divorce from his wife, Mary Robbins. His charge against the defendant is cruel and inhuman treatment. They were married in September, 1915, and separated July 1917. Two children were born to them, one 16 months old and one 3 months old. The husband is but 20 years old. He states that his wife repeatedly asked him to get a divorce as she was tired of him. Robbins will be remembered as the young motorcyclist who figured in an accident on the Garrett-Auburn road two years ago, when he, with a companion, ran into a light wagon, killing some of the occupants. A charge of manslaughter was filed against him at the time.

Auburn Short Notes.
Mr. and Mrs. Burton Dillworth, of Washington street, received yesterday of the marriage of their daughter, Mrs. Lillian Rogers, and Charles Reichtel, of Preston, Ohio. Their marriage occurred at Hillsdale and they will make their home at Preston.
Dr. J. W. Squires, of Fort Wayne, was in this city Tuesday attending the funeral of his cousin, Mrs. Marian Askey, which was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Fanning.
Owing to the fact that he was within the age limit for conscription, County Clerk Walter W. Mountz received word from State, Conscription Agent

Coffee tastes differ greatly. Consider for a moment how much they differ! Some folks take cream in their coffee. Others prefer only sugar. Some take both; others like neither. It stands to reason that with all these different coffee tastes, no one blend will suit everyone. The problem is to suit the taste of the majority exactly. And now the problem is more than solved—for

Will Picnic Sunday.
The Young Ladies' society of the St. Paul's Lutheran church will have its annual picnic on Sunday in Bleke's grove, north of the city, which can be reached by Robison park cars. Picnickers will leave cars at stop 4 on that line. Members of the society will go to the picnic after the German services in the forenoon. Those who attend are requested to take their lunches.

WHERE TO SPEND YOUR VACATION.

On the Farm.
The first couple of days of your vacation on the farm will be very lovely and the remaining 12 days will be lovely thinking of how great it will be to get back to the city.
The first night, sitting on the porch looking out into the darkness, listening to the concert rendered by a million and three crickets without any intermission, a dog barking five miles away and the occasional moo and kick that comes from the cow shed, you'll say, "Yes, bo! this is the life!"
The next night you'll inquire if there's a movie to go to and being informed it's eight and a half miles away and only open on Saturday night, your edge of being on the farm will begin to wear.
Oh well we could write a volume about the farm, but we don't want to spoil your vacation.

NO BIDS SUBMITTED FOR HOSPITAL BONDS

Commissioners Patiently Waiting for Someone to Respond.

Another unfortunate condition has arisen to apparently put another stumbling block in the progress of the erection of an Allen county tuberculosis hospital. It was advertised widely that Friday, July 27, would be the day when bids would be received for the bonds.

Late Friday afternoon not a single bid had been received by the board of county commissioners for all or a part of the $100,000 bonds. The commissioners are waiting patiently, still hoping that some one or some firm or bank will submit a bid.

Various firms asked about the sale of the bonds through correspondence and information was wired to them several days ago to be present today. No one showed up.

It is understood that a committee of the Anti-tuberculosis society had had a verbal agreement from several of the local banks for the purchasing of these bonds. It is said that two of the banks were obliged to withdraw. Just what the outcome will be is not known.

Accept Bridge Plans.

The board of county commissioners accepted plans for thirty-nine small bridges in the county Friday morning. The letting of these contracts will take place on August 16 at 10 o'clock in the morning.

To Be Tried Later.

Contrary to the item which was published Thursday that a judgment had been given the plaintiff in the case of Harry M. Bridgman against William S. Wells, the judgment has been set aside and the case will be tried at a later date.

Judge Sol A. Wood is a professional visitor in Elkhart.

Rabbi Saul Schorr, of the B'nai Jacob congregation, and Mrs. Schorr, both of whom have been ill for several days, were taken to the Hope hospital Thursday.

SOME ACTION PICTURES SHOWING THE I. W. W. STRIKE TROUBLES THAT STIRRED UP ARIZONA

General view of refugee camp at Columbus, N. M., where 1,164 men, deported from Arizona, are being cared for by U. S. troops in command of Colonel H. G. Sichel.

About 50 per cent of the exiles are Americans. The foreigners are Servians, Italians, Mexicans, Austrians, Englishmen and a few Germans.

Servians and Servian sympathizers are in the majority among the foreigners, according to Ben Webb, chairman of the strike committee.

Many of the men had been without food for 52 hours when they reached Columbus. About 400 are registered for the draft and many have bought Liberty bonds and aided the Red Cross fund. Twenty of the men are business men from Bisbee.

On Outpost Duty—Citizen deputies armed with rifles are shown waiting at Osborn, Ariz., eight miles from Bisbee, ready to stop any strikers or I. W. W. men attempting to return to Bisbee.

Running the Gauntlet at Jerome—Strikers at Jerome, Ariz., another town in the trouble zone, are shown marching through a lane of guards armed with pick handles. The men were first jailed and then deported from the town.

CHICAGO SWITCHMEN READY FOR A STRIKE

Twenty-Five Hundred Will Go Out Saturday if Demands Fail.

Chicago, July 27.—Two thousand five hundred railroad switchmen employed in Chicago terminals, are expected to strike at 6 o'clock tomorrow morning, according to announcement made today by Frank Hasler, of the "general managers' conference committee." The railroad officials said the strike probably would tie up considerable government transportation and explained that it resulted from demands of the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen for a close shop.

James Murock, vice president of the brotherhood, and who is in charge of the union interests in the controversy, said the reason assigned by the railroad officials for the strike was "absolutely and unqualifiedly false and on a par with many other statements coming from that source."

"The strike results from the failure of the roads to concede certain reasonable rules affecting working conditions," he said.

boy Aesop's fables: "The Image Seller." Maybe you've heard it, maybe you haven't. Anyhow, we'll make it read nineteen seventeen.

Once there was a fella who wanted to make a lot of kake, but the gelt didn't show up with much speed, so he got busy and wrote some books on "How to Make $100,000 a Year," etc.

HOLTON AVENUE FOLK APPEAL FOR ACTION

Want Work Started on
Drive Before Homes.

A delegation of Holton avenue citizens appeared before the board of works, Thursday night and clamored for immediate action in paving the street before their homes, and the laying of sidewalks. When half of the visiting party had spoken the board members interposed the promise that work of placing the improvement would start soon. The pavement and walks for the region south of Eckart street will be started before cold weather, it was promised.

The board approved the assessment roll for the laying of a sewer in the Spy Run district. The big drain will serve all that section west of the St. Joe river, north of the St. Mary's river and east of the New York Central railroad tracks.

Other assessment rolls confirmed by the board were for paving Fox avenue, from Taylor street to Home avenue; sewers 156 feet south of Maumee avenue, from Warren street to Summer street; across avenues 9, 12, 13 and 16, in Hough's outlots, between Fairfield and Arlington avenues, from the alley south of the avenue to its southern terminus; vacating Fisher street from Bowser avenue to Holton avenue; Axel street from the alley west of Bowser avenue to Holton avenue; from Holton avenue to the southern terminus of Bond avenue; first alley east of Fairfield, from Organ avenue to its southern terminus, and that portion of Jackson street, from the northwest corner of lot 2, in Chipman's addition, to the northeast corner of lot 8, in the same addition. Plans and estimates for the building of a subway beneath the Lake Shore tracks at Sherman street were before the board. As the law allows thirty days for the preparation of the plans, no action was taken but as soon as they are ready, the city will set for a hearing on the grades to be established.

DISMISS CHARGE

Health Board Withdraws Charge
When Work Is Promised.

Health officers withdrew their charges of allowing unsanitary conditions, which had been preferred against August Pulse, who owns property at 1223 Erie street, when the defendant agreed to take action at once. The case was to have been tried in the city court Friday morning. Pulse was charged with neglecting to clean his cellar and delaying in installing a sanitary toilet. He showed health men that he was prepared to have the work carried on at once.

Case of Diphtheria.

Audra Titwirth, 810 Wagner street, aged 10, suffers from an attack of diphtheria. The health board has been notified.

Building Permits.

Building permits were issued to Weinman and Harrod, to build a residence at 2107 Crescent avenue, $5,000, and Joseph McCarthy, to build addition to house, 1117 Edsall avenue, $500.

HOW IT FEELS TO DROP A MILE OR TWO FROM SKY AS A MATTER OF FACT YOU DO NOT FEEL AT ALL

"I Have No Sensation When in the Air," Says Dare-devil of Flying World,
Who Does Many a Crazy
Trick in the Clouds.

(King of Daredevil Flyers.)

I am a birdman, skilled in the craft of flying, gambling with death because it's my profession. It's the only trade I know. I put my skill as a stunt aviator against the call of the Great Reaper. If I lose—but I won't lose, I can't—the cards are not stacked that way.

My sensations while flying? As a matter of fact, I'm not supposed to have any. Lack of sensation, lack of fear, the possession of confidence, knowledge of flying and the ability to keep one's head—those are the qualifications essential to the aerial trickster.

To be adept, a flyer must lose any sensation which might induce fear. He must cultivate bird sense. If he does not he will lack the ability to feel his equilibrium, he will not have that supernatural sense of balance which is indispensable.

The lure of the air grips me, the adventure, the sporting elements involved. I love the game. I do not feel the gambler. I feel I am master of the air. I loop, I bank, I dip, I climb, and all the time the motor beats its deafening din in my ears, and the whine of the wind in the wires tells me I'm conquering the bigness of space. It's great.

Come for a flight with me. I'm seated in my car. The propeller is spinning, the noise is deafening. I raise my hand, the machine is released. I'm off. "Grass-out" for a moment, but as the momentum grows, I pull back on my control and I'm up.

I glance down. The world is falling away. Faces are turned up. People wave. I know they cheer but they waste their breath for I cannot hear them. I have no sensation of rising. Instead, I feel as if the earth were going away from me.

mand of Archduke Joseph have retreated on the Rumanian front. The statement given out today by the German war office says that the Russians left the Russo-Rumanian territory in the Suchitza valley as far as the upper course of the Putna river.

CLOSE SHAVE FOR EMPEROR.

Amsterdam, July 27.—Emperor Charles, of Austria, had a narrow escape last week while visiting the battle front in Galicia, says the Wiener Allgemeine Zeitung. While the emperor was taking luncheon at a castle near the battle line Russian artillery shells the dwelling. The emperor first refused to take cover and went on the balcony, but owing to the protestations of his staff he was finally induced to leave.

monarchical government "will be suppressed in the most determined and merciless way."

As an indication of the new policy and firm measures to be taken, Kerensky received an ultimatum to hand over three of the chief Bolshevik agitators, including the notorious Roschal. In case of a refusal the island will be declared blockaded.

The evening newspapers declare the position on the island is somewhat improved. As the evacuation of Tarnopol is considered to have been premature, Russian generals have been ordered to recapture the town.

WILL BE OPEN ON SATURDAY NIGHTS

The registration office on the second floor of the city building will be open every Saturday night from 7 to 9:30 o'clock until the office closes on the first Monday in October. Those wishing to take part in the city election are required to register.

TO EXTERMINATE BANDITS.

Mexico City, July 27.—General Salvador Alvarado, governor of Yucatan, who was called to the capital some time ago for a conference with President Carranza, has returned to Yucatan to assume full charge of military operations for the extermination of bandits in the states of Yucatan, Tabasco and Campeche. It was generally rumored when General Alvarado arrived here that he was to assume a place in Carranza's cabinet, but his departure seems to have put an end to such rumors.

ROBBERS SHOT WATCHMAN.

SENTINEL WANT ADS. ALWAYS GET RESULTS.

Aviator Lawrence Brown, daredevil birdman, and picture of sky flare during illuminated flight in "Death Dive."

I climb in great swinging circles, as the buzzard flies. The earth falls farther below. At an altitude of 2,000 feet, "the safety zone," I start my stunts. I loop. Diving slightly, I pull backward, and steadily rise. Straight up I go, always pulling backward. First I am shooting perpendicularly upward, then slightly backward, and finally I am upside down. The world swims below me. My engine suddenly dies. I am at the pinnacle of my loop. It happens quickly. In a moment I'm diving downward and the whirl of my motor has cranked it again. The loop is ended.

The advantage of flying at a height of 2,000 feet lies in the fact that the flyer has sufficient air between him and the earth in which to right himself if he loses control. I have fallen as far as 600 feet before gaining control again. Every air pilot comes out of a fall with a nose dive. It is his only chance. This gives him speed, and speed means control in the air.

A man flies at night entirely through his sense of balance. He sees nothing.

Because of my spectacular "death dive," I am called the "human comet." I attach magnesium flares to the plane and shoot out of the heavens a lurid line of light.

It was this dive that killed Beachy, and it was Beachy who christened the dive, it is well named.

This stunt is the most dangerous of all air tricks. The pilot does it at the risk of stopping his heart or bursting his ear drums. The strain on his machine cannot be estimated. He shoots earthward at the rate of 200 miles an hour and the shriek of the wind in the wires of his plane can be heard several miles.

In this stunt a man experiences that sickly, singing sensation which you get when an elevator drops suddenly. It's a great game, this flying; not a gamble so much as a battle between Fate and Skill.

GOVERNMENT OF RUSSIA HELPED BY THE LOSSES

Washington, July 27.—The Russian military reverses have enormously strengthened the hands of the government in Petrograd, according to a message from Ambassador Francis to the state department. They have shown the impossibility of control of the army by soldiers' committees, and the ambassador reports, and have led to a universal demand for stronger discipline.

The ambassador reported that the military crisis at the front had caused the deepest alarm in Petrograd, not only as to a severe military disaster, but as to the achievement of revolution itself. All parties are united, he said, in urging the government to use any measures necessary to meet the situation.

CONGRESS TAKING BRIEF REST.

Washington, July 27.—The first brief respite in law legislation in several months was secured last night by the senate when it recessed until Monday. The house took a similar holiday, but both bodies faced important duties next week. The week-end rest for the senate was made possible by delay on the war tax bill and food control measure in committee. To secure the recess the senate remained in session until 7 o'clock last night and passed the rivers and harbors bill.

AGAIN FIGHTING IN CHINA.

Shanghai, China, July 27.—A correspondent of the North China Daily News reports that serious fighting has broken out again at Cheng-Tu, capital of the province of Sheng-Chuen, where Kwel Chow and Yuan-Wan troops have resumed their quarrel for mastery of the province. The city is in flames and the people are fleeing in panic.

AL PALAZAR'S DAD FLOORS HIM.

Fergus Falls, Minn., July 27.—Al Palazar, the prize fighter, was shot and perhaps fatally injured last night by his father when the latter attacked the fighter's mother. Palazar is now in a hospital.

RELIEF FOR ASIA.

Washington, D. C., July 27.—For relief of civilian populations in Armenia and Mesopotamia, the Red Cross war council has appropriated $300,000 to be expended this month by the American committee for Armenian and Syrian relief and will make similar allowances monthly for the rest of the year, if the Turkish government does not hamper the committee's work seriously.

COMPENSATION FOR ALL THE DEPENDENTS

Sydney, C. B., July 27.—Every woman and child dependent upon the sixty-nine miners who lost their lives in the Dominion Coal company's colliery explosion at New Waterford on Wednesday, will be provided for under the Nova Scotia workmen's compensation act. The injured men also will be kept in funds until their recovery under provisions of the act. It is estimated that the workmen's compensation board will have to appropriate about $200,000 for this purpose.

SEVEN HURT WHEN AN AUTO TURNS TURTLE

Seven persons were slightly injured Thursday evening when an automobile belonging to and driven by Charles Heckman turned turtle on the Lincoln highway. The occupants of the car were Mr. and Mrs. Frank Tieman, Mrs. Fred Tieman, son, Archer, aged ten, and little Miss Mildred Bowser's daughter, Vandahell, and Miss Myrtle Mitchell and mother, Mrs. Mitchell. When the car approached the turn at the roadhouse it left the road and turned over. The little babe was thrown from the mother's arm to a patch of grass along the roadside and was unhurt. The women were pinned beneath the car.

Beautiful baskets of yellow roses and bachelors' buttons decorated the tables for Miss Mildred Bowser's luncheon at the Country club today, to honor visiting guests, Mrs. J. S. O'Rourke, of Detroit, who is visiting her sister, Mrs. Arnold Tresselt and Miss Florence Lister, of Olympia, Wash., who is the guest of Miss Persis Bond.

Courses of the same flowers were presented to the visitors and the table and room were very attractive in the two colors used. Covers were laid for seventeen.

AMERICANS LEAVE DENMARK.

Copenhagen, July 27.—The American consul general says that the floating American population in Denmark nearly all has left for home. The only American citizens here are those whose business requires their presence and no tourists are to be found. Traveling accommodations would be found scanty if there were any travelers for pleasure. Two-thirds of the train service has been cut off and the street car service has been greatly reduced. There are no motor cars after 9 p. m. and none on Sundays or holidays.

BEN HURS TO HOLD SERVICES.

The Ben Hurs will hold services at the grave of Byron Strawn Sunday afternoon. A special car will be at the house to carry members to the cemetery.

During the rest of July and all of August the city light offices will be closed Satur- day nights at 6 o'clock instead of 9 o'clock.

Slight Gain.

Chicago, July 27.—Complaint of drought effects in the southwest gave corn prices today a new lift. Outgoing quotations which ranged from 1/4¢ off to 1/2¢ up, with September at $1.63 and December at $1.64 to $1.66, were followed by a material upturn all around. Wheat hardened with corn.

The close was steady, 1/4¢ off to 1/2¢ higher, with September $1.63 and December $1.66. After opening 1 1/2¢ to 3 1/2¢ higher at $2.50 for July and $2.24 for September, the market reacted a little and then scored additional gains. The close was firm, 3/4¢ to 5/8¢ net higher at $2.52 July and $2.26 September. Strength developed in oats as in other grains. There was no urgent call for provisions.

WOHELO CAMP FIRE GIRLS HAVE PICNIC

Day is Spent at Eckhart
Park in Auburn—Garrett News.

(Special to The Sentinel.)
Garrett, Ind., July 27.—The Wohelo Campfire Girls enjoyed a picnic at the Eckhart park at Auburn Friday. This is a new organization composed of girls from twelve to fourteen years of age. They have already enlisted in the Red Cross work and have offered their services to Mrs. J. W. Thompson, who has charge of the sewing. They will make the snip pillows for the soldiers and are planning to hold a "snip party" in a few days. Many people are not aware of the snip pillows and the snip party. The snip pillows are cut up into tiny pieces and made into pillows. They will also make the needle cases for the comfort bags. Mrs. J. D. Jack is guardian of this enthusiastic bunch of girls.

Garrett Short Notes.
Mr. and Mrs. William Hazleton and son, Jack, and Mr. and Mrs. Perry Bunting, of Detroit, returned to their home yesterday after a ten days' visit with Mr. and Mrs. O. O. Clark. They motored through and were accompanied home by Miss Ethel Clark.

Mr. and Mrs. George Wilson are enjoying a week's outing at Lake Wawasee.

Miss Alma Elam is spending a ten days' vacation with friends at La-Grange. Miss Elam is a member of the 1915 graduating class of that city and will attend the class reunion to be held there this week.

Miss Margaret Spencer, of Albion, is spending the week-end with Mrs. F. M. McDonald.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Gordon have returned from a visit of two weeks with friends in Michigan.

Mrs. M. E. Klingler is spending a week with friends at Cleveland and New Bedford, O.

Ernest Passel, one of the pioneer residents of this city, was taken to the German Methodist home at Quincy, Ill., yesterday, to make his future home. Mr. Passel is 72 years of age and has resided in Garrett forty-two years. Since the death of his wife two years ago he has lived alone. He was accompanied to Quincy by Attorney Fred L. Feick and sent word back to his friends that he was more than pleased with his new home.

Tomorrow is the last day of our July sale. Store open until 10 tomorrow night.

LABOR PROBLEMS

Much Attention Given in England to Consideration of Them.

London, July 27.—(Correspondence.)—The vital question of labor after the war and the relationship between master and men is receiving particular attention in official as well as in trade circles. A belated report issued by a sub-committee of the reconstruction committee for the permanent improvement of relations between employers and workmen has been just issued and sent out to the leading employers' associations and trade unions.

In a covering letter, Sir D. Shackleton says that the war cabinet is deeply concerned that timely measures should be taken before the end of the war for the future of industry.

The report recommends the establishment of an organization for each industry representative of employers and employees to consider matters affecting the trade from the point of view of all those engaged in it.

One of the chief factors of the demobilization problem, consists of the guarantees given by the government with parliamentary sanction, to restore trade union rules and customs suspended during the war. The report considers that the definite co-operation and acquiescence by both employers and employees must be a condition of any settling aside of these guarantees and undertakings and that if new arrangements satisfactory to all parties but not in strict accordance with the guarantees, are to be reached, they must be the joint work of employers and employees.

National industrial councils are advocated in order to secure co-operation by granting to working men and women a greater share in the consideration of matters affecting their industry. The following questions are mentioned as being specially suitable for consideration:

Better utilization of practical knowledge and experience.

Means to secure to workers a greater share in and responsibility for determination and observance of conditions of work.

Settlement of general principles of employment, including methods of hiring, paying and re-adjusting wages.

Establishment of regular methods of negotiation with a view to preventing differences between master and man.

Means of insuring to workers the greatest possible security of earnings and employment.

Technical education and training.

Industrial research for full consideration of invention and improvements designed by workers and for the adequate safeguarding of the rights of the designers.

Improvements of processes, machinery and organization and full consideration of workers' point of view.

Proposed legislation affecting the industry.

No suggestions are offered in the report on profit-sharing, co-partnership or particular systems of wages. "We are convinced," says the report, "that a permanent improvement in the relations between employers and employees must be founded upon something other than a cash basis."

CITIZENS OF SAN FRANCISCO OPEN THE TWO-MILE TWIN PEAKS TUNNEL

Mayor James Rolph, Jr., with ham-amer, and City Engineer M. M. O'Connell, of San Francisco, Cal., driving silver spike in railway at recent ceremonies celebrating the opening of the Twin Peaks Tunnel, one of the biggest engineering projects ever completed by a western municipality.

The tunnel is 12,000 feet long, more than two miles, and was built at a cost of $4,250,000. Work began on the long bore in November, 1914. It will cut the time schedule from outlying districts into the city in half.

SOME MATHEMATICIAN IS CITY JUDGE KERR

He Figures Away While
Pete Doenges is Relating Story.

Judge H. W. Kerr is good at juggling figures. He adds variance to the court session by mixing up his findings day by day.

When Peter Doenges, 58, 1214 Eliza street, told that his wife accidentally fell down and hurt her face and that it was a mistake about him striking her with a mop handle, the judge figured steadily on. At the termination of the case Judge Kerr announced a finding of $175 fine and 180 days in jail. Chipping will show that the penalty is just $365, for $10 costs must be added to the penalty.

Mrs. Doenges presented a pitiful appearance when she took the stand in police court, Friday morning. Her face is discolored and badly swollen. She told that her husband, who was intoxicated at the time, hit her with a mop handle when she told him to stay off the back porch, which she had just scrubbed, Thursday afternoon. The woman was felled by the blow. Neighbors called police.

Other Police Court Cases.
William J. McGowan, charged with jostling and who is believed to have stolen an electric iron, is held under $50 bond for trial on July 31.

Roy V. Harland, charged with something a fraudulent check for $15 on a Michigan bank, was bound to the circuit court under $500 bond.

Louis Jelenke, a foreigner, who carried a sharpened table knife in his hip pocket when arrested by Detective Sergeant Walter Immel, Thursday night, was fined $10 and costs on a jostling charge.

Cases of public intoxication were: John Taylor, fined $5 and costs; Jack Maloney, $1; Noah Dennis, $1.

Bay, Skinny! Nelson Gentes, that barber at Patterson-Fletcher's certainly knows how to do the work.

WANTED—Girl for cigar stand, Anthony hotel.

DECATUR NEWS.

EXPLODER M'MILLAN WILL RETURN SOON

Arctic Wanderer Coming in
of Four Years.

London, July 27.—Donald MacMillan, the arctic explorer, who has been in the polar country for the past four years, expects to return home by September 15 next, according to a letter to P. F. Parker, of this city, manager of his personal affairs, made public today. The letter was dated at Etah on Nov. 6, last and is believed to be the first direct word from MacMillan this year although advices have been received indirectly.

"If our relief ship does not fail us a third time," the explorer writes, "I should reach home about September 15, 1917."

"Although I have had, or will have had four years in the arctic, yet I am not a bit tired of it, and have planned for further work."

"As you know we failed to find Crocker land. I am sorry for Peary who was without a doubt sincere in his belief that it lay some 120 miles due northwest of Cape Thomas Hubbard; we went 151 miles to make sure and then were rewarded with nothing but a clear horizon."

"Last year I reached my objective point, King Christian land, the Finly land of some 60 years which has never been visited as far as I know. Returning, I headed for North Cornwall, which also has never been explored. Enroute six new islands were discovered and many miles of coast line mapped. Incidentally we picked up about fifty muskoxen and twenty polar bears. Am now planning another long trip in the spring which when completed will net me about 8,000 miles of dog team work."

"We have enough food for the year, such as it is. Our supplies consist largely of beans, dehydrated vegetables, whole wheat biscuit and pemekin. Walrus and seal meat are in cache and hare on the hills. Ducks and doves will be back in May and then we shall be in the land of plenty again."

Old boys, attention! You who are between 8 and 16 years and are particularly about your hair cuts, come to our shop.

DEADLY WIRE TAKES THE LIVES OF TWO

TWO WORKMEN KILLED IN AN ACCIDENT AT GENERAL ELECTRIC

Guy Wire Comes in Contact With City
Electric Wire Electrocuting Thomas
Smethers and Emil Jacobs.

OTHERS HAVE A NARROW ESCAPE

Thomas Smethers, 33 years old, and Emil Jacobs, 45 years old, are dead as the result of a guy wire which they were holding in some manner coming in contact with a live wire of the city shortly before 10 o'clock Friday morning at the plant of the General Electric company.

Both men were practically dead when fellow workmen reached them. Smethers was partially restored, but died a few minutes after he had been placed in the police ambulance. The police ambulance engine stalled and he was removed to an Electric works truck and rushed to St. Joseph's hospital. An effort was made there to revive him, but without result.

Jacobs was given attention by the nurse of the Electric works and Dr. E. M. Van Buskirk. The pulmotor of the Electric company was put to use and an entire can of oxygen was used, but all efforts failed to restore him. He was pronounced dead at 11 o'clock by Coroner Dr. J. E. McArdle.

Smethers is a married man and besides his wife is survived by three small children. None of his fellow employees nor the proprietor of the Power company, to which he was loaned, could give any information concerning Jacobs.

The men were employed by the Indiana Engineering and Construction company and were engaged in the erection of an addition to building No. 5 of the General Electric company on Broadway.

How It Happened.
Smethers and Jacobs and several other workmen were at work placing a guy line on the tower which was being erected. The cable was thrown across the wires of the City Light and Power company. It is believed that the insulation was not good and that a contact was made.

The wires carried 2,300 volts and the men who took hold of the wire received the entire voltage. The two men who were electrocuted were standing on the ground. The other men were standing on wood and but for the presence of mind of Clyde Young, the laborer foreman, the toll of life might have been greater. Young saw the men hanging on to the cable and endangering himself, pulled them loose. One of the two men could not be found, but the other one gave his name as Wesley Norman.

Both of the men who were killed were badly burned. In the case of Jacobs the charge entered the right hand and came out of his body at the left elbow, leaving a big burn and exposing the elbow bone. Smethers' hand and arms were also badly burned.

Chief William Wurtle, of the Electric works fire department, busied himself with assisting in the restoration of the two men. The heat was too great for him and he had to be carried to the dispensary for treatment. He recovered shortly afterward.

Many of the employees of the Electric

War of Races.

Chester, Pa., July 27.—With armed guards patrolling a large area of the city, which was restored here today after an outbreak of race rioting which exacted a toll of two lives and caused injury to scores of persons, both white and colored. The local authorities were at first unable to cope with the situation when rioting was resumed last night after a quiet day following the disorders of Wednesday, but with the assistance of national guardsmen, state police and five hundred special deputies the streets were cleared and order was restored shortly after midnight.

The negro section was roped off and surrounded with a patrol and guards were stationed in positions to prevent further outbreaks in the other districts of the city. All saloons and amusement places were ordered closed by Mayor McDowell.

Extra police guarded the city hall, where seventy-four rioters were locked up for hearings, many of them being struck by clubs and rocks. Of the score or more injured several had fingers shot off, others were stabbed and many had limbs broken. Several of them, it is said, could not recover. Charles Lucas, a negro, and arrested in connection with the killing of Joseph McCann, white, at the outbreak of the disturbance, was spirited away by the police to the media jail. The other victim was a negro.

No Further Outbreak Feared.
Mayor McDowell announced early today that the situation was under control and no further outbreaks were feared. While the riots were the direct

GERMANS PUSHING FORWARD RAPIDLY

Cossacks Covering Slav Retreat and Trying to Encourage Infantry.

Berlin, July 27.—Near Tarnopol, in eastern Galicia, Emperor William yesterday watched the German troops extend their gains at the Sereth bridgehead, says the official statement issued today by the German war office.

The German statement said that the German troops are rapidly advancing on both sides of the Dniester river. The Galician town of Kolomea on the railroad between Stanislaw and Cernowitz, has been captured by the Teutons. The Austro-German forces are pursuing the Russians who are retreating through the wooded Carpathians in the direction of the river Pruth.

COSSACKS COVER RETREAT.

Petrograd, July 27.—Russian cavalry threw back the pressing Austro-German infantry on Wednesday in the region southwest of Monasterzyska, in eastern Galicia, says the official statement issued today by the Russian war department.

The Russian announcement says the Rumanians have advanced towards the upper reaches of the Suchitza river and are consolidating their gains. The Rumanians took many prisoners and captured six guns.

Between the Dniester river and the Carpathians the Russian troops are continuing to retire in an easterly direction.

Southeast of Trembowla, in Galicia, near the Russian border, the Russians near a short distance to new positions. The Austro-Germans have occupied the Galician towns of Plotyey and Czysztol, on the Sereth river.

COSSACKS ARE HEROES.

Petrograd, July 27.—Accounts of the battles in Galicia, which have reached here, say the cavalrymen fought like heroes. Cossacks cooperating with Russian and British motor cars defended the Sereth line as long as the last hope remained.

It is reported that artillerymen on their knees implored the infantry to save their guns, but that the infantry did not heed the appeal. The German General Korniloff's orders to shoot traitors and marauders are being carried out. The commander of a grenadier division has been removed for refusing to fire on deserters.

GOOD CONTROL A FACTOR IN THIS FINE WAR GAME

New York, July 27.—A hand grenade throwing contest, in which soldiers will compete in military uniform, is one of the chief events on the program at the military athletic meet of the New York Athletic club at Traverse Island today. Each soldier competing in this event will be allowed three grenades to throw from behind a fence, the points being judged by the accuracy of the throw to the objective point. This event is only one of many arranged for the benefit of the soldiers stationed at the various posts in and around New York.

CHICAGO PLANS MIGHTY PARADE OF DRAFT ARMY

Chicago, Ill., July 27.—A movement for a parade on August 4, of the 50,000 men called into the new national army in Chicago by draft was started today. According to tentative plans the prospective soldiers will be commanded by the 4,000 reserve officers now in training at Fort Sheridan. The invitation issued to all men in Chicago whose numbers came within those called for service, says: "On August 4, the citizens of Chicago will do honor to the men who will constitute Chicago's first parade in the national army."

SPILLING BLOOD ON THE STREETS OF RUSS CAPITAL

London, July 27.—Fresh and violent fighting occurred in the streets of Petrograd in the last two days, according to a dispatch from Petrograd to the Copenhagen Berlingske Tidende, transmitted by the Exchange Telegraph company yesterday. The extreme socialists organized a great revolt, the dispatch adds, but the government troops immediately interfered and rioting was completely suppressed after lively fighting. No details were received.

UNCLE SAM'S YOUNG ARMY

Near a Million Boys and Girls

Enter Food Conservation Campaign.

JOIN WITH FOOD TRAINING CAMPS

Juvenile Legion Already is at Work Canning and Drying Food.

Washington, July 27.—Eight hundred thousand boys and girls, Uncle Sam's juvenile food army, today entered the food conservation campaign by joining forces with the food training camps to be held this fall in connection with the leading fairs and exhibitions of the country.

This army is already at work, its members engaged in the canning and drying of thousands of tons of fruit and vegetables which otherwise probably would be a total waste. It is to these children that the government will delegate the task of demonstrating to the twenty million persons who are expected to attend the food training camps, practical home methods of preserving perishable foods.

The step represents the first national, interstate effort to make use of the boys and girls of the nation in the food conservation campaign.

This organization which is eight years old, is made up of thousands of boys' and girls' clubs, organized by and working under the direction of the department of agriculture. These clubs are located in every state and in practically every community.

These boys and girls are now being chosen to contests which are being held (Continued on Page 14, Column 2.)

Summary of the Day's War News

The Austro-German thrust into the disorganized Russian lines in eastern Galicia has widened in effect, extending now southward toward the Bukovina border, and resulting in the capture of Kolomea, on the railroad to Cernowitz. Berlin mentions the Austro-German advance both north and south of Niester as "rapid" and this it appears to be, although there has been somewhat of a slackening in the pace of the Russian retrograde movement to the northward of the river. The Russian cavalry has been doing notable work in protecting the retreat and in an instance specified near the Dniester, southwest of Monasterzyska, a Cossack charge threw back the advancing hostile infantry. In evacuating the district southeast of Trembowla, the Russians retired only a short distance, new positions being taken up.

Help for the disorganized section of the Russian front continues to come from the Rumanians. They have pushed well up the Suchitza valley on the Moldavian front, breaking through the Austro-German lines there, and are consolidating their gains in this area. Six more guns and many prisoners have fallen into Rumanian hands in this operation. Berlin admits a retreat here as far as the upper Putna.

Along the British front in Belgium the artillery continues its extremely violent activity, the intensity of the bombardment growing more severe if anything. British infantrymen also are being sent into action, although not as yet on a large scale.

The chief incident of the infantry fighting occurred southwest of Warneton, Belgium, where the Germans were driven from La Bassée village last night. The British withdrawing from this village, this morning, however, when the Germans organized a counter-attack.

JUSTICE CAN END THE WAR

Ally Powers in Conference Declare for Fight Until

WANT GUARANTEE FOR THE BALKANS

Return to Criminal Aggres-sions Must Be Rendered Impossible.

Paris, July 27.—The allied powers yesterday concluded their conference after announcing a decision to continue the war until the purpose they are fighting for is attained.

Their declaration which was made unanimously before separating, reads:

"The allied powers, more closely united than ever for the defense of the people's rights, particularly in the Balkan peninsula, are resolved not to lay down arms until they have attained the end which in their eyes dominates all others—to render impossible a return of the criminal aggression such as that heretofore the central empires bear the responsibility."

There was unanimous agreement on all decisions reached during the meetings. The ministers of departments affected will meet in London to draw up the executive measures.

POLITICAL AMNESTY.

Copenhagen, July 27.—A semi-official dispatch from Vienna to German papers says an imperial order has been issued permitting reserve officers who were cashiered for participation in political demonstrations in Vienna, Prague and Graz, to regain their commissions.

INTENSE HEAT CAUSES MUCH SUFFERING HERE

While today would seem to be the warmest day of the summer, the records at the weather bureau do not bear out the belief. At 6 o'clock the mercury had reached 88 degrees, while the high mark for the summer is 89 degrees.

Reports from Huntestown and other towns north of Fort Wayne say a cloudburst Thursday afternoon put many acres of growing grain under water and did damage that will amount to thousands of dollars.

THE FATHERLAND ABOUT READY TO ENTER SERVICE

Washington, July 27.—The big German steamship Vaterland, seized at New York by the American government when war was declared on Germany, will be ready for service shortly. Repairs to the ship have cost slightly less than $1,000,000. More than half the German vessels taken over by the United States have been repaired and put on the seas. All those taken in American continental ports will have been repaired in a few weeks.

WALL STREET TO SEND VOLUNTEER ARMY TO FRANCE

New York, July 27.—A number of volunteers from Wall street will depart at an early date for Europe and unlike many others sailing for Europe, they will not be expected to fight. These men are expert accountants and bookkeepers and are going to the headquarters of the Red Cross in France, where they will follow their profession of keeping the assets and liabilities in such shape that contributors may know just how all the money collected by the Red Cross is spent. The enlistment of the accountants is part of the new efficiency plan of the Red Cross.

TREASON TO BE MERCILESSLY PUT DOWN

Petrograd, July 27.—The extreme gravity of the country's position in the front and rear impels Premier Kerensky to take exceptional decision, without waiting for the constituent assembly, to convolve July 31, at Moscow, the "extraordinary national council."

All members of the Duma, prominent men from chief centers of the empire, members of the zemstvos, municipalities, labor unions and universities will participate.

The council will hold two sessions at which the government will be asked to make an exhaustive report on the condition of the country, answer questions and ask opinions of authoritative persons on how best to save the fatherland from ruin.

Explaining the scheme today Premier Kerensky declared that attempts to move the revolution backwards was impossible. Conspiracies to restore

PROVOST MARSHAL TO ANSWER NO QUERRIES

from Draft Flood Him With Questions.

Washington, July 27.—Thousands of men registered under the selective service law have been flooding the provost marshal general's office with questions regarding their qualifications for exemption from service and on other subjects. As a result the provost marshal general today promulgated rules under which questions from individuals or from local exemption boards will be answered by his office.

These rules follow:
"One—Questions by individuals should be asked of the local board nearest them. If the board is unable, after consideration of the regulations and rulings, to answer the question, it should forward the question to the governor for decision."

"Two—Questions from local boards should never be addressed to the provost marshal general's office, but in all cases should be forwarded to the governor of the state."

"Three—In no case will opinions on rulings be given on individual cases that have not yet been presented to the proper local board."

GERMAN PEOPLE ARE BEGGED TO BRING IN GOLD

Amsterdam, July 27.—The daily recurring public notices printed in conspicuous type in German newspapers entreating citizens to aid the fatherland by giving it their gold, evidently is unproductive of sufficient results.

The Weser Zeitung, of Bremen, publishes a renewed appeal complaining especially that the will to do public still fails to realize the situation and that all gold must be handed in. The newspaper cites examples of members of the German imperial and royal private houses surrendering their gold and jewelry and even diamonds.

ARRESTED FOR HIGH TREASON

Dan Wallace, Organizer of "League of Humanity," Taken in Iowa.

ACCUSED MAN IS A BRITISH DESERTER

Is Author of Anti-War Book
on His Head.

Davenport, Ia., July 27.—Daniel H. Wallace, one of the organizers in Chicago recently of the "League of Humanity," composed of men and women who styled themselves as conscientious objectors to war, was arrested here early today by deputy United States marshals on a charge of high treason. He is to be taken to Ottumwa today for a hearing.

CLAIMS TO BE SOLDIER.

Chicago, Ill., July 27.—Daniel H. Wallace, who was arrested at Davenport, Ia., is the author of "Shanghaied Into War." Wallace, according to his statement, is a deserter from the British army. According to an official of the League of Humanity, the British government has set a price upon Wallace's head.

Wallace claims to have been through many of the most important battles of the western front in Europe, deserting after the battle of Neuve Chapelle. He also claimed to have been a member of the Texas Rangers, acting sergeant in the Coldstream guards and to have more recently belonged to the Eighth Australian. Wallace has been active in work against war since coming to America and has delivered speeches and written books against war.

SURE THEY'RE DEAD SOLDIERS ORDERED TO SHOOT TO KILL

El Paso, Tex., July 27.—Brig. Gen. George Bell, Jr., district commander United States army here, has informed Mexican Consul Bravor that United States soldiers on patrol duty would regard any Mexicans they are shot and killed as dead.

Bell added, had been ordered to shoot to kill. Gen. Bell's statement was in reply to a protest lodged by the Mexican consul, alleging that a Mexican soldier on the night of July 17 was mortally wounded. Gen. Bell returned the answer that he had found that the Mexican soldiers had fired.

THEY FOUGHT A GOOD FIGHT

Crews of British Drifters
Battle Austrian Cruisers
to a Finish.

LITTLE CRAFT GO AT IT STUBBORNLY

Most of Them Lost and the
Crews Killed, But It Was Fine Shindy.

Ottawa, July 27.—An attack by three Austrian cruisers on a line of British drifters employed in guarding anti-submarine nets in the straits of Otranto on May 15 is described in a London dispatch to Reuters, Limited, Ottawa Agency. The account of the engagement follows:

"The drifters in eight divisions of about six boats each were formed along a line running roughly east and west. Each carried a crew of ten men and one small gun. In one case, the enemy appears to have acted with chivalry toward the little craft, signalling by means of a flag that the crews must abandon their vessels. This cruiser approached to within one hundred yards of the Gowanlea and ordered her crew to take to the boats.

Gave the Regular Answer.
"Skipper J. Watt, shipping the nets, replied by ordering full speed ahead and calling on the crew for three cheers, commanded them to fight to a finish. They manned the gun and fired with good effect until a shot from the cruiser disabled the gun. They hung on under heavy fire, endeavoring to repair the damage, until the cruiser passed out of range.

"The Gowanlea then proceeded to the assistance of the badly damaged Leondia, which had four men killed and three wounded and whose skipper, although three times wounded, remained at his post throughout the action. Meanwhile the remaining cruisers had opened a devastating fire on the center of the line.

"The crew of the Admirable only abandoned their vessel after her boiler exploded and her wheel house had been shot away. Even then A. Gordon, a deck hand scrambled on board with the evident intention of firing the gun single handed but was killed.

Crews Stuck to the Last.

"The Girlrose, Cora T. Haven and Selby were not abandoned by their crews until they foundered. The crew of the sinking Taits on taking to the boats discovered one of their number to be missing. They returned to the vessel through a heavy fire to search for their shipmate. Second Hand Joseph Hendry of the Serena, remained on board until the ship sank, rather than be taken prisoner. He was picked up an hour later. The crews of the Garrigill, Christmas, Day and Dr. Crown refused to leave their vessels even when outranged and under broadside fire from the enemy and brought them through the action. "The enemy displayed an anxiety to destroy the wireless telegraph of the drifter in each group. The wireless operator of the Leondia was found dead in his chair at the conclusion of the action, having collapsed over the wireless log in which he was writing at the moment of his death."

The British admiralty on May 18, announced that fourteen drifters had been sunk by a raid of Austrian cruisers in the Adriatic and that the British cruiser Dartmouth was torpedoed in a subsequent engagement, but reached port safely.

TOTAL AMOUNT KEEPS CLIMBING

War Camp Fund as Conducted by the K. of C.'s Has Reached $5,500.

The K. of C. committees in Allen county and Fort Wayne who are at work assisting the entire country in raising a million dollar war camp fund have met with great success and Thursday boosted the total to $5,500. Stephen Callahan, who is in Indianapolis directing the state campaign, wired the local committees Thursday evening and extended his congratulations for the splendid results. The quota of the state is $50,000, but it is likely that this will be overreached judging from the reports from other cities.

The various parishes in the city and county are in a friendly competition race for big totals. Thus far the Cathedral is in the lead, but judging from reports made by the committees from one or two of the other parishes the top notch place may change hands.

NO REDLIGHTS AT HATTIESBURG

Hattiesburg, Miss., July 27.—The city commission yesterday ordered the abolishment of the local restricted district, the object being to protect guardmen from Indiana and Kentucky, who will train at Camp Shelby, near here.

SMALL STORM DOES BUT LITTLE DAMAGE

Regular Afternoon Shower Brings But .14 Inch of Rainfall.

Fort Wayne and vicinity had its regular afternoon shower again Thursday. This is the second shower of the week, which seemed to rise up hurriedly in the northeast and come this way. Storms and summer showers from this direction are uncommon occurrences.

The shower brought but .14 inch of rainfall and there was but little wind connected with it. It is said that the rainfall north and east of the city was slightly heavier. Little damage is reported.

In a few sections of the county the oats fields suffered slightly from the storm and in spots the oats has been flattened to the ground. However, this occurs nearly every year and the majority of farmers are not worried about the condition.

However, it is almost imperative that the ground dry up very soon, as the oats is ripening fast and the wheat that has not been cut is getting overripe. As long as the fields remain soft it is impossible to harvest the grain with a binder.

RETROACTIVE WAR TAX.

Ottawa, July 27.—The Australian government has proposed a retroactive war time profits tax of 50 per cent for the year ending June 30, 1916, and a tax of 75 per cent after that date, according to a dispatch from Melbourne today to Reuters Agency, Limited, here. The taxes were announced at the second reading of the bill. They would be levied on excess profits during the war, compared with profits before the war. Exemptions include agriculture, fruit growing, dairying and allied businesses.

MEXICO'S STAMP TAX.

GERMAN BIRTHRATE DECLINES RAPIDLY

Figures in Larger Towns
Show Startling Falling
Off from 1914.

Amsterdam, Netherlands, July 3.—(Correspondence.)—Apart from the inroads made upon Germany's male population by the war, the check to the natural renewal of her people is making itself very sharply felt. The provisional birth statistics for 1916 show very clearly what a shrinkage will be evident in the German army levies for these years of war, assuming that the emperor, or at least his military system, have not disappeared from the German empire before the time for their calling up comes round.

The official statistics which relate to German towns of 15,000 and more inhabitants, show that the number of infants born alive in such towns decreased by 131,068 in 1915 as compared with 1914, and that in 1916 they again declined by 114,557, making a total decrease between the beginning of 1915 and the end of 1916 of 245,625, or 33.5 per cent of the number of living births recorded in the year 1914. This percentage almost entirely accords with the decrease percentage in the absolute number of such births recorded in the 26 largest German cities, which are separately tabulated.

It is clear that such a decline in the number of births can by no means be counterbalanced by the simultaneous decrease shown in the mortality rate of infants under one year old, although this is relatively somewhat greater than the shrinkage shown in the number of births. The mortality rate of infants under one year old, measured by comparison with the number of births, has continually declined since the year 1914. In the 26 largest German cities the rate of such infant mortality, as compared with births, fell from 15.3 in the year 1914 to 13.0 in 1916, while in all German towns of 15,000 the more inhabitants it declined in the same period from 15.5 to 13.3.

As the German press emphasizes with legitimate satisfaction, the rate of infant mortality in the war year 1916 was lower even than in the year 1912, when it stood at 14.1, hitherto a record low rate. Such a comparative mortality decrease, however, can naturally have but the very slightest effect on the shrinkage in the actual number of births in Germany in the past two years of war, and the next population statistics of the country must show evidence of the check which war has imposed.

NOW THOUGHT COCCI HAD ACCOMPLICES

New York, July 27.—The strongest evidence yet presented to show that Alfredo Cocchi had accomplices in the murder of Ruth Cruger was obtained when Arturo Cocchi, 9, son of the slayer, was questioned by assistant district attorneys.

and one or two other men talking in the cellar. This was the day of Miss Cruger's death and was several hours before her disappearance was reported to the police. The lad was sure of the time, he said, because it was the day after Lincoln's birthday.

"Papa was not in the shop when I got there," said Arturo. "But through the hole in the floor where the heat comes up I heard him and other men talking in the cellar. I started to go down stairs but papa met me and made me go back. The back room of the shop was locked."

NEWS OF FORT WAYNE'S NEIGHBORS

MUCH FEELING IS AROUSED AT BERNE

Because Law Exempts Mennonites From Participation in the War.

Berne, Ind., July 27.—An unusual condition exists here as a result of the draft. Most of the young men who have been drafted are Lutherans, Evangelical Reformed members and Mennonites. Under the law Mennonites and all other religious denominations existing May 19, 1917, whose creed or principles forbid their members from participating in war in any form, are subject to exemption. This, it is contended, would throw the burden of furnishing Berne's quota with Lutherans and members of the Evangelical Reformed church.

The feeling is high. On Wednesday night sixty or seventy young men from this city drove to Decatur and gathered in front of the court house. Dr. Jones acted as spokesman and announced their desire to talk to the members of the conscription registration board. The men were patriotic and they were willing to serve their nation in any way required, but that they did object to the exemption of Mennonites. The men were told that the board had no authority other than that vested in it by the government.

MINISTER COUNSELS FORCE.

Rape Conscientious Objector to War With Germany.

Warsaw, Ind., July 27.—John Royal Harris, D. D., superintendent of the Dry Federation of Pennsylvania, reported the "conscientious objector" in his address on "Sane Nonresistance," before the Christian Citizenship Institute at Winona Lake, Wednesday. "Christ intends for us first to try to win over the aggressor," he said, "and if we find that we can win him over, try to arbitrate and then use force. Germany plunged this peaceful world into barbarism and hell. There is no chance to win Germany over and arbitration has failed. Now we must win by force."

Mrs. Francis J. Dieffenbacher, of Erie, Pa., president of the National Order of Anti-Polygamy Crusaders, declared that a regular edition of the Bible has been published by the Oxford University Press, of New York city, in which are 118 pages of Mormon teachings. Mrs. Dieffenbacher said she first learned of the edition through boasts of a Mormon newspaper. She charged that the Mormons are active among the bereaved women of Europe, urging them to immigrate to Utah.

REPORT ON C. B. & C. ROAD
Filed by J. M. Wilson in Huntington Circuit Court.

Huntington, Ind., July 27.—J. M. Wilson, who, until a few days ago, had filed his report with the Huntington circuit court. The report shows that from January 8, 1917, until July 19, 1917, the receipts were $31,064.13 and the disbursements $31,539.74. The receiver, J. C. Curtis, was ordered to pay Mr. Wilson the difference of $475.63 and also pay for several cars of coal that Wilson had ordered and personally guaranteed payment for.

FOUND NOT GUILTY.

William Fishback Is Acquitted of Murder Charge at Hartford City.

Hartford City, Ind., July 27.—A verdict of not guilty was returned last night in the case of William Fishback, charged with the murder of Roy Brown, Redkey grocer, the night of January 26, 1916. The jury deliberated for five hours and ten minutes. It was contended by the defense that Brown was killed by Harry Wiest, an alleged deserter from the United States army, and Kille Hale, of the Canadian aviation corps.

UNDERGOES AN OPERATION.

Bluffton, Ind., July 27.—Mrs. C. C. Sixbey has written to relatives here from Akron, that her brother, Harry Spake, of that city, had undergone an operation at the hospital there for the removal of a large abscess on his neck. The abscess started on the right cheek and neck and extended on his shoulder.

der. More than a quart of liquid was removed in the operation. The infection is thought to have been caused by a fish bone that lodged in Harry's throat several weeks ago. It was bothered with the bone in his throat for two weeks, but then the trouble subsided. A few days ago the abscess started.

HAS RIB BROKEN.

Bluffton, Ind., July 27.—Manley E. Stinson, the young farmer who has the Wells county registration serial number 258, and was the first man drawn in this county for the conscription army, sustained an injury Wednesday afternoon that probably will invalidate him physically for army service on the first call, although, of course, it will be necessary for him to report for examination by the regular examining physicians.

ACCIDENTS AT HUNTINGTON.

Huntington, Ind., July 27.—Alvin Culler, an employee of the Huntington Steel Foundry company, lost the sight of his left eye Tuesday, when molten metal spilled from a container and struck him. The eye was removed by a surgeon, Elizabeth Wampner, age seven, was bitten in the face by a vicious bulldog, Tuesday evening, when she went to a neighbor's house for a bucket of water.

OLD SETTLERS' MEETING.

Albion, Ind., July 27.—A large crowd attended the annual meeting of the Noble County Old Settlers' association here yesterday. At the business session Dr. J. W. Hayes, of Albion, was re-elected president and J. W. Moon, of Albion, who resides near Albion, secretary. Washington Kuhn, of Albion, won the silver loving cup for being the oldest man in attendance.

PATRIOTIC DEMONSTRATION.

Huntington, Ind., July 27.—The lodges and fraternal organizations of the country held a patriotic demonstration Friday afternoon, August 3, in honor of the members of Company C, Fourth Indiana Infantry. The company probably will be mobilized August 5 for national service.

LIVED IN CLEVELAND.

Ligonier, Ind., July 26.—The person killed here last Saturday proved to be George Kemp, 20, an electrical worker of Cleveland, O., who was swept off train No. 87, westbound on the New York Central lines. In company with two other young men he was riding back of the tender.

MUST FURNISH 106 MEN.

Decatur, Ind., July 27.—Adams county must furnish 106 men for the conscripted army. The order was received by the local conscription board yesterday.

136 FROM WELLS COUNTY.

Bluffton, Ind., July 27.—Sheriff J. A. Johnston, a member of the conscription board, has been officially notified that Wells county's quota of men through conscription is 136.

WOMEN NOT TO ASK SPECIAL SESSION

Indianapolis, July 27.—The question of asking Governor Goodrich to call a special session of the legislature to put up to the people the decision as to whether a special election for the constitutional convention shall be called, was voted down at a meeting of the executive and legislative committee of the Woman's Franchise League of Indiana here. Mrs. Richard E. Edwards, of Peru, president.

The Woman's Franchise league is one of the societies affiliated with the legislative council of women which recently sent such a petition to the governor upon the vote of the majority of the allied organizations.

The franchise league was not represented at that time. Mrs. Edwards explained that the franchise league did not antagonize the legislative council, but was opposed to calling a special legislative session because of the expense involved.

SLACKER WANTS HIS AGE DETERMINED

Wabash, Ind., July 27.—Hoping that the proceedings might result in the determining of his age, Clyde Tremble, of Wabash, has asked local authorities to place him under arrest on a charge of failing to register under the draft law. He says he does not know whether he is 30 or 31 years old. Tremble's parents died when he was an infant and he was placed in an orphan asylum, the records of which were destroyed in a fire. After he left the institution he was found guilty of a crime in Kansas and gave his age as 15. The court held, however, that he was 16 and sentenced him to prison instead of to a reformatory. Later he was paroled. On registration day Tremble evaded the draft by giving his age as 31, but now, to determine his age in the eyes of the law, he is seeking arrest.

COMPARES ARMEN OF THREE BELLIGERENTS

German Flying Commander Says His Birdmen Are Best for War.

The Hague, Netherlands, July 6.—(Correspondence.)—Interesting comparisons of British, French and German methods of air fighting were made recently by General von Hoepfner, commander of the German flying forces, in an interview with the Berlin correspondent of the Holland News. He should be of a purely military character, is mediocre; while with the British it is even inferior. Here are to be found the deeper causes of the better performances of our fliers.

"To Britisheers flying is a sport, the climax whereof is a fight. They seek the combat regardless of the question whether the carrying out of the charge entrusted to them renders this necessary or not. The German is first of all a soldier, who looks upon every flight as a military operation, and that decides his line of conduct. Our portionately smaller losses, therefore, proves that he is of German race and therefore has a love of fighting. In general the Frenchman only attacks when he feels himself numerically superior. He avoids a fight under equal conditions. The Briton seeks the combat. The Frenchman only attacks once; if the first attack be unsuccessful, he immediately retires. The Englishman, on the other hand, fights till he or his opponent goes under.

"In their Spad aeroplanes of 200-horsepower, and the British Sopwith triplanes, they possess splendid machines which mostly equal our best machines.

"More important, however, than the superiority of the machines is that of the crews. The enemy airmen are just as much up to their job as ours. That is not so, however, with the reconnoitering airmen. In the case of the French, their training, which should be of a purely military character, is mediocre; while with the British it is even inferior. Here are to be found the deeper causes of the better performances of our fliers.

"To Britisheers flying is a sport, the climax whereof is a fight. They seek the combat regardless of the question whether the carrying out of the charge entrusted to them renders this necessary or not. The German is first of all a soldier, who looks upon every flight as a military operation, and that decides his line of conduct. Our portionately smaller losses, therefore, show that our commanders are too good soldiers to set their airmen impossible tasks. Moreover, the airmen are not sent out singly, for the fulfillment of military tasks is more important than all spirit of sport and all bravery. The century-old German military traditions cannot be caught up by the three years' warfare of the British."

A final inquiry as to who the Germans prefer to meet as enemies elicited the response: "That is a question which may not be put. It is not the sporting achievement, but the fulfillment of the charge in hand, that is the main thing. With us every soldier wants to be a Boelcke—the death of his comrades does not frighten him."

Larwill, Ind., July 27.—Carl Hoover was given the work in the Eastern Star order Tuesday evening and a large number of members were present. The guests from out of town were Mrs. S. S. Bodle and Mrs. G. Culbertson, Massillon, O.; Mrs. Zane Saylor, of Davenport.

Lemons Beautify!

Strain lemon juice well before mixing and massage face, neck, arms, hands.

Here is told how to prepare an inexpensive lemon lotion which can be used to bring back to any skin the sweet freshness of which it has been robbed by trying atmospheric conditions. Windchafe, roughness, tan and redness are ward off and those tell-tale lines of care or of age are softened away.

The juice of two fresh lemons strained into a bottle containing three ounces of orchard white makes a whole quart of the most remarkable lemon skin beautifier at about the cost one must pay for a small jar of the ordinary cold creams. Care should be taken to strain the lemon juice through a fine cloth so no lemon pulp gets in, then this lotion will keep fresh for months. Every woman knows that lemon juice is used to bleach and remove such blemishes as freckles, sallowness and tan, and is the ideal skin softener, smoothen and beautifier.

Just try it! Get three ounces of orchard white at any pharmacy and two lemons from the grocer and make up a quart of this sweetly fragrant lemon lotion and massage it daily into the face, neck, arms and hands, and see for yourself. Advertiser.

SENTENCED TO FRONT LINE.

Bagpiper in Kitties Pleads Guilty to Polygamy Charge.

Boston, July 27.—James Cameron, a bagpiper with the McLean Kitties of New Brunswick, was sentenced today to service in the front line when his regiment goes into action, as punishment for his confessed polygamy. Cameron enlisted here recently and his marriage to Miss Beatrice E. Caswell, a few days later, was made the occasion of a picturesque celebration. Publication of the soldier bridegroom's picture attracted the attention of Mrs. James Cameron, of Bridgeport, Conn., and on her allegation that he was her husband he was brought back from the Kitties camp at Fredericton, New Brunswick, for trial. He pleaded guilty. In sentencing Cameron, Judge Creed, of the local police court, said:

"You shall be taken back to Fredericton to rejoin the McLean Kitties, thence to go to the front line, a place of peril and also one of honor, there to expiate the wrongs you have done."

COTTON MILLS MAY GO ON SHORT TIME

Operatives at Manchester, England, Worried by the Prospect.

Manchester, England, July 10.—(Correspondence.)—The question of putting the Lancashire cotton mills on short time is causing a good deal of anxiety among the operatives.

There are at present in England 55,000,000 spindles, 47,000,000 of which are controlled by the Spinners' Federation and 4,000,000 by the Cotton Spinners and Manufacturers' association. This leaves about 4,000,000 spindles outside the federation to take advantage of any limitations that the members of the federation impose upon themselves. It is this fact which prevented the voluntary adoption of any short time by the federation when it was recommended to the members, and when it would have been less hurtful to the trade than it is likely to be now under more drastic restrictions.

The Manchester Guardian says: "The growth and importance of the cotton industry may be judged from the fact that the output of the mills, in addition to providing for our home requirements, represents about a third of our total exports of manufactures. The cotton crops of the world average about 20,000,000 bales, and in normal times, England, with considerably over one-third of the spindles of the world, consumes annually 4,000,000 bales of cotton. If, therefore, there is a big reduction in the supply of cotton, coming to this country, and the price is inflated by speculation, it becomes impossible to keep the mills running at full time.

"There is something to be said for the view that even our poorest customers in India, China and Africa are able to pay more for cotton goods than they do in normal times, because the crops they produce are bringing much better prices. It is also a fact that until recently cotton goods were not dear in comparison with those made from other textiles. Still, the fact remains that the present range is very bad for trade.

"In addition to that, the adversity in the cotton trade immediately injures the bleaching, printing, dyeing and finishing industries. There are thousands of workers in those ranches and, like weavers and spinners, they have to submit to reduced earnings. Miners and transport workers, too, are affected. Thousands of tons of coal which the factories consume when running are left in the coal fields, railway labor is consequently reduced and the carrying companies are forced to be idle. Any interference with the requisite supply of cotton to the mills means, indeed, a big loss to nearly all the workers in Lancashire as well as to the capitalist, professional and shopkeeping classes.

Chiefs Take Another Scalp in Final Game With Richmond

Gleich's Homer Almost Spoils Things Near the End, However.

Battery B day, with the soldiers marching around the park and the band playing martial music, seemed to fill the Chiefs with a belligerent spirit yesterday and they went right out and took the scalps of the Richmond infants in the final game of the series by a score of 7 to 1. Another game was on the program for the afternoon but the weather man interfered and it was called off.

The outstanding feature in the game yesterday was the fact that the Chiefs finally beat a left-hander, and this having been accomplished nothing should stand in the way of the Chiefs and a first division berth. They made ten hits off Stolz, most of them coming in the early part of the game. A homer by Gleich in the eighth inning scored three runs for the visitors and almost caused some damage. To big Clockson goes the credit of driving across the runs that were needed to put the Chiefs in the lead in the third. The clown got a double to the fence with two runners resting on the bases. He scored a few seconds later when Mike Kelly got an infield hit, and was being run down between first and second. The Chiefs had already scored one in the first inning and sailed through to the eighth in no great danger. In this inning Gleich, who played here long enough to get the range of the right field wall, lifted over with two runners waiting to score. The infants were suppressed after that, however, and the Chiefs got another run in the eighth when Allison and Breaux got two-base hits.

Richmond outdid the locals 14 to 10 but failed to make their hits count in the pinches. Allison had a pretty safe lead all the way and did not exert himself much until Gleich's homer made things interesting in the eighth.

Rain coming down near the end of the first game, and continuing for some time, caused the second game of the double-header to be called off after part of the first inning had been played. Lefty Gilbert was warming up for the infants and Kowalski was slated to hurl for the Chiefs.

CENTRAL LEAGUE.

Grand Rapids Takes Lead.
Grand Rapids, July 27.—The locals regained the lead in the Central by defeating Springfield here yesterday, score 5 to 4. Faeth pitched good ball and drove in two runs.

Peoria Wins Again.

Peoria, July 27.—Willis fine pitching enabled the locals to beat Evansville here yesterday 2 to 0. Both runs were scored in the seventh.

Deciding Run in Ninth.

Muskegon, July 27.—The locals scored the deciding run in the ninth here yesterday, beating Dayton 6 to 5. Catcher Brennan, formerly with Dayton, was instrumental in the defeat of his old teammates.

FOR ROQUE CHAMPIONSHIP.

Milton, Ind., July 27.—There will be an all day roque game at the Milton roque grounds, Monday, J. C. Lathrop, of Chicago, who is a member of the Western Roque association, has challenged George Baker, of this place, for the championship and the gold medal, through the International Roque association, of which Mr. Baker is a member. Mr. Baker some months ago won the medal from Mr. Lathrop.

SEE LITTLE CHANCE FOR MEET NEXT YEAR

Last Day of Grand Circuit Called Off to Prevent Further Loss.

Detroit, Mich., July 27.—Directors of the Detroit Driving club which staged the Grand circuit races here are pessimistic over the outlook for a Grand circuit meeting here next year. The elimination of the closing day program which was to have been held today, indicated their attitude. The reason officially given was a scarcity of horses for the closing day's races. Although the weather was ideal for racing, good marks were made, the attendance good, the elimination of betting, loss of revenue from that is understood to have had great weight in discouraging the backers of the meeting. The Detroit meeting, which is usually considered one of the more attractive on the big circuit to trainers and owners of light harness horses, opened to a record first day crowd with a belated program upon orders of Police Commissioner Couzens. All attempts to secure modification of the rule were vain. Yesterday's summary:

NATIONAL LEAGUE.

Can't Stop the Reds.
Cincinnati, July 27.—Cincinnati returned home yesterday and won the first game from Philadelphia 6 to 2. The Reds were given a great start as they stopped on the field. They knocked Rixey out in the third inning. Score: R.H.E. Philadelphia..... 0 0 0 0 1 10 2 9 2 Cincinnati..... 0 1 3 0 0 0 6 5 11 0 Batteries—Rixey, Oeschgen, Fittery and Burns; Schneider and Clark and Wingo.

Vaughn Too Much for Giants.
Chicago, July 27.—The Cubs won from the Giants here yesterday 7 to 1, Vaughn proving too much for the visitors. The locals batted first off Tressaut and were aided by erratic fielding. Score: R.H.E. New York..... 0 0 0 0 1 0 0 1 8 4 Chicago..... 1 0 0 4 0 2 0 0 7 8 1 Batteries—Tressaut and Rariden; Vaughn and Dihoefer.

Dodgers and Pirates Divide.
Pittsburg, July 27.—Brooklyn and Pittsburg split even in yesterday's double-header, the locals winning the first and the visitors the second. Carlson was too much for the Dodgers in the first game, and Cadore held the Pirates safe in the second. Score: R.H.E. Brooklyn..... 0 0 0 1 0 0 0 0 1 6 1 Pittsburg..... 0 0 0 0 1 0 0 3 4 7 0 Batteries—Pfeffer and Meyers; Carlson and Fischer.

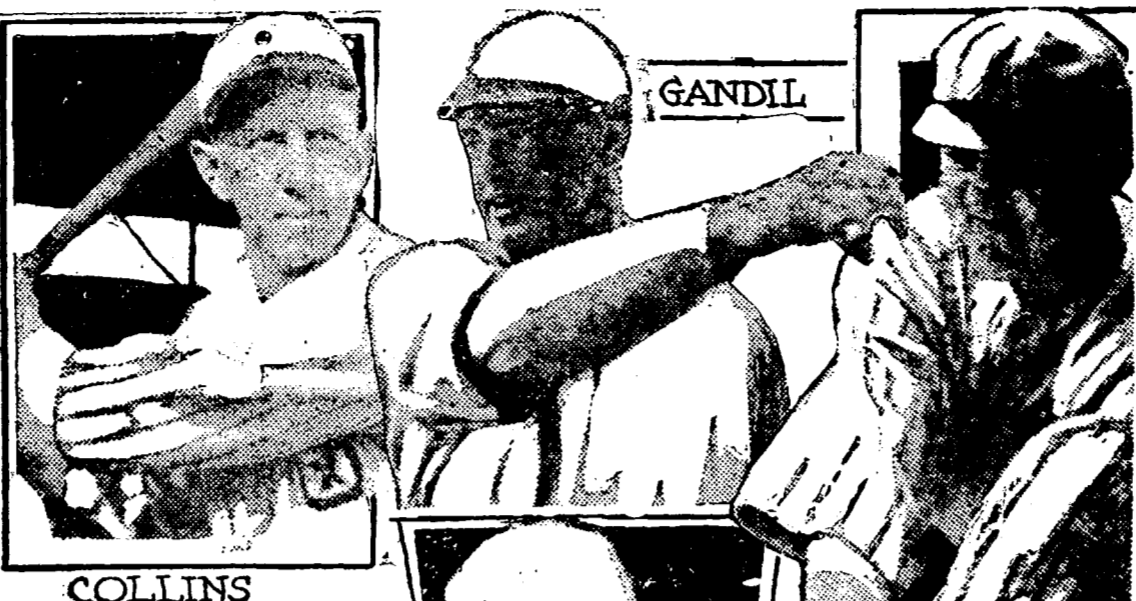

"DUTCH" KRAUSE DRAWN.

Bloomington, Ind., July 27.—Arthur Krause, whose appointment as assistant to Ewald O. Stehm, director of athletics of Indiana university, was announced recently, probably will not accept as his number was among the first drawn for the new national army.

Krause, who was one of the most popular athletes ever attending Indiana, had charge of the freshmen squad last season. He played end on the varsity before his graduation and during the summer term has been an instructor in Coach Stehm's school for coaches.

STOPPING THE RED SOX—TWO BASEBALL AXIOMS FAILED TO WORK OUT WHEN BOSTONNESE MET COMISKY'S OUTFIT.

(By Paul Purman).

For two years there has been a feeling in baseball circles that so long as the Red Sox machine held together and played the same kind of baseball as it showed in 1915 and 1916 no club on the circuit would be able to beat it.

Two reasons have been given for this, both of which are sound baseball axioms. (1) The Red Sox have been able to beat teams they had to beat to win. (2) The Red Sox have been able to play for one run and hold it.

The first is an attribute of only such a team as the Red Sox, a club composed of money players who can face the most crucial tests without wavering and play better baseball under a strain than their opponents. Last season this was evidenced in the last series with the Tigers, a series that meant the pennant to the club that won. The Tigers broke under the strain and the Sox went on into the world series.

The second is based on mechanical play. With wonderful pitching and air-tight fielding such as Boston has had for two seasons, a one-run lead is equal to a much larger advantage for some other club. The best reason for believing that the White Sox and not the Red Sox will be on the top of the heap at the end of this season is that these rules are not holding out this year.

The Red Sox went into one of the crucial series of the season in their last meeting with the White Sox at Chicago.

It was the Red Sox and not the White Sox that cracked under the strain. After Ruth had won the first game Rowland's outfit came back and took the second, fought the Bostonese off their feet in a fifteen inning tie in the third and won the fourth and fifth, going out in the lead with a margin of four and one-half games.

Another thing—a one run lead will not work against the White Sox. There's hitting at all nine stations of that lineup and its dangerous hitting, as Boston pitchers will attest to.

And one thing more—the White Sox have just struck their stride.

Collins and Jackson have just begun to bat up to their usual standard. Schalk, out of the game for several weeks on account of injuries, is back and the White Sox with Schalk is an entirely different club than the White Sox without Schalk.

The development of Risberg at short, permitting Weaver to play third, and the solving of Chicago's first base problem with Gandil has built up an infield around Collins that is almost as great as any in recent baseball.

The Sox pitching is good and has been improving. Look out for the Sox. They're not likely to bust on the stretch.

AMERICAN ASSOCIATION.

HOOSIERS LOSE TO BREWERS.
Indianapolis, July 27.—Baker's sacrifice fly in the fourth inning won the game for New York here yesterday over Chicago. The defeat cuts down the White Sox lead to three and one-half games. New York scored four runs off Benz in the first inning. Score: R.H.E. RICHTON SIGNS THREE.

Richmond, Ind., July 27.—Reuther, a southpaw recruit of the Chicago Cubs; Al Shick, a Cub outfielder, and Wolfe, Pittsburg National infielder, have signed Richmond Central league contracts. Outfielder Jantzen has been released. Wolfe will play third base.

EVAS OPEN SERIES AT LOCAL LOT TODAY

Chiefs Have Fine Chance to Finish in First Division.

Punch Knoll's Evansville team opens a series here today, the final one before the Chiefs take to the road. The Svas have been having some tough luck of late, but nevertheless have one of the strongest teams in the league, and have always been hard for the Chiefs to beat.

Vandagriff's men have been playing excellent base ball in the present stay at home and with any kind of luck, are due to climb. They are right now very close to the first division, two games behind Peoria. They expect to boost their standing at the expense of the Puncheders, before going on the road. Large crowds have been turning out all this week and a record attendance should greet the Chiefs Sunday, before they leave.

SHOP LEAGUERS PLAY THREE GAMES SATURDAY

Bowlers and Pennsy Nines at League Park—Two at Lawton.

Three games are on the schedule of the Shop league for Saturday. The Bowlers and Pennsy nines are to clash at League park in a preliminary to the Fort Wayne and Evansville game. The shop league game will start at 1:45. Jack Rasky will umpire and Goff will be official scorer.

The other teams, Turners and Electric works, will meet in a double-header at Lawton park, first game to start at 2 o'clock. Both of these games will be out down to seven innings. The umpire has not been named. Lutz will be official scorer.

Put Crimp In Johnny's Ambitions

When Benny Leonard scored a knockout over Johnny Kilbane he accomplished something no lightweight champion ever did before. Terry McGovern knocked out Frank Ernie when the latter was lightweight champion, but the title did not change hands. It was a handicap match. Kilbane, however, decisively defeated Freddie Walsh, but did not stop him. Bob Fitzsimmons held two titles simultaneously when he was both middleweight and heavyweight champion. Joe Wolcott attempted to wrest the lightweight title from Kid Lavigne here yesterday, the Tigers winning the first 6 to 2 and the Athletics the second 4 to 2. After Cobb had arrived late at the park for the first game, he made four hits, two singles, a double and a triple. Veach got a homer in the first. Score: R.H.E. Detroit..... 1 0 0 1 0 2 0 2 6 6 0 Philadelphia..... 0 0 1 0 0 1 0 0 2 7 2 Batteries—James and Stange; Siebold and Haley.

Second game—
Detroit..... 0 0 0 2 0 0 0 0 2 9 1 Philadelphia..... 2 0 0 0 0 1 0 1 4 3 Batteries—Mitchell and Stange; Noyes, Bush and Meyer.

Brooklyn..... 0 0 0 1 0 1 0 3 5 10 2 Pittsburg..... 1 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 1 8 0 Batteries—Cadore and Wheat; Jacobs and Schmidt.

"Whitey" Doak Too Much.
St. Louis, July 27.—Doak pitched a two-hit game against Boston here yesterday and St. Louis won 2 to 0. Part of the proceeds of the game went to the Fifth Missouri infantry. A baseball autographed by President Wilson was auctioned for $151. Score: R.H.E. Boston..... 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 2 0 2 St. Louis..... 0 0 0 1 0 1 0 0 2 4 1 Batteries—Barnes and Traggesser; Doak and Gonzales.

Indians and Senators Split.
Washington, July 27.—Washington and Cleveland split even in the double-header yesterday, the home club winning the first 2 to 1 and the visitors the second 5 to 2. Score: R.H.E. Cleveland..... 0 0 0 1 0 0 0 0 1 3 1 Washington..... 2 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 2 5 3 Batteries—Bagby and Billings; Dumont, Ayers and Almsmith.

Second game—
Cleveland..... 0 5 0 0 5 3 1 Washington..... 2 0 0 0 0 2 4 2 Batteries—Klepper and Deberry; Shaw, Harper and Henry.

CRAWFORD LEFT AT HOME FOR FIRST TIME

Detroit, Mich., July 27.—When the Detroit Americans started east on their present trip, Sam Crawford was left at home for the first time since he joined the Tigers years ago. Crawford has been downcast over his failure to play regularly this season. The ambition of his baseball career is to make 3,000 hits, and Crawford is convinced that he cannot do any real hitting unless allowed to play regularly. Jennings has used him as a pinch hitter with varying success.

A Right field has been Detroit's problem this season. Crawford has lost so much speed that he is considered impossible. Hellman after a discouraging start, showed marked improvement but was shifted to first base when Burns, batting less than .200, was benched. Then Harper, a recruit, was given the job. He is a splendid fielder, but his base running has affected his value.

Burns has been the prize disappointment of the season. He was in magnificent condition at the spring training camp and Jennings felt certain he would hit .300 or better. He never got started and it has been necessary to bench him on several occasions.

A new bathroom scale with a dial facing upward, to enable the person standing on it to read his own weight, is a recent invention.

Molly is Sweeping That Platter Clean

when Walcott was welter champion, but was outpointed. Kilbane's defeat quashes his ambitions toward the lightweight rank.

SPORTS CHATTER

Now that Stallings has signed Ed Walsh, maybe he can get Johnny Kling to catch him.

George Burns got $50 for hitting the bull. He's more successful than a lot of guys who try to throw it. Picketing the white house seems to be about as successful as arguing with the umps.

Proceeds from an Indianapolis automobile race are to be given to the American ambulance section. With the understanding perhaps that the ambulances are to be used at auto speedways after the war.

Umpires probably would like to have close decision included in peace terms. Connie Mack opines he will have a winning team in 1918. Last year he opined he would have a winning team in 1917.

BEZDEK, NATURAL LEADER? WELL WATCH THE PIRATES IF HE IS

The word comes from Pittsburg that Hugo Bezdek, newest of managers, is to succeed because Bezdek is a "natural leader of men."

Natural leaders of men are rare to say the least, and such a statement coming at this time may be premature.

"The men follow Bezdek's orders implicitly," the article goes on to say—which, if true, means a great deal for the Pirates.

But this statement is also open to criticism. News dispatches recently told of the suspension of Al Mamaux for breaking training rules.

If Bezdek's orders were being carried out it is certain this wouldn't have happened, and it is evident that the infractions of Mamaux were serious, for pitchers with the latent ability of Mamaux are not suspended for trivialities.

Scanning the records for several years you find only a few managers who in the narrow sense of the term can be called natural leaders of men.

Frank Chance is one of them. A weaker man than Chance could not have handled the Cubs of a decade ago. But Chance could not make managers out of his own men—witness the failure of Tinker. Connie Mack is a natural leader and a strict disciplinarian. John McGraw is a "natural leader. None but a natural leader could handle the bunch of temperamental ball club. Bill Carrigan, Hughie Jennings, Fred Clarke, perhaps Morin and Huggins, and certainly, in view of his work this year, Christy Mathewson are natural leaders. That about lets them out.

Another glance over the records shows the great stars of the game who have tried and failed, just because they were not natural leaders. There's Tinker, already mentioned, Hal Chase, Lajoie, Stovall and Harry Davis. Bob Wallace, Roger Peckinpaugh, Norman Etherfield and others.

Maybe Bezdek has it—if so, watch out for the Pirates in 1918. A natural leader can go about where he wants to with his ball club.

CLEARING THE PATH.

Republicans in the house have displayed impatience with the character of their leadership by repudiating it. Floor Leader Mann sought to make further obstruction of the food bill by pressure for the bill to create a joint congressional committee on war expenditures. It was shunted aside and Leader Mann was told that any further attempt to organize a partisan opposition to the food bill would fail.

The style in which politics and interference of a worse character have been dished up to obstruct the food bill in house and senate will in due time send a good many statesmen out hunting up the makings of a workable alibi. There will be hard times trying to make the records of congress and the chronicles of history read to certain effects and purports that are not there and never were meant to be there. Republican Leader Mann in the house and Democrats Gore, Reed and some others in the senate will be scratching with a good deal of fury not many years hence to erase much of the record they have written.

There is much shame for the country in the fashion congress has dallied with the food control bill. There will be more than shame for the country if the dallying shall continue much longer, for every day of delay adds to the difficulties of an effectual food control and to the latitude of the price-fixers and food gamblers. Right at the present moment the people are paying extortionate prices for foods that, notwithstanding the war, ought to be fairly cheap. Just where the excess is going has not been made clear, but it is fairly well settled that the producer is not getting it.

The food control law should have been in effect weeks ago and would have been but for the care that has been given certain special interests by their retainers in congress. It is refreshing to see a determined purpose to smash obstructions and get the thing done with.

COLLIDING WITH THE COLONEL.

The colonel is still a big enough man in the country to pick and choose the company he will keep. In Pittsburg, yesterday, the colonel refused to have Mayor Thompson, of Chicago, at breakfast with him and later dropped the bars on Big Bill, who had journeyed east with design to speak from the same platform. So it fell out that Chicago's premier kaiserist broke his matrimonial egg alone and that he did no speaking save by way of casual exchange of conversational piffle with whomsoever might not be so particular as the colonel. Mr. Roosevelt carried his objections to the Chicago mayor's presence so far as to have no intercourse of any sort with him. No fault can be found. It was a scornful reproof that Big Bill had coming to him and he contrived matters happily to get it from the one man of all America's millions best fitted to administer it.

The colonel may have his little faults, but diluting his Americanism is not one of them. It is unimaginable of him that he would consent to associate himself in public with any man of Bill Thompson's stripe and kidney. It would be a pretty plum in the Chicago mayor's cap to have gone home with the record that Theodore Roosevelt had bestowed conspicuous notice upon him. "I ain't so bad," would have been his cry of triumph to the critics about his big town who are making life a weariness and a futility to the chief magistrate of America's second city. Colonel Roosevelt took emphatic pains that it should not be so and the country is his debtor that he did.

It will be recalled that while he was yet president, Colonel Roosevelt declined to break bread with another eminent citizen of Chicago who occupied a high place in national councils that he had befouled by the manner of his getting it, and in other instances here and there has made it plain that local committees working up breakfasts and dinners and receptions and the like owed it to him if they did not to themselves to take care for the company they selected to grace his occasions. In Pittsburg Colonel Roosevelt found himself running squarely into a man who is no good American and he bucked. A mayor of Chicago is not so big outside his own political clique; is nothing more than he chooses to make of himself. And Mayor Thompson has chosen to make himself a rather distinct sort of anti-American. For the pains of his journey to Pittsburg he was properly snubbed and thoroughly rebuffed and treated with a contempt and scorn that will be his deserved portion wherever he may go the balance of his life.

TOO MANY RACE WARS.

There is something a bit sinister in the read iness with which a race war can be brewed these days. It is by no means established that the orgy of bloodshed and arson that disgraced East St. Louis a few weeks ago was not fomented as a hostile measure against the government. It has been known for a considerable time that German agents were diligent in the south attempting to stir up the negroes to rebellion against white rule. It matters little that these agents were too ignorant of America and the American negro to appreciate that such an enterprise was a futile endeavor.

Nevertheless, there is reason to suspect that some of the race troubles in the north stand for more than mere outcropping of prejudice against negroes or the competition the influx of negroes from the south has set up for white men's jobs in the north. There have been two or three outbreaks of the kind in Chester, Pa. It is not without significance that this stubborn situation should develop in that city, which is the seat of some of the most important ship-building industries in the United States. Youngstown, Ohio, another vast industrial center, is in the throes of a similar war of races, which seems to be merely a recurrence of former disturbances. In neither city have events become so serious as they were in East St. Louis, but they are pregnant of great danger, for it never can be told ahead just what race war may turn out to be.

No doubt the federal government is keeping itself in close touch with these events. It ought to do so. Though matters of strictly state jurisdiction, perhaps, they may become such as to vitally concern the federal government. In any event, it will be on every account deplorable and in obvious respects a peril if this feeling of racial prejudice is to be played upon to any general extent, whether by enemy agents or still more dangerous agitators among our own masses.

OBSCURING THE MILLENNIUM.

The millennial dawn that rose orient upon Russia last March has been obscured in the reek of battle. While it is true that German legions are making most of the battle and furnishing a large part of the reek, the dawn suffers no less on that account.

Russia began her career of democracy by declaring everybody and everything free, abolishing the death penalty and ruling that the only tolerable wars were conflicts in which an idealistic and beatific altruism was dominant. There not appearing to the gaze any such spirit or sentiment in Russia's occasion against Prussian militarism, the Russians in large part decided that duty on the battle fronts must consist mainly of eating rations and following with the enemy.

The result has been shocking, but quite logical. Inactivity has been followed by sedition, mutiny, open rebellion and a general disintegration of the army upon which the most depended. An offensive begun most favorably and for a fortnight prosecuted most successfully has been broken up and a big force put in peril.

It is not singular that the provisional government with the approval of that portion of the people roused from soft dreams has decreed the abolition of the death penalty. Some other aspects of the millennium will also no doubt disappear from day to day as it is realized that even democracies must hold together and that government must have authority and powers and even force at command if they are to govern.

It is a sad obscuration of a very pretty sunrise, but it is not unexpected.

The colonel would not dine with Chicago's big bill and he wouldn't speak from the same platform with him and he wouldn't even see him. All of which makes up quite a train of arguments against the aforesaid and singular big bill. The country will very readily take the colonel's word for all of it.

Ladies who haven't yet found the way to do their bit will be presented with great latitude of opportunity at Red Cross headquarters. There is ever so much to do and ever so many who are not helping to do it.

Fifteen billions for war. Fifteen billions from thirty billions! leaves fifteen billions. That is the difference between what we will pay and what Germany already has paid and will expect us to pay back to her if she can make us do it.

With livid cheek, and burning, rapt attent,
I read, O Dante! how thy soul was sent
To speak tormented shades whose horrid sound—
Or shrieks, or blasphemies—made thee to swoon—
On lone crags, nebulous, in groves where leant
Great Alp-high trees with hell's fire dew-bescent;
And reading thus I felt thy various wound.

The fair co-eds of the University of Cincinnati have determined just what a worth-while man is. Here are the stipulations:

"The worth-while man is vigorous and manly physically, and careful of the details of his appearance.
"He has a sense of humor.
"He is courteous to every one.
"He is thoughtful of other people.
"He is tactful.
"His education is sufficiently broad to enable him to appreciate the finer things of culture.

WHAT SHALL WE DO?

BY REM A. JOHNSTON.

We Americans have slept long and uneasily—and we have had a good many nightmares while we slept. All these nightmares dealt with enemies, supposed or real, but, until now, we could turn over in our sleep and rock peacefully away in the arms of Morpheus, confident of the pleasant awakening some bright morning.

But, we have been rudely jostled. Morpheus has let us roll out of his lap, and bump on the floor. To leave the figure—we have never faced ruin before, but we are looking her in the eyes right now. We have been too rich, too safe, too comfortable, too easy with ourselves and with others. We haven't learned the lesson that has been up to us. We have tied ourselves fast to the shibboleths of honor and duty—imagining that our ideal of honor must be the ideal of all nations.

Some one has said that America is the land of "magnificent inconsistencies." We have hugged freedom to our heart, but we have harbored industrial feudalism of the type to de-light the autocrat of antiquity. We have talked of Yankee ingenuity and efficiency and practically all the nations of the world have outstripped us in developing the very ideas we thought we had cornered.

Now all this must change. We must alter the ways we have lived. We must change our eating, our sleeping, our working. We have prated of efficiency—we must now become efficient. We have yammered about science—now we must invent and discover as we never invented and discovered before. We must eat war bread, pay war taxes, accept war's blinding wallows, steel ourselves to the indignities that will be offered until we are prepared to meet indignities with calm power and hopeful restraint.

I. W. W. AND SABOTAGE.

(Grand Rapids Press.)

What is the I. W. W. plan and creed, asks a correspondent of The Press. A reply does not require much space. The Industrial Workers of the World is an international organization, having its rise in the rapid development some fifteen years ago of the system called Syndicalism in France, whose purpose is to destroy the wage system, to wipe out all capital and to supplant nations, states and all government by a network of revolutionary trade organizations. In its general application the I. W. W. aims to be universal; but the eventual social system which it expects to apply to the government of industry and of society is a scheme concocted by syndicates, or organizations of the workers in separate trades. The "Workers" are frankly anarchists in their doctrine. "The state," says one of their leading authorities, "stinks; it is too rotten either to fear or to use."

The local instruments of the I. W. W. are, first, irritating or disconcerting strikes, not operated for wages or for hours, but purely for destruction and, second, sabotage, which means individual destruction of the implements and material of industry. It is the essence of this purpose the I. W. W. calls "direct action." The order recommends "the use of any kind and all tactics which will get the results sought with the least expenditure of time and energy; the question of 'right' and 'wrong' does not concern us." Toward the attainment of this purpose the Industrial Workers have organized themselves into a wide-spread body which is quite as hostile to the ordinary labor unions as it is to capital and to the government. It has swept into its net many restless labor agitators, many

We are to fight for the things that have always seemed a priori true to us—the things we were taught as true at our mother's knee. We are to face the combined greed and selfishness and malice of hell—and we are to make the ultimate sacrifice required of all who have had great ideals, and have sought to live them.

For many years we Americans have relied upon logic—but now we are faced with logic that is so cold and cutting, so dreadful in all its propositions, that were we less great and less imbued with the spirit of truth we should be inclined to fear the calamity that has befallen.

There is no way out of it. Our legions, numbered now by the millions, must be flung across the sea to meet the Prussian fiends of hell. That we shall conquer is self-evident—that we shall learn to destroy, even as we have created, is one of the prices we must pay.

The task is before us. We may be jostled rudely as we learn it. We may be thrown down as we struggle forward. But there is a will within us that is like clean flame. The heat will scour us till we have suffered even to the end.

And, of course, there are the rewards at last—a world free of brute force and bloody cunning; a world clean and comfortable—fit for us all to live in—the sort of world we should expect the great Master and Saviour of mankind to wish to come back to when the Age of Brotherhood is ushered in, and gentleness and goodness take the place of Hohenbollern craft and Prussianism's brutality.

The price is big that we are going to pay—but the lines of olive-drab and khaki are on their way—and the good flag is over all. Let us not think of the price. Let us think of the gift—the world gift—we hold in our hand.

OFFICE SUPPLIES A PART OF EQUIPMENTS IN THE MODERN WAR

(By L. HARPER LEECH.)

Typewriter warfare is no longer a joke. The modern army has an office force, and is directed much like a construction force in the field, such as the builders of Panama or other great public works.

Records are kept of everything. The card index follows the machine gun. The adding machine tells the tale of shells fired and dead buried. The issue of every pound of flour or every army blanket is accompanied by the click of a typewriter and the impress of a rubber stamp.

Here are a few of the office supplies Uncle Sam has laid in for the army's use for the next twelve months. In all there are forty-seven different items under the head of stationary which the army uses.

Typewriter, 2,053; memorandum books, 85,000; rubber stamps, 4,400; pens, 100,000; ink, 50,000; paper, 1,000,000; stationery, 1,000,000.

47,000 jars; pencils, 248,000 dozen; shipping tags, 1,000,000.

Liberal provision is made for waste baskets, 22,000 being provided.

So army clerks may not get too homesick for dear old Washington some 48,000 spools of red tape are furnished.

There are seeds of clips, typewriter ribbons and all kinds of paper envelopes, and pads running into the tons.

The army's office work in the field will be done on 27,126 field desks especially constructed to permit of rapid moving.

Mimeographs to the number of 144 will save extra labor at the typewriters.

Valuable records will be stored in 1,336 safes.

DID NOT MEAN IT.

(Springfield, Mass., Republican.)
The conscript army that will fight in France will be made up of republicans, while the easy, comfortable jobs behind desks, far from the danger zone, will be held down by democrats—Senator Penrose, of Pennsylvania.

The senator was probably engaged in the congenial labor of bailing his friends on the democratic side of the chamber when he made that observation. But the senator did not mean it. He knows that the local exemption boards in all republican states, including Pennsylvania, have been named by the republican governors thereof. Probably that is fortunate for the democratic administration.

Walter Needham, aged 15 years, stepped on a rusty nail at his home on Pontiac street. In attempting to extract the nail he broke it off in the flesh. Dr. J. E. Miller extracted it and the boy is recovering.

Fred Frange, a young farmer about 28 years old, while assisting his father, William Frange, in the harvest field yesterday, at their farm south of the city, suffered a sunstroke and died soon afterwards.

Messrs. P. A. Randall, R. L. Romy, Tony Trentman and Henry C. Berghoff have returned from Easton, Ind., where they have made arrangements to establish a paper mill at an outlay of nearly $200,000.

A telegram received this morning announces the death at Dayton, O., of John H. Trentman, who was for some years city clerk of Fort Wayne. Death was caused by Bright's disease and a complication of other diseases.

Frederick Rombold, a lineman employed in the work of building the Lake-side electric railway, fell from a pole while stringing wire this morning. When picked up he was insensible and an examination showed that he was injured internally.

There was a lively party of young people at the high banks Tuesday afternoon, consisting of Miss Edith Wilson, of Wabash; Fannie Hartman, Helen Spencer, Grace Davis, Florence Howard, Gertrude Lippinger, Emily Harding, Mr. and Mrs. Darwin Meyers, Renee Weimer, of Wabash; Robert Harding, John Clippinger, Ed Keegan, Will Mahan and Hugh Hartman.

Hon. Hugh McCulloch, the father of Charles McCulloch, of this city, enjoys the distinction of being the only man who has twice held the office of secretary of the treasury. His first appointment was in March, 1865, by President Lincoln and the second appointment was in 1885 by President Arthur. Mr. McCulloch is in his eighty-fourth year, and now resides in Washington.

MUST LEARN WAR TERROR

Americans in France Will Gain Lessons in Modern Frightfulness.

PROFIT BY ALLIES'

THREE YEARS OF IT

Will Also Have to Learn How to "Fight the Devil With Fire."

British Headquarters in France, July 4.—(Staff Correspondence of the Associated Press.)—The arrival of the first contingents of the American army in France serve to recall the fact that the United States is entering a war already old and wise—wise with the dearly bought wisdom of three long adventurous years—and steeped in all the diabolical wickedness that incessant delving into the deviltries of destruction can bring to it.

Having escaped the first terrors of weapons which German science had evolved through tolling years of military preparation, the American divisions will nevertheless plunge eventually into a seething cauldron which has grown from the unavoidable policy of "fighting the devil with fire." They will have quickly to learn not only to take the awful German frightfulness with calm endurance, but to return it with an ever increasing measure. In doing this many interesting and soul-searching experiences undoubtedly lie before them, but there are already thousands of young Americans in the Canadian and British ranks who have proved themselves traditionally worthy in the scorching flames of modern war.

Learn From Their Allies.

The American forces are fortunate indeed to be able to derive the education upon the bitter lessons learned by the French and British soldiers in all the eventful days that have followed that first rush of battle in 1914. Marvelously complete books of instruction have been built upon those experiences and out of these the American soldiers will glean the last word knowledge that will fit them for the foremost trenches.

First of all, when they take their place, will come the baptism of fire from the noisy black high explosive German shells that descend from afar and burst with terrifying reports—sometimes in most unexpected places. The Germans are great believers both in noise and high explosive. They even mix their adored "H-E" with their shrapnel shells which break high in the air and send their bullets showering down with the whine of an angry winter wind. The Americans soon will learn to distinguish the individual songs of the various shells for there is not the slightest doubt that the moment he discovers they are in the "line," the German will turn his eyes toward the use of weapon against them in a flourish of introductory "hate." They will come over in order—these shrieking, grumbling missiles—ranging in size and noise all the way from the nasty little pip-squeaks or whiz-bangs, up through the four-point-tos, the five-point-nines and then on to what the British Tommies laconically call "the big stuff"—the eight and eleven-inch howitzer shells and the projectiles from heavy caliber long range naval guns, known without affection as "Whistling Perceps."

Big Bertha Not Heard.

There will be little opportunity to hear a "Big Bertha," for those famous old 42-centimeter howitzers are seldom used nowadays. It is believed that the Germans planned to bombard Arras with them, using prussic acid gas, but the attack was sent over Easter Monday last put a stop to that particularly nefarious scheme against the already sadly battered little Artois cathedral city.

There is also awaiting the new American army a bounteous baptism of bombs and hand grenades and the still more disarming introduction to the ghastly rattle of the machine gun and its sinister swish of spraying bullets—sounds well calculated to stab with a moment of fear the heart of the bravest man.

But above all the American soldiers must equip themselves to endure the gas. The gas will be sent over against them in poisonous, vaporous clouds, or showered upon them in a deluge of heavily charged cylinders and shells. They must prepare to deal also with the treacherous lachrymatory gas which while not dangerous to the life, irritates the tissues until one cries with blinded, smarting eyes for hours. The surprise of both these gases is their altogether pleasant smell, the lethal variety suggesting the clean odor of a sanitary hospital ward, while the so-called tear gas has the appetizing scent of crushed ripe apples or cider.

Terror of Liquid Fire.

There is also the reason-shaking terror of the "flammenwerfer," with its roaring stream of liquid fire flaring with the velocity of a high pressure fire nozzle and with an offpouring of smoke rising like a black cyclone cloud to the heavens.

The first day of their stay in battle trenches the Americans will make the acquaintance of a very old, but scarcely cherished, friend of the Tommies and Pollus—another member of the War family known as "Minnie." This is the German mine thrower or minenwerfer, which flings over at short range great heavy projectiles known as "flying pigs" because of their wabbly, ungainly flight. They go off with a deafening roar, expanding more energy on noise, however, than on material damage.

A notable development of the war has been the dread with which the Germans have seen weapons of their own invention turned against them, and turned with a steadily increasing intensity. Their prisoners speak of the terror these weapons have caused and declare the German higher command is realizing all too late the Frankenstein it brought into being. While the entente allies are multiply-

BRUSHED FROM ENGINE BY BRIDGE GIRDER

Harry Hepner Loses Life in Railway Accident at Plainwell.

H. E. Hepner, aged 22, married and residing at 2102 Smith street, was brushed off the side of a G. R. & I. engine by a bridge girder over the Kalamazoo river, one and a half miles south of Plainwell, Mich., at 5:30 o'clock Friday morning and his body fell into the water and it was not recovered until 8:45 o'clock. Mr. Hepner was a fireman on a southbound freight train and he was leaning out of the gangway, looking for a leak in the injector, when he was struck. The impact of the train carried him along the ties of the bridge several feet, before the body fell in the water. Engineer W. E. Thomas saw the fireman drop and stopped the train, which was running at the rate of twenty-five miles an hour, and instituted a search for the body, but it could not be found at once. Later railway men and residents of the vicinity found the body thirty feet below the bridge, and turned it over to the authorities. It is not known whether Mr. Hepner was killed by the blow on the head or whether he was drowned, but it is known that he was stunned by the blow, for he made no effort to arise so far as witnesses could tell after the accident. Mr. Hepner was a comparatively new man on the road, commencing work last March. He was formerly employed at the Duto works. Besides the widow and the baby son, he is survived by the parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Hepner, of near Chubbuck; two brothers, Paul and Worth Hepner, and three sisters, the Misses Freda and Bertha Hepner, at the family home, and Mrs. A. B. Cryderman, of Smith street, this city. The remains will be delivered to Klaehn & Melching and funeral services will be held at the residence of his sister, 2420 Smith street, and the body sent to Elmira, Mich., for interment. The train which figured in the accident was in charge of Conductor E. F. Snyder and Engineer W. E. Thomas.

CRASHED AGAINST TRAIN.

Girls and Boys Joy Riding Have Narrow Escape at Valparaiso. Three young men and four young women had a thrilling experience on the Franklin street crossing of the Pennsylvania at Valparaiso at 11 o'clock last night. That crossing is protected by a signal bell and gates, but this did not prevent what might have been a most serious accident, but wasn't. At the hour named eastbound freight train No. 7091 was crossing Franklin street, when an automobile carrying the young people dashed through the gates and struck the freight train about the middle. Witnesses say that the occupants of the auto were pitched forward, but all escaped serious injury, and that the auto was badly wrecked. An effort was made to hide the identity of the party, for immediately after the accident the young people scampered out of sight and their identity has not been effected. So far as could be learned none was hurt; at least none was unable to hustle off the ground when the railway and other people began to arrive on the scene.

THE ARMY Y. M. C. A. AND ITS GOOD WORK

Fort Harrison Now Has Three Association Buildings for Soldiers.

One of the most enthusiastic workers in the interest of the Y. M. C. A. is Master Mechanic E. E. Griest, president of the local association, who presided at the dedication of the third army Y. M. C. A. building at Fort Benjamin Harrison Saturday and remained over until Monday to be the guest in a tour of army camps of the United States and Monday they visited Fort Benjamin Harrison, where there are now three Y. M. C. A. buildings in which the association keeps a number of writing desks, provides free stationery for letter writing and the soldier boys make good use of it. "As an illustration of the amount of writing done in these three buildings," said Mr. Griest, "I have only to refer to the report of sale of stamps last Saturday night and Sunday. It amounted to $150. A contributor to the army Y. M. C. A. will consider his investment the best he ever made if he takes a look at the department at Fort Benj. Harrison," said Mr. Griest. "At one of the tents while on camp I counted 150 men seated at the tables, writing letters, and there were possibly that many more awaiting opportunity to get at the tables for the same purpose," continued Mr. Griest. In addition to the letter writing facilities at army Y. M. C. A. buildings, there are many other features for the accommodation of the soldier boys. These include pianos and phonographs, reading matter in abundance and all kinds of educational features, including teaching of the French language. There are classes in French with over 100 members and the progress of the pupils is remarkable. The National War Work council party out on the tour of the army camps is headed by Harold I. Pratt, of the Standard Oil company, who is paying the expenses of the trip. Others include some of the greatest Y. M. C. A. workers of the country. While at Camp Harrison, the party and some of their guests were photographed and a copy was published in the Indianapolis papers. Mr. Griest, who was in the party, is easily recognized in the picture.

B. W. CULLEN PROMOTED.
Is Named Foreman at East Shops Pipe Department.

The Sentinel yesterday, in making note of the appointment of a successor to the late Foreman G. W. Shannon, of the pipe department of the east car shops, stated that the office had fallen upon W. H. White. Instead B. W. Cullen is the appointee and he has already assumed the duties of the office. Mr. White is foreman of the tin department of that shop and there has been no change in that office. What The Sentinel said about the merits of Mr. White yesterday are applicable to Mr. Cullen also. He commenced work in that shop in 1905 and has remained there constantly since, giving good service and being liked by officers and shop associates for his many good traits. Before entering the shop Mr. Cullen was in the road service, commencing as a brakeman in 1892 and being promoted to conductor several years later. A desire to be able to be at home more prompted

BURIED AT GROVER HILL.

The co-employees in the offices in the old Pennsylvania trainmaster's office sent handsome floral pieces to be placed on the casket of the late Mrs. James B. Brown, who was buried at Grover Hill, Pa., this afternoon. Mrs. Brown's death was sudden and followed a nervous shock caused by the death of a relative. She had been married only a few weeks. The wedding occurred June 4. It was a very quiet ceremony because of the death the preceding week of Mrs. Brown, the mother of the groom. Mrs. J. B. Brown took ill soon after the wedding and grew gradually worse until last Sunday, when she expired. Her maiden name was Miss Helen Lout.

SENT FISH TO BOYS.

The employees in the office of Road Foreman of Engines O. E. Maxwell, of the Pennsylvania, including the assistant road foreman, divided among themselves a basket of fine fish—bass, wall eyed pike, perch and bluegills—last night. The fish were caught by Mr. Maxwell at Walloon lake. Mr. Maxwell has been on a vacation, which will end some time next week. He leaves Walloon lake tomorrow, but it is understood that he intends to stop off a day or two to visit friends on the homeward trip.

INDUSTRIAL NOTES.

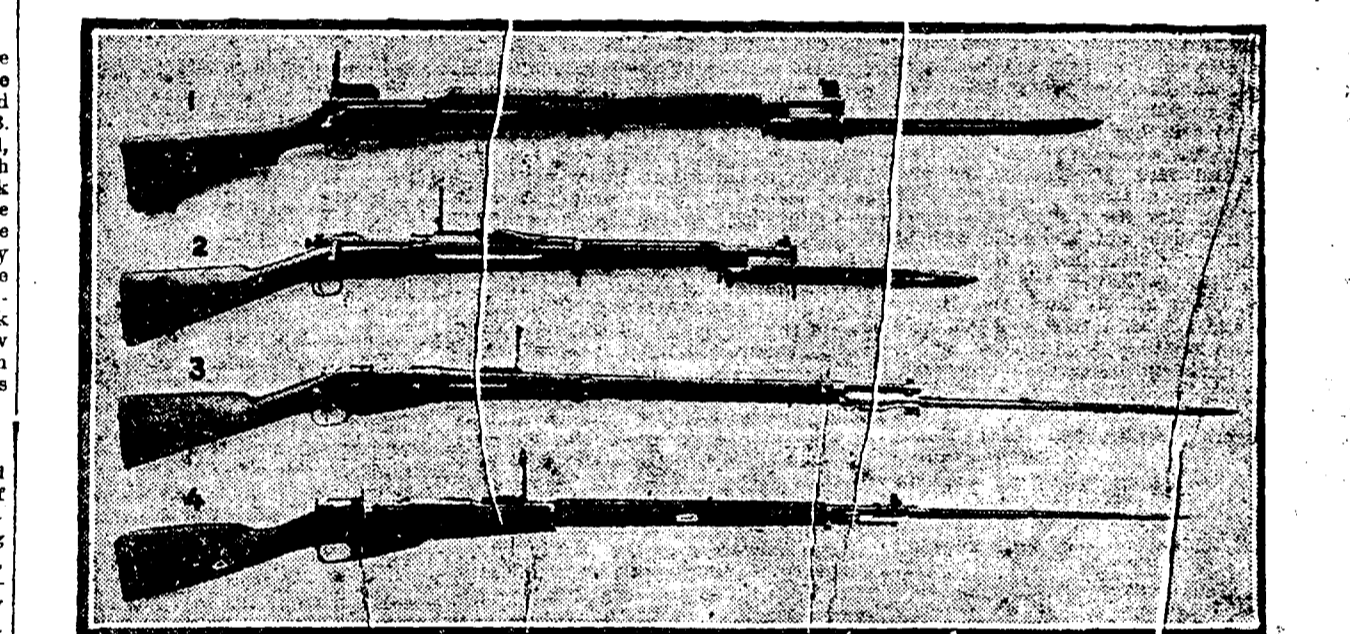

J. R. Parker, of the Pennsylvania erecting shop, is sick and off duty. H. J. Furge, a Pennsylvania tinner, has gone to Valparaiso to fish a few days. C. Doehrmann, of the Pennsylvania erecting shop, has gone to Lake James to stay a few days. W. C. Kolb, of the Pennsylvania air-brake department, is off duty on account of the funeral of his aunt. Guy F. Van Buskirk, motor inspector at the Pennsylvania shops, is off duty on account of sickness. Peter Williams and H. W. Seibert, of the Pennsylvania cabbuilding shop, are off duty on account of sickness. F. A. Onesch, a machinist's helper at the Pennsylvania shops, is sick and off duty.

Archibald Cassel, of the Pennsylvania toolroom, is off duty on account of the death of his uncle at Toledo. W. Bultemeyer, a Pennsylvania tank repainter, is back on duty after a short absence on account of an injured eye. Frank Grubb, division storekeeper at Toledo for the Pennsylvania, was in the city today on business for the department. E. H. Cook, a pipefitter, resigned at the Pennsylvania shops this morning and will take employment with S. F. Bowser & Co. Paul Gensel, who resigned a position at the Pennsylvania shops yesterday, has taken employment at the General Electric works. F. T. Huston, assistant motive power engineer of the Pennsylvania, has gone to Pittsburgh on business for the department.

Foreman M. J. Shea, who had tonalities several days, resumed charge of the wheel department of the Pennsylvania machine shop this morning. Mrs. C. W. Montgomery, wife of the Pennsylvania fireman, and son, Douglas Montgomery, will leave tonight for Toronto, Canada, to visit her brothers and sisters two or three weeks. Mrs. A. F. H. Dornie, wife of the Pennsylvania shopman, is preparing for a visit with her niece, Mrs. Hattie Smith, of Cleveland. She will leave for that city early next week.

H. E. Tribolet, of the Pennsylvania erecting shop, is off duty as the result of getting a piece of steel in his eye. The optic is badly inflamed, but the ball was not cut. R. E. Elliott, Pennsylvania engineer, who has been sick since the holidays, called at the road foreman's office today to see his friends. He will not be able to resume work in the cab for several weeks. Engineer Elliott passed through a most serious surgical operation last April.

THE CASE OF MRS. RENA MOONEY, FREED BY JURY

History of Remarkable Criminal Charge Based on Dynamite Plot.

San Francisco, Cal., July 27.—Demanded by the prosecution for the infliction of the death penalty, rarely before asked in California in the case of a woman; widespread interest of labor unions, public controversy involving credibility of state's witnesses and charges by the defense that important evidence had been fabricated, were features which marked the trial of Mrs. Rena Mooney.

MRS. RENA MOONEY.

for murder resulting from a bomb explosion here last July, who has been acquitted after the jury had deliberated almost sixty hours.

Mrs. Mooney, a music teacher, wife of Thomas J. Mooney, was arrested a few days after the explosion, which occurred at 2:06 p. m., in the course of a preparedness day parade, July 22, killed ten persons and wounded more than forty men, women and children. At about the same time the Mooneys were arrested, Warren K. Billings, Israel Weinberg and Edward D. Nolan were taken into custody by detectives.

The state contended that the explosion was the culmination of a conspiracy plot of wide ramifications, with the five bomb murder defendants as the ring leaders. Billings was tried, convicted of murder and sentenced to life imprisonment. Mooney was sentenced to death on a verdict of murder in the first degree without recommendation for mercy. Both sentences have been held up pending appeals to the state supreme court. The others are now awaiting trial. Nolan is at liberty on bail.

Dissatisfied with the verdict in the case of Thomas J. Mooney, union labor organizations, which contributed largely to the defense fund through the International Workers' Defense league, caused the appointment of a "silent jury" composed of labor men, to hear evidence adduced at Mrs. Mooney's trial and render an independent verdict to organized labor.

Mrs. Mooney was brought to trial May 21 before Superior Judge Emmet Seawell, of Santa Rosa, and a jury. The specific charge against her was the murder of Mrs. Myrtle Irene Van Leo, one of the ten victims of the explosion. In addition the defendant was charged with having been a member of a "murderous conspiracy" to overthrow the government and bring about a state of anarchy. Much testimony and many exhibits intended to support this theory were ruled out by Judge Seawell. Various letters written to and by Mooney, extracts from an anarchist publication called the "Blast," edited here about the time of the explosion by Alexander Berkman, an associate of Emma Goldman, and other documents, which the state contended showed designs of the alleged group of conspirators, were admitted.

Alibi was the defense which the defendant's attorneys sought to establish by a score of witnesses, who declared Mrs. Mooney and her husband had been on the roof of the building in which they made their home more than a mile from the scene of the explosion, throughout the afternoon. Mrs. Mooney and the four other defendants told of their movement in detail on the afternoon of the bomb murders. The defense sought to prove that others rather than the defendants were the persons who had been seen in the vicinity of the explosion by the state witnesses.

Hay Fever Patients— Test Reality of Cure.

A brochure has just been published dealing with the new treatment for Hay Fever. It quotes cases, tells of interesting and surprising experiments of patients to test the reality of the "cure." Hay Fever patients will read this brochure with deep and particular interest. It will give them an entirely new viewpoint on hay fever. A disease that can now be cured. This brochure will be sent upon request to any address.

The state's contention was that Mooney and the others sought to prevent the parade because it was a military preparedness measure which might interfere with their alleged plot to overthrow the government and that Billings, accompanied by three of the other defendants placed a suit case which, the state contended, enclosed the bomb, at the spot where the blast occurred. One witness said he saw Billings, accompanied by Mooney, place the suit case on the sidewalk.

The defense contended that the bomb was hurled from the roof of a building and witnesses testified they had seen a black object coming through the air before the detonation. Bits of what purported to have been pieces of an alarm clock, by which the state contended the bomb was exploded; pieces of what purported to have been parts of a suit case and other exhibits such as bullets and jagged pieces of iron picked up on the scene after the explosion, were admitted as evidence.

Eleven days before the explosion Mrs. Mooney obtained about twelve pounds of nitre, a component of dynamite, one witness testified. A detective testified that bullets extracted from the bodies of victims and picked up from the sidewalk were identical with many found in Mrs. Mooney's apartments.

Covers were laid for six, including Mrs. Elmer Lankau, Helen Christen and Mrs. Fred Spoltman.

Mrs. Elizabeth Hughes, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Hughes, of Hoagland avenue, was seven years old on Thursday, and not only Miss Mary but a number of her playmates enjoyed a little birthday party in honor of the day.

Pink flowers and a frosted cake with pink candles were the decorations of the supper table, where the children found various good things to tempt and satisfy their appetites after they had had a merry time playing games.

Mrs. Arnold R. Tresselt is entertaining her sister, Mrs. J. Stoen O'Rourke, of Detroit, and her two small sons, Mrs. O'Rourke has met many of her sister's intimate friends at informal companies, first at a two-table bridge club at Mrs. Tresselt's and later as guests of Mrs. Harry Hogan at the Elks' Country club.

A sewing affair with Mrs. Daniel Milligan as hostess, a small luncheon today at the Country club with Miss Mildred Bowser as host and an afternoon sewing following the luncheon with Mrs. T. P. Ewing as host.

Rush—Clifford.
The wedding of Miss Helene Marie Clifford, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James E. Clifford, and Mr. Ralph Judy Rush, a son of Dr. Fred Rush, of this city, took place on Thursday evening, July 26, at 8 o'clock, at the rectory of the Cathedral. Rev. Father John J. Quinlan performed the ceremony.

The bride was attended by Miss Josephine Kelly, of this city, and Mr. Rush by Mr. Frederick Clements, of Chicago. The bride made a beautiful appearance in a handsome gown of white satin combined with crepeorgette and trimmings of rich lace. The bridal veil was attached to a crown effect of rose point lace and fell to the hem of the gown.

A shower bouquet of bride roses and white sweetpeas completed the lovely bridal costume. Miss Kelly wore a gown of pink tulle combined with silver cloth and lavender maline. A bonnet of silver cloth was trimmed with frills of lavender maline and a pink satin muff was covered with lavender frills to match and had feather ornamentation of clusters of violets.

The home of the bride, in Rockhill street, was decorated with garden flowers and the dining room was very charming with its beautifully laid table in cluny lace, pink roses, pink candles, ropes of smilax. A hamper of all colors of sweetpeas that stood on the buffet converted that article of furniture into a miniature sweetpea bed. Covers were laid for twenty people, including the groom's sister, Miss Ida M. Rush, of Chicago; Mrs. Monper, of Hammond; Dr. Robert Crystal, of Ann Arbor, Mich. The bride and groom left in the evening for Chicago, where they will stop at the Edgewater Beach hotel until Mr. Rush is called to active service.

Mr. Rush has just completed his training in the officers' reserve training camp, at Fort Sheridan, Ill., and awaits his call. The probability of that being soon hastened the date of the wedding, which had been previously planned to take place in August.

Hartzog—Toenges.
Mrs. W. C. Portrie, of 118 Cottage avenue, announces the marriage of her sister, Esther, youngest daughter of Mr. H. J. Toenges, of 1218 Erie street, to Mr. Guy M. Hartzog, of Celina, O., which took place on July 25. The marriage ceremony was solemnized at the home of the groom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles O. Hartzog, on the bank of Lake Mercer.

The bride and groom are taking a short eastern trip and after their return they will go to Cleveland, where Mr. Hartzog has accepted a position as salesman with an important business house of that city. The bride and groom have a host of friends in Fort Wayne who will wish them success and happiness.

Give Books to Soldiers.
Another opportunity to "do a bit" between canning and either knitting or sewing, is to look through your shelves of books and see what you have to spare that a man would like to read, and donate them to the "boys" at Indianapolis, Camp Fort Benjamin Harrison. Such books should be sent to the public library. And if you haven't any, why buy one or two, or even three, or if that is too much trouble send 50 cents or a dollar or even dollars; it wouldn't hurt, to the public library so the librarians can buy books to fill the box. And if the canning and numerous other things have actually taken all of your spare change and your home can't spare even one book, send 1017 magazines. Everything will be gratefully received and appreciated at the camp. This is a time when little "bits" are valuable to the giver and to the receiver.

Store Dried Foods in Small Containers
Whatever the container used for dried foods—glass, tin or paper—let it be small. This is the admonition of the expert who writes Uncle Sam's "candy book."

If a small amount of dried product is put in each receptacle, just enough for one or two meals, it will not be necessary to open a container the contents of which cannot be consumed in a short time. The use of the small container also makes it more difficult for insects to spoil large quantities of the dried fruits or vegetables.

If a paper bag is used, the upper part should be twisted into a neck, then over, and tied tightly with a string.

If a further precaution is necessary the bag can be painted with a brush dipped into melted paraffin. Another precaution may be taken by placing the small bags in a tin container with a tightly-fitting cover. All bags should bear a label indicating what they contain.

If fruits or vegetables are packed in tight containers immediately upon being dried thoroughly, they will remain just as brittle as they were when taken from the drier.

If, however, they are not dried thoroughly, they will "sweat" and mold. To prevent this the material should be examined within 24 hours after packing, and if it appears moist it must be dried further.

It will be found advisable to "condition" practically all dried vegetables and fruits.

This is best done in a small way by placing the material in boxes and pouring it from one into another once a day for three or four days, so as to mix it thoroughly and give to the whole mass an even degree of moisture.

If the material is found to be too moist, it should be returned to the drying trays for a short drying.

One authority says chlorinated lime is twenty-five times more effective as a germ killer than the usual application of carbolic acid and states one pound of chlorinated lime will disinfect thoroughly 8,000 gallons of sewage. It not only has no odor, but makes garbage cans, toilets and all other necessary waste receptacles odorless.

BIG MILITARY REVIEW AT FORT BEN HARRISON

Governors of Four States Will Watch Parade of the Soldiers.

Indianapolis, July 27.—The largest military review ever held at Fort Ben Harrison, where thousands of young men from West Virginia, Ohio, Kentucky and Indiana are training for the officers' reserve corps, has been set for Aug. 10. In addition to Major General Barry, commander of the central department, the governors of the four states represented by the candidates have been invited to attend. Governors Cox, of Ohio; Stanley, of Kentucky, and Goodrich, of Indiana, already have visited the fort.

Staging the review shortly before the close of the training camp, will show to the best advantage what the men have to work at about 12,000 troops will take part.

There has been a great improvement in the student officers and their ability. As the camp nears a close, and as various ones have been given opportunities to display their ability to handle men in different formations, and to meet many supposed situations, stories are being circulated concerning the earlier experiences of the temporary officers and their ways of extracting themselves from seemingly unmanageable tangles.

One student officer in his first attempt to command succeeded in tying his men in a knot which puzzled him, and the more commands he gave and the more they obeyed the worse the tangle appeared. The instructing officer offered no suggestions. Finally, in obedience to a command which was meant to work that way, the company marched into a fence, where it had to stop. The cadet was almost desperate, but quickly ordered:

"Get away from that fence! March!"

Another story concerns the situation in which a student officer found himself when putting a number of fellow students through some squad formations. All went well until the end of the drill, when he attempted to get them back to the original position. He was unable to do so, and finally shouted:

"As you were at first! March!"

Governor Cox, of Ohio, who visited the fort recently, told of how he had solved the difficulties of target practice. The story told by the governor was quoted as follows:

"I was out at the rifle range and Major Darrow asked me if I wouldn't like to try shooting. The men were shooting from the 600 yard range. I said 'yes,' so Major Darrow borrowed a rifle for me from one of the men, and another for himself. We lay down across the sand bags and began peering away."

"After each shot by either of us, the men down in the pit waved the red flag, which meant we had missed the target altogether."

"Finally, after about half a dozen shots apiece, the major said, 'Young man, telephone down to the men in the pit that Major Darrow is shooting.' The 'young man' did. Then the major shot again, and the pit man waved the emblem which signified that the major had hit the bulls-eye."

"Then I said to myself, 'oh-ha' and turned on my right and said, 'Young man, telephone down to the pit man that the governor of Ohio is shooting.' The next shot I hit the bulls-eye too."

EDUCATION MUST NOT DIE BECAUSE OF WAR

President W. L. Bryan, of
I. U. Makes Appeal for Men to Attend College.

The long war, involving nearly all civilized nations, must not throttle education, says Dr. William L. Bryan, head of Indiana university, who spent Thursday afternoon and evening at the Anthony hotel. President Bryan is touring the northern part of the state in an effort to stimulate interest in college work. He met many members of the I. U. alumni and several young people who expect to enter school next fall. He will be in South Bend, Gary and Hammond before week end.

President Bryan speaks not alone for the university he represents when he appeals for continued interest in college work. He does not tell young men and women to attend Indiana university. He urges them to "go to college."

"The call is for trained men to win the war," says Dr. Bryan. "There is a cry at present for more trained radio operators. Last week there was an appeal made for 500 young men who can talk French to do Y. M. C. A. work in France. Indiana is to furnish twenty of those men. Every department is being called upon for trained men."

The school men expect the present world conflict to continue for some time. The resources of Germany are not depleted, Dr. Bryan points out. Action of Russia makes it appear that an added year is to be the war's portion. Germany cannot hope to win the conflict in the end, the school head states.

Conservation of food resources is being preached by Indiana university as a direct war help, Dr. Bryan explained. Short courses on the subject, dealing with canning and marketing and other phases of the topic, are being conducted at the university. An effort is being made by the university to organize the city markets over the state.

Dr. Bryan spoke enthusiastically of the extension branch of the university to be established in Fort Wayne later in the year. The same success which is marking the way of the extension school at Indianapolis is expected here. It is anticipated that Prof. H. G. Shockley, a well rounded scholar, will be placed in charge of the Fort Wayne extension branch. Many subjects will be taught.

Part of the Salt Lake canning class shelling peas in food conservation campaign.

(Staff Special.)

Salt Lake, Utah, July 27.—Not a bean, pea, strawberry or a beet, grown in the state of Utah will be wasted this year.

A group of women organized under the head of the women's central conservation committee of Salt Lake will see to that.

One of the first moves in the campaign to conserve surplus food production is the organization of housewives into canning classes to teach women how to preserve and can economically and correctly.

The first class has just opened in the Utah capital.

expects at least 800. The doctors have been enrolled and urged to enlist.

Precinct organizations of women's relief corps, whose object shall be the maintenance of a close personal relationship between the soldiers and their homes, was recommended by Miss Mary Boone, of Whiteland, Ind., and referred to a committee.

Governor Goodrich will be asked to set aside a week during the month of August for enrollment of boys in the United States boys' working reserve by a special proclamation. This is in accord with a resolution presented by Isaac D. Straus, head of the movement in Indiana.

Recommending the establishment of a state office of markets, for the regulation of food distribution, was the feature of the report of a special committee of the food production and conservation committee of the state council. The committee also recommended more direct selling, the elimination of unnecessary middlemen wherever possible, and an annual survey of crops and food supplies. The committee proposed the posting of bulletins by farmers, so that automobilists might buy their surplus food stuffs. County agents and others engaged in agricultural supervision would be asked to serve by arranging sales and preventing over-production.

Campaign of Education and Inspiration by State Defense Council.

Indianapolis, July 27.—Members of the state council of defense and other volunteers will organize a campaign of education and inspiration to be carried into every county of Indiana to arouse the people to the importance of preparing for war. A committee consisting of A. W. Brady, E. M. Wilson and Evans Woolen was appointed at the regular session of the council to prepare data for this campaign, covering the activities of the defense organizations to date and the matters in contemplation. A number of the members of the state council have volunteered their time and expenses without cost to the cause and it is expected that within a short time this educational crusade will be in full swing.

A statement of the difficulties being experienced in securing the desired number of physicians for military service was made to the council by Dr. C. F. Emerson, head of the medical section. Dr. Emerson stated that only 210 physicians of the 4,773 doctors in the state have offered themselves and the national government

CAMP BEST PLACE FOR BOYS WHO GO TO FARM

Boys' Working Reserve in Department of Labor Believes That

New York, July 27.—Is the camp the best method of caring for boys who go out to work on the farms, was the principal question discussed at an important conference held here today by leaders of the boys' working reserve, United States department of labor. The meeting which was held at the Yale club, was attended by representatives of the organization and others interested from all parts of the middle Atlantic and New England states.

The opinion expressed by many of the leaders in this great national movement, which aims to fill the farm labor shortage by mobilizing city boys for farm work, was that they can be better cared for in camps than in any other way. Further, the conviction was expressed by many of those present that funds should be provided for the establishment in every state of a central mobilization camp, where the boys could be given an intensive farm drill and then sent out to farms or in small camp groups throughout the state. In some cases, of course, it was admitted, camps would not be practical owing to farms being widely separated. On the whole, it was believed the advantages of well supervised camps would far outweigh any expense attached thereto.

In New York, Pennsylvania, New Jersey, Connecticut, Massachusetts, Maine, Indiana, Michigan, Wisconsin, California and other states camps for the boys have proved so much of a success that it was the opinion of the national leaders and other officers that the method should be extended. It was for the purpose of having the question discussed more fully by men who have had actual experience with such camps that today's conference was called by William E. Hall, national director of the boys' working reserve. Methods of camp management which have proved successful in different places were explained, and difficulties which have been met with in other cases cleared up.

The camps so far established are of a variety of types and are provided for in various ways. Tents, grandstands at fair grounds, school houses—these and similar accommodations are used. Sometimes the Y. M. C. A. furnishes the buildings, at other times a body of local business men, the state council of defense or some patriotic individual.

The Cause of Constipation.

Constipation is usually due to a lack of water in the excrement. To effect a cure you must take more water in the system. It may be months, however, before this has any appreciable effect on the bowels, but when persisted in and fruit and vegetables containing water are eaten freely, the condition may be overcome. In the meantime use the mildest laxatives obtainable and take only enough to produce the desired effect. Chamberlain's Tablets are one of the best. They are easy to take and most agreeable in effect.—Advertisement.

A BELATED INQUEST.

Stockholm, July 27.—The sarcophagus of Charles XII, Sweden's "hero king," who was killed by a shot in the back of the head at the siege of Frederiksbald in 1718, is shortly to be opened by a commission of scientists appointed by King Gustavus. It is desired to make a careful examination of the nature of the wound, the direction of entry of the projectile, etc. The coffin was opened and the wound examined in 1859, but the examination was carelessly conducted.

LESSON FOR JULY 29

GOD'S GRACIOUS INVITATION.

LESSON TEXT—Isaiah 55:1-11.
GOLDEN TEXT—Seek ye the Lord while he may be found, call ye upon him while he is near.—Isa. 55:6.

The Bible is throughout a forward looking book. No matter how dark the light, it looks forward to the dawn of a new and better day. Whenever written, the prophet looks forward toward the end of the Babylonian exile. Isaiah died about 142 years before that event. That scene is laid in Babylon. Isaiah prophesied in Jerusalem.

1. The Invitation, (vv. 1-8) In order to understand the fullness and blessedness of this invitation, we should read in its connection chapters 53 and 54. In chapter 53 we have a prophecy and vision of the Messiah, making his atonement for sins, "wounded for our transgressions." Again we have in this connection a picture of the Messiah as our leader and Savior. In chapter 54 we have the invitation and joyous welcome to the beautiful city which he is establishing for us.

(1) Who is invited? The word "Ho" is perhaps an abbreviation of the word "Hail," used to excite attention. This invitation is extended to every one: (a) the "thirsty," to those who are needy; (b) the poor and the rich; those "without money," and the supply is abundant, even as the water. Every one is invited without limitation or distinction. The greatness of a man's spirit is measured by the numbers of his desires and thirsts, by their qualities and by his capacities or the intensity of his thirst. Those invited were to have "wine," a luxury, and "milk," a staple necessity, without money and without price. The currency of the kingdom of Heaven is grace (v. 1).

(2) Who Will Come? (v. 8). Only those who are listening and who are attentive. Many fail of eternal life because they do not pay attention to the claims of religion. "Come unto me," (Matt. 11:28). We go to God for salvation and help, and we find life. Life is more than mere existence. It is the natural, harmonious, joyous activity of every part of our being. The result of coming in, "your soul shall live," and the surety of it is, "an everlasting covenant." Literally, an agreement with promises which can never be broken, namely, "the sure mercies of David." (See II Sam. 12:29; I Cor. 17:27; Ps. 89:1-4; also Luke 20:41, 44). We are bought but we did not pay the price. The mercies of David are the antitype of our Savior; the mercy of grace. True satisfaction is in this order. (See vv. 2, 8). Christ is a faithful witness, the exalted one, (v. 5) to this covenant.

(3) When to Come (v. 6). While he may be found, and while he is near, implying a time when he may not be found and a time when he will not be near. All of God's promises are conditional.

(4) The Way to Come (v. 7). For-sake open sin, turn from unrighteous thought, turn to the Lord and receive his "multiplied pardon." Man is everywhere depicted in the Scriptures as wandering away from the true God and there is no salvation if we insist on continuing in sin.

II. The Transformation (vv. 8-13). God's promises have back of them all the power of the universe and are as certain as the process of the seasons. In working out his transformation in the character of man, we are to think his thoughts after him. We see and know only very little of this spirit, but God sees, knows and controls the universe, which is at his command. (I Cor. 10:13; Phil. 4:10). We are to enter into his ways, and his ways are as the heavens, higher than those of the earth. Having entered into his ways we are to bring his fruits (see John 15). If the Divine seed (v. 11) is implanted within us, then we may expect to see the fruits of the kingdom of God, which are born of the spirit. (Gal. 5:22-23). This transformation is a service, for we are to have a mission, "to go to all the earth," being led by the Messiah and thus receive "joy and peace." As sure as "the rain cometh down and the snow from heaven and returneth not but watereth the earth," so is the seed of the Word in the hands of the sower, to become bread to the eater. As we go forth we have his promise (v. 11) that, "It shall not return void but shall accomplish that which I please, and it shall prosper in the thing whereto I sent it."

As a result the "thorns" (evil) shall be displaced by "fig trees" (good). God's word bears fruit in implanted lives. (John 6:38; James 1:18; I Peter 1:23). God calls this word, which is spoken of by the prophet, "My word." What the prophet says, God says. What an inspired man says, God inspires him to say. God's promise will be consummated in redeeming society, as well as redeeming creation (vv. 12, 13; Ch. 35:10; 49:9, 10; 51:11; Jer. 31:12-14; Isa. 35:1, 2). The language about the mountains and hills breaking forth into singing, is interpreted in Psalms 65:11, 13.

Sun and Wind Bring Out Ugly Spots. How to Remove Easily.

Here's a chance, Miss Freckle-face, to try a remedy for freckles with the guarantee of a reliable dealer that it will not cost you a penny unless it removes the freckles; while if it does give you a clear complexion the expense is trifling.

Simply get an ounce of othine—double strength—from any druggist and a few applications should show you how easy it is to rid yourself of the homely freckles and get a beautiful complexion. Rarely is more than one ounce needed for the worst case.

Be sure to ask the druggist for the double strength othine as this is the prescription sold under guarantee of money back if it fails to remove freckles.

John L. Sullivan on Overeating.

John L. Sullivan, the ex-pugilist, says that more people die from overeating than from drink. One of the most prominent physicians in England says that is also the case over there. No wonder that so many people are troubled with indigestion. If you have trouble with your stomach adopt a diet suited to your age and occupation. Then if you should have indigestion take Chamberlain's Tablets. They strengthen the stomach and enable it to perform its functions naturally.—Advertisement.

BALL OF FIRE EXPLODED.

Bedford, Ind., July 27.—This region was visited by a heavy rain and electrical storm early last night. Many houses and outbuildings were struck by lightning. At the home of Will Fields, a Southeastern railroad baggage man, the lightning entered the house on the electric light wires, blew out the fuse, and a ball of fire exploded in the rooms, breaking every light bulb. Mrs. Fields was severely burned on one of her arms.

Catarhal Deafness Cannot Be Cured by local applications as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure catarrhal deafness, and that is by a constitutional remedy. Catarrhal Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, deafness is the result. Unless the inflammation can be reduced and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever. Many cases of deafness are caused by catarrh, which is an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces. Hall's Catarrh Medicine acts thru the blood on the mucous surfaces of the system. We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Catarrhal Deafness that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Medicine. Circulars free. A. C. CHENEY & CO., Toledo, O.

WOMEN FIGHTING IN RANKS OF GERMANS

RUSSIAN AMAZONS CAPTURE SISTERS IN TEUTON ARMY

"Command of Death" Makes Prisoners of Females Who Are on Battle Line in Western Russia.

KERENSKY SAYS ANARCHY MUST BE SLAIN

Petrograd, July 28.—When the Russian women's battalion, known officially as the "command of death," went into action against the Germans near Smorgon, July 25, they captured a number of women, from whom it was learned for the first time that German women also were fighting on the battle front in western Russia.

MUST SLAY ANARCHY.

Petrograd, July 28.—Premier Kerensky, referring to the situation in Russia, said: "It is a spectre of anarchy which needs to be obliterated. Stout hearts and stern hands are required to stay the rout in the army."

"There is plenty of good material in Russia but it has been allowed to go to waste."

KERENSKY'S HAND SHOWN.

London, July 28.—Dispatches from Petrograd dealing with the military and political situation concur that Petrograd itself is outwardly calmer than it has been for months, which is attributed to Premier Kerensky's strong repressive measures, including the disarming of rioters and mutineers.

Summary of the Day's War News

The Austro-German march through eastern Galicia and toward the Bukovina border is going on unchecked so far as latest reports indicate. Apparently the Teutonic purpose is to give the retreating Russian forces no pause upon Austrian territory has been completely cleared of them and the achievement is possible.

In the west, while there is no corresponding allied advance, there is at least an absence of German progress. The crown prince is the aggressive force at present, as he has been for some time past, but his liberal sacrifices of his troops are not gaining him any ground of consequence. Last night he met with a complete check in a renewal of his offensive on the Aisne front. The French lines were not penetrated in the whole field of the attack, which took in a considerable sector of the Chemin des Dames, and Paris reports his losses as extremely heavy.

GREAT BRITAIN IS SPEEDING UP WORK MAKING AIRPLANES

London, July 6.—(By Mail).—The output of air craft in Great Britain is considerably on the increase, according to Dr. Addison, minister of munitions. He stated that since last January, when the ministry bureau, responsible to the flying service for supplies the program had been steadily and largely increased. It was still expanding and no limit could be set to it until the country had enough aircraft and personnel both for attack and defense. Dr. Addison said:

"No fewer than 100 factories are engaged in some process or other connected with the construction and equipment of the flying machine. Output is increasing by leaps and bounds. If for the purpose of comparison you put the number of airplanes produced in May 1916 at 100, then in May of this year the number rose to rather more than 300. Even this rate of increase is being accelerated."

AMERICAN BOYS IN FRANCE DISPLAY SOLDIERLY CLASS

With the American Forces in France, Friday, July 27.—(By the Associated Press).—The hard training which the American troops are now undergoing is bringing out a marked degree of efficiency in young officers who recently joined the army, having undergone training at Plattsburg or at other camps. Regular army officers are particularly struck by the enthusiasm with which these men have plunged into their work. They declare that the quality of these men sets at rest any doubt as to the high standard of leadership in America's vast army.

The young officers have adapted themselves very quickly to the new conditions met here in training with French instructors and seem to appreciate fully the most minute details.

Earnest and Tireless.
They are exceedingly earnest in their work and never tire. They have won unstinted praise from older officers who have seen long years of military service. A colonel of one of the old line regiments standing today watching the work of one of his battalions in which many reserve officers are serving, exclaimed: "They are simply splendid! I cannot say enough about them. I have never seen a finer class of young officers anywhere. With very little preliminary guidance they have shown themselves capable of taking over entire direction of the battalion. They have brought to their work not only much of the technique of professional soldiers, but the high morale and enthusiasm of men who have been attracted to military service by natural inclination."

The colonel further expressed what seems to be the opinion of most officers already here, that as many of these officers from training camps as can possibly be spared should be sent to France at the earliest possible date to undergo intensive training in the actual war zone and also to have experience in the trenches so that they will be fitted to act as instructors to the American troops as they are landed. There is belief that these young men should not be held in America until the regiment to which it is proposed to assign them are actually formed, but should come in advance of their regiments so that they can direct the final training of their men here.

Would Remain in America.

Under this plan a certain number of officers would be assigned more or less permanently to training duty in America and men of the various regiments would pass through their hands for drill in the rudiments of soldiery, such as the manual of arms, ordinary marching tactics and general setting up instruction. They would then cross the ocean and the regimental staffs would be completed on this side from among the officers who already had undergone a course of study and training in the ever changing rules and practices of modern warfare.

The men of the expeditionary forces have settled down into the routine of the new training very quickly and are progressing as rapidly as their officers expected. They are up at 5 o'clock in the morning and reach the training ground not later than 7:45, drilling and digging without interruption until 11:30. After half an hour for lunch and another hour for rest, they drill again from 1 until 4:30 o'clock. The men lunch in the field, having sandwiches and other cold rations prepared for them before they leave camp each morning. The French soldiers who are training the Americans rest from 11 to 2 o'clock. They have field kitchens and eat a hot midday meal.

Adept at Bomb-Throwing.
As was to be expected, the American soldiers have taken naturally to bomb throwing. They like that part of the daily program better than any other. When they are not hurling dummy metal missiles, they may be seen practicing with heavy stones, dummy shell holes having been constructed as targets.

The Americans are wonderfully accurate, and the French instructors are amazed at their skill, so easily acquired. This of course, is due largely to baseball training, although bombs are thrown with a straight arm swing quite different from the elbow motion of the baseball pitcher. Word was received from headquarters today that the expeditionary force field bakery would be in operation within the next few days, supplying the soldiers with "home made" American bread. They have been living thus far on the regulation French war bread.

The headquarters staff has received from the French government meteor-

MUST HAVE A PART IN RULE

Scheidemann Tells What Views of German Socialists Are.

WILL REPULSE A SUBORDINATE PART

German Democratic Leader Hopes Russia Will Be Able to Set Up.

Copenhagen, July 28.—Philip Scheidemann, socialist member of the reichstag, gave yesterday the views of the socialists on their participation in the government. Herr Scheidemann said that if really a parliamentary government were formed with a program which the socialists could approve they must participate and share the responsibility. If, however, members of the reichstag were only to become subordinate to under-secretaries and chancellors they would not accept the invitation to participate. Herr Scheidemann said it was necessary to defend Germany against Russia as long as it was an enemy, but the socialists did not desire the fruit of the revolution destroyed. The Galician retreat involved the Russian soldier and the masses in frightful suffering. The socialist government was able to assign the responsibility for the enormous misfortune to the socialists of another school.

Herr Scheidemann set hopes for a speedy peace upon the Russian socialists but not the Maximalists. He said that to attain it all sides must hold fast to the program of the council of workers' and soldiers' delegates and the German reichstag, uninfluenced by a momentary military situation. He warned against a new attempt to offer Russia a separate peace and declared that an announce-

OPEN CLASSES TO SCHOOL MEN FOR NON-COMS

Washington, July 28.—Because of the great demand for corporals and sergeants for the new army, it was announced here today that classes will be opened where men who expected to be drafted might be instructed in the work of non-commissioned officers' work. The classes are to be held daily, with the exception of Saturday and Sunday. The announcement said the new army would require 80,000 corporals and 50,000 sergeants. The classes will be held at the headquarters of the military training camp.

"SAMMIES" NOW DEAD AND GONE IT IS "AMEXES"

Paris, July 28.—The American troops in France have chosen their soubriquet, according to the Matin today, adopting the name "Amexes." This was formed by piecing together the first two letters of the words "American expedition" in a manner similar to that adopted in forming the word "Amex" by which the Australian and New Zealand troops in the British forces are known.

NEED FIFTY MEN FOR RED CROSS WORK IN FRANCE

Washington, July 28.—Twenty experienced truck drivers, twenty helpers and ten expert mechanics are needed immediately by the American Red Cross for service in France, according to cable advices today to the Red Cross war council. The mechanical squad will include master carpenters, body builders, painters, machinists and electricians. The men will operate and keep in repair a number of two-ton auto trucks used in transporting Red Cross supplies from seaports to destinations in the interior. Volunteers beyond military age are desired. All expenses will be paid, but the men will be expected to work without compensation.

NICK ROMANOFF FALLS OFF BIKE AND BREAKS LEG

London, July 28.—A dispatch to the Exchange Telegraph company from Petrograd, says that former Emperor Nicholas fell and broke his leg while cycling in the gardens of the Tsarskoye Selo palace, where he has been incarcerated since the revolution.

GERMAN DIPLOMATS PASSING THROUGH

San Francisco, July 28.—The third party of German diplomats and their families to arrive from the Orient on the way to Berlin are here today. The group consisted of thirty-one persons, headed by Consul J. Merklingshaus, of Changsha. He will arrange transportation through Swiss consular officers here to New York. All of the consuls have been attached to the German diplomatic service in China for the last five years and have not been away from their posts in that time. United States secret service officials will accompany them to New York.

STRIKE HITS RAILROADS

Working Conditions Said to Trouble.

Chicago, July 28.—Freight traffic in Chicago switching district was seriously hampered today by the strike of switchmen affiliated with the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen employed on nineteen railroads. Representatives of the railroad managers' conference committee asserted that more than 25 per cent. of a working force was operating and that no serious results were feared. The employees declared that fully 98 per cent. of the railroads' switching force had quit work.

A feature of the strike was the alignment of the Switchmen's Union of America, affiliated with the American Federation, with the railroads. Switchmen of that union remained at work and the railroads declared were aiding in filling the places of the strikers.

No violence was reported through the morning. The railroads gave great attention to the moving of government supplies and the progress of the strike was watched by federal officials.

Mediation through G. W. Hanger, of the federal conciliation board was a possibility, though intervention was refused yesterday.

LIBERTY BREAD NOT WAR BREAD THE RIGHT NAME

Washington, July 28.—"Liberty bread" is the term to be encouraged by the food administration as applied to substitutes for wheat flour, rather than the phrase, "war bread," used in other warning countries.

"The name 'war bread' gives the impression that there is something inferior about the breads made of substitutes for wheat," says an announcement. "The fact is that breads made from wheat substitutes are healthful and just as tasty as those made from wheat." Use of substitutes will be encouraged at the food training camps to be held in connection with the war service camps.

TAXATION TO FURNISH THE BALANCE

Washington, D. C., July 28.—The additional $7,000,000,000 in this year's war expenses probably will be met by imposing additional taxes of $2,000,000,000 and authorizing $5,000,000,000 in credits, according to a tentative and informal decision today by the senate financial committee.

An European Port, July 28.—Another American contingent has arrived and disembarked. The American troops arrived by the same steamer whereon Kermit Roosevelt, his wife and child traveled.

When tenders went alongside the vessel Friday the men were in high spirits and frequently shouted: "Are we downhearted?" which was answered with a roaring "No," given with great enthusiasm.

Representatives of the general staff watched the disembarkation. There was no demonstration. Only a few While deferring final decision the committee was said to be overwhelmingly in favor of raising only about $2,000,000,000 of the additional revenues by taxation and resumed consideration of the bill, discussing what sources shall be touched to increase its figure to $2,000,000,000.

General sentiment of the senate committee was said to be to have the bond authorization originate in the house. It is expected the house ways and means committee will report a separate resolution for the $5,000,000,000 in additional credits. While every effort will be made to expedite revision of the bill, committee members said their work might take most of next week.

WEATHER GUESS FOR RURALITES OVER THE WIRE

Washington, July 28.—To enable telephone subscribers in rural communities to have weather forecasts a week in advance, the weather bureau has arranged to telegraph its weekly forecasts, issued on Saturday, for the week beginning Sunday, to about 250 of the principal rural telephone companies throughout the principal grain growing states. They are to be distributed over the lines of the companies about noon every Saturday, and will tell the coming week's weather and temperatures.

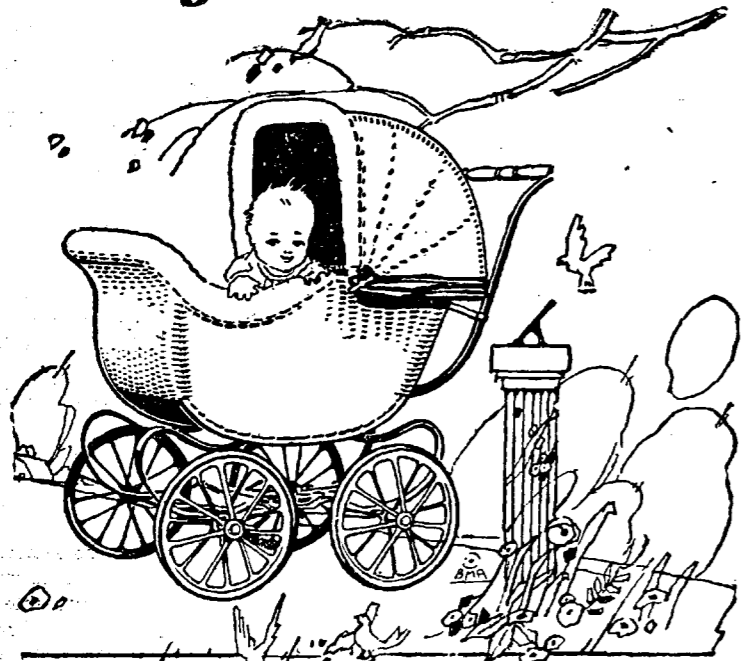

SOME FRESH LIGHT IS THROWN ON THE CAUSE OF THE WAR

London, July 28.—An article characterized as "Difficult if not impossible to doubt," regarding the origin of the war is published by the Times. The writer recalls a reference to the speech in the reichstag last week of Hugo Haase, leader of the socialist minority, as reported in the Leipziger Zeitung, to the meeting July 5, 1914, as one of the things which must be explained before the origin of the war is fully understood.

According to the Times' informant this probably will become the most famous date of that fateful month. He says a meeting was held at Potsdam, those attending being Emperor William, Dr. von Bethmann-Hollweg, Admiral von Tripitz, Gen. von Falkenhayn, Dr. William von Stumm, under-secretary for foreign affairs, and Archduke Franz Ferdinand, heir to the throne of Austria. REV. S. A. NORTHROP IS COMING SUNDAY Former Local Pastor Will Occupy Pulpit at Baptist Church.

A letter from Rev. Stephen A. Northrop, of Fenton, Mich., to E. G. Anderson concerning the pastor's visit here to fill the pulpit of the First Baptist church next Sunday, says in part: "I intended to speak in the evening on 'The Dawn of a World-Wide Democracy, or the Passing of the Kings,' but I received a gentle hint from one of your active members that they wanted some of my old-fashioned gospel sermons, and so I will speak on 'The Greatest Grace of the World' at 10:30 o'clock and 'The Grip That Uplifts' at 7:30 o'clock in the evening." Concerning Mrs. Northrop, Dr. Northrop writes that "She cannot come. We are lining up the forces here as never before in the history of the church and Mrs. Northrop must be at the old stand during my absence and meet the ladies of the church the afternoon of July 30. Some other time we will both be on hand. . . . I am anxious that my coming may be an uplift to your cause."

Rev. S. A. Northrop was the pastor of the First Baptist church in Fort Wayne for thirteen years and during his pastorate increased the membership to nearly three times its former number. He was the most popular minister of the times in and out of his church and no pastor was called upon to serve people who were not church members to as great an extent as he. When the death angel entered a home not belonging to any church, had delivered 105 high school, college and university addresses and baccalaureate sermons; also ladies' seminaries, military academies, dental, law and medical colleges and normal schools in Indiana, Ohio, New York, Missouri, Kansas, California, Illinois and Arizona. During the strenuous years covering the events and personalities mentioned Dr. Northrop was president of three chautauquas, president of the Indiana Baptist state convention three years; president of the Kansas City Baptist Theological Seminary board of trustees and filled other offices of trust and responsibility. Mr. Northrop also found time to do some writing and is the author of some well known books, including being "A Cloud of Witnesses," which had a run of three or four editions.

OSCAR W. BRAUNGART IS WABASH AGENT

Succeeds Fred C. Eggers at the Passenger Station
August 1.

When Oscar W. Braungart arrives home this evening from a pleasure trip to Buffalo, Niagara Falls and other places in the east, he will learn that he has been appointed local passenger agent of the Wabash to succeed Fred C. Eggers, who goes to the accounting department of S. F. Bowser & Co. August 1. So far as known, Mr. Braungart will be the youngest passenger agent at so important a station as Fort Wayne in the country, he being only 22 years old. But he is not lacking in experience and efficiency, for he has presided at the ticket window of the Wabash passenger station for four years, most of that time in the capacity of night ticket agent. He came to the Wabash from the Pfeiffer hardware store, where he worked a year following the completion of his school term. He is quite popular with the railway men and his courteous and manly conduct of affairs at the passenger station have brought him in favor of the traveling public. A successor to Mr. Braungart has not been named.

INCREASING FOOD PRODUCTION Western Railroads Giving Free Use of Land for Cultivation.

To help increase the nation's food supply by utilizing as much idle ground as possible for grazing and agricultural purposes, the railroads of the west and middle west are leasing at nominal rental millions of acres of land which they own. Reports just made to the railroads show that they show that virtually all of the land owned by these roads which is not being used for operating purposes is now under cultivation or being used by live stock owners for cattle grazing.

In addition to leasing their land to farmers and cattle men at a nominal rental, a number of the railroads are offering garden plots, rent free, to families along the right of way. Other roads have offered big tracts of their idle land to the states in which they operate. The federal government has also been offered 200,000 acres of "cut-over" land in Wisconsin by the Minneapolis, St. Paul and Sault Ste. Marie railroad.

Among the western roads that are leasing all suitable lands in their possession for agricultural and grazing purposes are the Northern Pacific, the Union Pacific, the Southern Pacific, the Great Northern, the O. S. L., the C. M. & St. P., the Northwestern Pacific and the A. T. & S. F. The latter road has leased every available acre that it owns.

The railroads operating in the middle west that are leasing their lands include the St. L. & S. F., the Pere Marquette, the A. T. & S. F., the Missouri Pacific, the M. K. & T., the C. B. & Q., the C. R. I. & P. and the Northern Pacific. The latter road has some million and a half acres of its idle western land under lease for grazing purposes.

The C. M. & St. P. is offering garden plots, rent free, to all persons living along its right of way.

The Illinois Central is permitting free use of its way land to all who apply for permission to cultivate them; this offer has been freely accepted.

The Illinois Central has also established a large co-operative garden in Chicago for its employees.

KAISER GETS A MEDAL.

Panama-Pacific Exposition Pays Tribute to His Talent.

Thursday William G. Kaiser, superintendent of the Western Gas and Electric company's plant, received a handsome medal and a letter of praise for the manner in which he collaborated in the arrangement and placing of the machinery for exhibit at the world's fair at San Francisco. The Western Gas and Electric company awarded several premiums by the awarding committee of the fair association and Mr. Kaiser added much to the attractiveness of the display of the products by artistic placing of the pieces.

DERAIL ON LAFAYETTE STREET.

Spreading rails threw a heavily laden coal car from the Pennsylvania industrial track at the point where it turns south on Lafayette street from the rails at 2 o'clock this morning. The car, which carried fifty tons of coal, was consigned to the Olds coal yards, on Wallace street, and it was being pulled by a Pennsylvania switch engine. As it was turning on Lafayette street one of the rails broke in three pieces and the car ran to near the middle of the street on the brick pavement before it stopped. Section men had to be called to replace the broken rail with a new one and it was after 9 o'clock before the car was delivered at the coal yards. Traffic on Lafayette street was not blocked by the accident.

of Youngstown, Ohio, conceived and put into operation a plan for utilizing the men who are arrested and fined for drunkenness or other reasons. The public magistrate usually assesses a fine of $5 and cost, a total of $9, on drunks or for petty offenses, and the prisoner, whether able to pay or not, is compelled to work at normal wages to the amount of the fine and cost in a freight house or on the streets. Most men prefer the railroad work. Since April 14, the number of men worked in the freight houses averaged 1,000, "and they actually appreciated the opportunity to help keep things moving," said a member of the Youngstown chamber of commerce.

AL GANZER IS CHAMPION.

Al Ganzer proved himself the best checker player among the employees at the Pennsylvania machine shop. Yesterday noon closed a fifteen game contest for the championship between Charles W. Miller, Charles H. Knothe, Martin Neuman and Al Ganzer. Three games were played during the noon hour of the five days and at the close Mr. Ganzer was three games in the lead of any of his competitors. Another series of games will be played next week.

TABULATING CONSCRIPTED MEN.

The time clerks in all of the departments of the Pennsylvania in Fort Wayne this morning began the tabulation of all the drafted men in the employ of the company, taking in addition to the names, the residence of each. This record will be kept for any use that may develop. There are many of the employees, particularly in the shops, who were drafted.

RESIGNS AN APPRENTICESHIP.

Because of the death of his mother, with whom he lived, A. G. Collier resigned his position at the Pennsylvania machine shop, where he has been serving as an apprentice, for some time. Mrs. Collier, the mother of the young man, will be buried Monday and soon afterwards he will leave for Windsor, Canada, to reside with his sister.

TO MAKE WESTERN TRIP.

F. Charles Meyer, foreman of the vice department of the Pennsylvania machine shop, will take a two weeks' vacation, beginning tomorrow, when he will go with Mrs. Meyer and their daughter, Miss Tillie Meyer, they will leave for the west. Mr. Meyer treats his wife and daughter to an outing of this kind every summer.

Weekly Wages by Big Bonus Sum.

The General Electric company distributed $73,000 among the 3,500 shopmen at the local plant this morning. About $55,000 of this sum represented the weekly wage distribution and $18,000 was the semi-annual 5 per cent supplementary compensation the company is paying the men and women who have been in the employ of the company five years and over. There are approximately 700 men and women in this class. The shop force of the company continues to increase and the weekly wage distribution keeps advancing in proportion.

been visiting relatives in Detroit tonight and remain there until Monday.

P. F. Smith, Jr., general motive power superintendent of the Pennsylvania lines west of Pittsburgh, has been in the city attending to some railway business and visiting relatives and friends.

Ed Koehl, stenographer for M. W. Kemp, general foreman of the downtown car shops of the Pennsylvania, is with a party of friends at Lake James for a few days' outing.

Bernard Wyss, of the Pennsylvania machine shop, will spend the coming week on his father's farm, near Hesler, Cassel, taking care of the crops, which are abundant there.

Operator John Wilkinson, of the G. R. & I. office, is planning a two weeks' vacation trip, beginning August 27. Among the places he will visit will be Philadelphia and Atlantic City.

Timekeeper Frank J. Greer, of the Pennsylvania transportation department, went to Lake Wawasee this morning to join his wife, who is there for the summer, and remain with her until Monday morning.

Machinist Joseph Deck, of the Pennsylvania erecting shop, is off duty pending treatment for an injured eye. A piece of steel lodged in the optic nerve of Mr. Deck, of the same shop, is sick and off duty.

Machinist Cyrus Poiry has been removed from the hospital to his home, 1905 Lafayette street, and is making rapid progress towards recovery. He underwent a surgical operation a short time ago.

Vice President D. T. McCabe, of the Pennsylvania, passed through the city in his special car last night, en route from Pittsburgh to Mackinac. Some of the members of his family were with him.

Herman Showalter, clerk in the Pennsylvania master mechanic's office, will take a vacation next week, when he will go to his father's farm near Roanoke, to assist in getting in the mid-summer harvest.

Ray Phillips, local agent for the New York Central, has been called to New York on important business for the company. He will remain at that place the remainder of this week and part of next.

The Pennsylvania erecting shop turned out during the week ending at 10 o'clock today a piece of machinery which has received general repairs. All were Pennsylvania engines except one—No. 75—which belongs to the G. R. & I.

The Engineering company, which has the contract to build and install the trusses which will support the roof over the erecting shop, has already installed a third of the trusses. The work is well advanced of fifty trusses and each will be fifty feet long.

F. Howard, for some time operator of the traveling crane in the wheel department of the Pennsylvania machine shop, resigned this morning. He served three years in the United States navy and has decided to return to that service and enlisted today.

Ross and Carl Kennedy, stenographers at the Pennsylvania master mechanic's and the division storekeeper's office, respectively, will leave tonight for Chicago, to spend Sunday. Mrs. Carl Kennedy will accompany her husband on the trip.

H. C. Daseiler, assistant foreman of the Pennsylvania power plant, and his family will occupy the Oak Grove cottage at Sylvan Lake next week and Mr. Daseiler will do some fishing. He will be on his annual vacation. The family went to the lake this evening.

General Sales Manager A. A. Serva has assumed charge of the work of tabulating claims for exemption from the draft of the employees at the works.

W. F. Melching, the employment agent, has been placed in charge of the collection end of the work. A number of the employees were drafted.

The condition of J. S. McNamara, who has charge of the plumbing end of the contract to build the big office for S. F. Bowser & Company and who was injured when a big derrick fell several weeks ago, continues to improve and he expects to be out and at work again soon.

James Tryhall, the hammer smith, and M. H. Morrison, the heater at the Pennsylvania blacksmith shop, are taking an unexpected but brief vacation. Their furnace broke down yesterday afternoon and is now undergoing repairs. They expect to resume work Monday.

Machinist William Hanson, of the Pennsylvania tool room, contemplates a two weeks' pleasure trip, beginning August 6. On that day, in company with Mr. and Mrs. John Welton, of the Wellington cafe, and family, he will start on a tour of the lake towns in an automobile.

Needing the room for factory purposes and in view of the fact that an elegant lunch room will be established in the new office building, which will be completed in October, the lunch facilities at the factory of S. F. Bowser & Company's plant have been abolished and the room which housed them is being fitted up for factory purposes.

AUBURN RED CROSS SEWING ROOMS OPEN

Mrs. B. W. Beidler is in Charge of the Work in That City.

(Special to The Sentinel.)

Auburn, Ind., July 23.—The Auburn Red Cross sewing rooms opened yesterday with a good representation of the sewers of this city present. Mrs. B. W. Beidler is in charge of the work and is well pleased with the enthusiasm with which the women are greeting this new phase of working for Uncle Sam. Mrs. J. W. Thomson, of Garrett, who is superintendent of the sewing throughout the county, was present Friday morning. The first sewing to be done will be the making of garments for patients, which will include bed shirts, pajamas, bed socks and shoe covers. There have been six women who knit that have offered to join the knitting class for the purpose of making socks for the soldiers.

Auburn Short Notes.

The funeral of Mrs. Margaret Shearer was held Friday afternoon at the Methodist church and burial was at Woodlawn. Mrs. Shearer's death occurred Tuesday at her home in Mishawaka, due to neuralgia of the heart. The deceased will be remembered as Miss Margaret Williamson, of this city.

B. W. Beidler has purchased an interest in the store formerly known as the People's Store, conducted by Louis Magids. Mr. Beidler formerly conducted a shoe store in this city, but sold out a few weeks ago. A company will be organized with a capitalization of $15,000 and will be known as the "Beidler company." The main stockholders will be B. W. Beidler and Aaron Satovsky. Mr. Beidler was compelled to dispose of his former store owing to the building he occupies being sold and no other location being available. He disposed of a larger part of the stock and the remainder he will add to the new store.

Garrett Grocer LEAVES SUDDENLY

Disappearance of J. W. Langham Explained by Debts He Leaves.

(Special to The Sentinel.)

Garrett, Ind., July 23.—J. W. Langham, proprietor of the Langham grocery in this city, left this city rather suddenly a few days ago and his whereabouts are unknown. A petition asking for a receiver for his store was filed Thursday in the office of the county clerk at Auburn, by the Beyer Grocery company of Fort Wayne. The latter claims the Garrett grocer owes them a bill for $658.50. In the statement filed they claim that Langham gave the Garrett Savings Loan and Trust company possession of his stock Wednesday and then departed for parts unknown. No bill of sale was issued and the defendants took possession and assumed control without the payment of any consideration and without due notice to the creditors. Mr. Langham has conducted a store in this city for many years.

Garrett Short Notes.

STORM OF PASSION WRECKS GROCERY

Man Who Would Arbitrate Had His Head Badly Injured.

Mart Kairnski, 30, fared saddest in the battle which wrecked the grocery of Stodolnek Gogup, corner of Hayden and Ohio streets, Friday night. Mart was the neutral in the fray, he testified in police court Saturday morning.

"The grocery store in which was staged a free-for-all fight among several Polish men was completely ruined. Show cases were demolished, jars broken, windows shattered. Furniture furniture was high when the police arrived. A part of the combatants had fled when the patrol arrived at the store.

Kairnski, Frank Lito and Samuel Lito were taken. They were each fined $5 and costs on a disorderly charge by Judge H. W. Kerr. Kairnski has a badly damaged scalp due to a chair being forced against his skull, he tells. He declares that his only part in the fray was to make peace.

Had Little Trouble.

Clyde Young and Ed Huffman, two laborers, had a little dispute on Columbus street, near Calhoun, Friday night, they told. Huffman has a badly blackened eye. Police stopped the fight. The men were released.

Other Police Court Cases.

Mrs. Harriet Woods, charged with cruelty to her child, will have a hearing on July 31.

Ollie Hughes, colored, charged with obtaining money under false pretenses, was released.

PARENTS RUSH IN AUTO TO SEE SOLDIER BOY

Four Sections of Field Artillery Are Transferred at New Haven.

(Special to The Sentinel.)
New Haven, Ind., July 28.—Four sections of field artillery, enroute to New York from the border, were transferred from the Wabash to the Nickel Plate here Friday afternoon. One section stopped here several minutes, their hand played a number of selections and the soldiers marched through the streets. A pathetic incident was the meeting of one of the soldiers, Emerson Wall, who had been at the border for several months, and his parents, who made a hurried trip here in an automobile from their home in Lagrange, Ind., having heard the train would stop here several minutes.

MILITARY COURSES FOR STATE SCHOOL

Indiana University Program to Include Red Cross and Aeronautics.

Bloomington, July 28.—Indiana university is already making preparations to adapt a large part of its work to the present military emergency and a number of special war courses will be offered at the fall semester which begins on September 18. One of the most important of the special courses will be military training and drill. All men students of sophomore and freshman standing who are not excused for physical disability or on other satisfactory grounds will be required to drill at least three hours a week. In addition a course in military science and tactics, involving intensive study and rudimentary military problems, will be given. This is intended for those who are seeking to qualify themselves to be officers.

In two of the courses in geology students will gain experience in map-reading and topography. A course in aeronautics and the construction of military aeroplanes will also be given. Military law will be studied in a special course given in the school of law.

No less important are the Red Cross courses in first aid, nursing, making of hospital garments and surgical dressings. Many of the courses given by the department of mathematics, physics, zoology, astronomy, botany, etc., will be modified to prepare men for future war service.

The university will also be of service in helping to solve the problems of conservation. Courses in civilian relief and the care of dependent families, elementary hygiene and home care of the sick and conservation of food and home resources will be given. Special training courses for social workers will also be given.

CHEWED PACKAGE OF TOBACCO EVERY DAY

Man Says He Will Stop Now Since Price Has Gone Up.

Tobacco chewers have now received a solar plexus blow all due to the H. C. of L. The price of package chewing tobacco has gone up, the advanced prices having taken effect last Wednesday.

A man entered a well known tobacco dealer's place of business Saturday morning and discovered that the price had gone up from five to ten cents. He stated that he had chewed a package every day of his life since he was old enough, but that he believed he was going to stop right now.

The five cent package formerly contained one and three-quarter ounces, while the ten cent package contains three and one quarter ounces. The buyer is therefore only out one-quarter of an ounce.

Another man stated, after he had paid the dime instead of the regular nickel, that the next man who asked him for a chew would be severely dealt with.

GETTING BUSINESS is a good deal like fishing. The first important thing about fishing is to fish; the next to keep on fishing; and the next, fish some more. By this rule the good fisherman gets his fish, always remembering that there's never so good a time to fish as when the fish are biting.

Vol. LXXXIV..... No. 273

SATURDAY, JULY 28, 1917.

FOURTH YEAR OF THE WAR.

Officially the great war began three years ago today. It was on July 28, 1914, that Austria declared war on Serbia. Actually, the war began just a month earlier, for it was on June 28 that the young Serbian student fired the shots at Sarajevo which killed the Austrian archduke, Francis Ferdinand, and his wife and furnished Austria with an occasion ready made to launch her designs of aggression against her weaker neighbor. The assassinations merely hastened events that were bound sooner or later to come. Backed by Germany, the Austrian government made it impossible for Serbia to find a way of peace in satisfaction of the Austrian demands. Austria knew Russia was ready to intervene on behalf of Serbia if that little nation were attacked and yet she attacked. Germany declared war on Russia August 1 and the same day German troops entered Luxemburg. The day following the tragic invasion of Belgium began. Germany was prepared and was striking at France, according to plans long completed for overwhelming that republic by sudden strokes. The torch had been applied to Europe and the great conflagration was raging.

The fourth year of the war opens with almost all of the civilized world engaged. It finds the United States a belligerent against Germany and preparing for conflict on a scale so prodigious that a year hence will have converted this peaceful and peace-loving nation into a military power of first magnitude. Billions already have been voted for war. Other billions are soon to be voted. Ten millions of young men are registered for service. Huge naval plans are under way. A gigantic scheme of shipbuilding is provided for. The nation is being mobilized for every kind of production, industrial and agricultural, that can increase the country's war strength. Already our troops are on the battle front. Our navy is co-operating with the navies of the entente. Within a few weeks we shall have a million men mobilized and in arms or training for arms. We are in the great war and bending all energies to bear the part of one of the world's greatest nations.

The beginning of the fourth year of the war finds Germany and her allies not only unbeaten, but holding practically all the territory the first furious rush of their legions took from their foes and much taken later. Germany has abandoned some hundreds of square miles of France, but is still maintaining her new lines. From the Baltic and the North seas to the Black sea and the Dardanelles reaches a wide zone that is Germany's. It is a consolidated "Mittel Europa" that with German arms triumphant in this war will realize the tremendous dream of pan-Germanism. German soil is still inviolate and for anything that can at this time be seen will remain so. The way of breaking the Teutonic lines has not been found, and may not be found. To the air the allies now look as offering the pathways to the German citadel. Meanwhile, Germany is well-nigh controlling the seas with her submarines. No answer to that has been found. Until such answer can be made the allies must continue to fight a desperate war with many chances against them. The submarine ruthlessness of Germany has not verified Berlin's promises in mid-winter that this species of frightfulness in six months would bring England to her knees and open the way to peace, but it has developed a tremendous problem in shipping that the United States and its vast resources must solve.

The year just ending has been marked by persistent rumors of peace and by Germany's proposals for peace on terms never yet stated, and by President Wilson's efforts to bring the war to an end. Germany herself is split into factions that divide on the aims of the war and the terms of peace, but the military caste of Prussia still holds control of the policies of the empire and the sentiments of the throne, defeating all the rising aspirations of democracy and forestalling every possibility of a peace that is not a junker victory and a pan-German triumph. There is no breaking upon the world of any dawn from that quarter.

The most striking and disheartening phase of the war as its fourth year makes its advent is the collapse of Russia. Filling the world no less with hope than with admiration when the people of that great despotism destroyed the throne and extinguished the dynasty, proclaiming democracy and setting about it with some show of order to establish a constitutional government, that same people now is plunged into anarchy, threatening their own victory and bringing a black menace over their allies. Had Russia shown capacity to manage her new democratic estate, remained faithful to her allies in all things and made the most of her strength and of the aid extended to her, the fourth year of the war would have dawned with radiance of promise for the world's democracies. Russia's terrible delinquencies are not fatal to democracy's cause in this war and perhaps not fatal to her own future, but it will prove costly to her allies as it will to her.

So the war enters upon its fourth year with nothing distinctly in view save more desperate fighting at greater cost. Nowhere on the whole world's horizon is there the faintest glow of that light which is of peace.

NO TROOPS TO RUSSIA.

Stories have been somewhat persistent over the country during recent days to the effect that large armies of Americans are to be sent to the Russian front. Such reports are denied with special emphasis by the war department and these denials ought to have no trouble to get thorough credence.

As it is pointed out, whatever else Russia's needs may be, the want of men is not among them. Just at this time it looks quite as though Russia had too many men and not enough women. With whole divisions of seasoned troops throwing away their guns, abandoning their artillery and stores and skurrying to the rear, while a battalion of women aids to cover retreat, shows that much. But there cannot in any event be a want of men in Russia or occasion for the sending of American and Japanese soldiers to the eastern front. It would be a colossal if not impossible task to accomplish within reasonable time to get half a million men over the Siberian road, which has been taxed to capacity to transport munitions and railway equipment from America and Japan.

Russia's armies today are ample and more than ample for all purposes if they only would fight. Prior to this year Russian man power was vastly in excess of equipment, munitions and other war supplies. This shortcoming had been greatly overcome during the winter and but for the collapse, which as a matter of fact took place many weeks ago, Russia would have shown herself vastly stronger in the war this spring and summer than at any time since the great conflict began.

There is no likelihood whatever that Russia will be aided with troops. Before troops in any numbers could be sent from America to the Russian front, Russia either will have restored the morale of her army and re-established her defense, or put herself entirely out of the war. The rumors are interesting, but hardly plausible.

SHOULD BE RECONSIDERED.

The city council will sacrifice no dignity by a reconsideration of the ordinance that permits the establishment of oil and gasoline tanks in an exposed manner in the city limits. There never is any sacrifice of dignity in correcting a blunder or rectifying a mistake.

The establishment of this oil station in a populated region and industrial district will be a gross blunder that will become something worse if the worst should happen. An explosion would be fraught with consequences that might go very far to bankrupt the city and that in some respects could not be paid for at all.

To abandon the settled practice of twenty-five years that such hazards shall not be permitted within the city limits is a pretty serious matter, and one that the people in general are interested in. Any public cost that may ensue from the city government's participation in the risk will fall upon all the people.

The thing should be given up and the council ought to lose no time in performing its part of that program.

There may be a way to go to war without sacrifice, but no record of it has been kept. We shall have to pay with gold and blood and tears other sacrifices just as other peoples have and as we have done more than once in our time.

However, if a garbage reduction plant is not the thing some other kind would probably answer—some other kind, any other kind, but one that will answer, which the one we have does not.

What Russia seems most just now to need is some of the stiffness and readiness of the old order. There is such a thing as getting democracy too fast and too thick.

"Fare, please! All the glad ones, and the sad ones; all the good ones, and the bad ones—get on here!"

My Prayer.

(Meditation for Sabbath Morning.)
This is my life's desire,
This is my prayer of prayers;
Not for the soul of fire,
Not for the will that dares;
Not for the brain of power,
Not for the heart that leaps,
Light as a climbing flower,
Over the ruggedest steeps.

These must I have would I live:
Yet they are sought but a sword
Rending me—didst Thou not give Courage to master them, Lord.

I'm dreadful sorry, dear W. B. G.,
That you made such a sad mistake;
And ate too much unwholesome fudge,
And invited a stomach ache.
But do not despair—here's remedy near,
Just make a trip to the lake;
And I'll cure that dyspeptic stomach of yours
With a piece of our angel cake.

Speaking of Russia—But then, why should we talk of unpleasant things?
Diogenes was the only original SNIPE hunter.
Love at sixteen is a terribly intoxicating thing—but the young people get over a drunk easily.
They also serve who only stand and hoe, says an exchange. Yes, and they also serve who only stand and hoe—say and things.
If the Germans have really put two millions of fresh soldiers in the field it's about time Uncle Sam got his eight or nine millions going.

"Oh, lift me from the grass!
I die! I faint! I fall!
Let thy love in kisses rain
On my lips and eyelids pale.
My cheek is cold and white, alas!
My heart beats loud and fast,
O press it to thine own again,
Where it must break at last!"

Personally this sounds like Casanova's love to us—and we print it as a horrible example of what we might have written had we not died quite young poetically.

Ha! A Critic 'Mongst Us!

Antepenultimate (Holy Moses, what a mate!) points out with some asperity certain laws which we had not, as he (or she) supposed, forgotten—laws, that is, connected with the writing of verse; but which we purposely disregarded so as to be in good company. Asks Ante-cetera, "Don't you know that identical rhymes are against the rules of the game?"

Sure we do, old trouble hunter. But Lowell (not Amy!) has rhymed "wholly" and "holly," Milton "Ruth" and "ruth," Tennyson "eave" and "eve," and why shouldn't we have a little fun if we like, and if the lino-man will permit us? Parsons, you know, in that playful little work of his called "English Vagabondage" allows that "instances of them (identical rhymes) may be found in some of the best poets."

Only Think!

Amyloverus (appearing again suddenly) says: "Only think—there will not be any sharks at the beach this season."
Oh, yes there will, dear one! And they won't wear periscopes, either!

Is it not?"

May we hope that it may not—or
May we hope that it may not—or Yes, we may not, on the spot—for
We may not!"

Sketches from Life :: By Temple

WHEN KINGS LOSE THEIR JOBS—ALL DRESSED UP AND NO PLACE TO GO

By REM. A. JOHNSTON.

Those amiable ladies and gentlemen who have roosted on that exclusively upholstered kind of chair known technically as a "throne," are having the deuce and all of a time these days to keep from being punched out of their royal purple holes. If there is a divine authority that hedges them about he isn't working very hard at his job, and the only fun most of the kings are having these days consists in the beautiful badinage they toss back and forth among themselves. Those royal ladies and gentlemen who have already tottered out of the throne room are living as nearly as possible in a seclusion too deep for the average reviewer to penetrate. However, by poking about a bit one can learn just where the puppets are, and what they are doing.

The recent forced retirement of Greek "Tino" with his few—very few—"friends" and his yearly stipend of $100,000, makes an interesting addition to the swiftly lengthening list of unemployed monarch. At the present writing there are no fewer than seven ex-kings, "all dressed up and no place to go."

That loathsome and despicable ruler, the ex-Khedive of Egypt, is at this moment, in whereabouts unknown. He was last heard of as paying a Christmas visit to his august and pious boss, the "All Highest" at "General Headquarters." Rumor has it that he is now living in a small country house, just outside of Vienna, receiving a "small pension" from the Austrian government which he has served with such Machiavellian skill and old-world cunning.

Abdul Hamid, of Turkey, is another amiable crook who lives in ease and plenty "far from the madding crowd's ignominious strife." To be exact, "Mr." Hamid left the Sublime Porte in a hurry in 1909, taking with him a few million dollars which he had safely cached away in the State Treasury, knowing that his infinite capacity for evil would outreach his ability to conceal it eventually. After some difficult cuttings which only a prince of cut-throats could successfully surmount, Abdul reached Asia Minor, and settled down to the comparatively simple life. He did not go unwatched, however—he now has a lovely, fierce bodyguard that has been given charge concerning him. Within his beautiful house and exquisitely-kept grounds he may do almost as he likes. At the present time his greatest happiness seems to consist in writing epistles to his royal brother, the Sultan—letters which are fervid with rhapsodies calculated to make the hair along the Turkish ruler's spine stand on end. Always before the letter is finished Abdul says that he fears "his majesty will fall a victim at the hands of some villainous assassin." These pessimistic evidences of brotherly love keep the Sultan in hysterics, and, as a matter of course, are endless amusement and recreation to the deposed Hamid.

"Somewhere in Persia" there is the out-of-a-job shah. If his present place of residence is exactly known it is kept fairly quiet by those authorities who endeavor to keep the shah from piling up trouble. Still, the pastimes of the shah are mild in comparison with those of some of the "faded" rulers—he seems to love to spend his time plotting with German agents—a pet diversion that might recommend itself to the energies of kingly ruffians nearer home.

The ex-king of Portugal is another crowned head that has been terribly uneasy under the weight of orderly repression. It is said that he lives

"the life of a country squire" in Twickenham. Manoel, fortunately for himself, possesses money enough to do as he likes. As a clever English writer puts it, "His majesty has no need of financial assistance from the Portuguese government, as his charming mother, the ex-Queen Amelie, inherited a large fortune from her father, the Count de Paris, and his wife, Victoria Augusta of Hohenzollern, was well provided for by her father, Prince William of Hohenzollern, head of the Junior branch of the family from whence the Mad Dog of Europe sprang."

Probably the ex-tsar, Nicholas, is the most notable of that sorry bunch of regal knaves who have been flung on the scrap heap by the strong hand of world-democracy. His Germanophile wife, just as in the case of "Tino," was responsible for his deposition. After the war he will probably be referred to as Mr. N. Romanoff, and it is likely that he will retire to Switzerland, and "live happy forever afterward" in a little nook surrounded by the classic beauties of a life he doesn't in the least desire. To be sure he will have a few million dollars—probably $50,000,000, at the very least, to help his piece out an existence of some sort. The private lands of this royal imbecile yield about $1,000,000 a year. That ought to care for him and his lady-people.

It is a sad old world and a hard old job—this living in seclusion after having lived in king's palaces—that is, so they say—those folks who have tried living both ways. Anyhow, we don't envy them, especially since we are all kings-with-a-job in the democracy that rules the world!

WAR REVENUE.

(Capper's Weekly.)
In most particulars the senate war revenue bill is an improvement over the house bill. But in one respect the senate bill is a step backward. That is in the reduction of income tax revenues from $598,000,000 to $532,000,000. This is a cut of $66,000,000 in revenues to be obtained from incomes. The cut is wholly upon the higher incomes. The greatest incomes are to pay $66,000,000 less for the war under the proposed senate measure than the house measure. We still hear attorneys for wealth protesting that taxes must not be made excessive; better pay the extra war costs by bonds. There is no such opinion in England. Sidney Webb, the English authority, writes in the July Atlantic under the title, "British Experience for Americans," "that the British government has made the mistake of not sufficiently increasing the tax revenue, and of relying too largely upon loans." This mistake will make the financial burden far more crushing upon the people than it need have been. He quotes Pigou, head of the Cambridge university economics department, as saying: "In my opinion the government has committed a serious mistake in taxing so little and borrowing so much. When young men are compelled to give their lives I see no reason why old men should not be compelled to lend—their money; and I do not believe that, had the government dared to make that claim, it would have been widely resented or opposed." The American senate's income taxes are lower on all classes of incomes, and particularly on the larger incomes, than the English, and the same is true of its income profits tax.

FARMERS MUST KNOW.

(Capper's Weekly.)

What the government is to do in regard to the price of wheat, and later of corn, has become a question that cannot be left unsettled much longer.

The grain buyers and distributors and the millers themselves are "up in the air."

Many mills have temporarily closed down at considerable expense and loss. Until it is known what policy the government intends to pursue the milling and grain business must continue to be demoralized.

Recently the government gave out a comparative statement of wheat prices showing that in all the other great markets but our own, wheat is selling under $2.

This may be merely for information, or it may be taken as significant of the intention of the government, once the food control is passed, to level prices.

No sympathy will be wasted on the wheat farmer who holds his wheat in anticipation of an advance above $2. If the government clamps down on the market, for $2 wheat affords a fair profit under any conditions, such as those of a half crop.

On the other hand, if the government undertakes to force the price down much below the present market, it will surely kill the golden egg laying goose.

What is desired above anything else is to induce farmers to put in an extra big crop of wheat this fall. They will do nothing of the kind if persuaded that the government intends to force prices down either now or a year from now to unremunerative figures.

FROM THE SENTINEL PAGES 25 YEARS AGO

Gates will soon be placed at the Nickel Plate crossings.

The Tolan-Cook Printing company has leased the large and handsome ground floor room in the Aldine building.

A severe thunder storm passed through Montpelier early yesterday doing considerable damage to timber and buildings.

Henry Ranke, of the Max Frankenstein drug store, has accepted a position with Louis Schmidt & Co., and will begin work Monday.

Dick Weller had a serious experience last evening. He jumped from a carriage and stepped on a nail inflicting a wound which causes him a great deal of pain.

Sergeant Joe Gaskins, of the Fort Wayne Rifles, writes The Sentinel that the Fort Wayne companies are receiving and holding honors at the state encampment at Frankfort.

Herbert Schulze has resigned his position in DeWald & Co.'s store and will next week accompany his father to Lincoln, Neb., where they will embark in the dry goods business.

Sixteen teams are being worked on the reservoir contract and the work will be completed within three weeks' time. Contractor Howard will arrive Monday to oversee the work.

Dr. E. J. McOscar has purchased a new house. It is a fast step and a fine looking animal—a cousin of Maud S., so says his brother, A. J. McOscar, the stenographer with A. C. Trentman.

Sometime Wednesday night thieves entered the yard of Byron E. Hatterley on East Main street, and quietly taking out his fine new pneumatic tired bicycle, rode away. Mr. Hatterley now takes electric cars.

Will M. McKinnie, the popular host of the Wayne hotel, has purchased the large brick residence at 184 West Berry street, paying for the same $7,000. It was for years the property of Mrs. Anna R. Long. Mr. McKinnie will have the residence immediately improved for his own occupancy.

ALLEN COUNTY SETS PACE IN CAMPAIGN

Workers for the Catholic war fund are winning high praise for their work in having Allen county set the pace for all other counties in the state in the whirlwind action of raising money for this worthy fund. Workers and officials in the county and city are elated over the results thus far, and it is evident that Sunday will prove a noteworthy day of the week's campaign. The quota for this county has long been passed. It is probable that half again as much as has been asked will be raised. The largest donation Friday was $300.

TRUCK SINKS THROUGH FLOOR OF OLD BRIDGE

Several planks in the floor of the old State street bridge gave way Friday evening when Leonard Small attempted to drive a truck and its load across the bridge. The driver had traveled but a few feet onto the old structure when a cracking noise of timbers reached his ears. He jumped and had no more than alighted when there was a louder noise and the right rear wheel crashed through the weakened timbers. The truck stood at an angle on the bridge.

Street car traffic was stopped across the bridge, as were all other vehicles. Passengers on the cars braved the danger and crossed to the other side. The wrecking car of the traction company was put to use in raising the truck back on to solid ground.

SOCIETY

A special program, or Patriotic day, is the attraction for next Wednesday at the Country club. All women members are kindly requested to "sit up and take notice." This patriotic affair is an all day affair, a knitting affair and a day when a luncheon will be served at the noon hour. Knitting materials will be on hand and instruction will be free to anyone who knows not how to knit. In such a case the would-be knitter will be taught how. This work will occupy the morning hours, and in the afternoon the knitting will continue or the pleasure of various games and contests will be pursued in order to not make the day one of all work and no play. A large committee is in charge and consists of: Mrs. Florence Dinnen, chairman; Mrs. L. Mayer and Mrs. P. Breen, Mrs. E. M. Savercool, Mrs. Paul Vogelgesang, Mrs. E. F. Yarnelle, Mrs. Ralph Sperry, Mrs. Neill Robinson, Mrs. J. M. Barrett, Mrs. W. T. Shepard, Miss Mildred Bowser, Miss Charlotte McKinnin and Miss Linda McKinnin.

Miss Grace Griswold, of Lima, O., is visiting friends here for a few days. Miss Catherine Henry has returned from a week's visit in Van Wert, O.

Miss Harriet Sather.

(Star Special.)
Stou City, Ia., July 23.—Every large department store shows the bloomer-overalls for women, and everybody has been wondering where, when and by whom they are worn.

Miss Harriet Sather, of this city, has solved the problem for the curious. When one of the large orchards advertised for cherry pickers Miss Sather appeared in a pair of new overalls. They proved so comfortable and convenient that she comforted every other woman in the orchard.

Mr. Grush has been in the army for the past three years and expects to be called soon to service. Mrs. Grush will make her home with her mother, Mrs. Gehringer, 1224 Fletcher avenue, while Mr. Grush is in army service.

Hettler Family Reunion.
The annual reunion of the Hettler family will be held on Sunday, July 23, in Swinney park. When the reunion eight years ago was held it was to partly celebrate the golden wedding of Mr. and Mrs. Christian L. Hettler, of Marion, now deceased, and the gathering tomorrow will number descendants of the long ago settlers of the city, Christian L. and Christopher F. Hettler, who settled in Fort Wayne on their arrival in this country from Germany. Of the six sisters in the Hettler family, two are Mrs. Caroline Mannebach and Mrs. Minnie Walter of this city and a third is Mrs. Christina Elser, who has remained at the old home in Germany. Two daughters of Mrs. Elser, however, came to this country and made their home until they each married with their uncle, Chris F. Hettler and his estimable wife, who passed away in recent months. These two nieces are now Mrs. O. B. Moore and Mrs. Henry Gable. A son of C. F. Hettler, Herman Hettler, the well-known lumber merchant of Chicago, will not be present at the reunion.

Meatless Meals Are Enjoyed in Hot Days
War diet happens to be health diet in hot weather. Meatless meals for midsummer are recommended by all domestic science teachers but just as attractive dish to substitute for meat often confuses the housekeeper. Some unusual dishes which will be sure to please the most finicky appetite are here offered for testing.

Turkish Macaroni—Break a pound of macaroni into cold pieces and boil until tender. Drain and rinse in cold water. Add a pint of strained tomatoes thickened with two tablespoons each of flour and butter, salt and pepper to taste, and one-half cup blanched almonds cut in strips. Simmer all together for fifteen minutes, turn into a hot dish, sprinkle thickly with grated cheese and serve.

Peanut Sausage—Cream together a level teaspoonful of peanut butter and two tablespoons cold water. Add three tablespoons grated bread crumbs, a pinch of salt and a teaspoon minced onion or powdered sage. Mix well. Form into small cakes, placing them in a well-heated oiled tin. Put in a hot oven. Turn frequently till browned on all sides. Serve on a hot platter, garnished with parsley. When serving, add browned sauce made as follows: Put a teaspoon of butter in a hot frying pan and brown slightly. Add a pint of milk and heat to boiling. Thicken with a tablespoon of flour rubbed to a smooth paste in cold water or milk.

Palenta—For this savory Italian dish use a tablespoon salt and three pints of boiling water, sprinkling in two cups of corn meal. Cook an hour. Fill a dish with this, alternating with one cup each of gravy and tomato sauce. Cover with grated cheese and brown in the oven.

Hickory Loaf—Three cups stale bread crumbs, one cup broken nut meats, an egg slightly beaten and enough thin cream to moisten (about half a cup). Season with salt, sweet herbs, and paprika, and form into a loaf. Cover with strips of bacon, or the thin fat covering of plate of lamb. Brown in a hot oven.

Things That Help to Save in the Household

If you scorch white goods when ironing rub the place at once with a cloth dipped in diluted peroxide, run the iron over it and the scorch will disappear.

If you wish to keep the shape of your sweater after washing, try the following method: Wash the sweater fully with some good white soap. Rinse well and add a little bluing to the last water if the sweater is white. Then place in a pillow case and hang on the line. When nearly dry, put it on a clothes hanger in a warm place.

Vinegar from leftovers: Save every scrap of fruit when using apples or any fruit—peelings, cores, etc. Crush in chopper, leaving the pulp in a shallow granite or earthen vessel for twenty-four hours. Next pour over this an equal amount of water, stir and let stand for another twenty-four hours. Now strain and squeeze the pulp dry and leave the liquid to stand in a warm place. It is ready to use in a few weeks' time. A little sugar hastens the making.

Place a cocoanut in the oven a few minutes and it will open easily. Sweep carpets occasionally with a broom that has been dipped in water to which has been added a little turpentine. This will keep them bright.

When stamps stick together do not float in water, but quickly pass a hot flatiron over them, first covering them with thin paper. The stamps may be separated quickly.

CLEAN AND REUSE YOUR OLD PARAFFIN BY WASHING IT.

Paraffin that has become unclean through usage in canning and preserving may be cleaned and reused. Don't throw it away because dirty and trash have become mixed with it. Many times paraffin can be cleaned

SOME FUR FASHIONS FOR REAL WINTER

By BETTY BROWN.

Fur on everything has been the summer rule. Even the chignon hangings of a certain smart drawing room are bordered with fur. But judging from the vast number of pelts required for next season's garments, there is going to be mighty little left for the use of the interior decorators.

White fur, preferably fox and its imitations, will continue to beguile much money from the purses of fair women. And especially alluring it is when combined with black velvetene or velvet.

The Paris coat pictured today gives a good idea of the way fur will be used with a brush in cold water. If this does not remove all the dirt, says a specialist of the United States department of agriculture, heat the paraffin to boiling and strain it through two of three thicknesses of cheese cloth, placed over a funnel. Or a thin layer of absorbent cotton over one thickness of cheese cloth may be used as the strainer. One straining should be sufficient ordinarily, but if the paraffin still is unclean heat and strain again. Any paraffin lodging in the strainer may be recovered by heating the cloth and pouring off the hot liquid to another strainer.

VELVET AND OLD LACE USED IN HANDKERCHIEF

They are combining velvet with old lace handkerchiefs in Paris and transforming them into little handbags. Sounds not specially zippy to us. An old-fashioned lace handkerchief is interesting only as a curiosity.

It is no longer correct, or proper, or voguish, to exhibit a large expanse of chest cuticle when wearing a tailcoat or a separate jacket. There must be a lace collar, a jabot or frill. Unless there is fluff at the throat, the effect is harsh and the lady does not appear to have included all the details of her wardrobe.

Fillet and nets make up into these sartorial trifles that contribute a look of dressed-upness that is gratifying to the lady who casts pleasant reflections to you from the mirror.

Chese Recognized as Meat Substitute

Few people in this country eat cheese in sufficient quantities.

It is used more often simply as an appetizer or as a seasoning for some other food.

Nearly every one relishes good American Cheddar or "store" cheese, but there is an impression it is indigestible and constipating.

Extensive digestion experiments carried on by the department of agriculture, however, have demonstrated that more than 95 per cent of the protein or body building properties of cheese is digested and 90 per cent of its energy is available.

Even when eaten in large quantities and for long periods, no case of indigestion, constipation or other disturbance was observed in those who ate it.

One man who ate cheese as the chief source of both protein and energy, eating an average of 9.27 ounces daily, with bread and fruit, for more than two years, did a fair amount of muscular work and kept in good health.

American Cheddar cheese is a very satisfactory substitute for meat. It can be kept in storage for a long time, and contains much food in small volume. For instance, one pound of good "store" cheese contains as much body building material as 1.57 pounds of sirloin steak; 1.35 pounds of round steak; 1.39 pounds of fowl; 1.79 pounds of smoked ham, or 1.81 pounds of fresh ham.

In regard to energy supply cheese is also one of the best food products for on the basis of energy supplied one pound of cheese equals 1.98 pounds of sirloin steak; 2.61 pounds of round steak; 2.52 pounds of fowl; 1.17 pounds of smoked ham or 1.29 pounds of fresh ham.

GOOD WORKMANSHIP IS ESSENTIAL TO PERFECTION

Russian blouses and slipovers of crepe georgette, crepe de chine, silk jersey or even gingham are thoroughly practical and charming. It is no special trick to run together a plain skirt to wear with one of these smock-like wrappings, and the effect is that of a simple daytime gown. The blouse may be embroidered to the limit of floss and stitchery and thus become a fine affair, or it may compose itself of crash, partake of scrolls of wood embroidery and be something that demands an al fresco background and a garden bonnet to complete the dress picture.

MANY NEW MEMBERS ADDED TO RED CROSS

Banner Day in History of Local Chapter—One Donation.

Saturday was a banner day in the history of the Red Cross chapter of this city as far as membership is concerned, Mrs. A. E. Fauve, chairman of the membership committee, reporting a total of six hundred and eighty-seven new members. These came in Friday and Saturday morning.

Supplies from surrounding towns are beginning to come into the Red Cross supply station on Calhoun street. Surgical supplies were received from Whiting, Ind., and notices of shipment were also received from Elkhart. It is reported that these supplies are all well made and in excellent condition. Supplies which are inspected here and found defective will be corrected here before being shipped.

Mrs. Frances Ott, instructor in the classes of the home care of the sick, announces that classes 8 and 11 should report promptly Wednesday evening for examination. Miss Ott went to Plymouth Saturday to teach classes there. It is urged at headquarters on East Berry street that workers come especially on Mondays and Saturdays, as there is a dearth of workers on those days. One donation of $3 was received from Mrs. R. L. Feagles.

Mrs. Robert Harding, president of Needlework Guild, wishes to announce that the directors of the guild and the members of their sections will be on duty in the workshop of the Red Cross at 126 East Berry street every Monday morning. Next Monday will be sections 14, 13, 11. Directors for that morning are:

May Jewel Smith, Mrs. Charles E. Hughes, Miss Gertrude Schrader, Miss Evelyn Walter, Miss Harriet Fowler, Miss Marjorie Pickard, Miss Margaret Vesey, Mrs. B. F. Carter, Mrs. H. L. Kline, Mrs. Robert Harding, Mrs. E. Craig, Mrs. M. A. Harding, Mrs. P. E. Hulse, Mrs. F. J. Kanaga, Mrs. P. A. Thompson, St. Celia Circle King's daughters.

Monday afternoon, sections 9, 12, 18—Directors: Mrs. J. J. Kline, Mrs. E. G. Hoffman, Mrs. Nell McKay, Mrs. C. Stockbridge, Miss Karen Amalt, Mrs. Louis Steifel, Mrs. Edw. Smith, Miss Catherine Lehman, Young Women's Guild of First Presbyterian church.

AMERICAN MADE FABRIC GLOVES ARE ON MARKET.

The heavy quality in fabric gloves has been a long felt want since the supply from Germany could not be expected, but the shops are now showing American made ones in white, putty and chamois color that are as good as the imported. The strapped mousquetaire and slippers will come later.

FRENCH CHILDREN CELEBRATE JULY FOURTH ALMOST AS OWN HOLIDAY

America's entry into the war made July Fourth one of the most popular celebrations in France. Ten thousand children took part in this celebration, at Fontainebleau, near Paris. They were dressed in red, white and blue and carried United States banners beside French banners.

SPIRIT, NOT ARMS, IS DEFEATING THE GERMANS!

BY J. W. T. MASON.
(Famous American War Expert.)
(Copyright, 1917, Newspaper Enterprise Association.)

Collapse of Prussian military statesmanship and the first triumph of democracy over the militarists are the dominant factors in the war situation at the close of the third year of the conflict.

Kaiserism is in retreat, almost prepared to surrender to democracy inside and outside Germany.

It may even be unnecessary for the new American citizen army to fire a single shot before the war ends with the collapse of Prussian absolutism.

The third year of the war has seen the colossus of democracy tower higher and higher above the puny influences of shot and shell upon the outcome of the war.

Not generalship upon the field of battle, but the rights of the common people, are now certain to determine the peace terms.

Never before in its history has the world seen non-military influences rise to dominate the outcome of a great war, as has occurred during the past third of the European struggle.

Neither naval operations on the high seas, nor offensives in east and west, nor war councils in any of the trans-Atlantic capitals, have exerted a preponderant influence during the past year upon the war.

The two events of the year that are operating decisively to crush militarism are the democratic revolution in Russia and the acceptance of Germany's submarine challenge by America, as an attack upon the security of democracy throughout the world.

The Russian army may make little substantial progress from now until the war ends; and the new American army may not be ready for the firing line before peace comes—nevertheless, the youngest and the oldest of the world's modern democracies have already conclusively influenced the struggle by the spiritual force of their union with the democracies of Great Britain and France for the freeing of mankind.

The third year of the war has proven there is something stronger in the world than material power.

The central empire retains the material power of its armies in Europe practically intact.

Nevertheless the central empire are beaten.

The Kaiser knows it; von Hindenburg knows it; Ludendorff knows it, and all the people of Germany are beginning to know it.

The only question is whether the Hohenzollerns can prevent yet a while longer a full descent to the bottom of the hill where complete democratic government awaits the German people.

At the top of the hill absolutism rests, toward which the militarists have tried to climb with so appalling an expenditure of blood and treasure during the past three years.

The first steps downward have been taken, and there can be no turning back for the Kaiser.

For, each new promise and every plausible assurance will quickly prove untrue as the war continues, and will engender deeper and deeper discontent within the German empire.

This is the reason. The third year of the war has seen not only the invasions of the Russian and American democracies extended to the German people to free themselves; it has seen, as well, a free hand given to the German militarists to do whatever lay in their power to win the war—with results calamitous for the central empire.

During the first two years of the conflict, the civilian statesmen in Germany exercised a moderate control over the chiefs of the army and navy, in international affairs, affecting neutrals.

The militarists claimed during the third year of the conflict that the "timidity" of the civilian statesmen was preventing Germany from winning the war.

So, the direction of German statesmanship, little more than six months ago, was placed in full control of the general staffs of the army and navy.

For the first time since the outbreak of the war, militarism reigned in Germany, absolutely unhampered by even the slightest civilian control.

And the result has been the entrance of America into the war, and the failure of Germany's ruthless submarine campaign.

No great nation has ever shown such gross inefficiency as the German military authorities have exhibited the past six months.

This hasn't been Bethmann-Hollweg's half year.

He is the first scapegoat.

It has been Hindenburg's and Ludendorff's.

And, now, the policies of Hindenburg and Ludendorff are being revealed to all Germany as the designs of madmen mad drunk by the blood of the battlefields.

Militarism is committing suicide in the halls of the German foreign office.

The first to realize the new situation was the young Emperor Karl, of Austria-Hungary.

If a bloody revolution occurs in Germany against the Hohenzollern rule, its beginning will be dated from the time when Karl, of Austria-Hungary, began to show his independence of Prussian control, toward the end of the third year of the war.

His dismissal from the premiership of Hungary of Count Tisza, thoroughly Prussianized in thought and method, was the first public intimation of Karl's new policy.

Then followed a sudden intimacy cultivated by Karl, between himself and the king of Bavaria.

This intimacy may lead to open defiance of the Hohenzollerns.

Bavaria has begun to loom large as Prussia's rival for the leadership of the German empire.

The only royal commander of Germany's armies who has made a reputation on his merits during the present war is the Crown Prince Rupprecht, of Bavaria; while Count Hertling, Bavaria's premier, is considered in Germany to be the empire's leading statesman.

New Bavarian ambitions at Prussia's expense have been engendered by the war, and it is natural that they should be encouraged by Austria.

For Austria has never forgotten that her defeat by Prussia in 1866 was what led to the foundation of the German empire and to the subordination of Austria among the Teutonic monarchies.

If an opportunity now arises for the House of Hapsburg to be revenged after fifty-one years upon the House of Hohenzollern, Emperor Karl has shown he may possess the necessary pluck to take a chance.

Should the Kaiser and his family follow the Romanoffs in the fourth year of the war, Berlin is not so much the place to watch for preliminary signs as are Vienna and the capitals of Bavaria and the other south German states.

STRIKING EVENTS IN THREE YEARS OF THE WORLD WAR

HOW THE WAR SPREAD OVER THE EARTH

Annual spread of the great war over the earth is shown on these four maps. The map of 1914 shows the territories, in black, then concerned in the war that of 1915 shows the territories brought in; that of 1916 shows still more territory in black, and the map of 1917 shows the nations at present engaged in the world war. White territories are neutral.

MOSES KETTERING IS BURIED AT BUTLER

Deceased Was Veteran of the Civil War and Was Well Known.

(Special to The Sentinel.)

Butler, July 28.—The funeral of Moses Kettering, an aged civil war veteran, was held from the residence of his daughter, Mrs. James Culbertson, Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock. Rev. Shape, of the Christian church, officiated. Mr. Kettering had been in failing health for the past year and early Tuesday morning he was stricken down with paralysis and died at 11:30 o'clock Wednesday evening, having never regained consciousness. The deceased is the son of Philip and Barbara Kettering, and has been a resident of Indiana since a boy of 18 years. At the beginning of the civil war he enlisted in the Second regiment Iowa infantry when Lincoln called for soldiers for three months' service, and served until the end of the war. He was twice married. His first wife was Miss Rilla Haughey, whom he married in 1866. In 1870 he married Miss Eliza Henderson, to whom five children were born.—C. F. Kettering, of near Cleveland, O.; W. C. Kettering, of Auburn;

J. H. Kettering, of South Dakota; Mrs. James Culbertson, of Butler; Fern M. Kettering, who is in the United States army stationed at Fort Adams, R. I., in the post artillery. Besides the children he is survived by three sisters, Mrs. Catharine Deetz, aged 83, of Helmer; Mrs. Rebecca Swanger, of Orville, O.; and Mrs. Elizabeth Hartman, of Cleveland, O. The deceased was a member of the local branch of the Red Cross and was anxious to do his bit in this great work. He was a loyal member of the G. A. R. post.

Butler Short Notes.

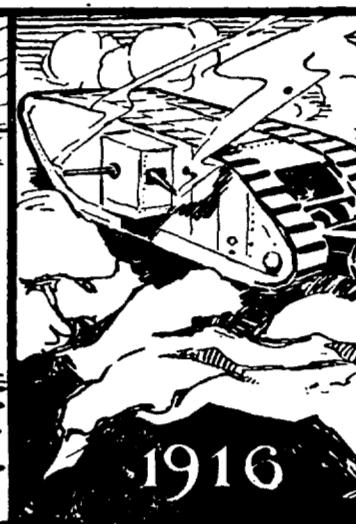

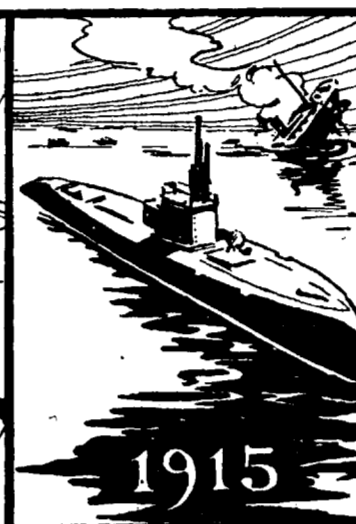

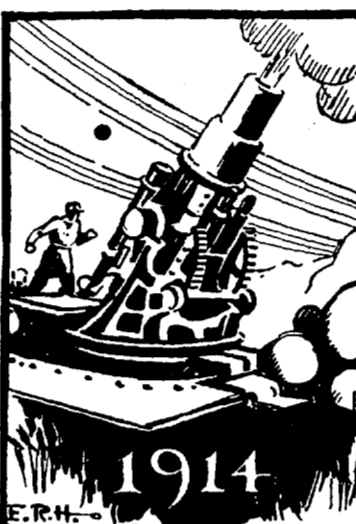

Mrs. Ed Karle, of this city, left this week for Franklin to remain several months; her husband is an inmate of the Masonic home of that city and she will be able to spend considerable time with him. He is not as well as usual.

Mrs. Monroe Norford entertained the members of the Priscilla club and a number of friends at her home south of Butler. Those who were present, not members of the club, were Mrs. John Lowe, Mrs. L. C. Harding, Mrs. M. Brunstetter, Mrs. J. W. Lamm and Miss Nora Brown.

Wednesday morning the following ladies motored to Rome City and spent the day: Mrs. M. F. Long, Mrs. J. W. Brown, Mrs. F. L. Kiplinger, Mrs. W. A. Mason, Mrs. J. C. Brown, Mrs. Thomas Rudd, Mrs. Charles Potter, Mrs. T. J. Knisely, Mrs. John Lowe, Mrs. Margaret Aldrich and Nora Brown.

NEW WIVES FOR OLD! MONTANA COUPLES TRADE MATES IN A MARRIAGE OMELET AND ARE HAPPY

Husbands Get Fresh Wives, Wives Fresh Husbands,
All Are Content With New Deal from Love's Deck and Four Tots Are Successfully Unscrambled in Fair Divide.

(By E. C. RODGERS.)
(Staff Special.)

Harre, Mont., July 27.—Usually when a man falls in love with another man's wife there's a shooting affray.

And again, when a woman gets to liking another woman's husband better than her own there's the deuce to pay.

But not so here.

When Mrs. T. W. Turcotte, wife of a prominent Harre lawyer, felt she loved the husband of Mrs. Henry Jordan better than her own mate she didn't hide the matter.

Nor did Mrs. Henry Jordan when she fell in love with Mr. Turcotte.

Nor did Mr. Turcotte when he took a liking to Mrs. Jordan.

Nor did Mr. Jordan when he became fonder of Mrs. Turcotte than of his own wife.

Their way out of an unusual love tangle was to trade wives and husbands. Mrs. Jordan agreed to swap her husband to Mrs. Turcotte in exchange for Mrs. Turcotte.

The husbands were willing enough to be traded. In fact they were well along on a plan to trade wives with each other.

So instead of any killings and unwritten law defenses, or suits for alienation of affection, there evolved two unique matrimonial trades.

The Jordans and Turcottes agreed to get divorces.

Divorce decrees were granted them at Boulder Hot Springs, June 29.

Then the former Mrs. Jordan became the new Mrs. Turcotte, and the former Mrs. Turcotte became the new Mrs. Jordan.

The two couples stood up together at the ceremony and the friendliest relations exist between them. Now they are living again as neighbors in all good fellowship.

Before the divorces the Jordans and Turcottes were next door neighbors.

It was then that the husbands and their wives concluded they were wrongly mated and decided to back out of their matrimonial alliances and start anew.

Both couples had children, each a boy and girl.

After the matrimonial swap one couple took the two boys, and the other took the two girls. This gives each father and mother one own child and a step-child.

Vernon Turcotte and Woodrow Jordan now live with Turcotte and his wife, who was Mrs. Jordan. Amelia Jordan and Irene Turcotte now are sisters in the new Jordan family.

Both families are well to do. Turcotte is a widely known attorney, and Jordan is a prosperous merchant.

The children seem satisfied with the new arrangement.

WHICH CHILD WOULD YOU CHOOSE?

These two children were born Turcotte—Irene and Vernon. The former Mrs. Turcotte, now Mrs. Jordan by virtue of her divorce and her marriage to the husband of her close friend, keeps Irene.

Turcotte, with the new Mrs. Turcotte, formerly Mrs. Jordan, keeps the boy Vernon.

In the unscrambling of this matrimonial omelet, affecting four adults and four children, each parent keeps one natural child and gains in exchange for the other a step-child. Each child keeps one natural parent, and exchanges the other for a foster-parent.

Which parent got the better of the choice between little Vernon and Irene?

MARIETTA DAVIDSON DIES AT KENDALLVILLE

Deceased Had Been a Lifelong Resident of Noble County.

(Special to The Sentinel.)

Mrs. Marietta Davidson, age sixty-six years, died Friday morning at her home on Dowling street, death resulting from apoplexy, she having suffered a stroke Thursday afternoon. The deceased had been a life long resident of Noble county. The husband died seventeen years ago. She had made her home in this city for the past eleven years. The surviving children include Mrs. John Uhl, Miss Stella Wortinger and Fred Wortinger, and several grandchildren, all of this city. The funeral will be held Sunday afternoon from the late residence, the Rev. P. A. LeMaster officiating. Burial at Lake View.

Curtis C. Kariger Dead.

Curtis C. Kariger died Friday afternoon at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Kariger, South Railroad street. Death resulted from tuberculosis, he having been a sufferer for several years. Surviving besides the parents are the widow and several sisters and brothers, all residing near the city.

Kendallville Briefs.

The following young men successfully passed the physical tests conducted by Major T. E. Humphrey, of Angora, and they are now members of Company D, I. N. G.: Clarence W. Barker, Fred H. Baughman, Jesse Boering, Herbert H. Harris, William D. Johnston, Don Koder, William W. Miller, Clarence L. Reade, Alfred Seidel, V. A. Shambarger, Don Smith and William H. Swartz.

Mr. and Mrs. Owen E. Lane, of Chicago Junction, Ohio; Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Coombs, of Van Wert, Ohio; Mrs. Harlan L. Poole and Jacob Lane, of Edgerton, Ohio, were among the out of town relatives attending the celebration of the eightieth birthday anniversary of W. C. Lane, of this city. Mr. and Mrs. Lane have resided in Noble county for the last fifty-two years. Mr. Lane is a veteran of the civil war.

Earl Blackman, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Blackman, of Allen township, who has been pastor of the Christian church at Charotte, Kan., is now a chaplain in the United States army, having been assigned to the first field artillery, fourteenth division, which includes Kansas and Missouri.

MAN THOUGHT TO BE DEAD WRITES LETTER

George A. Stough Had Not Been Heard from Since 1900.

(Special to The Sentinel.)

Columbia City, Ind., July 28.—Attorney Joseph R. Harrison received a letter Friday addressed to his deceased wife, stating that her brother, George A. Stough, former ballplayer here and corncrier at Fort Wayne, who spent several years in Alaska during the Klondike gold rush, had died July 20 at a San Francisco hospital and was buried the next day in Woodlawn cemetery. Nothing had been heard from Mr. Stough since 1900, when he was seen in Nome, Alaska, by C. W. Tuttle, of this city, who was then United States commissioner at Sitka. It had been supposed Stough died several years ago. A brother died in Wyoming only a few months ago, and Stough died in all probability not knowing his sister, Mrs. Harrison, had passed away fourteen years ago. The deceased left a will, under which the principal beneficiaries are the children of Attorney Harrison, but it is not known whether Stough made his "stake" before passing away.

Columbia City Short Notes.

Born, Thursday afternoon, to Mr. and Mrs. Frank Wynkoop—a baby daughter, Helen Virginia.

As shown by tracks Friday morning an unknown autoist, instead of turning west at the jog in the Washington-Columbia township line, drove his machine straight ahead and down a thirty-foot embankment, striking a rock and bounding against a fence, breaking it down. The autoist, apparently not having been injured, steered his machine along a row in the George Eberhard corn field and reached the road again by means of a gate.

Sheriff James Bodley on Friday took Mrs. Catherine Sickafosse to the Longcliff hospital at Logansport, where she has twice previously been an inmate.

During the storm Thursday afternoon the barn on the Frank Guy farm west of Larwill was struck and slightly damaged and a $150 draft horse of the Claude Martin farm, southwest of Larwill, was killed while standing in a field. Both losses are covered in the Farmers' Mutual Insurance Co. Over 150 telephones were burned out in this city and vicinity for the two telephone companies. At Pierceton a veritable cloudburst fell from 1:30 to 4:30 Friday morning, and cellars were filled with water, while crops in the community are almost ruined.

While unitching a horse Thursday evening at her home south of the city Mrs. George Eberhard was caught between the shafts and the barn, and two ribs on the upper right side were fractured.

The will of the late Frank Schuman makes the following bequests: 150 acres of land in Union township to a daughter, Ocie Crowell; 150 acres of land and $500 for improvements in Richland township to a daughter, Lydia Binckley; 157.20 acres of land and $500 for improvements to a son, Grover; 160 acres, including the homestead in Richland township, to the son, Henry; 44 acres are to be sold, in the same township, and the proceeds divided among the children after all debts are paid. The widow, Catherine Schuman, receives the residence property and household effects in Columbia City and $100 yearly rental from each of her children. The executors under the will are the son, Grover, and a brother, John Schuman. The will was drawn up June 1, 1917, and filed Friday by McNagly & McNagly.

PREPARE FOR NEXT GREAT EMERGENCY

Colonel Roosevelt Says Universal Training is the Need.

Pittsburg, Pa., July 27.—Prepare for the next national emergency by introducing the principle of obligatory, universal military training for young men in time of peace and universal service in time of war for every man and woman in the country, was the admonition delivered by Theodore Roosevelt in an address he delivered here last night before the convention of the Loyal Order of the Moose.

As compared to the other great nations of the world, he declared, Americans had in this war exhibited themselves a miracle of inefficiency.

Asserting that the United States government announces that the measures of preparedness now in progress are temporary and will be stopped as soon as the emergency is over, Colonel Roosevelt characterized this as a "criminal refusal to provide for the future."

He summed up what America had accomplished since the declaration of the state of war with Germany by saying that the United States did not now have a single airplane fit to send across the German lines and that months must pass before one could be manufactured, that America had no heavy artillery to put in the battle line and that Major General Pershing and his soldiers would have to trust to French and English guns. American submarine chasers operating with the British fleet constituted, he said, only a tiny fraction of the English force. It would be a year after the declaration of war before America would have a fair number of big cargo ships.

"We have not enough rifles for our men," said Colonel Roosevelt. "We are painfully short in equipment. We have not yet begun to assemble the draft army, the first elementary officers' training camps have not been finished, the national guard has only just begun to mobilize."

"We have put a fragment of our fine little regular army into France and, as it is composed almost exclusively of infantry without artillery, it would be helpless against any well-equipped enemy were it not aided by our allies."

"This is the sum total of the activities of a nation of 100,000,000 people, and in possession of incalculable wealth and boundless resources, during the six months following its entry (after two and one-half years' warning) into the greatest war in history."

"The simple truth is that, relatively to the other great nations of the world, we have in this war exhibited ourselves a miracle of inefficiency, and we shall always be inefficient during the first vital months of any war until we learn to prepare in advance."

"It is this utter unpreparedness which should convey to the real lesson to us of this war. And remember that as yet we as a people, acting through our governmental authorities, have not taken one step to avert disaster in the future by introducing a permanent policy of preparedness. The measures under which we are now operating are temporary makeshifts, announced to be such. We have been caught utterly unprepared in a terrible emergency because we did nothing until the emergency actually arose, and now, our government announces that what we are doing is purely temporary; that we shall stop doing it as soon as the emergency is over, and will then remain equally unprepared for the next emergency."

"It is this blind refusal—from the nation's standpoint I can only call it the criminal refusal—to provide for the future that forces every honest and far-sighted lover of America to speak."

"We cannot afford to count for our safety on anything but our own armed strength; the only way to make our strength effective is to make it ready in advance, and the only way really to make ready in advance is to introduce the principle of obligatory universal military training in time of peace for our young men, and universal service in time of war for every man and woman in the country. In whatever position a man or woman can do most effective work. This is the only democratic system."

A GOOD RECORD.

It was a red-letter day for Firestone tires, Friday, July 26, when the world's records were broken by motorcyclists riding machines equipped with Firestone tires.

On that day Roy Artley finished his three-flag run from Canada to Mexico in 72 hours, 25 minutes, actual time in the saddle, clipping 8 hours and 50 minutes from the record held by "Cannonball" Baker. The trip was made from Blaine, Wash., on the Canadian border, to Tia Juana, on the Mexican border. A bad cut forced him to change the rear tire near Portland, Ore. Artley declared his Firestone tires were largely responsible for his success. Here is what he said at the finish of the run: "I did not lose confidence in those tires for a minute. They had to stand cruel abuse as some of the roads in northern Oregon were the worst I have ever had to contend with. Every important record I have ever made has been on Firestone tires."

Two other records were broken the same day at Sheepshead Bay, Long Island, Leslie Parkhurst, in a 24-hour run covered 1,452 miles, beating the former record of 1,382, which was also held by "Cannonball" Baker. The first five hundred miles was run in 7 hours and 35 minutes and the first thousand in 17 hours and 8 minutes.

Otto Walker, following him with a sledcar and passenger, covered 1,154 miles in the twenty-four hours. Both machines rode on Firestone tires.

When to Buy Your COAL

A Frank Discussion of the Serious Situation that is certain to confront this country this Fall and Winter if Everyone waits for Lower Prices

IN presenting this series of talks to the public, we stated distinctly that our purpose was not to sell coal, but to give information. However, we feel that it is a duty to ourselves and a service to the public to point out now how serious a situation is certain to develop in the Fall and Winter from the fact that everyone is waiting to buy their coal in the hope of lower prices.

Every retail coal merchant knows that it is a physical impossibility to deliver coal to every one at once. Even under ordinary conditions, when a large part of the coal has been delivered during the summer months, every man, every team and every wagon is taxed to the utmost to care for the normal fall demand. This year, when colder weather comes, EVERY ONE WHO HAS WAITED IS GOING TO WANT COAL ALL AT ONCE, and with every available force, no retail coal merchant in the state will have men enough nor wagons enough to handle the business.

The situation will be all the more serious because the conscription for war service will take many of the men who would otherwise be handling coal. There will be a force below normal to take care of what will unquestionably be the greatest demand for quick delivery of coal that the retail merchant has ever experienced.

WITH EVERY ONE WAITING UNTIL FALL TO BUY COAL, THE SITUATION THAT WE PREDICT IS ABSOLUTELY INEVITABLE, AND LOTS OF PEOPLE ARE SURE TO SUFFER FOR WANT OF COAL.

In an appeal to the Producers of Coal on July 18, the Indiana State Council of Defense, through a special committee, said:

"THE CONSUMPTION OF COAL IS VASTLY INCREASED ON ACCOUNT OF THE WAR. WE SPEAK SOBERLY AND NOT AS ALARMISTS WHEN WE SAY THERE IS A SUBSTANTIAL CHANCE OF A COAL SHORTAGE. INDEED, WE ARE AFRAID OF SUCH A SHORTAGE NEXT WINTER THAT GREAT BODIES OF OUR PEOPLE WILL SUFFER GRIEVOUSLY AND THE CONDUCT OF THE WAR WILL BE IMPAIRED."

Every retail coal merchant probably has a certain supply of coal on hand now, bought in April, May and June. He had to have coal for summer delivery, to do his part toward solving the coal problem for next winter. He couldn't wait for lower prices. Shoveled Pocahontas, for instance, cost him in these spring months $4.00, $4.50, $5.00, $5.50, $6.00 and even $7.00 a ton at the mines. Whatever the reasons for these prices may have been, HE HAD TO PAY THE PRICE—OR HE DID NOT GET THE COAL.

Suppose we see just where the retail coal merchant stands. In most instances, purchases were probably divided over these three months, so that the average cost at the mine may be figured at $5.00 to $5.50 a ton. Add to this the freight rate of $1.65 a ton, unloading charge of 15 cents a ton, and the handling expense, covering the loading of the wagons at the yards, the unloading at destination, wages, feed for horses, repairs on wagons and harness, selling and operating expense, which, according to figures compiled a year ago, average $1.65 a ton. (With higher wages, higher prices of feed and increased costs in every item of handling expense, the figures would be higher today.) It will be seen that, on the basis of these figures, every ton of shoveled Pocahontas on hand, when sold and delivered, actually represents a total cost of $8.45 to $8.95 to the man from whom you buy your coal. Compare the price he asks with this cost and decide for yourself whether there is any unreasonable profit for him.

AS A NECESSARY FACTOR IN THE DISTRIBUTION OF COAL, THE RETAIL COAL MERCHANT APPRECIATES THOROUGHLY HIS RESPONSIBILITY IN THE PRESENT CRISIS. HE DOES NOT ASK AN UNREASONABLE PROFIT. HE EARNESTLY DESIRES TO FURNISH COAL TO THE PUBLIC AT THE LOWEST POSSIBLE PRICES. THESE PRICES, HOWEVER, MUST BE BASED UPON WHAT HE IS COMPELLED TO PAY FOR HIS COAL AND THE EXPENSE OF HANDLING IT.

If every one is going to have coal this winter, the coal on hand now must go into the cellars and bins of the consumer. Otherwise, with limited yard capacities, it will be impossible for the retail coal merchant to handle the additional coal that must come in for the fall demand. What this additional coal will cost he does not know. He hopes that it will be less, but he has no more assurance than the public that the prices are going to be lower.

The only man who will be absolutely sure of having coal this winter is the man who buys it now. He may pay a little more for it than later in the year, but he will have it in his cellar and he can buy with the knowledge that the retail coal merchant has made only a small profit even at the high price which he is compelled to ask.

If, as a result of this statement, you decide to buy your coal now you must buy on your own responsibility. If coal comes down and you find that you might have saved a little money, do not blame the retail coal merchant. If the condition that we predict should develop, thank the man from whom you buy for giving you an opportunity to get your coal while there was coal to be had.

THIS IS THE SITUATION AS WE SEE IT. WE DO NOT WISH TO ADVISE ANY ONE WHAT TO DO. EACH MUST DECIDE FOR HIMSELF WHETHER TO WAIT FOR THE LOWER PRICES AND GAMBLE ON THE CHANCE OF A COAL SHORTAGE, TO TAKE A MIDDLE GROUND BY BUYING A PART OF HIS WINTER'S SUPPLY AND RUNNING THE RISK ON THE BALANCE, OR TO BUY ALL NOW AND BE ABSOLUTELY SURE OF HIS COAL.

This is the third of a series of talks about the retail coal business, paid for entirely by the retail coal merchants of Indiana. NO OTHER INTEREST, CONNECTED EITHER DIRECTLY OR INDIRECTLY WITH THE COAL BUSINESS, IS REPRESENTED IN ANY WAY. We ask that you read these statements and consider the facts that they present in a spirit of fairness to the man from whom you buy your coal.

DEADLY WIRE TAKES THE LIVES OF TWO

Electric Wire Electrocuting Thomas
Smethers and Emil Jacobs.

OTHERS HAVE A NARROW ESCAPE

Thomas Smethers, 33 years old, and Emil Jacobs, 45 years old, are dead as the result of a guy wire which they were holding in some manner coming in contact with a live wire of the city shortly before 10 o'clock Friday morning at the plant of the General Electric company.

Both men were practically dead when fellow workmen reached them. Smethers was partially restored, but died a few minutes after he had been placed in the police ambulance. The police ambulance engine stalled and he was removed to an Electric works truck and rushed to St. Joseph's hospital. An effort was made there to revive him, but without result.

Jacobs was given attention by the nurse of the Electric works and Dr. E. M. Van Buskirk. The pulmotor of the Electric company was put to use and an entire can of oxygen was used but all efforts failed to restore him. He was pronounced dead at 11 o'clock by Coroner Dr. J. E. McAdams.

Smethers is a married man and besides his wife is survived by three small children. None of his fellow employees nor the proprietor of the restaurant at which he boarded, could give any information concerning Jacobs.

The men were employed by the Indiana Engineering and Construction company and were engaged in the erection of an addition to building No. 5 of the General Electric company on Broadway.

How It Happened.
Smethers and Jacobs and several other workmen were at work placing a guy line on the tower which was being erected. The cable was thrown across the wires of the City Light and Power company. It is believed that the insulation was not good and that a contact was made.

The wires carried 2,300 volts and the men who took hold of the wire received the entire voltage. The two men who were electrocuted were standing on the ground. The other men were standing on wood and but for the presence of mind of Clyde Young, the laborer foreman, the toll of life might have been greater. Young saw the men hanging on to the cable and endangering himself, pulled them loose. One of the two men could not be found, but the other one gave his name as Wesley Norman.

Both of the men who were killed were badly burned. In the case of Jacobs the charge entered the right hand and came out of his body at the left elbow, leaving a big burn and exposing the elbow bone. Smethers' hand and arms were also badly burned.

Chief William Wurtle, of the Electric works fire department, rushed himself with assisting in the restoration of the two men. The heat was too great for him and he had to be carried to the dispensary for treatment. He recovered shortly afterward.

War of Races.

Chester, Pa., July 27.—With armed guards patrolling a large area of the city, quiet was restored here early today after an outbreak of race rioting which exacted a toll of two lives and caused injury to scores of persons, both white and colored. The local authorities were at first unable to cope with the situation when rioting was renewed last night after a quiet day following the disorders of Wednesday, but with the assistance of national guardsmen, state police and five hundred special deputies the streets were cleared and order was restored shortly after midnight.

Negro Section Roped Off.
The negro section was roped off and surrounded with a patrol and guards were stationed in positions to prevent further outbreaks in the other districts of the city. All saloons and amusement places were ordered closed by Mayor McDowell.

Extra police guarded the city hall, where seventy-four rioters were locked up for hearings, many of them being struck by clubs and rocks. Of the score or more injured several had fingers shot off, others were stabbed and many had limbs broken. Several of them, it is said, could not recover. Charles Lucas, a negro, and arrested in connection with the killing of Joseph McCann, white, at the outbreak of the disturbance, was spirited away by the police to the Media jail. The other victim was a negro.

No Further Outbreak Feared.
Mayor McDowell announced early today that the situation was under control and no further outbreaks were feared. While the riots were the direct

GERMANS PUSHING FORWARD RAPIDLY

Cossacks Covering Slav Retreat and Trying to Encourage Infantry.

Berlin, July 27.—Near Tarnopol, in eastern Galicia, Emperor William yesterday watched the German troops extend their gains at the Sereth bridgehead, says the official statement issued today by the German war office.

The German statement said that the German troops are rapidly advancing on both sides of the Dniester river. The Galician town of Kolomea on the railroad between Stanislaw and Czernowitz, has been captured by the Teutons.

The Austro-German forces are pursuing the Russians who are retreating through the wooded Carpathians in the direction of the river Pruth.

COSSACKS COVER RETREAT.

Petrograd, July 27.—Russian cavalry threw back the pressing Austro-German infantry on Wednesday in the region southwest of Monastiryska, in eastern Galicia, says the official statement issued today by the Russian war department.

The Russian announcement says the Rumanians have advanced towards the upper reaches of the Suchitza river and are consolidating their gains. The Rumanians took many prisoners and captured six guns.

Between the Dniester river and the Carpathians the statement says that the Russians continue to retire in an easterly direction.

South of Trembowla, in Galicia, near the Russian border, the Russians retired a short distance to new positions. The Austro-Germans have occupied the Galician towns of Plotyey and Czestoy, on the Sereth river.

COSSACKS ARE HEROES.

Petrograd, July 27.—Accounts of the battles in Galicia, which have reached here, say the cavalrymen fought like heroes. Cossacks co-operating with Russian and British motor cars defended the Sereth line as long as the last hope remained.

It is reported that artillerymen on their knees implored the infantry to save their guns, but that the infantry did not heed them.

General Korniloff's orders to shoot traitors and marauders are being carried out. The commander of a grenadier division has been removed for refusing to fire on deserters.

GOOD CONTROL A FACTOR IN THIS FINE WAR GAME

New York, July 27.—A hand grenade throwing contest, in which soldiers will compete in military uniform, is one of the chief events on the program at the military athletic meet of the New York Athletic club at Traverse Island today. Each soldier competing in this event will be allowed three grenades to throw from behind a fence, the points being judged by the accuracy of the throw to the objective point. This event is only one of many arranged for the benefit of the soldiers stationed at the various posts in and around New York.

CHICAGO PLANS MIGHTY PARADE OF DRAFT ARMY

Chicago, Ill., July 27.—A movement for a parade on August 4, of the 50,000 men called into the new national army in Chicago by draft was started today. According to tentative plans the prospective soldiers will be commanded by the 4,000 reserve officers now in training at Fort Sheridan. The invitation issued to all men in Chicago whose numbers come within those called for service says: "On August 4, the citizens of Chicago will do honor to the men who will constitute Chicago's first quota in the national army."

SPILLING BLOOD ON THE STREETS OF RUSS CAPITAL

London, July 27.—Fresh and violent fighting occurred in the streets of Petrograd in the last two days, according to a dispatch from Petrograd to the Copenhagen Berlingske Tidende, transmitted by the Exchange Telegraph company yesterday. The extreme socialists organized a great revolt, the dispatch adds, but the government troops immediately interfered and rioting was completely suppressed after lively fighting. No details were received.

Drying Food.

Washington, July 27.—Eight hundred thousand boys and girls, Uncle Sam's juvenile food army, today entered the food conservation campaign by joining forces with the food training camps to be held this fall in connection with the leading fairs and expositions of the country.

This army is already at work, its members engaged in the canning and drying of thousands of tons of fruits and vegetables which otherwise probably would be a total waste. It is to these children that the government will delegate the task of demonstrating to the twenty million persons who are expected to attend the food training camps, practical home methods of preserving perishable foods.

The step represents the first national, interstate effort to make use of the boys and girls of the nation in the food conservation campaign.

This organization which is eight years old, is made up of the thousands of boys and girls' clubs, organized by and working under the direction of the department of agriculture. These clubs are located in every state and in practically every community.

These boys and girls are now being chosen to contests which are being held

Summary of the Day's War News

The Austro-German thrust into the disorganized Russian lines in eastern Galicia has widened in effect, extending now southward toward the Bukovina border, and resulting in the capture of Kolomea, on the railroad to Czernowitz. Berlin mentions the Austro-German advance both north and south of Niester as "rapid" and this it appears to be, although there has been somewhat of a slackening in the pace of the Russian retrograde movement to the northward of the river. The Russian cavalry has been doing notable work in protecting the retreat and in an instance specified near the Dniester, southwest of Monastiryska, a Cossack charge threw back the advancing hostile infantry. In evacuating the district southeast of Trembowla, the Russians retired only a short distance, new positions being taken up.

Help for the disorganized section of the Russian front continues to come from the Rumanians. They have pushed well up the Suchitza valley on the Moldavian front, breaking through the Austro-German lines there, and are consolidating their gains in this region. Six more guns and many prisoners have fallen into Rumanian hands in this operation. Berlin admits a retreat here as far as the upper Putna.

Along the British front in Belgium the artillery continues its extremely violent activity, the intensity of the bombardment growing more severe if anything. British infantrymen also are being sent into action, although not as yet on a large scale.

The chief incident of the infantry fighting occurred southwest of Warneton, Belgium, where the Germans were driven from La Basse village last night. The British withdrawing from this village this morning, however, when the Germans organized a counter-trust.

WANT GUARANTEE FOR THE BALKANS

Return to Criminal Aggressions Must Be Rendered Impossible.

Paris, July 27.—The allied powers yesterday concluded their conference after announcing a decision to continue the war until the purpose they are fighting for is attained.

Their declaration which was made unanimously before separating, reads:

"The allied powers, more closely united than ever for the defense of the people's rights, particularly in the Balkan peninsula, are resolved not to lay down arms until they have attained the end which in their eyes dominates all others—to render impossible a return of the criminal aggression such as that heretofore the central empires bear the responsibility." There was unanimous agreement on all decisions reached during the meetings. The ministers of departments affected will meet in London to draw up the executive measures.

POLITICAL AMNESTY.

Copenhagen, July 27.—A semi-official dispatch from Vienna to German papers says an imperial order has been issued permitting reserve officers who were cashiered for participation in political demonstrations in Vienna, Prague and Graz, to regain their commissions.

INTENSE HEAT CAUSES MUCH SUFFERING HERE

While today would seem to be the warmest day of the summer, the records at the weather bureau does not bear out the belief. At 2 o'clock the mercury had reached 83 degrees, while the high mark for the summer is 89 degrees.

Reports from Hometown and other towns north of Fort Wayne say a cloudburst Thursday afternoon, put many acres of growing grain under water and did damage that will amount to thousands of dollars.

THE FATHERLAND ABOUT READY TO ENTER SERVICE

Washington, July 27.—The big German steamship Vaterland, seized at New York by the American government when war was declared on Germany, will be ready for service shortly. Repairs to the ship have cost slightly less than $1,000,000. More than half the German vessels taken over by the United States have been repaired and put on the seas. All those taken in American continental ports will have been repaired in a few weeks.

WALL STREET TO SEND VOLUNTEER ARMY TO FRANCE

New York, July 27.—A number of volunteers from Wall street will depart at an early date for Europe and unlike many others sailing for Europe, they will not be expected to fight. These men are expert accountants and bookkeepers and are going to the headquarters of the Red Cross in France, where they will follow their profession of keeping the assets and liabilities in such shape that contributors may know just how all the money collected by the Red Cross is spent. The enlistment of the accountants is part of the new efficiency plan of the Red Cross.

All members of the Duma, prominent men from chief centers of the empire, members of the zemstvos, municipalities, labor unions and universities will participate.

The council will hold two sessions at which the government will be asked to make an exhaustive report on the condition of the country, answer questions and ask opinions of authoritative persons on how best to save the fatherland from ruin.

Washington, July 27.—Thousands of men registered under the selective service law have been flooding the provost marshal general's office with questions regarding their qualifications for exemption from service and on other subjects. As a result the provost marshal general today promulgated rules under which no questions from individuals or from local exemption boards will be answered by his office.

These rules follow:
"One—Questions by individuals should be asked of the local board nearest them. If the board is unable, after consideration of the regulations and rulings, to answer the question, it should forward the question to the governor for decision."
"Two—Questions from local boards should never be addressed to the provost marshal general's office, but in all cases should be forwarded to the governor of the state."
"Three—In no case will opinions on rulings be given on individual cases that have not yet been presented to the proper local board."

GERMAN PEOPLE ARE BEGGED TO BRING IN GOLD

Amsterdam, July 27.—The daily recurring public notices printed in conspicuous type in German newspapers entreating citizens to aid the fatherland by giving it their gold, evidently is unproductive of sufficient results. The Weser Zeitung, of Bremen, publishes a renewed appeal complaining especially that the well to do public still fails to realize the situation and that all gold must be handed in. The newspaper cites examples of members of the German imperial and royal princely houses sacrificing their gold and jewelry and says competent authorities calculate that three to four hundred million gold coins are being obstinately hoarded in Germany, while the value of gold ornaments is estimated at a billion marks.

The Weser Zeitung says the public often asks whether gold cannot be loaned instead of given to the German imperial bank. The answer is a because the law demands gold as a must be in coin. The public is again urged to yield jewels of all kinds, which realize good prices abroad, and are most useful for credit purposes there.

SURE THEY'RE DEAD SOLDIERS ORDERED TO SHOOT TO KILL

El Paso, Tex., July 27.—Brig-Gen. George Bell, Jr., district commander United States army here, has informed Mexican Consul Bravor that United States soldiers on patrol duty would return the fire whenever they are fired upon from across the border. The soldiers, Gen. Bell added, had been ordered to shoot to kill. Gen. Bell's statement was in reply to a protest lodged by the Mexican consul, alleging that a Mexican soldier on the night of July 17 was mortally wounded. Gen. Bell informed the consul that he had found that the Mexican soldiers fired first.

Crews of British Drifters
Battle Austrian Cruisers

Most of Them Lost and the
Crews Killed, But It Was Fine Shindy.

Ottawa, July 27.—An attack by three Austrian cruisers on a line of British drifters employed in guarding anti-submarine nets in the straits of Otranto on May 15 is described in a London dispatch to Reuters, Limited, Ottawa Agency. The account of the engagement follows:

"The drifters in eight divisions of about six boats each were formed along a line running roughly east and west. Each carried a crew of ten men and one small gun. In one case, the enemy appears to have acted with chivalry toward the little craft, signalling by means of blasts of the siren, and by dipping the flag that the crews must abandon their vessels. This cruiser approached to within one hundred yards of the Gowanlea and ordered her crew to take to the boats.

Gave the Regular Answer.
"Skipper J. Watt, shipping the nets, replied by ordering full speed ahead and calling on the crew for three cheers, commanded the gun and fired with good effect until a shot from the cruiser disabled the gun. They hung on under heavy fire, endeavoring to repair the damage, until the cruiser passed out of range.

"The Gowanlea then proceeded to the assistance of the badly damaged Leondia, which had four men killed and three wounded and whose skipper although three times wounded remained at his post throughout the action. Meanwhile the remaining cruisers had opened a devastating fire on the center of the line.

"The crew of the Admirable only abandoned their vessel after her boiler exploded and her wheel house had been shot away. Even then A. Gordon, a deck hand scrambled on board with the evident intention of firing the gun, single handed but was killed.

Crews Stuck to the Last.
"The Girona, Cora T. Haven and Solby were not abandoned by their crews until they foundered. The crew of the sinking Talis on taking to the boats discovered one of their number to be missing. They returned to the vessel through a heavy fire to search for their shipmate. Second Hand Joseph Hendry of the Serena, remained on board until the ship sank, rather than be taken prisoner. He was picked up an hour later. The crews of the Garrigill, Bonesheir, Christmas Day and Dr. Crown refused to leave their vessels even when outraged and under broadside fire from the enemy and brought them through the action.

"The enemy displayed an anxiety to destroy the wireless telegraph of the drifter in each group. The wireless operator of the Leondia was found dead in his chair at the conclusion of the action, having collapsed over the wireless log in which he was writing at the moment of his death.

The British admiralty on May 18, announced that fourteen drifters had been sunk by a raid of Austrian cruisers in the Adriatic and that the British cruiser Dartmouth was torpedoed in a subsequent engagement, but reached port safely.

TOTAL AMOUNT KEEPS CLIMBING

War Camp Fund as Conducted by the K. of C.'s Has Reached $5,500.

The K. of C. committees in Allen county and Fort Wayne who are at work assisting the entire country in raising a million dollar war camp fund have met with great success and Thursday boosted the total to $5,500. Stephen Callahan, who is in Indianapolis directing the state campaign, wired the local committees Thursday evening and extended his congratulations for the splendid results. The quota of the state is $50,000, but it is likely that this will be overreached judging from the reports from other cities.

The various parishes in the city and county are in a friendly competition race for big totals. Thus far the Cathedral is in the lead, but judging from reports made by the committees from one or two of the other parishes the top notch place may change hands.

SMALL STORM DOES BUT LITTLE DAMAGE

Regular Afternoon Shower Brings But .14 Inch of Rainfall.

Fort Wayne and vicinity had its regular afternoon shower again Thursday. This is the second shower of the week, which seemed to rise up hurriedly in the northeast and come this way. Storms and summer showers from this direction are uncommon occurrences.

The shower brought but .14 inch of rainfall and there was but little wind connected with it. It is said that the rainfall north and east of the city was slightly heavier. Little damage is reported.

In a few sections of the county the oats fields suffered slightly from the storm and in spots the oats have been flattened to the ground. However, this occurs nearly every year and the majority of farmers are not worried about the condition.

However, it is almost imperative that the ground dry up very soon, as the oats are ripening fast and the wheat that has not been cut is getting over ripe. As long as the fields remain soft it is impossible to harvest the grain with a binder.

RETROACTIVE WAR TAX.

Ottawa, July 27.—The Australian government has proposed a retroactive war time profits tax of 50 per cent for the year ending June 30, 1916, and a tax of 75 per cent after that date, according to a dispatch from Melbourne today to Reuters Agency, Limited, here. The taxes were announced at the second reading of the bill. They would be levied on excess profits during the war, compared with profits before the war. Exemptions include agriculture, fruit growing, dairying and allied businesses.

MEXICO'S STAMP TAX.

Mexico City, July 27.—A stamp tax of 5 per cent has been placed on all cotton goods manufactured in Mexico.

Figures in Larger Towns Show Startling Falling Off from 1914.

Amsterdam, Netherlands, July 3.—(Correspondence.)—Apart from the inroads made upon Germany's male population by the war, the check to the natural renewal of her people is making itself very sharply felt. The provisional birth statistics for 1916 show very clearly what a shrinkage will be evident in the German army levies for these years of war, assuming that the emperor, or at least his military system, have not disappeared from the German empire before the time for their calling up comes round.

The official statistics which relate to German towns of 15,000 and more inhabitants, show that the number of infants born alive in such towns decreased by 121,068 in 1915 as compared with 1914, and that in 1916 they again declined by 114,567, making a total decrease between the beginning of 1915 and the end of 1916 of 245,635, or 39.5 per cent of the number of living births recorded in the year 1914. This percentage almost entirely accords with the decrease percentage in the absolute number of such births recorded in the 26 largest German cities, which are separately tabulated.

It is clear that such a decline in the number of births can by no means be counterbalanced by the simultaneous decrease shown in the mortality rate of infants under one year old, although this is relatively somewhat greater than the shrinkage shown in the number of births. The mortality rate of infants under one year old, measured by comparison with the number of births, has continually declined since the year 1914. In the 26 largest German cities the rate of such infant mortality, as compared with births, fell from 15.3 in the year 1914 to 12.0 in 1916, while in all German towns of 15,000 the more inhabitants it declined in the same period from 15.5 to 12.2.

As the German press emphasizes with legitimate satisfaction, the rate

Lemons Beautify!

Strain lemon juice well before mixing and massage face, neck, arms, hands.

Here is told how to prepare an inexpensive lemon lotion which can be used to bring back to any skin the sweet freshness of which it has been robbed by trying atmospheric conditions. Windchafe, roughness, tan and redness are warded off and those tell-tale lines of care or age are softened away.

The juice of two fresh lemons strained into a bottle containing three ounces of orchard white makes a whole quart of the most remarkable lemon skin beautifier at about the cost one must pay for a small jar of the ordinary cold cream. Care should be taken to strain the lemon pulp gets in, then this lotion will keep fresh for months. Every woman knows that lemon juice is used to bleach and remove such blemishes as freckles, sallowness and tan, and is the ideal skin softener, smoothen and beautifier.

Just try it! Get three ounces of orchard white at any pharmacy and two lemons from the grocer and make up a quart of this sweetly fragrant lemon lotion and massage it daily into the face, neck, arms and hands, and see for yourself.—Advertisement.

SENTENCED TO FRONT LINE.

Bagpiper in Kilites Pleads Guilty to Polygamy Charge.

Boston, July 27.—James Cameron, a bagpiper with the McLean Kilites of New Brunswick, was sentenced today to service in the front line when his regiment goes into action, as punishment for his confessed polygamy. Cameron enlisted here recently and his marriage to Miss Beatrice E. Caswell, a few days later, was made the occasion of a picturesque celebration. Publication of the soldier bridegroom's picture attracted the attention of Mrs. James Cameron, of Bridgeport, Conn., and on her allegation that he was her husband he was brought back from the Kilites camp at Fredericton, New Brunswick, for trial. He pleaded guilty. In sentencing Cameron, Judge Creed, of the local police court, said:

"You shall be taken back to Fredericton to rejoin the McLean Kilites, thence to go to the front line, a place of peril and also one of honor, there to expiate the wrongs you have done."

Operatives at Manchester, England, Worried by the Prospect.

Manchester, England, July 10.—(Correspondence.)—The question of putting the Lancashire cotton mills on short time is causing a good deal of anxiety among the operatives.

There are at present in England 55,000,000 spindles, 47,000,000 of which are controlled by the Spinners' Federation and 4,000,000 by the Cotton Spinners and Manufacturers' association. This leaves about 4,000,000 spindles outside the federation to take advantage of any limitations that the members of the federation impose upon themselves. It is this fact which prevented the voluntary adoption of any short time by the federation when it was recommended to the members, and when it would have been less hurtful to the trade than it is likely to be now under more drastic restrictions.

The Manchester Guardian says: "The growth and importance of the cotton industry may be judged from the fact that the output of the mills, in addition to providing for our home requirements, represents about a third of our total exports of manufactures. The cotton crops of the world average about 20,000,000 bales, and in normal times, England, with considerably over one-third of the spindles of the world, consumes annually 4,000,000 bales of cotton. If, therefore, there is a big reduction in the supply of cotton coming to this country, and the price is inflated by speculation, it becomes impossible to keep the mills running at full time."

speculation, it becomes impossible to keep the mills running at full time.

"There is something to be said for the view that even our poorest customers in India, China and Africa are able to pay more for cotton goods than they do in normal times, because the crops they produce are bringing much better prices. It is also a fact that until recently cotton goods were not dear in comparison with those made from other textiles. Still, the fact remains that the present range is very bad for trade."

"In addition to that, the adversity in the cotton trade immediately injures the bleaching, printing, dyeing and finishing industries. There are thousands of workers in those ranches and, like weavers and spinners, they have to submit to reduced earnings. Miners and transport workers, too, are affected. Thousands of tons of coal which the factories consume when running are left in the coal fields, railway labor is consequently reduced and the carrying companies are forced to be idle. Any interference with the requisite supply of cotton to the mills means, indeed, a big loss to nearly all the workers in Lancashire as well as to the capitalist, professional and shopkeeping classes."

CLEARING THE PATH.

Republicans in the house have displayed impatience with the character of their leadership by repudiating it. Floor Leader Mann sought to make further obstruction of the food bill by pressure for the bill to create a joint congressional committee on war expenditures. It was shunted aside and Leader Mann was told that any further attempt to organize a partisan opposition to the food bill would fail.

The style in which politics and interference of a worse character have been dished up to obstruct the food bill in house and senate will in due time send a good many statesmen out hunting up the makings of a workable alibi. There will be hard times trying to make the records of congress and the chronicles of history read to certain effects and purports that are not there and never were meant to be there. Republican Leader Mann in the house and Democrats Gore, Reed and some others in the senate will be scratching with a good deal of fury not many years hence to erase much of the record they have written.

There is much shame for the country in the fashion congress has dallied with the food control bill. There will be more than shame for the country if the dallying shall continue much longer, for every day of delay adds to the difficulties of an effectual food control and to the latitude of the price-fixers and food gamblers. Right at the present moment the people are paying extortionate prices for foods that, notwithstanding the war, ought to be fairly cheap. Just where the excess is going has not been made clear, but it is fairly well settled that the producer is not getting it.

The food control law should have been in effect weeks ago and would have been but for the care that has been given certain special interests by their retainers in congress. It is refreshing to see a determined purpose to smash obstructions and get the thing done with.

COLLIDING WITH THE COLONEL.

The colonel is still a big enough man in the country to pick and choose the company he will keep. In Pittsburgh, yesterday, the colonel refused to have Mayor Thompson, of Chicago, at breakfast with him and later dropped the bars on Big Bill, who had journeyed east with design to speak from the same platform. So it fell out that Chicago's premier kaiserist broke his matrimonial egg alone and that he did no speaking save by way of casual exchange of conversational piffle with whomsoever might not be so particular as the colonel. Mr. Roosevelt carried his objections to the Chicago mayor's presence so far as to have no intercourse of any sort with him. No fault can be found. It was a scornful reproof that Big Bill had coming to him and he contrived matters happily to get it from the one man of all America's millions best fitted to administer it.

The colonel may have his little faults, but diluting his Americanism is not one of them. It is unimaginable of him that he would consent to associate himself in public with any man of Bill Thompson's stripe and kidney. It would be a pretty plum in the Chicago mayor's cap to have gone home with the record that Theodore Roosevelt had bestowed conspicuous notice upon him. "I ain't so bad," would have been his cry of triumph to the critics about his big town who are making life a weariness and a futility to the chief magistrate of America's second city. Colonel Roosevelt took emphatic pains that it should not be so and the country is his debtor that he did.

It will be recalled that while he was yet president, Colonel Roosevelt declined to break bread with another eminent citizen of Chicago who occupied a high place in national councils that he had befouled by the manner of his getting it, and in other instances here and there has made it plain that local committees working up breakfasts and dinners and receptions and the like owed it to him if they did not to themselves to take care for the company they selected to grace his occasions. In Pittsburgh Colonel Roosevelt found himself running squarely into a man who is no good American and he bucked. A mayor of Chicago is not so big outside his own political clique; is nothing more than he chooses to make of himself. And Mayor Thompson has chosen to make himself a rather distinct sort of anti-American. For the pains of his journey to Pittsburgh he was properly snubbed and thoroughly rebuked and treated with a contempt and scorn that will be his deserved portion wherever he may go the balance of his life.

TOO MANY RACE WARS.

There is something a bit sinister in the readiness with which a race war can be brewed these days. It is by no means established that the orgy of bloodshed and arson that disgraced East St. Louis a few weeks ago was not fomented as a hostile measure against the government. It has been known for a considerable time that German agents were diligent in the south attempting to stir up the negroes to rebellion against white rule. It matters little that these agents were too ignorant of America and the American negro to appreciate that such an enterprise was a futile endeavor.

Nevertheless, there is reason to suspect that some of the race troubles in the north stand for more than mere outcroppings of prejudice against negroes or the competition the influx of negroes from the south has set up for white men's jobs in the north. There have been two or three outbreaks of the kind in Chester, Pa. It is not without significance that this stubborn situation should develop in that city, which is the seat of some of the most important ship-building industries in the United States. Youngstown, Ohio, another vast industrial center, is in the throes of a similar war of races, which seems to be merely a recurrence of former disturbances. In neither city have events become so serious as they were in East St. Louis, but they are pregnant of great danger, for it never can be told ahead just what race war may turn out to be.

No doubt the federal government is keeping itself in close touch with these events. It ought to do so. Though matters of strictly state jurisdiction, perhaps, they may become such as to vitally concern the federal government. In any event, it will be on every account deplorable and in obvious respects a peril if this feeling of racial prejudice is to be applied upon to any general extent, whether by enemy agents or still more dangerous agitators among our own masses.

OBSCURING THE MILLENNIUM.

The millennial dawn that rose orient upon Russia last March has been obscured in the reek of battle. While it is true that German legions are making most of the battle and furnishing a large part of the reek, the dawn suffers no less on that account.

Russia began her career of democracy by declaring everybody and everything free, abolishing the death penalty and ruling that the only tolerable wars were conflicts in which an idealistic and heathen altruism was dominant. There not appearing to the gaze any such spirit or sentiment in Russia's occasion against Prussian militarism, the Russians in large part decided that duty on the battle fronts must consist mainly of eating rations and following with the enemy.

The result has been shocking, but quite logical. Inactivity has been followed by sedition, mutiny, open rebellion and a general disintegration of the army upon which the most depended. An offensive begun most favorably and for a fortnight prosecuted most successfully has been broken up and a big force put in peril.

It is not singular that the provisional government with the approval of that portion of the people roused from soft dreams has decreed the abolition of the death penalty. Some other aspects of the millennium will also no doubt disappear from day to day as it is realized that even democracies must hold together and that government must have authority and powers and even force at command if they are to govern.

It is a sad obscuration of a very pretty sunrise, but it is not unexpected.

The colonel would not dine with Chicago's big bill and he wouldn't speak from the same platform with him and he wouldn't even see him. All of which makes up quite a train of arguments against the aforesaid and singular big bill. The country will very readily take the colonel's word for all of it.

Ladies who haven't yet found the way to do their bit will be presented with great latitude of opportunity at Red Cross headquarters. There is ever so much to do and ever so many who are not helping to do it.

Fifteen billions for war. Fifteen billions from thirty billions leaves fifteen billions. That is the difference between what we will pay and what Germany already has paid and will expect us to pay back to her if she can make us do it.

The fair co-eds of the University of Cincinnati have determined just what a worth-while man is. Here are the stipulations:

"The worth-while man is vigorous and manly physically, and careful of the details of his appearance."

"He has a sense of humor."

"He is courteous to every one."

"He is thoughtful of other people."

"He is tactful."

"His education is sufficiently broad to enable him to appreciate the finer things of culture."

"He enjoys sports."

"He can appreciate the fireside."

"He is ambitious for worth-while things."

"He has an aim in life."

"He has religious faith."

"He has courage, strength of purpose, and self-control."

WHAT SHALL WE DO?

BY REM A. JOHNSTON.

We Americans have slept long and unawakened—and we have had a good many nightmares while we slept. All these nightmares dealt with enemies, supposed or real, but, until now, we could turn over in our sleep and rock peacefully away in the arms of Morpheus, confident of the pleasant awakening some bright morning.

But, we have been rudely jostled. Morpheus has let us roll out of his lap, and bump on the floor. To leave the figure—we have never faced ruin before, but we are looking her in the eyes right now. We have been too rich, too safe, too comfortable, too easy with ourselves and with others. We haven't learned the lesson that has been up to us. We have tied ourselves fast to the shibboleths of honor and duty—imagining that our ideal of honor must be the ideal of all nations.

Some one has said that America is the land of "magnificent inconsistencies." We have hugged freedom to our heart, but we have harbored in our midst feudalism of the type to delight the autocrat of antiquity. We have talked of Yankee ingenuity and efficiency and practically all the nations of the world have outstripped us in developing the very ideas we thought we had cornered.

Now all this must change. We must alter the ways we have lived. We must change our eating, our sleeping, our working. We have prated of efficiency—we must now become efficient. We have yammered about science—now we must invent and discover as we never invented and discovered before. We must cut war bread, pay war taxes, accept war's blinding wallows, steel ourselves to the indignities that will be offered until we are prepared to meet indignities with calm power and hopeful restraint.

We are to fight for the things that have always seemed a priori true to us—the things we were taught as true at our mother's knee. We are to face the combined greed and selfishness and malice of hell—and we are to make the ultimate sacrifice required of all who have had great ideals, and have sought to live them.

For many years we Americans have relied upon logic—but now we are faced with logic that is so cold and cutting, so dreadful in all its propositions, that were we less great and less imbued with the spirit of truth we should be inclined to fear the calamity that has befallen.

There is no way out of it. Our legions, numbered now by the millions, must be flung across the sea to meet the Prussian hordes of hell. That we shall conquer is self-evident—that we shall learn to destroy, even as we have created, is one of the prices we must pay.

The task is before us. We may be jostled rudely as we learn it. We may be thrown down as we struggle forward. But there is a will within us that is like clean flame. The heat will sear us till we have suffered even to the end.

And, of course, there are the rewards at last—a world free of brute force and bloody cunning; a world clean and comfortable—fit for us all to live in—the sort of world we should expect the great Master and Saviour of mankind to wish to come back to when the Age of Brotherhood is ushered in, and gentleness and goodness take the place of Hohenbollern craft and Prussianism's brutality.

The price is big that we are going to pay—but the lines of olive-drab and khaki are on their way—and the good flag is over all. Let us not think of the price. Let us think of the gift—the world gift—we hold in our hand.

I. W. W. AND SABOTAGE.

(Grand Rapids Press.)

What is the I. W. W. plan and creed, asks a correspondent of The Press. A reply does not require much space. The Industrial Workers of the World is an international organization, having its rise in the rapid development some fifteen years ago of the system called Syndicalism in France, whose purpose is to destroy the wage system, to wipe out all capital and to supplant nations, states and all government by a network of revolutionary trade organizations. In its general application the I. W. W. aims to be universal; but the eventual social system which it expects to apply to the government of industry and of society is a scheme of operation by syndicates, or organizations of the workers in separate trades. The "Workers" are frankly anarchists in their doctrine.

"The state," says one of their headline authorities, "stinks; it is too rotten either to fear or to use." The local instruments of the I. W. W. are, first, irritating or disconcerting strikes, not operated for wages or for hours, but purely for destruction and, second, sabotage, which means individual destruction of the implements and material of industry. It is the essence of what the anarchists call "direct action." The order recommends "the use of any kind and all tactics which will get the results sought with the least expenditure of time and energy: the question of right and wrong does not concern us." Toward the attainment of this purpose the Industrial Workers have organized themselves into a wide-spread body which is quite as hostile to the ordinary labor unions as it is to capital and to the government. It has swept into its net many restless labor agitators, many educated persons without character or conscience, and it has a central control which can always find ne'er-do-wells who are willing to go anywhere and commit any disturbing or destructive act. It claims but 35,000 members in the whole world. But by means of its central organization and its unscrupulous methods it is able to move its instruments and agents about, to take local advantage of every industrial propaganda and thus to make every possible point for the great and universal turmoil which is its object.

OFFICE SUPPLIES A PART OF EQUIPMENTS IN THE MODERN WAR

(By L. HARPER LEECH.)

Typewriter warfare is no longer a joke. The modern army has an office force, and is directed much like a construction force in the field, such as the builders of Panama or other great public works.

Records are kept of everything. The card index follows the machine gun. The adding machine tells the tale of shells fired and dead buried. The issue of every pound of flour or every army blanket is accompanied by the click of a typewriter and the impress of a rubber stamp.

Here are a few of the office supplies Uncle Sam has laid in for the army's use for the next twelve months. In all there are forty-seven different items under the head of stationary which the army uses.

47,000 jars; pencils, 346,000 dozen; shipping tags, 1,000,000.

Liberal provision is made for waste baskets, 22,000 being provided. So army clerks may not get too homesick for dear old Washington some 48,000 spoils of red tape are furnished.

There are scads of clips, typewriter ribbons and all kinds of paper envelopes, and pads running into the tons.

The army's office work in the field will be done on 27,126 field desks especially constructed to permit of rapid moving.

Mimeographs to the number of 144 will save extra labor at the typewriters.

Valuable records will be stored in 1,336 safes.

DID NOT MEAN IT.

(Springfield, Mass. Republican.)

The conscript army that will fight in France will be made up of republicans, while the easy, comfortable jobs behind desks, far from the danger zone, will be held down by democrats—Senator Penrose, of Pennsylvania.

The senator was probably engaged in the congenial labor of baiting his friends on the democratic side of the chamber when he made that observation. But the senator did not mean it. He knows that the local exemption boards in all republican states, including Pennsylvania, have been named by the republican governors thereof. Probably that is fortunate for the democratic administration.

FROM THE SENTINEL PAGES 25 YEARS AGO

Mrs. Laughlin, an aged lady who resides at 45 Brackenridge street, was stricken with apoplexy last night and barely escaped death. She is much better this morning.

Walter Needham, aged 15 years, stepped on a rusty nail at his home on Pontiac street. In attempting to extract the nail he broke it off in the flesh. Dr. J. E. Miller extracted it and the boy is recovering.

Fred Frange, a young farmer about 28 years old, while assisting his father, William Frange, in the harvest field yesterday, at their farm south of the city, suffered a stroke and died soon afterwards.

Messrs. P. A. Randall, R. L. Romy, Tony Trentman and Henry C. Berghoff have returned from Eaton, Ind., where they have made arrangements to establish a paper mill at an outlay of nearly $200,000.

A telegram received this morning announces the death at Dayton, O., of John H. Trentman, who was for some years city clerk of Fort Wayne. Death was caused by Bright's disease and a complication of other diseases.

Frederick Rombold, a lineman employed in the work of building the Lake-side electric railway, fell from a pole while stringing wire this morning. When picked up he was insensible and an examination showed that he was injured internally.

There was a lively party of young people at the high balls Tuesday afternoon, consisting of Miss Edith Wilson, of Wabash; Fannie Hartman, Helen Spencer, Grace Davis, Florence Howard, Gertrude Clippinger, Emily Harding, Mr. and Mrs. Darwin Meyers, Roscoe Welmer, of Wabash; Robert Harding, John Clippinger, Ed Keegan, Will Mahan and Hugh Hartman.

Hon. Hugh McCulloch, the father of Charles McCulloch, of this city, enjoys the distinction of being the only man who has twice held the office of secretary of the treasury. His first appointment was in March, 1865, by President Lincoln and the second appointment was in 1885 by President Arthur. Mr. McCulloch is in his eighty-fourth year, and now resides in Washington.

BRUSHED FROM ENGINE BY BRIDGE GIRDER

Harry Hepner Loses Life in Railway Accident at Plainwell.

H. E. Hepner, aged 22, married and residing at 2102 Smith street, was brushed off the side of a G. R. & I. engine by a bridge girder over the Kalamazoo river, one and a half miles south of Plainwell, Mich., at 5:30 o'clock Friday morning and his body fell into the water and it was not recovered until 8:45 o'clock. Mr. Hepner was a fireman on a southbound freight train and he was leaning out of the gangway, looking for a leak in the injector, when he was struck. The impetus of the train carried him along the ties of the bridge several feet, before the body fell in the water. Engineer W. E. Thomas saw the fireman drop and stopped the train, which was running at the rate of twenty-five miles an hour, and instituted a search for the body, but it could not be found at once. Later railway men and residents of the vicinity found the body thirty feet below the bridge, and turned it over to the authorities. It is not known whether Mr. Hepner was killed by the blow on the head or whether he was drowned, but it is known that he was stunned by the blow, for he made no effort to arise as far as witnesses could tell after the accident. Mr. Hepner was a comparatively new man on the road, commencing work last March. He was formerly employed at the Duda works. Besides the widow and the baby son, he is survived by the parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Hepner, of near Chubbuck; two brothers, Paul and Worth Hepner, and three sisters, the Misses Freda and Bertha Hepner, at the family home, and Mrs. A. B. Cryderman, of Smith street, this city. The remains will be delivered to Klamath & Melching and funeral services will be held at the residence of his sister, 2420 Smith street, and the body sent to Elmira, Mich., for interment. The train which figured in the accident was in charge of Conductor E. F. Snyder and Engineer W. E. Thomas.

CRASHED AGAINST TRAIN.

Girls and Boys Joy Riding Have Narrow Escape at Valparaiso. Three young men and four young women had a thrilling experience on the Franklin street crossing of the Pennsylvania at Valparaiso at 11 o'clock last night. Their crossing is protected by a signal bell and gates, but this did not prevent what might have been a most serious accident, but wasn't. At the hour named eastbound freight train No. 791 was crossing Franklin street, when an automobile carrying the young people dashed through the gates and struck the freight train about the middle. Witnesses say that the occupants of the auto were pitched forward, but all escaped serious injury, and that the auto was badly wrecked. An effort was made to hide the identity of the party, for immediately after the accident the young people scampered out of sight and their identity has not been effected. So far as could be learned none was hurt; at least none was unable to hustle off the ground when the railway and other people began to arrive on the scene.

THE ARMY Y. M. C. A. AND ITS GOOD WORK

Fort Harrison Now Has Three Association Build- ings for Soldiers.

One of the most enthusiastic workers in the interest of the Y. M. C. A. is Master Mechanic E. E. Griest, president of the local association, who presided at the dedication of the third army Y. M. C. A. building at Fort Benjamin Harrison Saturday and remained over until Monday to be the guest in common with the army Y. M. C. A. executives at the camp and the members of the executive committee of the state Y. M. C. A. of the members of the National War Work council of the Y. M. C. A. The war work council is out on a tour of army camps of the United States and Monday they visited Fort Benjamin Harrison, where there are now three Y. M. C. A. buildings in which the association keeps a number of writing desks, provides free stationery for letter writing and the soldier boys make good use of it. "As an illustration of the amount of writing done in these three buildings," said Mr. Griest, "I have only to refer to the report of sale of stamps last Saturday night and Sunday. It amounted to over $150. A contributor to the army Y. M. C. A. will consider his investment the best he ever made if he takes a look at the department at Fort Benj. Harrison," said Mr. Griest. "At one of the tents while at the camp I counted 190 men seated at the tables, writing letters, and there were possibly that many more awaiting opportunity to get at the tables for the same purpose," continued Mr. Griest. In addition to the letter writing facilities at the army Y. M. C. A. buildings, there are many other features for the accommodation of the soldier boys. These include pianos and phonographs, reading matter in abundance and all kinds of educational features, including teaching of the French language. There are classes in French with over 100 members and the progress of the pupils is remarkable.

The National War Work council party out on the tour of the army camps is headed by Harold I. Pratt, of the Standard Oil company, who is paying the expenses of the trip. Others include some of the greatest Y. M. C. A. workers of the country. While at Camp Harrison, the party and some of their guests were photographed and a copy was published in the Indianapolis papers. Mr. Griest, who was in the party, is easily recognized in the picture.

B. W. CULLEN PROMOTED. Is Named Foreman at East Shops Pipe Department.

The Sentinel yesterday, in making note of the appointment of a successor to the late Foreman G. W. Shannon, of the pipe department of the east car shops, stated that the office had fallen upon W. H. White. Instead B. W. Cullen is the appointee and he has already assumed the duties of the office. Mr. White is foreman of the tin department of that shop and there has been no change in that office. What The Sentinel said about the merits of Mr. White yesterday are applicable to Mr. Cullen also. He commenced work in that shop in 1905 and has remained there constantly since, giving good service and being liked by officers and shop associates for his many good traits. Before entering the shops Mr. Cullen was in the road service, commencing as a brakeman in 1892 and being promoted to conductor several years later. A desire to be able to be at home more prompted his resignation as conductor to take the position at the shops. H. J. Malcolm is Mr. Cullen's assistant.

BURIED AT GROVER HILL.

The co-employees in the offices in the old Pennsylvania trainmaster's office sent handsome floral pieces to be placed on the casket of the late Mrs. James B. Brown, who was buried at Grover Hill, O., this afternoon. Mrs. Brown's death was sudden and followed a nervous shock caused by the death of a relative. She had been married only a few weeks. The wedding occurred June 4. It was a very quiet ceremony because of the death the preceding week of Mrs. Brown, the mother of the groom. Mrs. J. B. Brown took ill soon after the wedding and grew gradually worse until last Sunday, when she expired. Her maiden name was Miss Helen Lout.

SENT FISH TO BOYS.

The employees in the office of Road Foreman of Engines O. E. Maxwell, of the Pennsylvania, including the assistant road foreman, divided among themselves a basket of fine fish—bass, wall eyed pike, perch and bluegills—last night. The fish were caught by Mr. Maxwell at Walloon lake. Mr. Maxwell has been on a vacation, which will end some time next week. He leaves Walloon lake tomorrow, but it is understood that he intends to stop off a day or two to visit friends on the homeward trip.

INDUSTRIAL NOTES.

J. R. Parker, of the Pennsylvania erecting shop, is sick and off duty. H. J. Furge, a Pennsylvania tuner, has gone to Valparaiso to fish a few days.

C. Doehrmann, of the Pennsylvania erecting shop, has gone to Lake James to stay a few days.

W. C. Kolb, of the Pennsylvania air-brake department, is off duty on account of the funeral of his aunt.

Guy F. Van Buskirk, motor inspector at the Pennsylvania shops, is off duty on account of sickness.

Peter Williams and H. W. Seibert, of the Pennsylvania cabbuilding shop, are off duty on account of sickness.

W. A. Ohech, a machinist's helper at the Pennsylvania shops, is sick and off duty.

Archibald Cassel, of the Pennsylvania toolroom, is off duty on account of the death of his uncle at Toledo.

W. Buttermier, a Pennsylvania tank repainer, is back on duty after a short absence on account of an injured eye.

Frank Grubb, division storekeeper at Toledo for the Pennsylvania, was in the city today on business for the department.

E. H. Cook, a pipefitter, resigned at the Pennsylvania shops this morning and will take employment with S. F. Bower & Co.

Paul Gansel, who resigned a position at the Pennsylvania shops yesterday, has taken employment at the General Electric works.

F. T. Huston, assistant motive power engineer of the Pennsylvania, has gone to Pittsburgh on business for the department.

Foreman M. J. Shea, who had tonsillitis several days, resumed charge of the wheel department of the Pennsylvania machine shop this morning.

Mrs. C. W. Montgomery, wife of the Pennsylvania fireman and son, Douglas Montgomery, will leave tonight for Toronto, Canada, to visit her brothers and sisters two or three weeks.

Mrs. A. F. H. Dornie, wife of the Pennsylvania shopman, is preparing for a visit with her niece, Mrs. Hattie Smith, of Cleveland. She will leave for that city early next week.

H. E. Tribble, of the Pennsylvania erecting shop, is off duty as the result of getting a piece of steel in his eye. The optic is badly inflamed, but the ball was not cut.

R. E. Elliott, Pennsylvania engineer, who has been sick since the holidays, called at the road foreman's office today to see his friends. He will not be able to resume work in the cab for several weeks. Engineer Elliott passed through a most serious surgical operation last April.

Mrs. John Spoltman delightfully entertained at her home in Plaza drive Thursday evening at 6 o'clock dinner in honor of Miss Helen Christen's guest, Miss Anna Petty, of Frankfort, and Miss Grace Bonary, who has returned from Chicago, where she has been studying in the School of Fine Arts. Covers were laid for six, including Mrs. Elmer Laneyman, Helen Christen and Mrs. Fred Spoltman.

Mrs. Elizabeth Hughes, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Hughes, of Hoekland avenue, was seven years old on Thursday, and not only Miss Mary but a number of her playmates enjoyed a little birthday party in honor of the day. Pink flowers and a frosted cake with pink candles were the decorations of the supper table, where the children found various good things to tempt and satisfy their appetites after they had had a merry time playing games.

Mrs. Arnold R. Tresselt is entertaining her sister, Mrs. J. Stoum O'Rourke, of Detroit, and her two small sons. Mrs. O'Rourke has met many of her sister's intimate friends at informal companies, first at a two-table bridge club at Mrs. Tresselt's and later at guests of Mrs. Harry Hogan at the Elks Country club, a sewing affair with Mrs. Daniel Milligan as hostess, a small luncheon today at the Country club with Miss Mildred Bowser as host and an afternoon sewing following the luncheon with Mrs. T. P. Ewing as host.

Rush—Clifford.

The wedding of Miss Helene Marie Clifford, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James E. Clifford, and Mr. Ralph Judy Rush, a son of Dr. Fred Rush, of this city, took place on Thursday evening, July 26, at 8 o'clock, at the rectory of the Cathedral. Rev. Father John A. Quinn performed the ceremony. The bride was attended by Miss Josephine Kelly, of this city, and Mr. Rush by Mr. Frederick Clements, of Chicago. The bride made a beautiful appearance in a handsome gown of white satin combined with crepeorgette and trimmings of rich lace. The bride veil was attached to a crown effect of rose point lace and fell to the hem of the gown. A shower bouquet of bride roses and white sweetpeas completed the lovely bridal costume. Miss Kelly wore a gown of pink taffeta combined with silver cloth and lavender mulline. A bonnet of silver cloth was trimmed with frills of lavender mulline and a pink satin muff was covered with lavender frills to match and had further ornamentation of clusters of violets. The home of the bride, in Rockhill street, was decorated with garden flowers and the dining room was very charming with its beautifully laid table in ebony lace, pink roses, pink candles, ropes of smilax. A hamper of all colors of sweetpeas that stood on the buffet converted that article of furniture into a miniature sweetpeas bed. Covers were laid for twenty people, including the groom's sister, Miss Ida M. Rush, of Chicago; Mrs. Mosper, of Hammond; Dr. Robert Crystal, of Ann Arbor, Mich. The bride and groom left in the evening for Chicago, where they will stop at the Edgewater Beach hotel until Mr. Rush is called to active service. Mr. Rush has just completed his training in the officers' reserve training camp, at Fort Sheridan, Ill., and awaits his call. The probability of that being soon hastened the date of the wedding, which had been previously planned to take place in August.

Hartzog—Toenges.

Mrs. W. C. Fortriede, of 118 Cottage avenue, announces the marriage of her sister, Esther, youngest daughter of Mr. H. J. Toenges, of 1218 Erie street, to Mr. Guy M. Hartzog, of Collins, O., which took place on July 25. The marriage ceremony was solemnized at the home of the groom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles O. Hartzog, on the bank of Lake Mercer. The bride and groom are taking a short eastern trip and after their return they will go to Cleveland, where Mr. Hartzog has accepted a position as salesman with an important business house of that city. The bride and groom have a host of friends in Fort Wayne who will wish them success and happiness.

Give Books to Soldiers.

Another opportunity to "do a bit" between running and either knitting or sewing, is to look through your shelves of books and see what you have to spare that a man would like to read, and donate them to the "boys" at Indianapolis Camp Fort Benjamin Harrison. Such books should be sent to the public library. And if you haven't any, why buy one or two, or even three, or if that is too much trouble send 50 cents or a dollar or even dollars; it wouldn't hurt, to the public library so the librarians can buy books to fill the box. And if the cunning and numerous other things have actually taken all of your spare change and your home can't spare even one book, send 1917 magazines. Everything will be gratefully received and appreciated at the camp. This is a time when little "bits" are valuable to the giver and to the receiver.

Store Dried Foods in Small Containers

Whatever the container used for dried foods—glass, tin or paper—let it be small. This is the admonition of the expert who writes Uncle Sam's new books.

If a small amount of dried product is put in each receptacle, just enough for one or two meals, it will not be necessary to open a container the contents of which cannot be consumed in a short time. The use of the small container also makes it more difficult for insects to spoil large quantities of the dried fruits or vegetables.

If a paper bag is used, the upper part should be twisted into a neck, then over, and tied tightly with a string.

If a further precaution is necessary the bag can be painted with a brush dipped into melted paraffin. Another precaution may be taken by placing the small bags in a tin container with a tightly-fitting cover. All bags should bear a label indicating what they contain.

If fruits or vegetables are packed in tight containers immediately upon being dried thoroughly, they will remain just as brittle as they were when taken from the drier.

If, however, they are not dried thoroughly, they will "sweat" and soon mold. To prevent this the material should be examined within 24 hours after packing, and if it appears moist it must be dried further.

It will be found advisable to "condition" practically all dried vegetables and fruits.

This is best done in a small way by placing the material in boxes and pouring it from one into another once a day for three or four days, so as to mix it thoroughly and give to the whole mass an even degree of moisture.

If the material is found to be too moist, it should be returned to the drying trays for a short drying.

Use Disinfectant in Home at All Times

We should not overlook the fact that the highest patriotism as well as self-interest demands we give our first thought to preparedness against disease attacks in our own homes and conservation of our own and our family's health. We should be particularly careful about the water we drink, as it composes 33 per cent of our bodies.

The day of idealizing the old oaken bucket is passed with the nursery eulogy of the fly. Today the modern and efficient housewife sees in each of them a prolific breeding ground for germs.

Many cities are using chlorinated lime to purify all water running through its mains.

Every housekeeper should have a box of this disinfectant, recommended and used by the United States government, always at hand. It should be used in the garbage can, in sinks and drain pipes, in bathrooms and cellars and refrigerators.

One authority says chlorinated lime is twenty-five times more effective as a germ killer than the usual application of carbolic acid and states one pound of chlorinated lime will disinfect thoroughly 8,000 gallons of sewage. It not only has no odor, but makes garbage cans, toilets and all other necessary waste receptacles odorless.

In the matter of millinery, your attention is called to the new sports hats in velour. The bear no trimming other than a ribbon band, but they are flattering as the glances of a new sweetheart and as becoming as the naivete of youth.

Turquoise is a good color, and you can't beat it if you are looking for something to wear with frocks of snow whiteness. Deep rose shades are adorable for the brunette, and the fainter, fadier pinks have their own enticements. More expensive top pieces are of panne velvet, and on these we notice the sunken crowns. Jersey hats, in cloche shape, are embroidered with wool in colors. Among autumn hats for really autumn wear much wool is employed. Hair laces in pastel shades are rummy, and some

A WEE BIT NIGHTINGALE FOR LAYETTE.

(BY BETTY BROWN.)

There is only one thing for which a woman will put aside her knitting nowadays, and that is to make something for a baby.

A tiny nightingale can be cut without a pattern by any clever seamstress. A fold runs across the shoulders and the front is a duplicate of the back except for the opening and the deeper curve of the neck.

Any delicate material is suitable for this dainty garment.

Figured crepe requires no trimming, but plain silk may be elaborately decorated with heavy edging as illustrated.

The same pattern makes an excellent padded garment to wrap up Baby Bunting in on a cold morning. A nightingale is obviously not an out-of-door garment.

THREE SALADS THAT WILL BE FOUND REFRESHING.

GREEN PEA AND CHICKEN SALAD.—Use only the white meat of chicken that has been cooked until tender and cut it into bits; add to this seasoned green peas. Season the chicken with a little salt and pepper if not already seasoned.

Place in little nests of lettuce, pour over a French dressing and garnish with tiny cucumbers, pickled, or with fresh cucumbers, sliced and cut into fancy shapes.

PISTACHIO SALAD.—To each cupful of pistachio nut meats add half a cupful of chopped celery and half a cupful of pineapple cut into bits.

Cold mayonnaise dressing with spinach leaves or green vegetable coloring and mix into the other ingredients. Arrange on lettuce and garnish with pistachionuts.

WATERCRESS SALAD.—Pull to pieces a bunch of fresh watercress and mix with it the whites of hard boiled eggs, diced.

Dress with a good French dressing containing lemon juice instead of vinegar. Arrange in a mound on a plate and garnish with the rings of egg whites.

USE JAPANESE LINENS TO SAVE BEST CLOTHS

Owing to scarcity of table linen many housewives are using table squares and damask runners or the blue and white Japanese linens for special occasions.

This is a wise bit of economy. There is little flax being grown in the European fields.

through their Red Cross. At present women throughout Canada are concentrating their efforts in knitting helmet caps. These caps are essential for the comfort of the lads and we had better make some for our boys, too.

The helmets, you know, are of steel, and steel is heavy. Without a pad of some sort the helmets bring much discomfort and pain.

Here are the directions for the helmet cap.

Get one-eighth pound of wool, three ply Wheeling, and use three No. 10 steel needles.

Set up ninety-six stitches, thirty-two on each needle. Knit two stitches plain and two puri for seven inches. Then to form the top of the cap knit two stitches together at beginning of needle; knit across plain until but three stitches remain on the needle. Knit two stitches together and puri the last one. Repeat on each needle until the top is narrowed to three stitches on each needle and finish off by drawing the wool through these

Guaranteed to Restore

Color to Gray Hair

IT is not necessary, not even wise, to have gray hair nowadays. But don't use dangerous, dirty, sticky dyes. "Turn Back to Nature."

Restore the uniform color of your hair with the aid of Q-Ban Hair Color Restorer. Thousands have done so and are proud of the result. Years of study by expert chemists resulted in Q-Ban, the one preparation that actually works hand in hand with Nature in banishing gray hair in a healthful way.

You simply apply Q-Ban like a Shampoo, and your hair will resume a natural color, evenly, gradually, safely and surely. Your hair will become soft, glossy, abundant and beautiful.

You will look so young, you will be delighted. But beware of imitations as you would of dyes. There is nothing like Q-Ban.

Q-Ban is all ready to use—is guaranteed to be harmless and is sold under the makers' money-back guarantee if not satisfied. It is the only preparation for the purpose so guaranteed. At all good drug stores, 50c a large bottle, or write direct to Hargis-Ellis Drug Co., Memphis, Tenn. "Hair Culture" an illustrated, interesting book of lectures sent FREE.

LESSON FOR JULY 29

GOD'S GRACIOUS INVITATION.

LESSON TEXT—Isaiah 55:1-11.

GOLDEN TEXT—Seek ye the Lord while he may be found, call ye upon him while he is near.—Isa. 55:6.

The Bible is throughout a forward looking book. No matter how dark the light, it looks forward to the dawn of a new and better day. Whenever written, the prophet looks forward toward the end of the Babylonian exile. Isaiah died about 142 years before that event. That scene is laid in Babylon. Isaiah prophesied in Jerusalem.

1. The Invitation, (vv. 1-3) In order to understand the fullness and blessedness of this invitation, we should read in its connection chapters 53 and 54. In chapter 53 we have a prophecy and vision of the Messiah, making his atonement for sins, "wounded for our transgressions." Again we have in this connection a picture of the Messiah as our leader and Savior. In chapter 55 we have the invitation and joyful welcome to the beautiful city, which he is establishing for us.

(1) Who is invited? The word "Ho" is perhaps an abbreviation of the word "Hail," used to excite attention. This invitation is extended to every one: (a) the "poor," to those who are needy; (b) the poor and the rich; those "without money," and the supply is abundant, even as the water. Every one is invited without limitation or distinction. The greatness of a man's spirit is measured by the numbers of his desires and thirsts, by their qualities and by his capacities or the intensity of his thirst. Those invited were to have "wine," a luxury, and "milk," a staple necessity, without money and without price. The currency of the kingdom of Heaven is grace (v. 1).

(2) Who Will Come? (v. 3). Only those who are listening and who are attentive. Many fall of eternal life because they do not pay attention to the claims of religion. "Come unto me," (Matt. 11:28). We go to God for salvation and help, and we find life. Life is more than mere existence. It is the natural, harmonious, joyous activity of every part of our being. The result of coming is, "your soul shall live," and the surety of it is, "an everlasting covenant." Literally, an agreement with promises which can never be broken, namely, "the sure mercies of David." (See II Sam. 12:20; I Cor. 17:7-27; Ps. 89:1-4; also Luke 20:41, 44). We are bought but we did not pay the price. The mercies of David are the outpouring of our Savior; the mercy of grace. True satisfaction is in its right order. (See vv. 2, 3). Christ is a faithful witness, the exalted one, (v. 5) to this covenant.

(3) When to Come (v. 6). While he may be found, and while he is near, implying a time when he may not be found and a time when he will not be near. All of God's promises are conditional.

(4) The Way to Come (v. 7). For-sake open sin, turn from unrighteous thought, turn to the Lord and receive his "multifold pardon." Man is everywhere depicted in the Scriptures as wandering away from the true God and there is no salvation if we insist on continuing in sin.

II. The Transformation (vv. 8-13). God's promises have back of them all the power of the universe and are as certain as the process of the seasons. In working out his transformation to the character of man, we are to think his thoughts after him. We see and know only very little of this spirit, but God sees, knows and controls the universe, which is at his command. (I Cor. 10:13; Phil. 4:13). We are to enter into his ways, and his ways are as the heavens, higher than those of the earth. Having entered into his ways we are to bring his fruits (see John 15). If the Divine seed (v. 11) is implanted within us, then we may expect to see the fruits of the kingdom of God, which are born of the spirit. (Gal. 5:22-26). This transformation involves service, for we are to have a mission, "go out to all the earth," being led by the Messiah and thus receive "joy and peace." As sure as "the rain cometh down and the snow from heaven and returneth not but watereth the earth," so is the seed of the Word in the hands of the sower, to become bread to the eater. As we go forth we have his promise (v. 11) that, "it shall not return void but shall accomplish that which I please, and it shall prosper in the thing whereto I sent it."

As a result the "thorns" (evil) shall be displaced by "fig trees" (good). God's word bears fruit in implanted lives. (John 6:33; James 1:13; I Peter 1:23). God calls this word, which is spoken of by the prophet, "My word." What the prophet says, God says. What an inspired man says, God inspires him to say. God's promise will be consummated in redeeming society, as well as redeeming creation (vv. 12, 13; Ch. 35:10; 49:3, 10; 51:11; Jer. 31:12-14; Isa. 35:1, 2). The language about the mountains and hills breaking forth into singing, is interpreted in Psalms 65:11, 13.

Rufus Roth, of Fort Wayne, called on his parents, Mr. and Mrs. David Roth, here on Monday.

John L. Sullivan on Overcoming.

John L. Sullivan, the ex-puglist, says that more people die from over-eating than from drink. One of the most prominent physicians in England says that is also the case over there. No wonder that so many people are troubled with indigestion. If you have trouble with your stomach adopt a diet suited to your age and occupation. Then if you should have indigestion take Chamberlain's Tablets. They strengthen the stomach and enable it to perform its functions naturally.—Advertisement.

BALL OF FIRE EXPLODED.

Bedford, Ind., July 27.—This region was visited by a heavy rain and electrical storm early last night. Many houses and outbuildings were struck by lightning. At the home of Will Fields, a Southeastern railroad baggageman, the lightning entered the house on the electric light wires, blew out the fuse, and a ball of fire exploded in the room, breaking every light bulb. Mrs. Fields was severely burned on one of her arms.

Catarhal Deafness Cannot Be Cured

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure catarrhal deafness, and that is by a constitutional remedy. Catarrhal Deafness is caused by an inflammation of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, deafness is the result. Unless the inflammation can be reduced and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever. Many cases of deafness are caused by catarrh, which is an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces. Hall's Catarrh Medicine acts thru the blood on the mucous surfaces of the system.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Catarrhal Deafness that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Medicine. Circulars free. All Druggists, 75c.

the establishment in every state of a central mobilization camp, where the boys could be given an intensive farm drill and then sent out to farms or in small camp groups throughout the state. In some cases, of course, it was admitted, camps would not be practicable owing to farms being widely separated. On the whole, it was believed the advantages of well supervised camps would far outweigh any expense attached thereto.

In New York, Pennsylvania, New Jersey, Connecticut, Massachusetts, Maine, Indiana, Michigan, Wisconsin, California and other states camps for the boys have proved so much of a success that it was the opinion of the national leaders and other officers that the method should be extended. It was for the purpose of having the question discussed more fully by men who have had actual experience with such camps that today's conference was called by William E. Hall, national director of the boys' working reserve. Methods of camp management which have proved successful in different places were explained, and difficulties which have been met with in other cases cleared up.

The camps so far established are of a variety of types and are provided for in various ways. Tents, grandstands at fair grounds, school houses—these and similar accommodations are used. Sometimes the Y. M. C. A. furnishes the tents, at other times a body of local business men, the state council of defense or some patriotic individual.

The Cause of Constipation.

Constipation is usually due to a lack of water in the excrement. To effect a cure you must take more water in the system. It may be months, however, before this has any appreciable effect on the bowels, but when persisted in and fruit and vegetables containing water are eaten freely, the condition may be overcome. In the meantime use the mildest laxatives obtainable and take only enough to produce the desired effect. Chamberlain's Tablets are one of the best. They are easy to take and most agreeable in effect.—Advertisement.

A RELATED INQUEST.

Stockholm, July 27.—The sarcophagus of Charles XII, Sweden's "hero king," who was killed by a shot in the back of the head at the siege of Frederikshald in 1718, is shortly to be opened by a commission of scientists appointed by King Gustavus. It is desired to make a careful examination of the nature of the projectile, etc. The coffin was opened and the wound examined in 1859, but the examination was carelessly conducted.

REV. S. A. NORTHROP IS COMING SUNDAY
Former Local Pastor Will Occupy Pulpit at Baptist Church.

A letter from Rev. Stephen A. Northrop, of Fenton, Mich., to E. C. Anderson concerning the pastor's visit here to fill the pulpit of the First Baptist church next Sunday, says in part: "I intended to speak in the evening on 'The Dawn of a World-Wide Democracy, or the Passing of the Kings,' but I received a gentle hint from one of your active members that they wanted some of my old-fashioned gospel sermons, and so I will speak on 'The Greatest Grace of the World' at 10:30 o'clock and 'The Grip That Uplifts' at 7:30 o'clock in the evening." Concerning Mrs. Northrop, Dr. Northrop writes that "She cannot come. We are lining up the forces here as never before in the history of the church and Mrs. Northrop must be at the old stand during my absence and meet the ladies of the church the afternoon of July 30. Some other time we will both be on hand. I am anxious that my coming may be an uplift to your cause."

Rev. S. A. Northrop was the pastor of the First Baptist church in Fort Wayne for thirteen years and during his pastorate increased the membership to nearly three times its former number. He was the most popular minister of the times in and out of his church and no pastor was called upon to serve people who were not church members to as great an extent as he. When the death angel entered a home not belonging to any church and the question arose as to what minister should be asked to officiate at the sad services, the decision was sure to fall upon Pastor Northrop, and he was never known to refuse when it was possible for him to serve. Some time ago a Kansas City paper published some statistics concerning the work of Dr. S. A. Northrop. At that time he was completing his fifth pastorate and was credited with bringing into the church a total of 3,500 new members without the aid of an evangelist; had attended over 4,000 funerals and 2,200 weddings; had delivered 105 high school, college and university addresses and baccalaureate sermons; also ladies' seminaries, military academies, dental, law and medical colleges and normal schools in Indiana, Ohio, New York, Missouri, Kansas, California, Illinois and Arizona. During the strenuous years covering the events and posessions mentioned Dr. Northrop was president of three chautauquas, president of the Indiana Baptist state convention three years; president of the Kansas City Baptist Theological Seminary board of trustees and filled other offices of trust and responsibility. Mr. Northrop also found time to do some writing and is the author of some well known books, including being "A Cloud of Witnesses," which had a run of three or four additions.

From Fort Wayne he went to Kan-

Frank E. Stouder and Hugh Keegan Are Appointed by Mayor.

Dr. Miles F. Porter, Sr., Made Head of District Committee.

Frank E. Stouder, of the Palace theater, and Hugh G. Keegan, attorney, are named as the two draft board members, for the second city district, to take the places of City Clerk Gustav Boerger and William Geake, who resigned earlier in the week.

Appointment of the new draft board members was made by Mayor W. J. Hosey, Thursday evening, after he had received instructions from Governor Goodrich to proceed with the naming of the conscription men.

Stouder and Keegan have announced definitely that they will stay with the trying task to the end. Mayor Hosey awaited his appointment until he could make sure that he had secured men in the second city district who would serve to the finish.

The board for the second district, that part of the city west of Calhoun street and north of the Pennsylvania railroad tracks, is now made up of Frank E. Stouder, Hugh G. Keegan and Dr. Park Drayner. They will meet on Friday and organize for service.

Dr. Porter, Sr., was named chairman of the appeal draft board for northern Indiana, when the five members of the commission met in the doctor's office, Thursday afternoon. Other members of the board are: Harry Kitzelman, of Muncie; Lemuel Royce, of Warsaw, and Earl Crawford, of Milton.

The appeal board will meet in Fort Wayne again on August 8, when it is expected that their duties may start and a long session may be expected. Much of the time, Thursday afternoon, was spent in talking over methods of procedure and making a thorough study of instructions sent by the government. The appeal board will act on cases which citizens feel were not decided satisfactorily by the local boards.

How to Ask Exemption. Literature explaining the nature of the notifications and the methods of claiming exemptions have been delivered at the city clerk's office for aid of local boards. The action of asking exemption is not involved. Every effort is being made to simplify all parts of the draft process. The first thing that a man summoned by a local board must do, is to undergo a physical examination.

To this examination the board either finds the man called physically unfit and discharges him immediately, or finds him physically fit.

If the man seeking an exemption or discharge, particularly the latter, is found physically fit, the next thing to do is to file a claim for a discharge. The form for this is provided by the board, and is as follows:

1. John Jones, serial number 805, hereby certify that I am twenty-eight years old and reside at 1470 Washington boulevard, Fort Wayne, Ind.
- I hereby respectfully claim discharge from selective draft on the following ground, that I am:
- (Instruction: Place a cross(x) before grounds of discharge relied upon.)
- (a)—A county or municipal officer.
- (b)—A custom house clerk of the United States.
- (c)—A person employed by the United States in the transmission of mails.
- (d)—An artificer or workman employed in an arsenal—armory—or navy yard—of the United States.
- (e)—An employee in the service of the United States in the operation of a department commission, board, bureau, or division or branch of the government.
- (f)—A licensed pilot.
- (g)—A mariner actually employed in the sea service of a citizen or merchant within the United States.
- (h)—A person having dependents upon his labor for support (and also mark with a cross (x) one of the following five subclasses.)
1. A married man with wife or child dependent upon his labor for support.
2. A son of a widow dependent upon his labor for support.
3. A son of an aged or infirm parent or parents dependent upon his labor for support.
4. A father of a motherless child under sixteen years of age dependent upon his labor for support.
5. A brother of a child (or children) under sixteen years of age who has (or have) neither father nor mother and is (or are) dependent upon his labor for support.
- (i)—A person who was a member of a well-recognized religious sect or organization, organized and existing May 18, 1917, whose then existing creed or principles forbade its members to participate in war in any form and whose religious convictions are against war or participation therein in accordance with the creed or principles of said well-recognized religious sect or organization.
- (j)—A person convicted of a felony.

THUNDERBOLT SLAYS TRIO OF GUARDSMEN

Lightning Kills Three and Injures Dozen in Camp Near St. Louis.

St. Louis, July 27.—Three members of the Third regiment, Missouri national guard, were killed and a dozen others were injured, some of them seriously, by a bolt of lightning during a storm which swept Camp Martin, St. Louis county, early today. The dead are H. S. Davis, sergeant; Dwight L. Trump, private; Charles B. Carroll, private. Among those injured were Sergeant Jack Allen and Corporal Dunsforth. They were revived by means of pulmotors and are thought to be practically out of danger. The other injured men were severely burned.

The soldiers were asleep in the guard tent at the main entrance to the camp when the storm broke. The tent collapsed and the injured and dead were carried to the hospital tent, where efforts were made to revive them.

Many other tents about the camp were set afire by lightning but the occupants escaped serious injury. The work of rescue was hindered by numerous electric wires which were blown down. The fires were extinguished quickly and the damage is not thought to be heavy.

FORMER LOCAL MAN DIES IN TOLEDO, O.

Thomas E. Pauley, 49, Lived Here Until Two Years Ago.

Thomas Edward Pauley, age 48, died at Toledo, Ohio, Thursday. Death was due to acute pneumonia.

The deceased had resided in Fort Wayne until two years ago, when he went to Toledo to accept a position with the Wyllie-Cleveland company as a machinist. While in this city he was employed as a machinist with the Pennsylvania company. He was born May 17, 1868, in County Cork, Ireland, and came to America with his parents in 1882, coming almost directly to Fort Wayne. He was taken sick twelve days ago. He was a member of the Catholic chapel parish, of Toledo, Ohio, and of the Holy Name society of that church.

Surviving relatives are the wife, three sons, Maurice, Howard and George; two sisters, Mrs. Edgar G. Olds and Miss Mary Pauley; four brothers, John J., Edward J., James J. and Eugene J. Pauley, all of this city. The remains reached this city at 10:30 Friday morning and were taken to the Getz & Cahill parlors. They will be removed to the home of the brother, Edward J. Pauley, 214 Dawson street, where funeral services will be held Saturday morning at 8:30, followed by services at 9 o'clock at the St. Patrick's Catholic church. Interment in the Catholic cemetery.

FUNERAL ANNOUNCEMENTS.

Masters.—Funeral services for Amanda Masters will be held Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock at 2809 Fox avenue and at 2:30 at the Wayne Street M. E. church. Interment in Lindenwood.

Meyer.—Funeral services for Arnold Meyer will be held Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock at 1828 Gay street and at 2:30 at the Zion Lutheran church. Interment in Concordia cemetery.

Fry.—Funeral services for Absalon Fry will be held at the home of the daughter, Mrs. Wm. Stieling, New Haven, at 2 o'clock (sundown), Saturday afternoon, and at 2:30 at the St. John Lutheran church. Interment in L. O. F. cemetery, near New Haven.

Rev. S. T. Hossold will conduct the German service and Rev. H. Kohlmeier the English.

COULD PLACE JUST AGAIN AS MANY MEN

Fred C. Schmeling, head of the Fort Wayne branch of the Free Employment Bureau, stated that he could place just as many men at work as there would be unemployed. During the past week 143 men and four women were given employment through this medium.

They were listed as follows: One bookkeeper, one boy, one driver, one farm hands, two firemen, one janitor, 125 laborers, one machinist, one watchman, one dishwasher, two laundresses and one waitress.

Grasshoppers have been found at 1,000 miles from any land.

SAY CITY IS A LIVE ONE

Visiting Meat Cutters Get Good Impression of Fort Wayne Thursday.

Read and Adopt Resolutions at the Friday Morning Session.

That Fort Wayne will be well advertised all over the country upon the conclusion of the general international convention of Amalgamated Meat Cutters and Butcher Workmen is assured by the visiting delegates who received a wonderful impression of the city on the auto sight-seeing trip Thursday afternoon.

Visiting delegates declare that their conception that Fort Wayne was a small town has been greatly changed since the trip. They were astounded at the wonderful and beautiful residential districts and prosperous manufacturing places.

Many of the butchers witnessed with amazement the transformation of the unsanitary products which they call waste into a sanitary product for the public. This was seen at the soap works which they visited.

All the visiting men are enthusiastic in their praise of the members of the Fort Wayne local entertaining committee, and state that not enough credit can be given them.

The men stated that they had a delightful time at the banquet given them at the Anthony hotel Thursday evening. Addresses were given by President J. F. Hart, Utica, N. Y.; A. F. of L. Organizer Flood; Brother Remison, New York city; Fred L. Schmidt, St. Louis; Emnis Lane, Chicago; M. Gruenbo, San Francisco; Organizer B. Modest, San Francisco; H. F. Schwartz, Fort Wayne; Mr. Siegel, Detroit; Brother Guest, Cambridge; Mr. Hoffman, Seattle, and Mr. Sulzer, Tacoma.

A comedy sketch given by Schmidt and McGraw was also well received and greatly enjoyed. The Garcia Four sang for the delegates and they were repeatedly called back for more.

Prizes were awarded for the tallest, shortest, fattest, leanest, jolliest and most grumpy delegate respectively, as follows: Philip Martin, St. Louis; T. E. Balls, St. Joe, Mo.; Fred Schmidt, St. Louis; Mr. Kelley, Yonkers, N. Y.; Dennis Lane, Chicago, and J. Kennedy, New York city.

The morning session Friday was devoted to the reading and adoption of resolutions. It is stated that the convention will probably not adjourn until next Wednesday or Thursday.

The ladies who are attending the convention are the wives of A. H. Pike, San Jose, Cal.; C. Mueller, Peoria, Ill.; and the niece of Delegate H. Barr, Boston, Mass. They also enjoyed the auto sight-seeing trip and were special guests at the banquet Thursday evening.

MANY OUTSIDE ELKS TO ATTEND PICNIC

Defiance Sends Delegation of 125 for Outing Sunday.

Many outside Elks are coming to this city for the picnic and outing to be held at Elks' Country club Sunday. Special cars are coming in from many surrounding towns. Defiance, Ohio, will send a delegation of 125 members, with a band of twenty-eight pieces. Hartford City will also be represented by a large delegation. Over 1,000 are expected to attend the picnic.

The committee making the arrangements has a fine program for the day and prizes are to be given for the largest attendance.

Social for Red Cross. Knights of Pythias will give an ice cream social at Swinney park Friday evening for the benefit of the Red Cross. Twenty-five Red Cross girls will wait on the tables and the grounds will be illuminated with brilliant lights.

Pedro Party. Columbia Court of Honor, No. 242, will hold a public Pedro party Friday evening in the Lau building.

ARRIVES HOME FROM FRANCE

Tells of His Trip to War-Stricken Country.

SAYS PEOPLE SEEM TO BE CONFIDENT

German Prisoners Are Given Employment at Three Cents a Day.

(Special to The Sentinel.) Columbia City, Ind., July 27.—Only seven young men of the United States will have the distinction of having gone as members of Pershing's division to France, and been sent back to America without having seen active service in the European trenches. One of these seven is James Washburn, aged 16 years, son of Mr. and Mrs. John L. Washburn, of Columbia City, who arrived home Thursday evening.

Private Washburn received his discharge early in June, before sailing with the Eighteenth infantry, United States regulars, for France, but he was compelled by military rules to accompany his division to France. He and the six other men returned to America on an empty transport, landing at an Atlantic seaport Tuesday. Young Washburn's discharge was obtained because of the fact he is under the age limit.

Last December Washburn endeavored to enlist in the military service at Fort Wayne. Finding himself a half-inch below the required height (he now measures 5 feet 5 1/2 inches, having grown two inches in stature), and also deficient in weight, weighing at that time only 109 pounds, he drank enough water to bring him well within the weight limit, told the recruiting officer he was 18 years of age and thus passed examination successfully and was sent to Columbus barracks, Ohio.

From there he went to Fort Bliss, Texas, staying there a month, and later was sent to Douglas, Ariz., where he remained until sent with the Eighteenth infantry to an eastern seaport. Meanwhile efforts were being made to obtain his discharge on account of the fact he was too young. The facts concerning his correct age were submitted to the war department, and his discharge was issued several days before he set sail for France.

Washburn, on his return trip home, worked in the crew's nest of the transport. His was the same company in which a western woman was found disguised as a soldier, endeavoring to accompany her officer-husband to France, and who was lately sent back to America.

Washburn's division was sent to a point in France 150 miles from the firing line, near a town 1,000 years old. He saw several German prisoners, working for 3 cents daily, a French guard for every 36 Teutons. The Germans seemed happy over their lot.

Washburn stated that he knows of only one time when a submarine was encountered during the trip of the troop ship across the Atlantic, and that he does not know whether it was sunk. Concerning the reported attack of July 3, when several torpedoes were said to have been fired at the American transport, Mr. Washburn seems to be of the opinion that such an occurrence never happened.

Conceal, he says, news of this sort would have traveled rapidly through the various companies of the division, after landing in France.

Upon landing at France thousands of French damsels were waiting at the landing piers and each American soldier walked from the pier escorted by French girls on either side.

Concerning the danger of American transports being sunk by German U-boats, Mr. Washburn stated that he would, without fear, cross the water again, and that such provision for the safe-guarding of army transports has been provided that there is practically small probability of any transports being sunk.

While at the mobilization center in France, Mr. Washburn stated he saw one French airplane flying 4,000 feet overhead. It was constructed of aluminum and shone so brilliantly in the sunlight that it would have made nothing more than a deceiving target for an enemy anti-aircraft gun.

Where Mr. Washburn was located in France there is but little indication of war. The people bear an attitude of cheerfulness and nonchalance and even seem to be happy. Mr. Washburn very much regretted to leave his comrades and it was a sad parting when the seven young men returned to America bade their soldier-friends good bye.

Mr. Washburn now weighs over 135 pounds and is in excellent health and spirits. Concerning the probable length of the war, or the present situation, Mr. Washburn has nothing to offer.

LEAD COUNTRY DURING JUNE

Fort Wayne District Ahead of All Others by 34 Points.

RECRUITING KEEPS ON WITH FERVOR

Seventy-Five More Men Will Be Sent Away Friday Evening.

Fort Wayne remains at the top of the nation's ladder in the number of recruits.

This district, in charge of Captain T. L. Ryan, U. S. A., led all other districts in the country during June, ending the month by being thirty-four points ahead of its nearest competitor.

The other districts as they appear in order in the rating sheet received Friday by Captain Ryan are: Portland, Ore.; Salt Lake City; Detroit, San Francisco; Harrisburg; Spokane and Wichita. These are the only districts in the country which have recruited more than their quota.

Seventy-five more men were to be sent away from Fort Wayne Friday night to Fort Thomas, Ky., and Fort Benjamin Harrison. Thursday one hundred were sent away.

Widow Gives Only Son. The regular army recruiting station was the setting of a sorrowful scene late Thursday afternoon when a widowed mother came to Captain Ryan and asked whether her only son, who was her sole support, could not be restored to her. The boy had enlisted and Captain Ryan began to write a personal letter to the war department asking for his release.

The captain then asked whether this was being done with the boy's consent and the mother answered "No." After a prolonged silence the mother said: "I have no right to stand in the way and tell him to go. This war is bigger than any claim I can make. The country needs him and I guess I can get along some way. We are all being called on to make a sacrifice and I will give my boy, who is all I have." None of the recruiting officers made a reply for they were choking back tears. A warm handshake in parting, however, expressed Captain Ryan's reverence for this little mother.

Many Were Examined. Applicants for the second training camp of the officers reserve corps to the number of 247 were examined by the army officers in Fort Wayne. The rejections were small, but it is said that only a few of these men will be called at first.

Non-Com Schools. Capt. Sol A. Carter, who has been detailed to Fort Wayne to aid in perfecting the organization of Battery B, is holding a non-commissioned officers' school every evening. Instead of drilling the men on the streets Thursday night a blackboard talk was given which the men were greatly interested in.

Lieutenant Haworth, the examining officer, will remain in Fort Wayne until Saturday night and anyone who has enlisted and has not been examined must report before that time. Any other person who is entertaining thoughts of enlisting in this organization is asked to do so before the lieutenant's departure as this may be the last opportunity before the numbers for the draft are selected.

Not Battery B. Officers of Battery B state that the story carried in a morning paper relative to the changes of commissioned officers in the Indiana Field Artillery regiment did not affect Battery B as stated, but affected Battery D, Fort Wayne's other artillery unit.

Battery D, now stationed at Fort Harrison, has but one Fort Wayne man in its list of commissioned officers, Lieut. Luther Mertz, of West Creighton avenue.

Battery B, the second artillery contingent now awaiting orders here, is officered entirely by men from this city, and no changes are contemplated, as is evidenced by the fact that commissions were issued to all of them some time ago from the adjutant general's office. Capt. Harry Clark, who will command the new battery, was connected with Battery B for thirteen years, eight of them as captain, retiring in 1913 upon his transfer to Cleveland in the claim department of the Pennsylvania company, which position he held in this city for a number of years. He is known as one of the most efficient artillery officers in the state and while he was in command of the local outfit that had been retained in efficiency in the history of its twenty-seven years' existence.

Junior First Lieut. Leonard F. Wood is a Pennsylvania engineer, residing on East Woodland avenue, and served as a lieutenant in the Huntington company of the One Hundred and Sixtieth Indiana Infantry in the war with Spain, being in service in Cuba for over one year.

He was connected with Battery B for eleven years, mostly as a commissioned officer, retiring as captain in 1914 upon a transfer of the battery to Purdue university. Junior First Lieut. Lee Hensley is from the regular army, having served for over thirteen years in the artillery branch, practically all of his enlistment being as a non-commissioned officer of the Sixth Field Artillery. He served with his organization in the Philippines and is held in high regard as one of the best officers of the regiment. When the border trouble came up last summer Mr. Hensley was on duty as an instructor for the battery units of Indiana. On the request of the members of Battery D, of this city, he was transferred from the regular army to accept a commission with that outfit and served with them on border duty. Upon the organization of the new unit he transferred and was chosen as junior first lieutenant.

Senior Second Lieut. Ferd L. Scheffer has also had over ten years military experience, having been a non-commissioned officer of the old battery in this city. Upon the organization of an artillery unit in this city for border service he enlisted and served with Battery D as ranking duty sergeant during its entire tour. A portion of his enlistment was served as chief clerk of the camp at Llano Grande, in the office of Gen. E. B. Lewis, in command of the Thirtieth provisional division. He, too, transferred to the new organization and has been prominent in the recruiting work. Prior to his enlistment Mr. Scheffer was in the offices of the Nickel Plate Railway company in this city.

Junior Second Lieut. Henry C. Moriarity has been connected with the local artillery units since their reorganization after the war with Spain. He served in the Twenty-eighth Indiana battery during that war and was a member of Battery B for thirteen years, eight of them as senior first lieutenant, retiring in 1913. He assisted to organize Battery D in this city last summer and served on the border with that unit as senior first lieutenant. Upon the organization of the new battery Mr. Moriarity waived rank and accepted the post of second lieutenant in the organization. He is employed in the sales department of the Northern Indiana Gas and Electric Co.

Leave Donations at Bank. It has been requested that all donations for Battery B be left at the First National bank as no donations can be accepted at the recruiting desk or by officers.

DEATH RESULTS FROM THREE YEARS SICKNESS

Byron Strawn, jr., Overcome by Heat Three Years Ago.

Byron Scott Strawn, age 19 years, died at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Byron Strawn, 1250 Organ avenue, Thursday afternoon at 4:30 o'clock. The young man had been ailing for three years, the sickness being caused when he was overcome by heat three years ago. The condition of the young man had grown steadily worse for three years, although all efforts had been made to restore him to health.

The deceased lost the sight of his eyes two years ago as a result of his sickness. He was a member of the Southside Baptist church and of the Ben Hur lodge, No. 15.

Funeral services Sunday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock at the residence, Rev. M. C. Tunison officiating. Interment in Lindenwood.

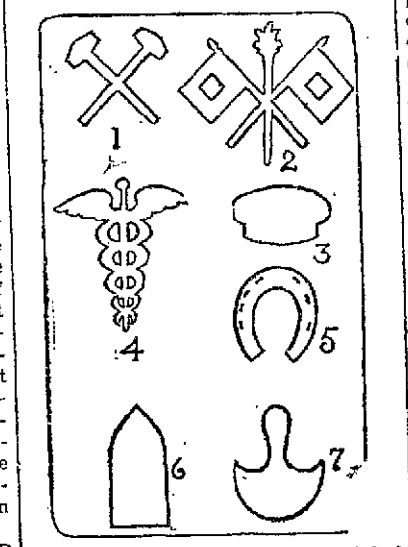

MASHER IS FOLLOWED BY CLAMORING CROWD

He who mashes and runs away may be able to ply his wiles again.

So believed the young man who accosted Mrs. Bert Wilson, 709 Harrison street, on Thursday evening. The fellow spoke to Mrs. Wilson when she was gazing into the window of one of the ten cent stores and when her husband had moved on down the street. Mrs. Wilson attempted to strike the man with her umbrella. The youth menaced her with a knife.

Many citizens had witnessed the commotion. Patrolman Euber hastened towards the scene. The masher fled. Citizens pursued him. The fleeing youth dashed up the steps of the rooming house at 112 West Main street. He ran to the hall and rushed down the steps of the fire escape at his rear. He lost himself in the night.

Here's How to Tell Army Cook on Sight

1. Can you recognize a chef on sight? You can if he is an army cook in uniform, and you use this diagram. Special duty men among the Sammis wear appropriate devices on their sleeves—the cook a cook's cap, the horseshoer a horseshoe, etc.
 - (1) Mechanic and artificer.
 - (2) Signal company, first-class private.
 - (3) Cook.
 - (4) Hospital company, first-class private.
 - (5) Horseshoer.
 - (6) Second-class gunner.
 - (7) Saddler.
- Most army cooks prefer the kerensese stoves to those burning wood.

HAD STOLEN THOUSANDS

Trusted Messengers for Adams Express Co. Under Arrest.

Local Men Had Worked on Road for Several Years.

Five trusted messengers of the Adams Express company are in jail under heavy bond, charged with stealing valuables which had been placed in charge of the company. The men are believed to be a part of an organized band which has been robbing the company for years. More arrests will follow.

The men being held are: R. C. Maurer, 915 Barr street, fifteen years a messenger for the Adams Express company. He is held under $1,500 bond, charged with grand larceny.

H. D. Korte, who lives on the New Haven road, employed by the express company for the past five years. He is charged with grand larceny and is under $1,500 bond.

W. L. Magner, of Van Wert, O. Had worked for the company two years. He is under $1,000 bond on a petit larceny charge.

Floyd Schnitz, 111 Masterson avenue, and R. F. Borum, 829 East Washington street, are each under $500 bond on petit larceny charges.

Directors of the Adams Express company state that the company has paid out $70,000 for loss of goods in the territory between Pittsburg and Chicago in the past four years.

Much Loot Recovered. The five messengers were arrested Thursday afternoon at 3 o'clock when they alighted from their runs on Pennsylvania express trains. Their homes were searched by the Chicago detectives who were in charge of the case, and Sheriff Gille.

From Maurer's home on Barr street was recovered many silk dresses, silk shirts, a diamond valued at $150, a gold Masonic ring, many valuable stick pins, a typewriter, shoes and pictures. Three large baskets full of loot were carried from the Maurer home.

From Korte's house were taken two baskets full of express goods—Silks made up much of the valuables taken from the house on the New Haven road. Women's silk undergarments, silk hose and silk skirts constituted the bulk of the property. There was also a rifle, several bottles of imported whiskey and an overcoat.

Boehm and Schnitz did not have as much of the goods collected in their homes. Silk ties, shirts, fish lines, combs, brushes and other articles were found in their houses. The home of the Van Wert man has not yet been searched.

Detective H. J. Biderman, of Chicago, chief special agent of the Adams Express company, who signed the affidavits against the men, stated that all property to be retained at this time is worth $2,500.

Maurer has signed a statement admitting that he has taken $500 worth of goods. Boehm admits taking $25 worth of property. Korte signs for $80; Magner, $25; and Schnitz, $25.

The men did not enter a plea in police court, Friday morning. They will have a further hearing on next Wednesday. They are represented by Attorney Frank H. Klekamp.

The messengers now in jail are expected to be joined by other Adams Express company workmen before Friday morning as more arrests are booked.

Detectives Long at Work. The arrests of Thursday afternoon came at the end of a half year of diligent labor on the part of Chicago detectives. H. J. Biderman, and Captain Henry C. Stoll, of the Pennsylvania. The men were called into action after the express company had paid $600,000 in losses last year. The detectives went to work on the theory that employees were taking the money. They did not spring their trap until every clue had been run down and much evidence obtained.

Sheriff Gille and two Pennsylvania railroad detectives were called Thursday afternoon when work of taking the express messengers in charge was about to be started. The men are all claimed to have admitted their guilt when taken by the officers. In their homes were found many articles which the detectives say can be easily identified as stolen property.

Mrs. R. F. Boehm was prostrated when the officers told her that her husband had been stealing from the express company. She believed that he had bought the pretty things he gave her, the woman said.

Mrs. Maurer admitted that she knew her husband had been taking articles from the train.

"Why don't the express company pay a living wage if they do not want their men to steal from them?" Mrs. Maurer is said to have told the officers. Magner and Korte are also married men. It is thought that their wives knew of their exploits.

GIVES HER CHILDREN AWAY. Chicago, July 27.—Mrs. Mary Halady has only two children today. Yesterday she had eight. After years of poverty and hard work, Mrs. Halady, whose husband deserted her, finally acknowledged that she could not combat the rising cost of living and inserted an advertisement in a foreign language paper asking that six of the children be adopted and given homes, leaving Mrs. Halady only a son 16 years old and a daughter 14 years.

ANNOUNCES MARRIAGE TO FRIENDS AT PARTY

Arthur Baron and Miss Marie Fulmer United in Wedlock on May 26.

(Special to The Sentinel.)

Columbia City, Ind., July 27.--At a party given to forty friends at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George Baron, of Thornes Creek township, Wednesday evening, their son, Arthur Baron, announcing he had been wedded May 26, at Cassopolis, Mich., to Miss Marie, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Fulmer, of Thornes Creek township. After the ceremony the groom went to Indianapolis to complete his studies in a motor school, and the bride returned to the home of her parents. Tuesday the newlyweds came to the home of the groom's parents, where they will reside temporarily. The groom taught school two years in the county, but is undecided as to whether he will continue in that capacity, or follow farming.

Columbia City Short Notes.
Mrs. Ervin Hartman, of south Columbia township, underwent an operation for pelvic trouble Wednesday afternoon at the Lutheran hospital in Fort Wayne.

Mrs. Nancy J. Ohmart suffered a light stroke of paralysis, Wednesday evening, at her home south of the city. The members of the Presbyterian Brotherhood motored to the home of M. L. Galbreath, just north of Collierville, Wednesday evening, to tender a surprise to the past president of the organization. Mr. Galbreath was presented with an elegant past president's gold-studded button.

Dr. Kigin, Purdue veterinary expert, and B. L. Hummel, county agent, addressed the meeting of the Jefferson township anti-cholera association.

Remove Those Hairs Roots and All (Absolutely New Method).

The new way to remove disfiguring growths of superfluous hair, roots and all, will astonish and delight you. You never saw or heard of anything like it before. It is not a depilatory and not electrical. You simply get a stick of phenacine from your druggist and follow the simple directions at home. In a few seconds you have removed the offending hairs, roots and all. With your own eyes you see the roots come right out. Phenacine is absolutely harmless, non-poisonous and perfectly odorless. Satisfaction guaranteed or money refunded.--Advertisement.

Wednesday evening, in the center school, at which time a resolution was adopted, asking that the office of the county agent be established on the first floor, instead of the third floor of the court house in Columbia City. By-laws, and the constitution were adopted.

SEVEN IN AN AUTO WHICH TURNS TURTLE

Six Are Nursing Wounds While Little Babe Escapes Unhurt.

Seven passengers were in a big touring car that turned turtle after leaving the Lincoln highway pavement near the Four-Mile house Wednesday evening. Three women were pinned beneath the car. Six of the passengers are nursing wounds, while a four-weeks-old babe escaped without a scratch.

The occupants of the car were Mr. and Mrs. Frank Tieman, Mrs. Fred Tieman and sons, Archie, aged ten years, and Ed, aged four weeks. Miss Laura Smith and Mrs. A. H. Smith. The Tiemans were visiting at the Smith home on Broadway when the suggestion was made that an automobile spin be taken on the highway.

When the car approached the turn at the roadhouse it left the road and turned over. The little babe was thrown from the mother's arm to a patch of grass along the roadside and was unhurt. The other occupants of the car were bruised and cut by glass. Their injuries are not thought to be serious.

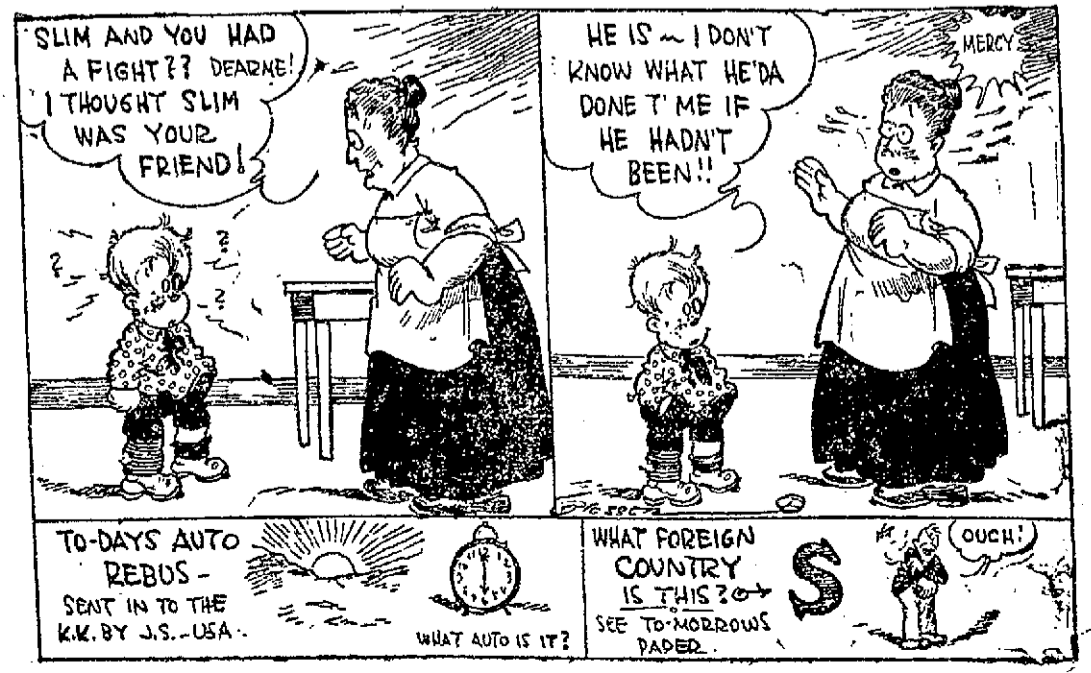

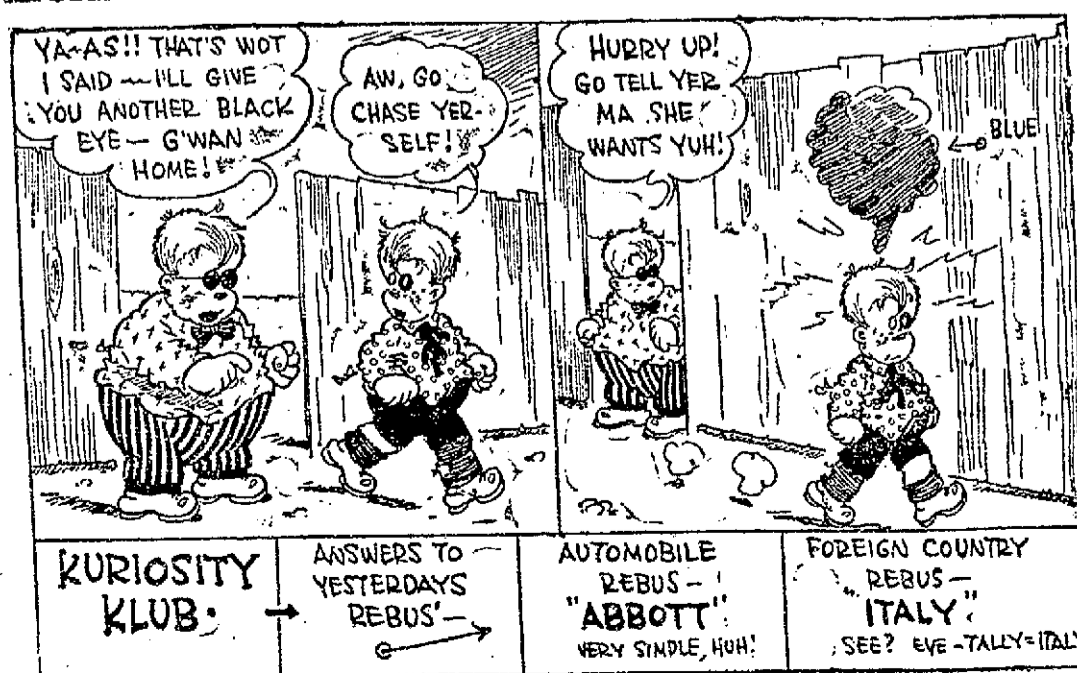

WANTED TO BE A WAR BRIDE.

South Bend, Ind., July 27.--"I'd rather be a war bride than a broken-hearted sweetheart," was the declaration of pretty Clara Krueger, of Blue Island, Ill., now Mrs. Louis H. Robertson, of that city, following her marriage here yesterday. Called into service with the engineers, Robertson asked his fiancée what they should do about it. "Get married, of course," she replied, and the honeymoon followed.

FRECKLES AND HIS FRIENDS

Tan, Red or Freckled Skin is Easily Shed

To free our summer-solled skin of its muddiness, freckles, blotches or tan, the best thing to do is to free yourself of the skin itself. This is easily accomplished by the use of ordinary mercuric ointment, which can be had at any druggist. Use it at night as you see cold cream. Wash it off in the morning. Immediately the offending surface-skin begins to come off in fine powder-like particles. Gradually the entire cuticle is absorbed, without pain or inconvenience. The second layer of skin now in evidence presents a spotless whiteness and sparkling beauty obtainable in no other way.

If the heat tends to loosen and wrinkle your skin, there's an effective and harmless remedy you can readily make at home. Just let an ounce of powdered exfoliate dissolve in a half-pint which hazel and bathe your face in the liquid. This at once tightens the skin and smooths out the lines, making you look years younger.--Advertisement.

HANDMAIDS OPEN RETREAT SATURDAY

Ten Day Period to Be Conducted by Rev. William Gelsdorf.

The annual retreat of the Poor Handmaids of Jesus Christ will open Saturday at the St. Joseph hospital, the provincial mother-house of the community. The retreat will be conducted by the Rev. William Gelsdorf, O. M. I., a missionary in the Order of the Oblates of Mary Immaculate, from Cornell, Wis. The retreat will continue for a period of ten days.

The retreats precedes the semi-annual reception and investiture of novices and the making of perpetual vows, on August 5, at which Rev. Bishop Alerdig will officiate.

SERVICE FOR MEN.

Rev. A. G. Neal to Preach on Subject of "A Man of God."

Rev. A. G. Neal will preach a sermon especially for the men at the First Methodist Episcopal church next Sunday morning at 10:30 o'clock. He has selected for his subject "A Man of God." All the men in the congregation will occupy seats together in the middle section of the auditorium. The ushering and the taking of the offering will be looked after by the women. A large chorus choir will furnish music.

Coffee tastes differ greatly. Consider for a moment how much they differ! Some folks take cream in their coffee. Others prefer only sugar. Some take both; others like neither. It stands to reason that with all these different coffee tastes, no one blend will suit everyone. The problem is to suit the taste of the majority exactly. And now the problem is more than solved—for

Mirl Robbins Files Suit for Divorce in DeKalb Circuit Court.

(Special to The Sentinel.) Auburn, Ind., July 27.—Mirl Robbins, of this city, is asking the court for a divorce from his wife, Mary Robbins. His charge against the defendant is cruel and inhuman treatment. They were married in September, 1915, and separated July 1917. Two children were born to them, one 16 months old and one 3 months old. The husband is but 20 years old. He states that his wife repeatedly asked him to get a divorce as she was tired of him. Robbins will be remembered as the young motorcyclist who figured in an accident on the Garrett-Auburn road two years ago, when he, with a companion, ran into a light wagon, killing some of the occupants. A charge of manslaughter was filed against him at the time.

Auburn Short Notes.
Mr. and Mrs. Burton Dillworth, of Washington street, received word yesterday of the marriage of their daughter, Mrs. Lillian Rogers, and Charles Bechtel, of Preston, Ohio. Their marriage occurred at Hillsdale and they will make their home at Preston.

Dr. J. W. Squires, of Fort Wayne, was in this city Tuesday attending the funeral of his cousin, Mrs. Marian Askey, which was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Fanning.

Owing to the fact that he was within the age limit for conscription, County Clerk Walter W. Mountz received word from State Conscription Agent

WHERE TO SPEND YOUR VACATION.

On the Farm.
The first couple of days of your vacation on the farm will be very lovely and the remaining 12 days will be lovely thinking of how great it will be to get back to the city.
The first night, sitting on the porch looking out into the darkness, listening to the concert rendered by a million and three crickets without any intermission, a dog barking five miles away and the occasional moo and lick that comes from the cow shed, you'll say, "Yes, but this is the life!"
The next night you'll inquire if there's a movie to go to and being informed it's eight and a half miles away and only open on Saturday nights your edge of being on the farm will begin to wear.
Oh well we could write a volume about the farm, but we don't want to spoil your vacation.

There are 139,955 motor cars in Kansas.

SOME ACTION PICTURES SHOWING THE I. W. W. STRIKE TROUBLES THAT STIRRED UP ARIZONA

General view of refugee camp at Columbus, N. M., where 1,164 men, deported from Arizona, are being cared for by U. S. troops in command of Colonel H. G. Sickel. About 50 per cent of the exiles are Americans. The foreigners are Servians, Italians, Mexicans, Austrians, Englishmen and a few Germans. Servians and Servian sympathizers are in the majority among the foreigners, according to Ben Webb, chairman of the strike committee. Many of the men had been without food for 52 hours when they reached Columbus. About 400 are registered for the draft and many have bought Liberty bonds and aided the Red Cross fund. Twenty of the men are business men from Bisbee.

On Outpost Duty—Citizen deputies armed with rifles are shown waiting at Osborn, Ariz., eight miles from Bisbee, ready to stop any strikers or I. W. W. men attempting to return to Bisbee.

Running the Gauntlet at Jerome—Strikers at Jerome, Ariz., another town in the trouble zone, are shown marching through a lane of guards armed with pick handles. The men were first jailed and then deported from the town.

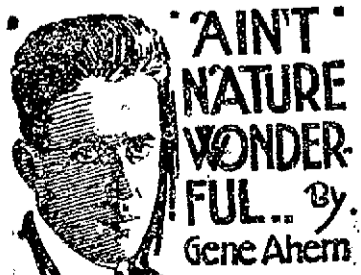

CHICAGO SWITCHMEN READY FOR A STRIKE

Twenty-Five Hundred Will Go Out Saturday if Demands Fail.

Chicago, July 27.—Two thousand five hundred railroad switchmen employed in Chicago terminals, are expected to strike at 6 o'clock tomorrow morning, according to an announcement made today by Frank Hasler, of the "general managers' conference committee." The railroad officials said the strike probably would tie up considerable government transportation and explained that it resulted from demands of the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen for a close shop. James Murock, vice president of the brotherhood, and who is in charge of the union interests in the controversy, said the reason assigned by the railroad officials for the strike was "absolutely and unqualifiedly false and on a par with many other statements coming from that source."

"The strike results from the failure of the roads to concede certain reasonable rules affecting working conditions," he said.

MODERN FABLE. Here's a mouthful taken from old boy Aesop's fables: "The Image-Seller." Maybe you've heard it, maybe you haven't. Anyhow, we'll make it read nineteen seventeenth.

Once there was a fella who wanted to make a lot of kake, but the gelt didn't show up with much speed, so he got busy and wrote some books on "How to Make $100,000 a Year," etc.

KNOWN IN SOUTH BEND.

South Bend, Ind., July 27.—Daniel Wallace was arrested in this city two months ago. He was held up on the request of Hinton J. Clabaugh, government agent of Chicago, pending Wallace's removal to Chicago. Habeas corpus proceedings were instituted by the Humanity League of Chicago, and Clabaugh finally instructed the local authorities to release him. Wallace then went to Chicago, but before leaving South Bend stated that he would work to encourage enlistments in the United States army.

During the rest of July and all of August the city light offices will be closed Saturday nights at 6 o'clock instead of 9 o'clock.

KANSAS CORN DETERIORATES.

Topeka, Kan., July 27.—The general condition of Kansas corn based on 100 as representing satisfactory growth and development, is 51.4, or a decline of 27 points since the June report, according to the July report of crop conditions in the state, issued here this morning by J. G. Mohler, secretary of the state board of agriculture.

Drive Before Homes.

A delegation of Holton avenue citizens appeared before the board of works, Thursday night and clamored for immediate action in paving the street before their homes, and the laying of sidewalks. When half of the visiting party had spoken the board members interposed the promise that work of placing the improvement would start soon. The pavement and walks for the region south of Eckart street will be installed before cold weather, it was promised.

The board approved the assessment roll for the laying of a sewer in the S. P. Run district. The big drain will serve all that section west of the Joe river, north of the St. Mary's river and east of the New York Central railroad tracks.

Other assessment rolls confirmed by the board were for paving Fox avenue from Taylor street to Home avenue; sewers 156 feet south of Maumee avenue; from Warren street to Summer street; across lots 9, 12, 13 and 16, in Hough's outlot; between Fairfield and Arlington avenues, from the alley south of the avenue to its southern terminus; vacating Fisher street from Bowser avenue to Holton avenue; Archer street from the alley west of Bowser avenue to Holton avenue; Bond avenue, from Organ avenue to the southern terminus of Bond avenue; first alley east of Fairfield, from Organ avenue to its southern terminus; and that portion of Jackson street, from the northwest corner of lot 2, in Chapman's addition, to the northeast corner of lot 5, in Ayers addition.

Plans and estimates for the building of a subway beneath the Lake Shore tracks at Sherman street were before the board. As the law allows thirty days for the preparation of the plans, no action was taken but as soon as they are officially presented a date will be set for a hearing on the grades to be established.

DISMISS CHARGE

Health Board Withdraws Charge
When Work Is Promised.

Health officers withdrew their charges of allowing unsanitary conditions, which had been preferred against August Pulse, who owns property at 1323 Erie street, when the defendant agreed to take action at once. The case was to have been tried in the city court Friday morning. Pulse was charged with neglecting to clean his cellar and delaying in installing a sanitary toilet. He showed health men that he was prepared to have the work carried on at once.

Case of Diphtheria.
Audra Tisworth, 810 Wagner street, aged 10, suffers from an attack of diphtheria, the health board has been notified.

Building Permits.
Building permits were issued to Weinman and Harrod, to build a residence at 2107 Crescent avenue, $5,000, and Joseph McCarthy, to build addition to house, 1117 Edsall avenue, $500.

HOW IT FEELS TO DROP A MILE OR TWO FROM SKY AS A MATTER OF FACT YOU DO NOT FEEL AT ALL

"I Have No Sensation When
in the Air," Says Dare-
devil of Flying World,
Who Does Many a Crazy
Trick in the Clouds.

(King of Daredevil Flyers.)
I am a birdman, skilled in the craft of flying, gambling with death because it's my profession. It's the only trade I know. I put my skill as a stunt aviator against the call of the Great Reaper. If I lose—but I won't lose, I can't—the cards are not stacked that way.

My sensations while flying? As a matter of fact, I'm not supposed to have any. Lack of sensation, lack of fear; the possession of confidence, knowledge of flying and the ability to keep one's head—these are the qualifications essential to the aerial trickster.

To be adept, a flyer must lose any sensation which might induce fear. He must cultivate bird sense. If he does not he will lack the ability to feel his equilibrium; he will not have that supernatural sense of balance which is indispensable.

The lure of the air grips me, the adventure, the sporting elements involved. I love the game. I do not feel the gambler, I feel I am master of the air. I loop, I bank, I dip, I climb, and all the time the motor beats its deafening din in my ears, and the whistle of the wind in the wires tells me I'm conquering the bigness of space. It's great.

Come for a flight with me. I'm seated in my car. The propeller is spinning, the noise is deafening. I raise my hand, the machine is released, I'm off. I "grass-out" for a moment, but as the momentum grows, I pull back on my control and—mand of Archduke Joseph had retreated on the Rumanian front. The statement given out today by the German war office says that the Teutons left to the Rumanians the territory in the Snelitz valley as far as the upper course of the Putna river.

I glance down. The world is falling away. Faces are turned up. People wave. I know they cheer but they waste their breath for I cannot hear them. I have no sensation of rising. Instead, I feel as if the earth were going away from me.

CLOSE SHAVE FOR EMPEROR.

Amsterdam, July 27.—Emperor Charles, of Austria, had a narrow escape last week while visiting the battle front in Galicia, says the Wiener Allgemeine Zeitung. While the emperor was taking luncheon at a castle near the battle line Russian artillery shelled the dwelling. The emperor first refused to take cover and went on the balcony, but owing to the protestations of his staff he was finally induced to leave.

monarchical government "will be suppressed in the most determined and merciless way."

As an indication of the new policy and firm measures to be taken, Khrushchov received an ultimatum to hand over three of the nobles, the notorious Raschalsky, including the notorious Raschalsky, in case of a refusal the island will be declared blockaded.

The evening newspapers declare the position on the front is somewhat improved. As the evacuation of Tarnopol is considered to have been premature, Russian generals have been ordered to recapture the town.

The registration office on the second floor of the city building will be open every Saturday night from 7 to 9:30 o'clock until the office closes on the first Monday in October. Those wishing to take part in the city election are required to register.

TO EXTERMINATE BANDITS.

Mexico City, July 27.—General Salvador Alvarado, governor of Yucatan, who was called to the capital some time ago for a conference with President Carranza, has returned to Yucatan to assume full charge of military operations for the extermination of bandits in the states of Yucatan, Tabasco and Campeche. It was generally rumored when General Alvarado arrived here that he was to assume a place in Carranza's cabinet, but his departure seems to have put an end to such rumors.

ROBBERS SHOT WATCHMAN.

Richmond, Ind., July 27.—Two robbers caught in the act of trying to break into the safe in the office of the Standard Oil company here early today shot and wounded William Remmert, the watchman. Remmert stepped into the office while the men were at work. They fired at him immediately escaping after he fell. Remmert was shot in the left hand and left hip. According to G. E. Whitesell, district agent for the Standard Oil company, there was less than $100 in the safe.

Aviator Lawrence Brown, daredevil birdman, and picture of sky flare during illuminated flight in "Death Dive."

I climb in great swinging circles, as the buzzard flies. The earth falls farther below. At an altitude of 2,000 feet, "the safety zone," I start my stunts. I loop. Diving slightly, I pull backward, and steadily rise. Straight up I go, always pulling backward. First I am shooting perpendicularly upward; then slightly backward, and finally I am upside down. The world swims below me. My engine suddenly dies. I am at the pinnacle of my loop. It happens quickly. In a moment I'm diving downward and the whirl of my motor has cranked it again. The loop is ended.

The advantage of flying at a height of 2,000 feet lies in the fact that the flyer has sufficient air between him and the earth in which to right himself if he loses control. I have fallen as far as 600 feet before gaining control again. Every air pilot comes out of a fall with a nose dive. It is his only chance. This gives him speed, and speed means control in the air.

A man flies at night entirely through his sense of balance. He sees nothing.

Because of my spectacular "death dive," I am called the "human comet." I attach magnesium flares to the plane and shoot out of the heavens a lurid line of light. It was this dive that killed Beachy, and it was Beachy who christened the dive. It is well named.

This stunt is the most dangerous of all air tricks. The pilot does it at the risk of stopping his heart or bursting his car drums. The strain on his machine cannot be estimated. He shoots earthward at the rate of 200 miles an hour and the shriek of the wind in the wires of his plane can be heard several miles.

In this stunt a man experiences that sickly, sinking sensation which you get when an elevator drops suddenly. It's a great game, this flying; not a gamble so much as a battle between Fate and Skill.

GOVERNMENT OF RUSSIA HELPED BY THE LOSSES

Washington, July 27.—The Russian military reverses have enormously strengthened the hands of the government in Petrograd, according to a message from Ambassador Francis to the state department. They have shown the impossibility of control of the army by soldiers' committees, the ambassador reports, and have led to a universal demand for stronger discipline.

The ambassador reported that the military crisis at the front had caused the deepest alarm in Petrograd, not only as to a severe military disaster, but as to the achievements of revolution itself. All parties are united, he said, in urging the government to use any measures necessary to meet the situation.

CONGRESS TAKING BRIEF REST.

Washington, July 27.—The first brief respite in war legislation in several months was secured last night by the senate when it recessed until Monday. The house took a similar holiday, but both bodies faced important duties next week. The week-end rest for the senate was made possible by delay on the war tax bill and food control measure in committee. To secure the recess the senate remained in session until 7 o'clock last night and passed the rivers and harbors bill.

AGAIN FIGHTING IN CHINA.

Shanghai, China, July 27.—A correspondent of the North China Daily News reports that serious fighting has broken out again at Cheng-Tu, capital of the province of Szechuen, where Kwei Chow and Yuan-Van troops have resumed their quarrel for mastery of the province. The city is in flames and the people are fleeing in panic.

RELIEF FOR ASIA.

Washington, D. C., July 27.—For relief of civilian population, Christian and Moslem, in Asia Minor and adjoining countries, the Red Cross war council has appropriated $300,000 to be expended this month by the American committee for Armenian and Syrian relief and will make similar allowances monthly for the rest of the year. If the Turkish government does not hamper the committee's work seriously.

ANOTHER JUMP BRINGS CORN NEARER $2 MARK

Larger Supply of New Hay Received on Local Markets.

Corn took another jump on the local markets Friday morning, the top prices being paid at the city scales being $1.95 per bushel. Only three loads could be obtained at this price, however. One man who sold his grain at this price stated that he had been offered $2, but the distance which he would have to haul it prevented the sale. Thirteen loads of new hay appeared at the scales, selling at $12 and $13 a ton. Ten loads of the old hay brought $16 and $18. Six loads of oats brought 77c and 78c.

Wheat still remains steady at $2.32 per bushel. Potatoes refuse to decline, remaining at the old price of 45c per peck.

WALL STREET SAGS AND THEN REVERSES

Steels, Coppers, Oils and Specialties Lead in the Recoveries.

New York, July 27.—Except for industrial alcohol, which rose a point, changes at the opening of today's trading were limited to fractions, with an even distribution of gains and losses. St. Paul added to yesterday's belated recovery, but steels and equipments were higher and motors decidedly reactionary. Dealings were light and exceedingly narrow.

Prices sagged all around soon after the opening on further heaviness of motors and shippings, declines in these issues extending from 1 to 2 1/2 points. The market reversed its course before noon, however, on a fair inquiry for steels, coppers, oils and specialties, alcohol scoring an extreme advance of 3 points, but rails made little progress. Liberty bonds held at 99.40 to 99.44 and internationals were slightly lower.

WOHELO CAMP FIRE

GIRLS HAVE PICNIC

Day is Spent at Eckhardt Park in Auburn—Garrett News.

(Special to The Sentinel.)
Garrett, Ind., July 27.—The Wohele Campfire Girls enjoyed a picnic at the Eckhardt park at Auburn Friday. This is a new organization composed of girls from twelve to fourteen years of age. They have already enlisted in the Red Cross work and have offered their services to Mrs. J. W. Thompson, who has charge of the sewing. They will make the snip pillows for the soldiers and are planning to hold a "snip party" in a few days. Many people are not aware of what the snip pillows are made—the tiny scraps left in cutting out garments are cut up into tiny pieces and made into pillows. They will also make the needle cases for the comfort bags. Mrs. J. D. Jack is guardian of this enthusiastic bunch of girls.

Garrett Short Notes.
Mr. and Mrs. William Hazleton and son, Jack, and Mr. and Mrs. Perry Bunting, of Detroit, returned to their home yesterday after a ten days' visit with Mr. and Mrs. O. O. Clark. They motored through and were accompanied home by Miss Ethel Clark.

Mr. and Mrs. George Wilson are enjoying a week's outing at Lake Wawasee.

Miss Alma Elam is spending a ten days' vacation with friends at Lagrange. Miss Elam is a member of the 1915 graduating class of that city and will attend the class reunion to be held there this week.

Miss Margaret Spencer, of Albion, is spending the week-end with Mrs. F. M. McDonald.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Gordon have returned from a visit of two weeks with friends in Michigan.

Mrs. M. E. Kilgler is spending a week with friends at Cleveland and New Bedford, O.

Ernest Passel, one of the pioneer residents of this city, was taken to the German Methodist home at Quincy, Ill., yesterday, to make his future home. Mr. Passel is 73 years of age and has resided in Garrett forty-two years. Since the death of his wife two years ago he has lived alone. He was accompanied to Quincy by Attorney Fred L. Felch and sent word back to his friends that he was more than pleased with his new home.

Never before in the history of the copper industry has the increase in one year exceeded 150,000,000 pounds. The copper producers would seem to be assured of a gross business this year of at least $24,000,000, and this assumes an average price of only 25 cents a pound.

Proposed legislation affecting the industry.

No suggestions are offered in this report on profit-sharing, co-partnership or particular systems of wages. "We are convinced," says the report, "that a permanent improvement in the relations between employers and employees must be founded upon something other than a cash basis."

CITIZENS OF SAN FRANCISCO OPEN
THE TWO-MILE TWIN PEAKS TUNNEL

Mayor James Rolph, Jr., with hammon, and City Engineer M. M.
O'Donoghue, of San Francisco, Cal., driving silver spike in railway at recent ceremonies celebrating the opening of the Twin Peaks Tunnel, one of the biggest engineering projects ever completed by a western municipality.

The tunnel is 12,000 feet long, more than two miles, and was built at a cost of $4,250,000. Work began on the long bore in November, 1914. It will cut the time schedule from outlying districts into the city in half.

The Twin Peaks elevation had made a long detour necessary in city railways running to residence sections beyond. The tunnel will open up a new home district of 4,000 acres and connect a vast territory with rapid transit into the city.

SOME MATHEMATICIAN IS CITY JUDGE KERR

He Figures Away While
Pete Doenges is Relating Story.

Judge H. W. Kerr is good at juggling figures. He adds variance to the court session by mixing up his findings day by day.

When Peter Doenges, 58, 1214 Elm street, told that his wife accidentally fell down and hurt her face and that it was a mistake about him striking her with a mop handle, the judge figured steadily on. At the termination of the case Judge Kerr announced a finding of $175 fine and 180 days in jail. Clipping will show that the penalty is just $305, for $10 costs must be added to the penalty.

Mrs. Doenges presented a pitiful appearance when she took the stand in police court, Friday morning. Her face is discolored and badly swollen.
She told that her husband, who was intoxicated at the time, hit her with a mop handle when she told him to stay off the back porch, which she had just scrubbed, Thursday afternoon.
The woman was felled by the blow.
Neighbors called police.

Other Police Court Cases.

William J. McGowan, charged with jostling and who is believed to have stolen an electric iron, is held under $50 bond for trial on July 31.

Roy V. Harland, charged with passing a fraudulent check for $15 on a Michigan bank, was bound to the circuit court under $500 bond.

Louis Jelenka, a foreigner, who carried a sharpened knife in his hip pocket when arrested by Detective Sergeant Walter Emmel, Thursday night, was fined $10 and costs on a jostling charge.

Cases of public intoxication were:
John Taylor, fined $5 and costs; Jack Maloney, $1; Noah Dennis, $1.

See, Skinny! Nelson Gentes, that barber at Patterson-Fletcher's, certainly knows how to do the work.

EXPLORER M'MILLAN

WILL RETURN SOON

Arctic Wanderer Coming in September After Absence
of Four Years.

London, July 27.—Donald MacMillan, the arctic explorer, who has been in the polar country for the past four years, expects to return home by September 15 next, according to a letter to P. F. Parker, of this city, manager of his personal affairs, made public today. The letter was dated at Etah on Nov. 6, last and is believed to be the first direct word from MacMillan this year although advices have been received indirectly.

"If our relief ship does not fail us a third time," the explorer writes, "I should reach home about September 15, 1917.

"Although I have had, or will have had four years in the arctic, yet I am not a bit tired of it, and have planned for further work.

"As you know we failed to find Crocker land. I am sorry for Peary who was, without a doubt sincere in his belief that it lay some 120 miles due northwest of Cape Thomas Hubbard; we went 161 miles to make sure and then were rewarded with nothing but a clear horizon.

"Last year I reached my objective point, King Christian land, the Finland of some 60 years which has never been visited as far as I know. Returning, I headed for North Cornwall, which also has never been explored.

Enroute six new islands were discovered and many miles of coast line mapped. Incidentally we picked up about fifty muskoxen and twenty polar bears. Am now planning another long trip in the spring which when completed will net me about 3,000 miles of dog team work.

"We have enough food for the year, such as it is. Our supplies consist largely of beans, dehydrated vegetables, whole wheat biscuit and pemekim.
Walrus and seal meat are in cache and have on the hills. Ducks and doves will be back in May and then we shall be in the land of plenty again."

Old boys attention! You who are between 8 and 15 years and are particular about your hair cuts, come to our shop.

BRIDE DISGUISED AS SOLDIER GOES TO FRANCE
ARIZONA GIRL CROSSES OCEAN WITH HUSBAND

Mrs. Hazel Carter, 20, Real American Girl, is Crack Shot With Rifle and Has Hunted Big Game in Western Mountains—
Grandpap Sorry She Didn't Get a Chance to Shoot Germans.

(Staff Special.)

Douglas, Ariz., July 27.—Mrs. Hazel
Carter, 20-year-old bride, who disguised herself as a soldier and accompanied her husband, Corporal John Carter, across the Atlantic into France with Pershing's best, is a Douglas girl.
And Douglas is proud of her!

When she comes back home she'll be met by a guard of honor and a brass band. Already she is the heroine of the city and all the folks are smiling broadly over the clever way she foiled army officials and got over into France as a comrade of her husband.

Word flashed over the country the other day from "An Atlantic Port" that a girl had gone over with Persh-ing's boys.

The nation gasped—and then grinned.

Army men, although they recognized her bravery, decreed that she must return to the United States.

Mrs. Carter would like to stay and fight by the side of her husband, but, of course, Uncle Sam couldn't permit her to do that.

Now that she "has been discovered," it won't do any harm to tell how she accomplished her feat of crossing the ocean with an army of men.

Mrs. Carter's forebears were all fighters. It was only natural that she should marry a fighting man. As Hazel Blomser, she met Corporal Carter a year ago when his regiment was stationed at Camp Harrison J.

Mrs. Hazel Blomser Carter.

Jones. Later on she became Mrs.
Carter.

Her grandfather, H. Clark, 36, who lives here, is a veteran of the civil war and Indian campaigns, with the scars of two wounds to his credit.

He was "in on the secret" and jumped to his feet when told the news.

"I knew she would do it," said the old gentleman, eyes beaming. "That girl sure has grit. I wish she could stay and fight the Germans. You ought to have seen her in uniform. She made a better looking soldier than John. I do believe. She can handle a rifle better than most men. They sure should have let her stay."

army clothes, cut her hair off short, and began an earnest study of all the many things essential for a soldier to know. She practiced faithfully and when the day came she was ready in uniform, hat, olive drab shirt, trousers, leggings and army shoes.

She saluted her grandfather and then slipped out of town with her husband. On the way to New York, according to word they sent back, two or three friends of Corporal Carter were told the secret and these soldier comrades of the husband became her secret guard of honor on the way over.

That's how it came about. Now that she "has been caught," Douglas citizens are confident that wise old Uncle Sam hasn't even a thought of trying to reprimand the plucky girl.

Mrs. Carter was born in the Hua-chuca mountains, sixty miles from Douglas, and as a girl established a record at hunting. She has killed many a deer, has followed the hounds alone at night, and proved that she wasn't afraid of the biggest bear or mountain lion that roamed the hills of her home country. She also worked in the fields with plow and hoe.

Her father is a citizen of Salem, Ore.
She's a real American girl, capable of taking care of herself anywhere.
That's why Douglas is proud of her and is planning to do her honor.

AIN'T NATURE WONDERFUL.. By Gene Ahern

WHERE TO SPEND YOUR VACA-TION.

The Mountains.

You may want to use up your vacation time in the mountains and most of it with the burros.

The first gaze at the mountains, your soul will thrill and you will say with much enthusiasm, "Ha, I'm gonna climb 'em all!" But the "all" will be taken out of you when you get half way up the first one.

The burros have been up to the summits of mountains hundreds of times, but they don't mind being pushed up once more by you. It doesn't tire them any, and when they get there by your physical efforts and golf language they are the only ones in fit condition to enjoy the scenery.

Coming down the burro falls asleep from your exhausting work coming up and, believe us, Anthony, he furnishes you enough thrills and "goodbye, folks, I'm a gonner" to take all the kibosh out of you for mountain climbing and from then on mountains will look good to you in the movies.

NOW THOUGHT COCHI HAD ACCOMPLICES

New York, July 27.—The strongest evidence yet presented to show that Alfredo Cocchi had accomplices in the murder of Ruth Cruger was obtained when Arturo Cocchi, 9, son of the slayer, was questioned by assistant district attorneys.

and one or two other men talking in the cellar. This was the day of Miss Cruger's death and was several hours before her disappearance was reported to the police. The lad was sure of the time, he said, because it was the day after Lincoln's birthday.

"Papa was not in the shop when I got there," said Arturo. "But through the hole in the floor where the heat comes up I heard him and other men talking in the cellar. I started to go down stairs but papa met me and made me go back. The back room of the shop was locked."

NEWS OF FORT WAYNE'S NEIGHBORS

Because Law Exempts Mennonites From Participation in the War.

Berne, Ind., July 27.—An unusual condition exists here as a result of the draft. Most of the young men who have been drafted are Lutherans, Evangelical Reformed members and Mennonites. Under the law Mennonites and all other religious denominations existing May 19, 1917, whose creed or principles forbids their members from participating in war in any form, are subject to exemption. This, it is contended, would throw the burden of furnishing Berne's quota with Lutherans and members of the Evangelical Reformed church.

The feeling is high. On Wednesday night sixty or seventy young men from this city drove to Decatur and gathered in front of the court house. Dr. Jones acted as spokesman and announced their desire to talk to the members of the conscription registration board. The men declared that they were patriotic and were willing to serve their nation in any way required, but that they did object to the exemption of Mennonites. The men were told that the board had no authority other than that vested in it by the government.

The law provides that no person exempted because of religious scruples against war shall be exempted in any capacity that the president shall declare to be noncombatant.

MINISTER COUNSELS FORCE.

Raps Conscientious Objector to War With Germany.

Warsaw, Ind., July 27.—John Royal Harris, D. D., superintendent of the Dry Federation of Pennsylvania, rapped the "conscientious objector" in his address on "Sane Nonresistance," before the Christian Citizenship Institute at Winona Lake, Wednesday. "Christ intends for us first to try to win over the aggressor," he said, "and if we find that we can not win him over, try to arbitrate and then use force. Germany plunged this peaceful world into barbarism and hell. There is no chance to win Germany over and arbitration has failed. Now we must win by force."

Mrs. Francis J. Diefenderfer, of Erie, Pa., president of the National Order of Anti-Polygamy Crusaders, declared that a regular edition of the Bible has been published by the Oxford University Press, of New York city, in which are 318 pages of Mormon teachings. Mrs. Diefenderfer said she first learned of the edition through boasts of Mormon newspaper. She charged that the Mormons are active among the bereaved women of Europe, urging them to immigrate to Utah.

REPORT ON C. B. & C. ROAD

Filed by J. M. Wilson in Huntington Circuit Court.

Huntington, Ind., July 27.—J. M. Wilson, who, until a few days ago, had control of the C. B. & C. railroad, has filed his report with the Huntington circuit court. The report shows that from January 8, 1917, until July 19, 1917, the receipts were $31,064.13 and the disbursements $31,529.76. The receiver, J. C. Curtis, was ordered to pay Mr. Wilson the difference of $475.63 and also pay for several cars of coal that Wilson had ordered and personally guaranteed payment for.

It leaked out that the Wabash officials who made a trip over the short line yesterday, made their first trip about ten days ago. Some think the Wabash will not bid, but give no reason for inspection trips. Wilson indicated that he will offer a new bid on September 24, the new sale date. The date was changed from September 17.

FOUND NOT GUILTY.

William Fishback Is Acquitted of Murder Charge at Hartford City.

Hartford City, Ind., July 27.—A verdict of not guilty was returned last night in the case of William Fishback, charged with the murder of Roy Brown, Redkey grocer, the night of January 29, 1916. The jury deliberated for five hours and ten minutes. It was contended by the defense that Brown was killed by Harry Wiest, an alleged deserter from the United States army, and Kile Hale, of the Canadian aviation corps.

UNDERGOES AN OPERATION.

Bluffton, Ind., July 27.—Mrs. C. C. Sixbey has written to relatives here from Akron, that her brother, Harry Spake, of that city, had undergone an operation at the hospital there for the removal of a large abscess on his neck. The abscess started on the right cheek and neck and extended on his shoulder.

der. More than a quart of liquid was removed in the operation. The infection is thought to have been caused by a fish bone that lodged in Harry's throat several weeks ago. He was bothered with the bone in his throat for two weeks, but then the trouble subsided. A few days ago the abscess started.

HAS RIB BROKEN.

Bluffton, Ind., July 27.—Manley E. Stinson, the young farmer who has the Wells county registration serial number 238, and was the first man drawn in this county for the conscription army, sustained an injury Wednesday afternoon that probably will invalidate him physically for army service on the first call, although, of course, it will be necessary for him to report for examination by the regular examining physicians.

ACCIDENTS AT HUNTINGTON.

Huntington, Ind., July 27.—Alvin Culler, an employee of the Huntington Steel Foundry company, lost the sight of his left eye Tuesday, when molten metal spilled from a container and struck him. The eye was removed by a surgeon.—Elizabeth Wampner, age seven, was bitten in the face by a vicious bulldog, Tuesday evening, when she went to a neighbor's house for a bucket of water.

OLD SETTLERS' MEETING.

Albion, Ind., July 27.—A large crowd attended the annual meeting of the Noble County Old Settlers' association here yesterday. At the business session Dr. J. W. Hayes, of Albion, was re-elected president and J. W. Moore, who resides near Albion, secretary. Washington Kuhn, of Albion, won the silver loving cup for being the oldest man in attendance.

PATRIOTIC DEMONSTRATION.

Huntington, Ind., July 27.—The lodges and fraternal organizations of the country held a patriotic demonstration Friday afternoon, August 3, in honor of the members of Company C, Fourth Indiana Infantry. The company probably will be mobilized August 5 for national service.

LIVED IN CLEVELAND.

Ligonier, Ind., July 26.—The person killed here last Saturday proved to be George Kemp, 20, an electrical worker, of Cleveland, O., who was swept off train No. 87, westbound on the New York Central lines. In company with two other young men he was riding back of the tender.

MUST FURNISH 106 MEN.

Decatur, Ind., July 27.—Adams county must furnish 106 men for the conscripted army. The order was received by the local conscription board yesterday.

136 FROM WELLS COUNTY.

Bluffton, Ind., July 27.—Sheriff J. A. Johnston, a member of the conscription board, has been officially notified that Wells county's quota of men through conscription is 136.

WOMEN NOT TO ASK SPECIAL SESSION

Indianapolis, July 27.—The question of asking Governor Goodrich to call a special session of the legislature to put up to the people the decision as to whether a special election for the constitutional convention shall be called, was voted down at a meeting of the executive and legislative committee of the Woman's Franchise League of Indiana here. Mrs. Richard E. Edwards, of Peru, presided.

The Woman's Franchise league is one of the societies affiliated with the legislative council of women which recently sent such a petition to the governor upon the vote of the majority of the allied organizations.

The franchise league was not represented at that time. Mrs. Edwards explained that the franchise league did not antagonize the legislative council, but was opposed to calling a special legislative session because of the expense involved.

SLACKER WANTS HIS AGE DETERMINED

Wabash, Ind., July 27.—Hoping that the proceedings might result in the determining of his age, Clyde Tremble, of Wabash, has asked local authorities to place him under arrest on a charge of failing to register under the draft law. He says he does not know whether he is 30 or 31 years old. Tremble's parents died when he was an infant and he was placed in an orphan asylum, the records of which were destroyed in a fire. After he left the institution he was found guilty of a crime in Kansas and gave his age as 15. The court held, however, that he was 16 and sentenced him to prison instead of to a reformatory. Later he was paroled. On registration day Tremble evaded the draft by giving his age as 31, but now, to determine his age in the eyes of the law, he is seeking arrest.

COMPARES AIRMEN OF THREE BELLIGERENTS

German Flying Commander Says His Birdmen Are Best for War.

The Hague, Netherlands, July 6.—(Correspondence).—Interesting comparisons of British, French and German methods of air fighting were made recently by General von Hoepfner, commander of the German flying forces, in an interview with the Berlin correspondent of the Holland News Bureau. General von Hoepfner admitted that the air forces of the entente allies were superior on the western front and in the Balkans, but said that on the eastern front the German airmen outnumbered their adversaries. Mere superiority in numbers, however, he professed to believe, meant nothing when compared with the quality of machines and of the men flying them. He added: "The Frenchman is obviously not to be placed on a par with our airmen from the point of view of morale, but it is just in flying the Briton proves that he is of German race and therefore has a love of fighting. In general the Frenchman only attacks when he feels himself numerically superior. He avoids a fight under equal conditions. The Briton seeks the combat. The Frenchman only attacks once; if the first attack be unsuccessful, he immediately retreats. The Englishman, on the other hand, fights till he or his opponent goes under.

"In their Spad aeroplanes of 200 horsepower, and the British Sopwith triplanes, they possess splendid machines which mostly equal our best machines.

"More important, however, than the superiority of the machines is that of the crews. The enemy airmen are just as much up to their job as ours. That is not so, however, with the reconnoitering airmen. In the case of the French, their training, which should be of a purely military character, is mediocre; while with the British it is even inferior. Here are to be found the deeper causes of the better performances of our fliers.

"To Britishers flying is a sport, the climax whereof is a fight. They seek the combat regardless of the question whether the carrying out of the charge entrusted to them renders this necessary or not. The German is first of all a soldier, who looks upon every flight as a military operation, and that decides his line of conduct. Our portionately smaller losses, therefore, show that our commanders are too good soldiers to set their airmen impossible tasks. Moreover, the airmen are not sent out singly, for the fulfillment of military tasks is more important than all spirit of sport and all bravery. The century-old German military traditions cannot be caught up by the three years' warfare of the British."

Chiefs Take Another Scalp in Final Game With Richmond

Gleich's Homer Almost Spoils Things Near the End, However.

Battery B day, with the soldiers marching around the park and the band playing martial music, seemed to fill the Chiefs with a belligerent spirit yesterday and they went right out and took the scalps of the Richmond infants in the final game of the series by a score of 7 to 5. Another game was on the program for the afternoon but the weather man interfered and it was called off.

The outstanding feature in the game yesterday was the fact that the Chiefs finally beat a left-hander, and this having been accomplished nothing should stand in the way of the Chiefs and a first division berth. They made ten hits off Stolz, most of them coming in the early part of the game. A homer by Gleich in the eighth inning scored three runs for the visitors and almost caused some damage.

To big Glockson goes the credit of driving across the runs that were needed to put the Chiefs in the lead in the third. The clown got a double to the fence with two runners reeling on the bases. He scored a few seconds later when Mike Kelly got an infield hit, and was being run down between first and second. The Chiefs had already scored one in the first inning and sailed through to the eighth in no great danger. In this inning Gleich, who played here long enough to get the range of the right field wall, lifted one over, with two runners waiting to score. The infants were suppressed after that, however, and the Chiefs got another run in the eighth when Allison and Breaux got two base hits.

Richmond outlasted the locals 14 to 10 but failed to make their hits count in the pinch. Allison had a pretty safe lead all the way and did not exert himself much until Gleich's homer made things interesting in the eighth.

Rain coming down near the end of the first game, and continuing for some time, caused the second game of the double-header to be called off after part of the first inning had been played. Lefty Gilbert was warming up for the infants and Kowalski was slated to hurl for the Chiefs.

SEE LITTLE CHANCE FOR MEET NEXT YEAR

Last Day of Grand Circuit Called Off to Prevent Further Loss.

Detroit, Mich., July 27.—Directors of the Detroit Driving club which staged the Grand circuit races here are pessimistic over the outlook for a Grand circuit meeting here next year. The elimination of the closing day program which was to have been raced today, indicated their attitude. The reason officially given was a scarcity of horses for the closing day's races. Although the weather was ideal for racing, good marks were made, the fields entered were fairly large and the attendance good, the elimination of betting, loss of revenue from that is understood to have had great weight in discouraging the backers of the meeting. The Detroit meeting, which is usually considered one of the more attractive on the big circuit to trainers and owners of light harness horses, opened to a record first day crowd with a betless program upon orders of Police Commissioner Couzens. All attempts to secure modification of the rule were vain. Yesterday's summary:

Can't Stop the Reds.
Cincinnati, July 27.—Cincinnati returned home yesterday and won the first game from Philadelphia 5 to 2. The Reds were given a great ovation as they stepped on the field. They knocked Rixey out in the third inning. Score: R.H.E. Philadelphia 0 0 0 0 1 10 0—2 9 2
Cincinnati 0 1 3 0 0 0 1—5 11 0
Batteries—Rixey, Gschler, Fittory and Burns; Schneider and Clark and Wingo.

Vaughn Too Much for Giants.

Chicago, July 27.—The Cubs won from the Giants here yesterday 7 to 1. Vaughn proving too much for the visitors. The locals bunched hits off Tesreau and were aided by erratic fielding. Score: R.H.E. New York 0 0 0 0 1 0 0 0—1 8 4
Chicago 3 0 0 4 0 2 0 0—7 8 1

Dodgers and Pirates Divide.

Pittsburgh, July 27.—Brooklyn and Pittsburgh split even in yesterday's double-header, the locals winning the first and the visitors the second. Carlson was too much for the Dodgers in the first game, and Cadore held the Pirates safe in the second. Score: R.H.E. Brooklyn 0 0 0 1 0 0 0 0—1 6 1
Pittsburgh 0 0 0 1 0 0 2—4 7 4
Batteries—Pfeffer and Meyers; Carlson and Fischer.

"DUTCH" KRAUSE DRAWN.

Bloomington, Ind., July 27.—Arthur Krause, whose appointment as assistant to Ewald O. Stiehm, director of athletics of Indiana university, was announced recently, probably will not accept as his number was among the first drawn for the new national army.

Krause, who was one of the most popular athletes ever attending Indiana, had charge of the freshmen squad last season. He played end on the varsity before his graduation and during the summer term has been an instructor in Coach Stiehm's school for coaches.

STOPPING THE RED SOX—TWO BASEBALL AXIOMS FAILED TO WORK OUT WHEN BOSTONESE MET COMISKY'S OUTFIT.

(By Paul Purman).

For two years there has been a feeling in baseball circles that so long as the Red Sox machine held together and played the same kind of baseball as it showed in 1915 and 1916 no club on the circuit would be able to beat it.

Two reasons have been given for this, both of which are sound baseball axioms. (1) The Red Sox have been able to beat teams they had to beat to win.

(2) The Red Sox have been able to play for one run and hold it.

The first is an attribute of only such a team as the Red Sox, a club composed of money players who can face the most crucial tests without wavering and play better baseball under a strain than their opponents.

Last season this was evidenced in the last series with the Tigers, a series that meant the pennant to the club that won. The Tigers broke under the strain and the Sox went on into the world series.

The second is based on mechanical play. With wonderful pitching and air-tight fielding such as Boston has had for two seasons, a one-run lead is equal to a much larger advantage for some other club.

The best reason for believing that the White Sox and not the Red Sox will be on the top of the heap at the end of this season is that these rules are not holding out this year.

The Red Sox went into one of the crucial series of the season in their last meeting with the White Sox at Chicago.

It was the Red Sox and not the White Sox that cracked under the strain.

After Lutz had won the first game Rowland's outfit came back and took the second, fought the Bostonese off their feet in a fifteen inning tie in the third and won the fourth and fifth, going out in the lead with a margin of four and one-half games.

Another thing—a one run lead will not work against the White Sox. There's hitting at all nine stations of that lineup and its dangerous hitting, as Boston pitchers will attest to.

And one thing more—the White Sox have just struck their stride.

Collins and Jackson have just begun to bat up to their usual standard; Schalk, out of the game for several weeks on account of injuries, is back and the White Sox with Schalk is an entirely different club than the White Sox without Schalk.

The development of Lutz at short, permitting Weaver to play third, and the solving of Chicago's first base problem with Gandil has built up an infield around Collins that is almost as great as any in recent baseball.

The Sox pitching is good and has been improving. Look out for the Sox. They're not likely to bust on the stretch.

Chiefs Have Fine Chance to Finish in First Division.

Punch Knoll's Evansville team opens a series here today, the final one before the Chiefs take to the road. The Evans have been having some tough luck of late, but nevertheless have one of the strongest teams in the league, and have always been hard for the Chiefs to beat.

Vandagriff's men have been playing excellent baseball in the present stay at home and with any kind of luck, are due to clinch. They are right now very close to the first division, two games behind Peoria. They expect to boost their standing at the expense of the Punchers, before going on the road. Large crowds have been turning out all this week and a record attendance should greet the Chiefs Sunday, before they leave.

SHOP LEAGUERS PLAY THREE GAMES SATURDAY

Bowlers and Penny Nines at League Park—Two at Lawton.

Three games are on the schedule of the Shop league for Saturday. The Bowlers and Penny nines are to clash at League park in a preliminary to the Fort Wayne and Evansville game. The shop league game will start at 1:45. Jack Ruddy will umpire and Goff will be official scorer.

The other tennis, Turners and Electric works, will meet in a double-header at Lawton park, first game to start at 2 o'clock. Both of these games will be cut down to seven innings. The umpire has not been named. Lutz will be official scorer.

Puts Crimp In Johnny's Ambitions

When Benny Leonard scored a knockout over Johnny Kilbane he accomplished something no lightweight champion ever did before.

Terry McGovern knocked out Frank Erne when the latter was lightweight champion, but this title did not change hands. It was a handicap match. Kilbane decisively defeated Freddie Walsh, but did not stop him.

Bob Fitzsimmons held two titles simultaneously when he was both middleweight and heavyweight champion.

Joe Wolcott attempted to wrest the lightweight title from Kid Lavigne.

BEZDEK, NATURAL LEADER? WELL WATCH THE PIRATES IF HE IS

The word comes from Pittsburgh that Hugo Bezdek, newest of managers, is to succeed because Bezdek is a "natural leader of men."

Natural leaders of men are rare to say the least, and such a statement coming at this time may be premature.

"The men follow Bezdek's orders implicitly," the article goes on to say—which, if true, means a great deal for the Pirates. But this statement is also open to criticism. News dispatches recently told of the suspension of Al Mamaux for breaking training rules.

If Bezdek's orders were being carried out it is certain this wouldn't have happened, and it is evident that the infractions of Mamaux were serious, for pitchers with the latent ability of Mamaux are not suspended for trivialities.

Scanning the records for several years you find only a few managers who in the narrow sense of the term can be called natural leaders of men.

Frank Chance is one of them. A weaker man than Chance could not have handled the Cubs of a decade ago. But Chance could not make managers out of his own men—witness the failure of Tinker. Connie Mack is a natural leader and a strict disciplinarian. John McGraw is a natural leader. None but a natural leader could handle the bunch of temperamental ball club. Bill Carrigan, Hughie Jennings, Fred Clarke, perhaps Moran, and Huggins, and certainly, in view of his work this year, Christy Mathewson, are natural leaders. That about lists them out.

Another glance over the records shows the great stars of the game who have tried and failed, just because they were not natural leaders. There's Tinker, already mentioned, Hal Chase, Lajoie, Stovall and Harry Davis, Bob Wallace, Roger Peckinpaugh, Norman Eberfeld, and others.

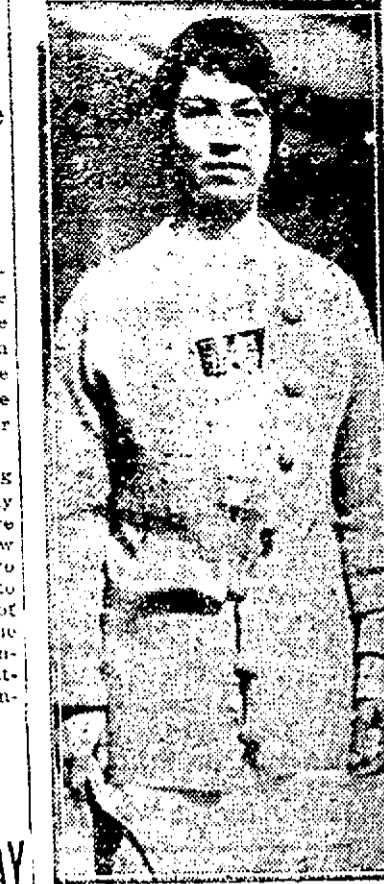

Maybe Bezdek has it—if so, watch out for the Pirates in 1918. A natural leader can go about where he wants to with his ball club.

WESTERN WIZARDS OF TENNIS WHO ARE MAKING EASTERN INVASION

MARY BROWN.
Three time national women tennis champion, who has been called to participate in eastern tournament play for the Red Cross. Miss Brown's home is at Santa Monica, Cal.

Molly is Sweeping That Platter Clean

Molla Bjurstedt, national champion, in her latest achievement, defeated Miss Mary K. Browne, former title holder, of Utica, N. Y.

when Walcott was welter champion, but was outplayed.

Kilbane's defeat quashes his ambitions toward the lightweight ranks.

SPORTS CHATTER

Now that Stallings has signed Ed Walsh maybe he can get Johnny Kilgus to catch him.

George Burns got $50 for hitting the bull. He's more successful than a lot of guys who try to throw it.

Picketing the white house seems to be about as successful as arguing with the ump.

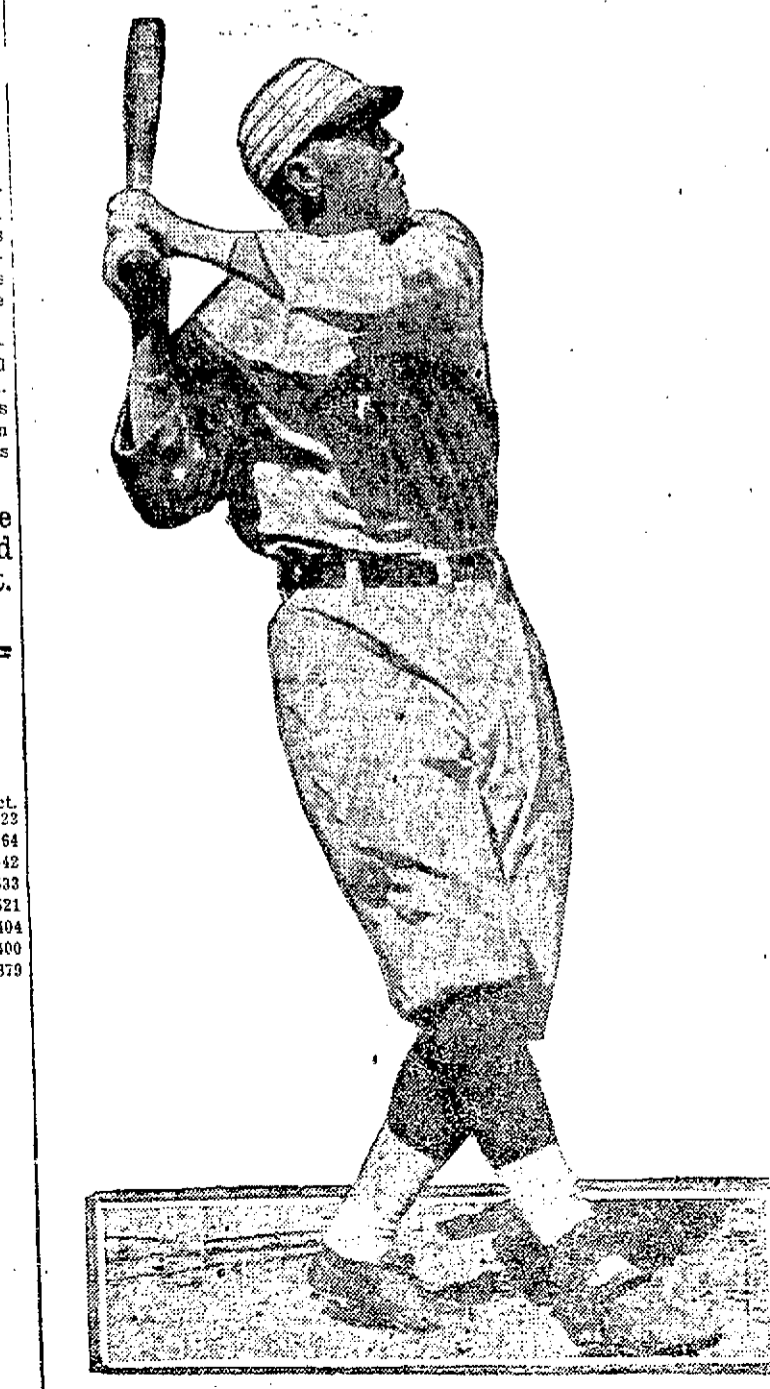

Proceeds from an Indianapolis automobile race are to be given to the American ambulance section. With the understanding perhaps that the ambulances are to be used at auto speedways after the war.

Connie Mack is a natural leader and a strict disciplinarian. John McGraw is a natural leader. None but a natural leader could handle the bunch of temperamental ball club. Bill Carrigan, Hughie Jennings, Fred Clarke, perhaps Moran, and Huggins, and certainly, in view of his work this year, Christy Mathewson, are natural leaders. That about lists them out.

CRAWFORD LEFT AT HOME FOR FIRST TIME

Detroit, Mich., July 27.—When the Detroit Americans started east on their present trip, Sam Crawford was left at home for the first time since he joined the Tigers years ago. Crawford has been downcast over his failure to play regularly this season. The ambition of his baseball career is to make 3,000 hits, and Crawford is convinced that he cannot do any real hitting unless allowed to play regularly. Jennings has used him as a pinch hitter with varying success.

Night field has been Detroit's problem this season. Crawford has lost so much speed that he is considered impossible. Heinman after a discouraging start, showed marked improvement but was shifted to first base when Burns, batting less than .200, was benched. Then Harper, a recruit, was given the job. He is a splendid fielder, but his base running has affected his value.

Burns has been the prize disappointment of the season. He was in magnificent condition at the spring training camp and Jennings felt certain he would hit .300 or better. He never got started and it has been necessary to bench him on several occasions.

A new bathroom scale with a dial facing upward, to enable the person standing on it to read his own weight, is a recent invention.

MUST LEARN WAR TERROR

Americans in France Will Gain Lessons in Modern Frightfulness.

PROFIT BY ALLIES' THREE YEARS OF IT

Will Also Have to Learn How to "Fight the Devil With Fire."

British Headquarters in France, July 4.—(Staff Correspondence of the Associated Press.)—The arrival of the first contingents of the American army in France serve to recall the fact that the United States is entering a war already old and wise—wise with the dearly bought wisdom of three long adventurous years—and steeped in all the diabolical wickedness that incessant delving into the deviltries of destruction can bring to it.

Having escaped the first terrors of weapons which German science had evolved through tolling years of military preparation, the American divisions will nevertheless plunge eventually into a seething cauldron which has grown from the unavoidable policy of "fighting the devil with fire." They will have quickly to learn not only to take the awful German frightfulness with calm endurance, but to return it with an ever increasing measure. In doing this many nerve-testing and soul-searching experiences undoubtedly lie before them, but there are already thousands of young Americans in the Canadian and British ranks who have proved themselves traditionally worthy in the scorching flames of modern war.

Learn From Their Allies.

The American forces are fortunate indeed to be able to base their education upon the bitter lessons learned by the French and British soldiers in all the eventful days that have followed that first rush of battle in 1914. Marvelously complete books of instruction have been built upon those experiences and out of these the American soldiers will glean the last word knowledge that will fit them for the foremost trenches.

First of all, when they take their place, will come the baptism of fire from the noisy black high explosive German shells that scream in from afar and burst with terrifying reports—sometimes in most unexpected places. The Germans are great believers both in noise and high explosive. They even mix their adored "H-E" with their shrapnel shells which break high in the air and send their bullets showering down with the whine of an angry winter wind. The Americans soon will learn to distinguish the individual songs of the various shells for there is not the slightest doubt that the moment he discovers they are in the "line," the German will turn every available calibre of weapon against them in a flourish of introductory "hate." They will come over in order—these shrieking, grumbling missiles—ranging in size and noise all the way from the nasty little pip-squeaks or whizz-bangs, up through the four-point-tvos, the five-point-nines and then on to what the British Tommies laconically call "the big stuff"—the eight and eleven-inch howitzer shells and the projectiles from heavy calibre long range naval guns, known without affection as "Whistling Perceps."

Big Berthas Not Heard.

There will be little opportunity to hear a "Big Bertha," for those famous old 42-centimeter howitzers are seldom used nowadays. It is believed that the Germans planned to bombard Arras with them, using prussic acid shells, but the British advance on Easter Monday last put a stop to that particularly nefarious scheme against the already sadly battered little Atois cathedral city.

There is also awaiting the new American army a bounteous baptism of bombs and hand grenades and the still more dismaying introduction to the ghastly rattle of the machine gun and its sinister swish of spraying bullets—sounds well calculated to stab with a moment of fear the heart of the bravest man.

But above all the American soldiers must equip themselves to endure the lethal gas that will be sent over against them in poisonous, vaporous clouds, or showered upon them in a deluge of heavily charged cylinders and shells. They must prepare to deal also with the treacherous lachrymatory gas which while not dangerous to life irritates the tear ducts until one cries with blinded, smarting eyes for hours. The surprise of both these gases is their altogether pleasant smell, the lethal variety suggesting the clean odor of a sanitary hospital ward, while the so-called tear gas has the appetizing scent of crushed ripe apples or cider.

Terror of Liquid Fire.

There is also the reason-shaking terror of the "damenwerfer," with its roaring stream of liquid fire flaring with the velocity of a high pressure fire nozzle and with an outpouring of smoke rising like a black cyclone cloud to the heavens.

The first day of their stay in battle trenches the Americans will make the acquaintance of a very old, but scarcely cherished, friend of the Tommies and Poilus—another member of the "Werfer" family known as "Minnie." This is the German mine thrower or minenwerfer, which flings over at short range great heavy projectiles known as "flying pigs" because of their wobbly, ungainly flight. They go off with a deafening roar, expanding more energy on noise, however, than on material damage.

A notable development of the war has been the dread with which the Germans have seen weapons of their own invention turned against them, and turned with a steadily increasing intensity. Their prisoners speak of the terror these weapons have caused and declare the German higher command is realizing all too late the Frankenstein it brought into being. While the entente allies are multiply-

USE YOUR GAS OVEN For Canning Fruit And leave the Top Burners Free for Other Needs

Pack your fruit into sterilized jars, fill the jars with thin syrup and place in a deep dripping pan. Place the covers on the jars lightly, without rubbers, and pour about two inches of water into the dripping pan. Have the oven about as hot as for bread and leave jars in this heat for about half an hour after the water in the pan has reached the boiling point. If the fruit has shrunk, fill the jars with boiling syrup. Seal in the usual way.

THE CASE OF MRS. RENA MOONEY, FREED BY JURY

History of Remarkable Criminal Charge Based on Dynamite Plot.

San Francisco, Cal., July 27.—Demanded by the prosecution for the inclusion of the death penalty, rarely before asked in California in the case of a woman, widespread interest in labor unions, public controversy involving credibility of state witnesses and charges by the defense that important evidence had been fabricated, were features which marked the trial of Mrs. Rena Mooney for murder resulting from a bomb explosion here last July, who has been acquitted after the jury had deliberated almost sixty hours.

Mrs. Mooney, a music teacher, wife of Thomas J. Mooney, was arrested a few days after the explosion, which, occurring at 2:06 p. m., in the course of a preparedness day parade, July 22, killed ten persons and wounded more than forty men, women and children. At about the same time the Mooneys were arrested, Warren K. Billings, Israel Weinberg and Edward D. Nolan were taken into custody by detectives.

The state contended that the explosion was the culmination of a conspiracy plot of wide ramifications, with the five bomb murder defendants as the ring leaders. Billings was tried, convicted of murder and sentenced to life imprisonment. Mooney was sentenced to death on a verdict of murder in the first degree without recommendation for mercy. Both sentences have been held up pending appeals to the state supreme court. The others are now awaiting trial. Nolan is at liberty on bail.

Dissatisfied with the verdict in the case of Thomas J. Mooney, union labor organizations, which contributed largely to the defense fund through the International Workers' Defense league, caused the appointment of a "silent jury" composed of labor men, to hear evidence adduced at Mrs. Mooney's trial and render an independent verdict to organized labor.

Mrs. Mooney was brought to trial May 21 before Superior Judge Emmet Seawell, of Santa Rosa, and a jury. The specific charge against her was the murder of Mrs. Myrtle Irene Van Leo, one of the ten victims of the explosion. In addition the defendant was charged with having been a member of a "murderous conspiracy" to overthrow the government and bring about a state of anarchy. Much testimony and many exhibits intended to support this theory were ruled out by Judge Seawell. Various letters written to and by Mooney, extracts from an anarchist publication called the "Blast," edited here about the time of the explosion by Alexander Berkman, an associate of Emma Goldman, and other documents, which the state contended showed designs of the alleged group of conspirators, were admitted.

Amici was the defense which the defendant's attorneys sought to establish by a score of witnesses, who declared Mrs. Mooney and her husband had been on the roof of the building in which they made their home more than a mile from the scene of the explosion, throughout the afternoon. Mrs. Mooney and the four other defendants told of their movements in detail on the afternoon of the bomb murders. The defense sought to prove that others rather than the defendants were the persons who had been seen in the vicinity of the explosion by the state witnesses.

The state's contention was that Mooney and the others sought to prevent the parade because it was a military preparedness measure which might interfere with their alleged plot to overthrow the government and that Billings, accompanied by three of the other defendants placed a suit case which, the state contended, enclosed the bomb, at the spot where the blast occurred. One witness said he saw Billings, accompanied by Mooney, place the suit case on the sidewalk.

The defense contended that the bomb was hurled from the roof of a building and witnesses testified they had seen a black object coming through the air before the detonation. Bits of what purported to have been pieces of an alarm clock, by which the state contended the bomb was exploded, pieces of what purported to have been parts of a suit case and other exhibits such as bullets and jagged pieces of iron picked up on the scene after the explosion, were admitted as evidence.

Eleven days before the explosion Mrs. Mooney obtained about twelve pounds of nitre, a component of dynamite, one witness testified. A detective testified that bullets extracted from the bodies of victims and picked up from the sidewalk were identical with many found in Mrs. Mooney's apartments.

BADGES FOR FARM BOYS.

Washington, July 27.—Farmers' sons who have shown their patriotism by remaining on the farm may be rewarded with the federal badge of honor of the United States boys' work reserve. All state directors have been so notified, it was announced today by William E. Hall, national director of the reserve.

"Although the boys' working reserve is an emergency organization," said Mr. Hall, "intended primarily to draw city boys who ordinary would not be engaged in agricultural work to the farm, it seems to be only a matter of fairness to the farmer's son that he, too, be recognized for his service to his country in helping to increase its food supplies."

BIG MILITARY REVIEW AT FORT BEN HARRISON

Governors of Four States Will Watch Parade of the Soldiers.

Indianapolis, July 27.—The largest military review ever held at Fort Benjamin Harrison, where thousands of young men from West Virginia, Ohio, Kentucky and Indiana are training for the officers' reserve corps, has been set for Aug. 10. In addition to Major General Barry, commander of the central department, the governors of the four states represented by the candidates have been invited to attend. Governors Cox, of Ohio; Stanley, of Kentucky, and Goodrich, of Indiana, already have visited the fort.

Staging the review shortly before the close of the training camp, will show to the best advantage what the men have learned. All told about 12,000 troops will take part.

There has been a great improvement in the student officers and their ability. As the camp nears a close, and as various ones have been given opportunities to display their ability to handle men in different formations, and to meet many supposed situations, stories are being circulated concerning the earlier experiences of the temporary officers and their ways of extricating themselves from seemingly unmanageable tangles.

One student officer in his first attempt to command succeeded in tying his men in a knot which puzzled him, and the more commands he gave and the more they obeyed the worse the tangle appeared. The instructing officer offered no suggestions. Finally, in obedience to a command which was not meant to work that way, the company marched into a fence, where it had to stop. The cadet was almost desperate, but quickly ordered: "Get away from that fence! March!"

Another story concerns the situation in which a student officer found himself when putting a number of fellow students through some squad formations. All went well until the end of the drill, when he attempted to get them back to the original position. He was unable to do so, and finally shouted:

"As you were at first! March!" Governor Cox, of Ohio, who visited the fort recently, told of how he had solved the difficulties of target practice. The story told by the governor was quoted as follows:

"I was out at the rifle range and Major Darrow asked me if I wouldn't like to try shooting. The men were shooting from the 600 yard range. I said 'yes,' so Major Darrow borrowed a rifle for me from one of the men, and another for himself. We lay down across the sand bags and began peering away.

"After each shot by either of us, the men down in the pit waved the red flag, which meant we had missed the target altogether.

"Finally, after about half a dozen shots apiece, the major said, 'Young man, telephone down to that man in the pit that Major Darrow is shooting.' The 'young man' did. Then the major shot again, and the pit man waved the emblem which signified that the major had hit himself, 'oh-ha' and turned to the man on my right and said, 'Young man, telephone down to the pit man that the governor of Ohio is shooting.' The next shot I hit the bull's-eye too."

UTAH WOMEN START A CANNING BEE TO STOP THE WASTE OF FOODSTUFFS

Part of the Salt Lake canning class shelling peas in food conservation campaign.

(Staff Special.)

Salt Lake, Utah, July 27.—Not a bean, nor a pea, strawberry or a beet, in the state of Utah will be lost this year.

A group of women organized under the head of the women's central conservation committee of Salt Lake will see to that.

One of the first moves in the campaign to conserve surplus food production is the organization of housewives into canning classes to teach women how to preserve and can economically and correctly.

The first class has just opened in the Utah capital.

Classes are held every day at the municipal market, under the direction of P. J. Sanders, a government canning expert.

WILL TAKE WORK INTO EACH COUNTY OF STATE

Campaign of Education and Inspiration by State Defense Council.

Indianapolis, July 27.—Members of the state council of defense and other volunteers will organize a campaign of education and inspiration to be carried into every county of Indiana to arouse the people to the importance of preparing for war. A committee consisting of A. W. Brady, E. M. Wilson and Evans Woolson was appointed at the regular session of the council to prepare data for this campaign, covering the activities of the defense organizations to date and the matters in contemplation. A number of the members of the state council have volunteered their time and expenses without cost to the cause and it is expected that within a short time this educational crusade will be in full swing.

A statement of the difficulties being experienced in securing the desired number of physicians for military services was made to the council by Dr. C. P. Emerson, head of the medical section. Dr. Emerson stated that only 210 physicians of the 4,774 doctors in the state have offered themselves and the national government
